WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—It is authoritatively stated that the United States government views with distinct favor the principles enunciated in the Anglo-German agreement relating to China and that a formal response to that effect will be made at an early date to the invitation extended to this government to accept the principles of the agreement. The German charge d'affaires, Count de Quadt, had a conference with Secretary Hay yesterday afternoon, presenting officially the text of the Anglo-German agreement, including the invitation to the United States to accept the principles therein recorded. Mr. Hay expressed his satisfaction at what had been done, saying he felt it to be in complete harmony with the policy this government had pursued, both as to the maintenance of unobstructed commerce in China and the territorial entity of the empire, and adding that a formal reply would be given in a day or two. Count de Quadt was gratified at these assurances and left with the belief that there was such a harmonious understanding on the general principles involved that the concurrence of the powers was near at hand.

Before receiving the official invitation from Germany Mr. Hay had been fully advised of the agreement and had gone over it with great care with the president. This was the more necessary owing to the president's departure for Canton last night. The result of these deliberations is summed up in the statement that the government views the Anglo-German agreement with favor. It is also probable that some attention has been given to the draft of the American reply. It is likely to be in the form of a note of approval rather than any formal adherence to the alliance, but this is said to be merely a matter of detail.

About the only serious question which has arisen as to the American reply was on clause 3 of the Anglo-German agreement. This states that in case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain territorial advantages Germany and Great Britain reserve the right to reach a preliminary understanding on the eventual step to be taken for the protection of their interests. This is open to the construction of being a threat against other powers, and there was no desire on the part of officials here to give American adherence to anything in the nature of a threat. It is probable that the American reply will not go beyond accepting the principle that Germany and Great Britain have a right to agree between themselves as to their eventual course. But there is not likely to be anything which will commit this government to accept this eventual agreement. In short, the third clause is interpreted to apply only to Germany and Great Britain, there being no invitation extended to other powers to join them.

A Tramp's Fiendish Work.

MACEDON, N. Y., Oct. 23.—While Frank Quinn and his family were at church at Palmyra Sunday a tramp called at his home, three miles south of this village, and demanded money from Maggie Quinn, who had been left at home to take care of the house during the family's absence. Upon being refused the tramp struck the defenseless girl over the head with a club, inflicting a terrible scalp wound across the forehead and another deep cut across the back of the head. With blood streaming down her face she succeeded in making her escape and ran to a distant neighbor's house, where she was cared for. The tramp was later found by a posse of men in a neighboring swamp, and after rough treatment he was locked up to await the result of the girl's injuries. She may die.

Won by a Circus.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A vague antipathy toward the United States among the people of Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany, has been turned into respect and awe, and an American circus was the medium. Consul Brundage at that place says that the effect of this strictly American institution on the people was rather startling. When the circus arrived in town, not a workman went to the factories, and the spindles were idle all day. The billposting was a revelation in magnitude and character, and the way the tents were erected and the ground prepared astonished the people. At every performance the tent was full, and the people now say that "anything is possible to Americans."

President Goes to Canton.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—President and Mrs. McKinley left the city last night via the Pennsylvania railroad for Canton, O., where they will remain until Mr. McKinley casts his vote on Nov. 6, when they will return to Washington. Accompanying them were Secretary Cortelyou and Dr. P. M. Rixey of the navy, the party occupying the private car Lucania. Secretary and Mrs. Root also had expected to go with the presidential party, but the former was called to New York on private business and will start from that city west today. Mr. Root is to make an address at Youngstown, O., on the 25th inst.

Matteawan Inmates Captured.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Three more of the seven patients who escaped from the Matteawan State Hospital For Insane Criminals at Matteawan Sunday night were captured yesterday at Middlehope, a hamlet about five miles from Newburg. They were Patrick Murphy, John Flynn and James Clark. This leaves three other patients—Peter Foster, colored; John McCarthy and William J. Johnson—still at large.

Killed by a Trolley Car.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 23.—Thomas Harman, a leader in Republican politics of this city, rode his bicycle in front of a trolley car and was run over and killed. He was president of the board of excise commissioners and served several terms in the city council. He was 55 years old.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON'S ILLNESS.

Lieutenant Hobson Affirms He Is Dying of a Broken Heart.

ATLANTA, Oct. 23.—During his present visit to his home in Alabama and wherever he has appeared before the public Lieutenant Richmond P. Hobson has been quoted as saying that Admiral Sampson is dying of a broken heart owing to the Sampson-Schley controversy which was the outcome of the naval battle of Santiago. He is quoted as follows:

"When last Saturday (Oct. 13) I saw in the papers that Admiral Sampson was ill, I took the next train to Boston and spent Sunday with him. His health is declining. His physicians are baffled at his malady. His organs are right, but his health does not improve.

"We touched on one or two subjects. For a little while he could not speak. Soon he had to be carried to his room, and I did not see him again. Mrs. Sampson told me that this great man was brooding, was breaking his heart at the thought that his fellow countrymen were so unkind.

"I said to Mrs. Sampson: 'When I visit my southland, if the opportunity offers itself I wish to try to tell them something of this majestic character.' She replied: 'You dare not. Your southland was quick and vigorous to resent what was thought to be an attempt to take away the laurels of one of its great men.'

"I came by Washington and saw the secretary of the navy and the president. To them I also stated my intention, and they both gave their consent, warning me, however, of what I might expect."

Mr. Hobson in his speech at a public reception here yesterday said Admiral Sampson had not received simple justice at the hands of the American public. He said: "It has been sought to place him in a despicable light before the world, to make him an incompetent, narrow minded man and jealous of the fame of his contemporaries, particularly of one illustrious naval chief. As his junior officer, serving under him, I express the deliberate opinion that Admiral Sampson is the colossal figure of the Spanish-American war, the genius of the naval victory of Santiago.

"He is unmatched today as the directing mind of a war squadron on the seas.

"I say this much for him because he is a silent man. In the clamor of calumny and detraction he holds his peace, though his great heart be rent with this unkind cut. He suffers in silence."

BRYAN'S SOUTHERN TOUR.

Large Audiences Addressed In West Virginia Towns.

HINTON, W. Va., Oct. 23.—The line of the Chesapeake railroad traversing the picturesque valleys of the Big Kanawha and New rivers was the scene of Mr. Bryan's campaign yesterday. Speeches were made at Huntington, Hurricane, St. Albans, Charleston, Brownston, East Bank, Montgomery, Sewell, Thurmond and Hinton. The size of the audiences varied, but all of them were large in proportion to the population of the towns and of the surrounding country. There were especially fine crowds at Huntington, Charleston and Hinton, people coming into those towns from all the adjacent region.

The one notable feature of the day was Mr. Bryan's repeated reference to the race question. His line of travel was farther south than he had gone before and farther than he will again go, and there were quite a number of colored people scattered through the crowds at all the stopping places. Mr. Bryan evidently noted their presence and took occasion to address portions of his speeches especially to them, appealing to them to do justice by the Filipinos as they would have justice done by themselves.

American Cyclists Shut Out.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—Sunday's stormy incidents at the Parc des Princes, when MacFarland, the American cyclist, was obliged to abandon the race with Jacquelin owing to the menacing attitude of the crowd, have been followed by an extraordinary action on the part of M. Desgrange, manager of the racing track. The whole colony of American and English cyclists has been forbidden to enter the grounds except to withdraw machines and other personal property. Yesterday afternoon Cooper and MacFarland went to the Parc des Princes to accomplish their daily training, but found that the gatekeeper had received strict orders not to allow them to enter. While they were arguing the point with him an Englishman named Chase arrived, only to find that he as well as all other English racing men was included with the Americans among the expelled.

British Cruiser Psyche Sails.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The British cruiser Psyche, Captain Francis R. Pelly, which arrived in this port from Halifax, whence she sailed Oct. 20, passed out Sandy Hook at 7:20 o'clock last evening bound to Bermuda. The object of the Psyche's visit to this port was to take on board Francis K. Roe, formerly assistant paymaster of her majesty's cruiser Hermes. Roe was arrested in his berth on board the steamer Madiana on its arrival here from Bermuda Oct. 5. He was charged with having embezzled £70 from the funds under his care and having deserted his ship.

GREAT STATESMAN GONE.

Death of John Sherman In Washington—A Remarkable Career.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The death of ex-Secretary John Sherman, as announced yesterday, has removed one of the nation's greatest citizens.

Funeral services will be held at the K street residence tomorrow, Rev. Dr. Mackay-Smith of St. John's Episcopal church officiating. After the services the body will be taken to Mansfield, O., where it will be interred beside that of Mrs. Sherman.

John Sherman was born in Lancaster, O., on May 10, 1823. He was the eighth in a family of 11 children, the late General William Tecumseh Sherman being the sixth child. Their mother's maiden name was Mary Hoyt. Their father, for five years a justice of the Ohio supreme court, was a descendant of the Rev. John Sherman of Essex, England, who came to America in 1634. On the death of Justice Sherman in 1829 the family became scattered and a cousin of the name of John Sherman took young John and sent him to school. The boy was prepared for college. Desire to become self supporting led him, however, to joint a corps of surveyors and engineers, with whom he worked for two years. He then studied law in the office of his brother Charles and was admitted to the bar on May 11, 1844. He practiced law in partnership with his brother at Mansfield, O., until he was elected a representative in congress in 1854.

Somewhat before his first appearance in the national legislature John Sherman had, on Aug. 30, 1848, married Cecilia Stewart, daughter of Judge Stewart of Mansfield, O. She was his companion throughout a long public career, and her death last spring marked the beginning of Mr. Sherman's rapid decline.

Sherman was for nearly half a century a Republican leader upon financial questions and was the originator of many important laws. In particular he was the author of the specie redemption plan of the Sherman act of 1879. The length of his continuous public service a brief review suffices to show. After membership in successive congresses from 1855 to 1861 he was chosen United States senator and was twice re-elected before becoming secretary of the treasury under R. B. Hayes. He went back to the senate at the close of the four years' term in 1881 and represented Ohio until 1897, when he became President McKinley's secretary of state. From this office failing health caused his retirement two years ago. Sherman published his own record of his career in "The Recollections of Forty Years In the House, Senate and Cabinet." A volume called "Selected Speeches and Reports on Taxation" was among the publications incidental to his special work.

When, after the Spanish war, Mr. Sherman took a trip to the West Indies and became seriously ill with pneumonia, President McKinley sent a warship to bring him back from Santiago. That prompt action saved his life, it was believed, at that time. His strength was never fully regained.

Of Mr. Sherman's family but two brothers survive, both living in Iowa.

Mourning In Mansfield.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 23.—The bells of churches, shops and of the fire department were tolled yesterday afternoon on account of Senator Sherman's death. Flags are at half mast. A proclamation will be made by Mayor Brown closing business places, factories and schools on Thursday during the funeral. The Sherman residence is being opened. Services probably will be held at Grace Episcopal church.

An English Estimate.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—All the morning papers publish long obituaries and appreciations of the distinguished career of Mr. John Sherman. The Times says: "He was a man who, with little help from fortune and none from genius, exercised for many years a commanding influence on the government of his country and came within a step of the presidential chair."

Outlaw and Officer Dead.

HALSEY, Ky., Oct. 23.—United States Deputy Marshal B. A. Fushon and Tom Taylor, the most notorious moonshiner in Bell county, were found dying yesterday, each filled with bullet holes. They had fought a rifle duel until each dropped in his tracks mortally wounded. For the past three weeks Fushon had been on the trail of Taylor. The officer turned up at Halsey three days after the moonshiner appeared on the street. The officer disappeared, and men working in the woods heard shooting. They found Taylor behind a tree, shot in three places. Twenty feet away lay Officer Fushon. He had got his man, and his man had got him.

The Kentucky Off.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The battleship Kentucky, which put into New York for minor repairs to her gun carriages, started again yesterday to sea. Repairs were of a trivial nature, consisting in a slight change in what is known as the counter recoil checks. The Kentucky will proceed to China to re-enforce the Asiatic squadron.

In a Nebraska Cloudburst.

OMAHA, Oct. 23.—Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn arrived in Omaha yesterday morning in an exhausted condition as a result of five hours' frightful experience in a cloudburst. Mr. Meiklejohn narrowly escaped with his life and lost all the personal effects which he carried with him at the time.

TRANSFORMING CUBA

Governor General Wood's Report on Island Affairs.

WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENTS MADE.

Hospitals Opened, Prisons Repaired, Courts Remodeled, Schools Established—American Troops Not Used During the Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Major General Leonard Wood has made the following statement as to the contents of his civil report as governor general of Cuba:

"The civil report of the island will not be published until the end of the present calendar year. It will cover in detail the work under the various civil departments of the military government during the entire present year. Under the head of hospitals and charities it will be found that every town of consequence in the island has been provided with a hospital well equipped with all necessary supplies and appliances. This condition exists, commencing with Havana, in practically all the more important towns throughout the island. The largest hospital, which is at Havana, is capable of accommodating 2,000 patients and is now serving as a general municipal hospital for that city.

"Asylums for orphan children have been established wherever necessary. The number of these institutions has been greatly reduced during the past few months owing to the great improvement in the general conditions existing in Cuba, children being taken back to their families or their friends.

"The prisons have been overhauled and repaired from one end of the island to the other and the sanitary conditions vastly improved. The military government has had its agents go over the island investigating every case under detention, and many hundreds of prisoners who had been detained for long periods of time awaiting trial have been released, only such being released, however, as had awaited trial for a period as long or longer than they would have been sentenced had they been found guilty. This work was done in the months of January and February of this year. Courts have been stimulated and urged to a prompt performance of their duty, and the result has been that many prisons have been practically empty and a very great improvement has been made in the conduct of criminal cases. A special inspector of prisons has been appointed, whose functions are to inspect at least once in every three months each prison on the island and to examine every prisoner therein.

"Correctional courts have been established throughout the larger cities, where the trial is oral and summary, as in our police courts. The writ of habeas corpus has been published, to take effect on Dec. 1 of this year.

"During the present year over 3,000 public schools have been established. Thirty-six hundred teachers are employed in them, and 150,000 children are in the schools. This number is constantly increasing, and by the end of the present school year it is believed that we shall have 250,000 children in school. The largest number at school under the Spanish rule was between 26,000 and 30,000. The salaries paid the teachers are all high, exceeding any paid in the United States in corresponding grades, with the exception of three of our larger cities. School desks and supplies for 100,000 children have been purchased, sent to the island and put up. Enthusiasm for public education is great. The trip of the 1,300 teachers to Cambridge was most beneficial, and attempts will be made to repeat it next year.

"The United States troops have not been used during the present year for the maintenance of order. The police work in the rural districts is done by the rural guard, which amounts to about 1,200 men for the entire island of Cuba. These men and their officers are all Cubans.

"Public buildings throughout the island have undergone extensive repairs. Sanitary work of great importance has been carried on from one end of Cuba to the other. The two eastern provinces in the island of Cuba for the first time have passed through a summer without a case of yellow fever, and in general there has been a great improvement in health throughout the island. Plans in detail are now ready for advertisement for paving and sewering in a thoroughly first class and modern manner the city of Havana and its suburbs, and there is every reason to believe that in a few years yellow fever in Cuba can be got under the same control as now exists in Jamaica. It is not a matter of one year, but it is a matter of gradual elimination.

"A complete overland telegraph has been established throughout the island. Troops are in good health and are well located in suitable barracks. The condition of the equipment and instruction is excellent. The troops have absolutely no connection with the civil officials, and their presence is a guarantee of good order.

"The financial condition of the country is excellent. The government is entirely self supporting, and the treasury has an unincumbered balance of $1,500,000. Municipalities are gradually assuming their obligations.

"The condition of the people of the island, to the best of my knowledge and belief, is one of content, and they realize that wonderful progress has been made, and they feel as a people kindly toward and have faith in the people of the United States."

Getting Ready For Heaven.

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 23.—The members of the religious sect known as the Jaorelites are arranging to take passage for Scotland, as their prophets have fixed a near date for the end of time. The sect originated in Scotland, and its members believe that their flight to heaven will be taken from some mountain there. Small communities of Jaorelites have been established in northern Indiana and southern Michigan. The men and the women are disposing of their possessions, and the money obtained will be expended in reaching Scotland, whence they believe they are to be transported heavenward.

State Senators will be elected this year in the counties of Cape May, Burlington, Middlesex, Hunterdon, Sussex, Passaic, Bergen and Hudson. The nominations are as follows: Burlington—Nathan Haines, Rep.; Howard E. Packer, Dem. Cape May—Robert E. Hand, Rep.; L. E. Miller, Dem. Middlesex—Theodore Strong, Rep.; James H. VanCleef, Dem. Hunterdon—Alfred C. Gandy, Rep.; William C Gebhardt, Dem. Sussex—Theodore F. Margerum, Rep.; Lewis J. Martin, Dem. Passaic—Wood McKee, Rep.; Frank VanCleve, Dem. Bergen—Edmund W. Wakelee, Rep.; Frank O. Mittag, Dem. Hudson—Mark Fagan, Rep.; Robert S. Hudspeth, Dem.

An advertising periodical estimates that there are in the United States about 170,000 regular advertisers who spend at least $300,000,000 annually for newspaper space, says the Philadelphia Record. Whether these figures be accurate or exaggerated, it is obvious that tens of thousands of successful men consider newspaper "ads" as essential to their business and that their faith in the virtue of advertising is the result of experience.

It is probably without precedent in the history of the New Jersey Legislature that only a single Democratic Senator—Mr. Cornish, of Warren—holds over this year. Twelve Republicans hold over, so that whether they elect any new Senators or not they will control that body next winter, as it consists of only twenty-one members.

Greater New York's total registration is 646,154, an increase of 68,397 over that of 1896. The vote to be cast in Greater New York is estimated at 580,000, which exceeds the vote of all single States, outside of New York, except Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

"Trans-ferry Contingent" is the name given by the New York Tribune to members of women's clubs who living in New Jersey hold their connection with the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, and vice versa of New York women who having moved to the city have not severed their connection with clubs belonging to the New Jersey State Federation.

* * * * * *

Where the States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York come together on an island in the Delaware river, a block of granite, known as the "Tri-State Monument," has been located, and is the object of much interest. Many years ago when only a huge boulder marked the spot, a neighborhood character called "Ike" conceived the idea of building a cabin around the stone. He had a reason for this. He frequently robbed henhouses and stole from the farmers of the neighborhood. He built a rude log cabin, with the stone in its centre. When the New Jersey constable came to arrest Ike that worthy walked over to the part of the room in New York or Pennsylvania, and the New Jersey constable could not take him without a requisition. He escaped the constables from the other two States in like manner. Finally constables from all three States came together. Ike lay on the stone, with his legs in New York and Pennsylvania, and his head in New Jersey. The constables did not know what to do in this new situation, and in the midst of the excitement Ike fell over into one of the States and was made a prisoner.

TO RUIN CHARACTERS.

THE DESPICABLE WORK OF AN UNKNOWN LETTER-WRITER.

Many Women Have Been Made the Objects of Untruthful and Insulting Statements Recently.

A number of very respectable people living in North Plainfield have of late been receiving unsigned letters from some one in which their characters have been attacked or some insulting remark has been made about them or some of their friends. The practice has grown to such proportions that those receiving the letters have determined to take some action in the matter. The handwriting looks very much like that of a woman and the recipients have their suspicion as to who the guilty party is.

Only a few days ago a letter was received in a family from this person in which a young woman's character was assailed and insulting remarks made about her personally. Other women have received epistles and have been astounded to read that their dress and manner of living, etc., have been criticised in an unrelenting manner by this letter writer. Hard feelings have been caused between neighbors, for this letter writer has told various things to some women which their neighbors are reported to have said, and when the matter was investigated it has been learned that the other women had received similar letters in which the self-same things are reported to have been said about them. This mean and contemptible work has raised a storm of indignation among those who have been receiving the letters and they are determined to find out who the writer is and see that proper punishment is given. The worst part of the matter is that the real writer has been trying to throw the blame on other people of respectability.

About five years ago a great many persons in the borough received these kind of letters, and for a time it was stopped, only to be resumed again. Women have been told that they dress too loud and are not wanted in certain societies, churches and organizations of various kinds. They have also been told that they are being talked about and that their reputations are bad, etc. Some things written are unfit for publication, and the recipients in some cases have felt terrible over the things said about them. Every effort will be made to learn the author of these letters, and if it is successful severe measures will be adopted in the treatment of the writer.

PLAINFIELD BRIDE FOR SOUTHERN HOME

the best man and each of the ushers. The bride presented her attendants with gold wreaths, set with pearls. The groom wore his gift from the bride, a diamond and opal scarf pin.

The bride has a host of friends in this city, where she has resided for eight years. She has been prominent among the workers at the Congregational church and in the W. C. T. U. Mr. Bowers has visited in this city many times of late and has favorably impressed all those who have met him. He is now in charge of the factories of the American Snuff Company, at Lynchburg, Va., having recently been promoted from a position at Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers will make their home at Lynchburg for the present.

—Some improvements are being made to the property corner of East Front and Church streets, which has been vacant for some time past.

—The best method of cleansing the liver is the use of the famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Easy to take. Never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

—All three tribes of Red Men of this city have been invited to participate in the sessions of the State Council, Degree of Pocohontas, that is now being held in this city.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Oct. 23.—The concert for the benefit of Clarence A. Roberts which was to have been given in Music Hall last night, was unexpectedly postponed. There is a probability that the concert will be abandoned altogether. In case the management should decide to hold it, the new date will not be set within three weeks.

The recently elected officers of the Junior Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church were installed by Rev. Mr. Ketcham Sunday evening. The officers are as follows: Amy Sampson, president; Jeannette Lake, vice-president; Francis Ginder, secretary; Hudson Wilcox, treasurer. A report of the recent convention at Jersey City was read by Miss Mary Schneider who was a delegate.

A rumor has been current in the borough for the past few days to the effect that the cars of the Plainfield Street Railway would shortly begin running past the present terminus to the opposite end of the borough. Upon inquiry, however, the rumor could not be verified.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hopkins, of Elizabeth, and William Houston, of Brooklyn, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross, Sunday.

Mrs. Daniel Randolph, of South Plainfield, spent yesterday with her father, David Randolph, of Greenbrook.

Mrs. Kingsland, of Passaic, has returned home after a pleasant visit with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. Kingsland.

A. F. Smith, of Brooklyn, returned home yesterday after a week's visit with his sister, Mrs. A. F. Warden.

Percy Abbott spent Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Abbott, of Somerville.

Mrs. Cecil Lewis, of Newark, has returned home after a short stay with Mrs. Hubbard Hayes.

Miss Florence Rugg, of Plainfield, was the guest of Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer, Sunday.

Miss Annie Campbell, of Martinville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Newton Apgar.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Terry entertained William Dore, of Metuchen, Sunday.

Willard Apgar is entertaining his cousin, Willard Apgar, of Philadelphia.

The regular meeting of W. G. Holton Council will be held this evening.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 23.—Miller John Otto has made arrangements with J. Y. Wilson to open the pond gates tonight in order that the latter might commence work on the new dock tomorrow morning. Miller Otto will also make some repairs to the mill machinery at the same time.

A collision between two rigs driven by John Donavan and Abram Gulick, was narrowly averted at Davis' corner Sunday. Gulick was turning to go down the hill as Donavan came up. Neither driver saw the other until almost too late. Both turned as quickly as possible but they were so close the shaft of Gulick's carriage struck the other horse, but not enough to cause any serious injury. Part of Gulick's harness was broken by the quick turn.

James Dunham went to Trenton today as a delegate from Friendship Council to the convention of the Juniors being held there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Ruppell have returned from a three weeks' visit with relatives in Hunderton county.

The dancing school will meet in Friendship Hall tonight.

Andrew Johnson is confined to his home by illness.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Oct. 23.—A wandering artist, with a pot of black paint and plenty of Bryan enthusiasm about him, arrived in town Monday afternoon and proceeded to placard the town with "Vote for Bryan," "Down with Trusts" and other Democratic campaign cries. The man thought the best place to begin work was upon the liberty pole which has stood at the head of Front street for a number of years and several stood by to see what the fellow intended to do, for none thought anyone would dare to mutilate the old pole with campaign advertisements. The fellow soon started in to mark out his letters in chalk preparatory to printing, "Vote for Bryan," when Township Clerk Hand thought it about time to make some inquiry. The man was asked what he intended to do. He said he had been hired to paint some ads. upon the pole. He was told that that there was an ordinance against the posting of any advertisement upon any of the streets through the township unless permission is granted by the Township Committee. He said he had the authority of a member of the Committee and intended to go ahead with the work. Mr. Hand told him that the pole was not erected by the township or any political party, but was put up by subscription of the residents, and, authority or no authority, if he put a mark of paint upon the old land mark he would have him arrested. He finally concluded he would not take an arrest with his contract, but would withdraw. The affair has stirred up the wrath of the citizens of both Democratic and Republican sentiment. The old pole, from the sentiments expressed, will never be used by either party as an advertising medium for any candidate in the future.

The Republican voters held their primary to elect delegates to the county convention at Elizabeth Thursday, in the club rooms last evening. The meeting was a harmonious one and showed the party united for this campaign as strong as it ever was. John Robison was elected chairman of the meeting and Wm. B. Noble acted as secretary. The delegates chosen were Edward L Hand, Frank R. Allen and John Robison. George Bell and Edward L. Hand were elected members of the county committee. At the close of the meeting those present were entertained by several short addresses upon the party issues by several members.

Edward Fancher was last night elected a delegate to the Republican county convention from Fanwood. Dr. F. W. Westcott was elected a member of the Republican county committee.

The Westfield and Elizabeth line have put on several new and very comfortable cars to take the place of some of the "Pneumonia Expresses" they have made the public endure for several weeks.

The Democrats of Scotch Plains will raise a banner tomorrow night in that place. Afterwards there will be a mass meeting which will be addressed by Thomas W. S. Scanlon, of New York.

Misses Estelle Allen and Louise Munroe, of the North Baptist church, New York—Rev. G. M. Shott's former charge—were guests at "The Manse" Sunday.

Rev. G. M. Shott has returned from New York, where he has been attending the Ministers' Conference meeting.

Miss Mamie Miller led an interesting Epworth League meeting in the Methodist church last evening.

Miss Lilia Hayes led the weekly meeting of the B. Y. O. U. in the Baptist church last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crisp, of Trenton, were the guests Monday of Miss Susie L. Parse.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Meyers have been entertaining relatives from New York.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Lemtine Meade, of Bethlehem, Pa., has been visiting her friends, Mies Clapp, of Mercer avenue.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Willett, of East Second street, has about recovered from his illness.

Miss Grace Pierson, of Woodbury, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bailey, of Duer street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Coon have returned from their honeymoon and have taken up their residence in this city.

William S. Stimpson, formerly of the reportorial staff of The Daily Press, but now of the Trenton Times, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Plainfield friends.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

A notable feature of "Friend Fritz," which will be seen at Music Hall on Thursday night, will be the elaborate and complete production that will be made of the play. The entire story is laid in that picturesque province which has so long been a bone of contention between France and Germany, Alsace; and full advantage has been taken of the charming local color. Two acts take place in Fritz Kobus' house, and the interiors shown are marvels in their faithful reproduction of the massive apartments of the country Squire—the dark walls with the family portraits, the hard wood floor with the old fashioned German, porcelain stove in one corner, the massive ceiling and the beautiful stained glass windows with the bright sunshine streaming in. The second act shows an exterior scene with the cottage of Suzel's father on the left, the old fashioned well in the foreground, a pretty hedge row at the back, and a garden wall with creeping vines and flowers at the right, the whole arched over with towering trees. "Friend Fritz" will be elaborately and handsomely staged, well acted and pleasingly by Marion Manola and a superior company. It is a delightful comedy, pure, sweet and entertaining, and appeals to the best class of theatre-goers.

* * * * * *

Probably no new play has been received with fuch universal commendation as C. E. Callahan's Tennessee comedy, "A Romance of Coon Hollow," which will be at Music Hall Saturday afternoon and night. On its original production in Chicago, the critics of that city, while noting many minor defects, were a unit in predicting its success. The New York press was equally unanimous in commenting on the piece during its run at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, and from Boston to New Orleans there has not been a dissenting opinion on the merits of the play. The soft southern drawl which permeates the language of some of the characters has a peculiar charm. The thorough human nature embodied in the personages ot the play appeal to the very best taste. Join to this "A Romance of Coon Hollow" reveals magnificent scenery and effects, novel and unique electrical features; and carries a troup of singing and dancing darkies, male and female. There will be reserved seats at the matinee.

Theatre-goers are promised a rare treat at Stillman Music Hall Tuesday of next week, when Edgar Selden's successful farce comedy, "A Spring Chicken," is to be presented. The piece has recently been re-written and livened up with some taking specialties. The scenes are laid in Staten Island, the action taking place at a summer hotel and on the beach at the famous resort.

Lockhart's performing elephants should prove a novelty for Broadway at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre this week. The performance is said to be marvellous and will prove a treat for the children. Sam, Clara and Kittie Morton, always big favorites in any programme, will give their latest dances. Others are: Harry Watson and his comedy company in "The Two Flats"; St. Onge Bros., comedy bicyclists; Williamson and Stone, dancers; Bros. Damm, unique acrobats; Lawrence Crane, magician, etc. Broadway's lowest prices prevail at this house. Orchestra, 50c., and balconies, 25c. Continuous from 12:30 to 10:45 p. m.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Der Begründer der weltbekannten Velten'schen Handelsgärtnerei und verdienstvolle Förderer der pfälzischen Landwirthschaft, Oekonomierath Velten, ist im Alter von 82 Jahren gestorben.

Frankenthal. Wegen Privaturkundenfälschung in 35 Fällen in Zusammenhang mit Betrug wurde der 40 Jahre alte Kaufmann Wilhelm Reuther zu 10 Monaten 14 Tagen Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Zweibrücken. Bei einem dahier abgehaltenen Rennen stürzte der Herzog Siegfried in Bayern beim Nehmen eines Hindernisses, ohne sich erheblich zu verletzen. Gleichfalls beim Nehmen eines Hindernisses stürzte Lieutenant Freiherr v. Seldeneck und wurde schwer verletzt.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Wegen Majestätsbeleidigung sowie einiger weiteren Vergehen wurde der Tagelöhner Brekle von der Strafkammer zu einem Jahr acht Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt. Er hatte Postkarten mit Beleidigungen des Königs an den Oberstaatsanwalt in Stuttgart geschrieben.

Biberach. Ein hier abgehaltener, aus allen Theilen des Landes stark besuchter Verbandstag der württembergischen Gewerbevereine nahm einstimmig einen Antrag auf möglichst baldige Einführung des Postscheckverkehrs an.

Kannstatt. Durch die Lokomotive eines Schnellzuges wurde die Frau des Stationsdieners Specht bei dem Ueberschreiten der Geleise in Offingen erfaßt und bei Seite geschleudert. Sie erlitt innere Verletzungen, denen sie erlag.

Süßen. Vor Kurzem wurde mit dem Bau der normalspurigen Lokalbahn Süßen-Weißenstein begonnen. Die 10.4 Kilometer lange Bahn erhält Stationen in Gründach, Winzingen, Nenningen, Donzdorf und Weißenstein; die Gesammtkosten sind einschließlich der Kosten für Grunderwerbung und Betriebsmittel zu 859,000 Mark veranschlagt.

Ulm. Die weltbekannte Feuerwehrgeräthe-Fabrik von C. D. Magirus in Ulm erhielt für die sinnreiche Konstruktion ihrer Leitern auf der Pariser Weltausstellung die höchste Auszeichnung, den „Großen Preis," den einzigen, der in dieser Abtheilung verliehen wurde.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Der Minister des Inneren, Dr. Eisenlohr, wurde auf sein Ansuchen von seiner Stellung entbunden und der Präsident des Verwaltungsgerichtshofes, Dr. Schenkel, zum Minister des Inneren ernannt.

Mannheim. Der Instrumentenmacher Karl Zach aus Budapest, der als Händler mit alten Meistergeigen und als Kenner von solchen einen europäischen Ruf genießt, wurde von der Mannheimer Strafkammer zu 15 Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt, weil er den Erlös für eine „Stradivari" im Werthe von 10,000 Mark, die ihm ein Mannheimer Staatsanwalt zum Verkaufe übergeben, unterschlagen hatte.

Neustadt. In Folge von Brandstiftung war hier innerhalb zwei Monaten elf Mal Feuer ausgebrochen. Die Staatsanwaltschaft hat nun 1100 Mark Belohnung für die Eruirung eines oder mehrerer Thäter ausgesetzt.

Radolfzell. Die Bahn Lindau-Friedrichshafen wird bis Ueberlingen fortgesetzt; es werden die Orte Meersburg-Immenstaad, Hagenau u. s. w. Stationen der neuen Bahn werden, nach deren Fertigstellung die Bodensee-Gürtelbahn vollständig sein wird.

Zizenhausen. Der Maurer Hof wurde verhaftet. Er steht in dem Verdacht, den im Februar 1899 todt in seiner Wohnung aufgefundenen 75jährigen Mitbewohner Trieb erschlagen zu haben.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. Im Herbste 1896 bestanden in den größeren Städten der Reichslande 29 Handwerkervereinigungen, denen rund 2000 Handwerker angehörten. Am 1. Juli 1898 war die Zahl der Handwerkervereine auf 50 mit 3600 Mitgliedern gestiegen, von denen 3380 Handwerker waren. Nach den am 1. Juli d. J. vom Ministerim veranlaßten Ermittelungen bestehen zur Zeit hierzulande 98 Handwerkervereinigungen mit 6583 Mitgliedern, unter denen sich 5732 Handwerker befinden.

Metz. Bei St. Privat wurde das Denkmal enthüllt, welches das 3. Garde-Regiment zu Fuß seinen am 18. August 1870 dort gefallenen Kameraden errichten ließ.

Mülhausen. Um der drohenden Kohlennoth zu steuern, wählte der Gemeinderath eine Kommission zum Einkauf größerer Kohlenvorräthe, die für die Selbstkosten an die Bürgerschaft abgegeben werden sollen.

Why It Succeeds.

Because It's For One Thing Only and Plainfield is Learning This.

Nothing can be good for everything.
Doing one thing well brings success.
Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.
They're for sick kidneys.
Here is Plainfield evidence to prove it.

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit avenue, says: 'I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the U.S.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

HOMES SWEPT FROM SIGHT.

Singular Phenomena During the Earthquake of July 13, 1897, in India.

The Indian government has only just published the report of the geological survey on the great earthquake of July 12, 1897, which devastated the entire western portion of Assam. The report makes a volume of more than 400 large pages, with many plates. It contains several illustrations of disasters similar to that in the Neo valley, Japan, in the earthquake of 1891, when the earth opened and swallowed whole houses and then closed again, leaving no trace except that the roofs projecting beyond the walls of the building were too wide to fall into the rift and were left on the surface.

The same explanation of this phenomenon, says the New York Sun, is made in India as in Japan. The houses had been built along a straight line and under them the earth had opened and the houses had fallen into the chasm. Then the opening had closed and all persons who were in the houses at the time were buried in the houses, no one knows how deep. No attempt was made to recover their bodies, for there were many hundreds of wounded who required attention and the living had to be thought of before the dead. Only the roofs were to be seen, and on looking under them instead of the confused heap of rubbish found under the other wrecked buildings there was merely the surface of the ground on the same level inside as outside.

This great Indian earthquake has been the occasion of other expensive publications, chiefly by the Japanese government. Japan is keenly alive to the necessity of adopting methods of building houses and engineering constructions that will best withstand the effects of earthquake shocks. All investigations on this subject are in the hands of the earthquake investigating committee of Japan.

As soon as the serious nature of the catastrophe that had overtaken northeast India was understood a part of the Japanese committee was at once dispatched to the scene and the reports they wrote form two volumes of the committee's publications. Their researches have proved to be particularly instructive and important for earthquake countries. The volumes, for example, contain many pictures and plans, as well as much letterpress, contrasting different forms of concrete flooring, roof and other timber work, varieties of joints, types of archway and the like, which failed, with corresponding constructions which successfully resisted the destructive forces. The text is in Chinese characters, but many of the pictures show at a glance that while certain forms of structures withstood or were only slightly affected by the shocks others entirely failed.

One interesting fact observed was that buildings resting upon the earth or upon stones flush with the earth, escaped with little damage, while others near them that were raised on foundations above the surface were destroyed or badly damaged. The general conclusion reached by the Japanese investigators was that a building with a light roof and constructed entirely of timber, in which the joints are replaced by iron straps and cast iron shoes, may be made as capable of withstanding a violent racking as a wicker basket.

A BOLD POLAR DASH.

German Sailor Has Departed for the Arctic Country in a Small Fishing Boat.

The latest polar expedition has just been undertaken by Capt. Bauendahl, a German sailor, who, with six companions, will attempt to force his way to the north pole in the Matador, an ordinary two-masted sailing vessel registering but 44 tons. The Matador is a rough-sea fishing boat, not incumbered with machinery. In this vessel the daring explorer departed on August 14 from Hamburg, his destination being Tromso, Norway, where he intends to take on board the necessary clothing and outfit. He will sail northward or Spitzbergen and will encounter the pack ice. He will pursue his course along the pack ice in the easterly direction through the open water channels, or will seek streams which will allow him to proceed further north. So long as the ice will permit Capt. Bauendahl will use his ship, but if fields of ice should oppose the Matador he will abandon it to its fate, and will travel northward with his crew and provisions over the ice. In case the Matador will not be able to enter the pack ice Bauendahl will place his ship in the Seven Islands and will attempt to go forward in small boats. As to whether the explorer will return on the Franz Josef Land route or by the way of Greenland will depend entirely upon the stream or ice opposition he may encounter.

The captain is of the opinion that he will come across traces of Andree on the route chosen by him, as the buoys have been found on the same path.

Bauendahl gives these motives for selecting this route: Nearly all the plans for the discovery of the north pole have failed owing to the ice masses which obstructed farther progress of a vessel. When the waters were open to advance the exploring party did not want to part with the vessel, as it served as a base for operations. No one has yet penetrated the pack ice north of Spitzbergen with a ship. Bauendahl holds that by going farther eastward instead of pushing directly north more favorable results could be secured in consequence of more favorable stream conditions. In case the expedition shall suffer a mishap, such as the sickness of one of the crew, the party will continue their journey on the moving ice. The captain does not fear the dangers of such a voyage. That this could be done, he claims, is amply demonstrated by the travels of the men of the Hansa and the Polaris. Plenty of food and fuel is only necessary.

The expense of the expedition, amounting to about 90,000 marks, will be entirely borne by Bauendahl, and nearly the whole of his fortune is spent on the daring venture. The salaries of the crew are also considerable.

EATS WITHOUT MOUTH.

Post-Nasal Feeding, as Practiced on a Youthful Patient in an Eastern Hospital.

John Fackenstock, the seven-year-old patient at the eastern district hospital, Williamsburg, is taking his meals, as he has been doing for several days, through his nostrils. The boy, whose parents live at 66 Seigel street, was kicked in the mouth by a horse a few days ago, his teeth knocked out and his mouth so injured that he could not take food in the ordinary way, says the New York World.

Science stepped in where nature failed, and his life has since been sustained by the method known as post-nasal feeding, or by forcing food into the stomach by passing a tube through the nose into the oesophagus.

The apparatus consists of a piece of small rubber tubing about 15 inches long, to one end of which is attached a hard rubber funnel.

The liquid food is poured into the funnel, the tube is passed down the nostril to the oesophagus and thus the food is passed into the stomach.

It is rather a hard way of eating for a healthy boy, but young Fackenstock is thriving on it, and if no unlooked-for relapse happens until his mouth shall heal he will soon be all right again.

who are ruptured cannot locate the seat of the trouble unless taught by someone skilled in the business. They think they can—are positive they can—are willing to argue they can—yet five minutes explanation convinces them for all time they were mistaken. The chances are that all you have guessed about this matter is wrong.
A scientific truss should never touch the pubic bone, never press the spermatic cord or any other delicate parts, should never have under-straps, should always be easy on the back and should hold the rupture at the internal ring so as not to allow any part of it to lodge in the inguinal canal.

PRINCE OF BEGGARS.

In Chinese Cities He Is Quite an Important Personage.

All the Mendicants in His District Must Pay Tribute to Him—Almost as Powerful as the King of Thieves.

Beggars, thieves and lepers in China have a certain place in the public affairs of the empire. They are controlled by no laws except those made by the "king of each clan," and as vagrants they are allowed to roam where they will. Like other classes of people in China they are formed into guilds, the most powerful having headquarters at Nanking. In Peking and Tientsin also fraternities of these degenerates are a great menace to foreigners.

The beggars in Peking and other large Chinese cities are divided into two or more districts, each of which is presided over by an official head called the "king of beggars." The so-called "king" receives a large percentage of all the charitable gifts made to his subjects and also demands enormous sums from the shoppers and from merchants who wish to keep beggars out of their shops. In this way the "king" becomes wealthy. He usually lives in the best of Chinese dwellings and commands the respect of his fellow men.

There are many frightful sights among Chinese beggars, as they often maim and disfigure themselves, in order to excite the sympathy of passers-by. In this respect they resemble the Italian beggars, who are noted for maiming and crippling themselves to become better beggars. Many of the Chinese beggars are blind, having themselves destroyed their sight. A man will put a live cockroach in his eye and then bind it up securely. The insect will eat up the eye entirely and the man will go out to beg. Frequently these horrible-looking men go around in droves; in fact, on certain days of each year they may be seen in gangs of 100 to 150. When they go around in large numbers it is their purpose to demand alms from the shoppers and merchants, and upon these occasions the "king" receives much tribute, for the shop owners will gladly pay to him the required sum if he will only forbid any of his subjects to enter their stores. Should a drove of these beggars go into a store there would be little stock left when they vacated it.

They are always persistent and seldom cease to annoy you until some contribution has been made. A state department official told how a Chinese beggar girl followed him for nearly half a mile and merely touched the end of his coat, not once speaking to him. He said that the touch was so soft and gentle that it was barely noticeable, but it was repeated until he was compelled to give her a coin.

Thieves in the large Chinese cities are also divided into districts and controlled by a so-called "king of thieves." The "king" knows everything that gots on in his district. He knows just where the stolen articles are and by whom they were stolen. A new thief could not come into a district without the "king" knowing of it and having him immediately brought under control. The "king of the thieves" gets a large percentage of all property stolen by his subjects. Chinamen are skillful pickpockets, and do not hesitate to rob anyone who passes by. When a foreigner is robbed the money or property is generally returned. He must first make complaint to the local magistrate that the property has been stolen. The magistrate will then send for the "king of the thieves" and demand that the stolen articles be returned. "I don't know anything about it," is the usual reply. The magistrate then has the "king" soundly thrashed, and he brings back the stolen goods. Of course he has to be rewarded for the recovery, and the owner must pay to him a nominal sum of money. In case a native is robbed, it is almost impossible to recover stolen property, for neither the magistrate nor the "king" will listen to the complaint.

Every Chinese city has a leper house outside its gates, and most of them have two or more. As in the case of the beggars and thieves, there is an executive head called the "king of the lepers," who controls all lepers and makes rules and compacts, which must be observed. These unfortunates are numerous throughout the empire. When in the first stage of the disease they are brought to the leper houses. Good care is taken of them as long as their relatives can meet the demand of the "king." But, no matter how wealthy their families may be, the "king" eventually drains them of every cent, and both the leper and his relatives often have to turn beggars.

These classes of people have been a great drawback to China for many years, and missionaries have devoted much time to breaking up the clans.

A BRAVE FELLOW KILLED

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF REVOLVER ENDED M'DEVITT'S LIFE.

He Was a Member of the Marines Attached to Cruiser Brooklyn—Death Occurred Jan. 2d.

Mayor George W. Rockfellow received a communication from the War Department at Washington this morning, telling him of the death at Cavite, Philippine Islands, of Dominick McDevitt, formerly of Bayonne, but who had a sister supposed to be living in the city. The letter came in response to a letter written to the department by John H. Carney, of Craig place, who has had charge of the correspondence for Miss Winnie McDevitt, the sister, who is employed by Mrs. J. H. Carney's sister, Mrs. Culp, formerly of Bayonne, but now of Monticello, N. Y.

The correspondence was turned over to Mr. Carney, who will communicate with Miss McDevitt. Her brother was a member of Co. E, 1st Regiment of Marines, of the U. S. Armored Cruiser Brooklyn, and at the time of his death was gunnery sergeant, and he was accidentally killed by the discharge of a pistol. His death occurred January 2d last, but owing to the inability of the War Department to ascertain the whereabouts of relatives no information could be transmitted.

For gallant services in rescuing John Egan, a visitor to the Brooklyn, who fell overboard, a very handsome leather bound book containing all the official letters concerning that act, was compiled by McDevitt's shipmates and presented to him. It was on December 20th, 1896, that the rescue was made. A strong effort was made to secure him a life-saving medal, but according to law he could not get one owing to the special rescues provided therein. The letters in the book commend and praise McDewitt highly for his services, not only in rescuing a man, but in other ways. Mr. Carney has this book, and he will forward it with other personal effects to Miss Winnie McDevitt at Monticello. There are other sisters living in Philadelphia and in Australia.

GREAT COUNCIL OF DAUGHTERS OF POCOHONTAS IN SESSION.

Two Hundred Delegates are in Attendance—Reports Received From Various Officers.

Early this morning the representatives of the Great Council of the Degree of Pocohontas began arriving in the city where the annual session of the order is to be held today and tomorrow representing thirty-five councils. Nearly 200 have arrived so far from all parts of the State and more are coming hourly.

The session is being held in the rooms of the local branch of the order, Iona Council, No. 14, which have been decorated for the occasion in a very artistic manner. Today's business will consist of various matters of importance, including the election of officers. This evening a reception will be given the visitors by Iona Council.

From the reports given this morning it was shown that the order has a total membership in the State of 2,160. During the past year $11,106.60 has been collected in dues. The total wealth of the order is $16,934.06. The expenditures for the past year have been $3,260.83 for relief and $1,385 for funeral benefits.

After the above reports were read, the past chiefs degree was given to twenty-one new past chiefs. Nominations were then opened for the election of chiefs for next year after which the session adjourned until this afternoon when the election will take place. Among the Great Chiefs who were present this morning were: Great Prophetess, Mary W. Stiles, Atlantic City; Great Pocohontas, Ida M. Craig, Jersey City; Great Wenohah, Sarah T. Bellstab, Trenton; Great Minnehaha, Mary Morgan, Newark; Great Keeper of Records, May M. Ashmore, Trenton; Great Keeper of Wampum, Jennie Grace, South Amboy; First Great Scott, Jane Heck, Trenton; Second Great Scout, Susan Mooney, Red Bank; Great Guard of Tepee, Sarah Moore, Elizabeth; Great Guard of Forest, Sarah Hood, Hammonton.

New City Hotel Proprietors.

Several days ago The Daily Press reported the change of proprietors at the City Hotel, and today the new proprietors, Messrs. James A. Walshe and Charles O. Strong, of Newburg, N. Y., took possession of the hotel and will hereafter conduct the place in a first-class manner. Charles Knapp, the retiring proprietor, will return to New York and assume the management of his hotel there. The transfer of the City Hotel property was made by Lawyer William G. DeMeza. The new firm expect to make a number of improvements about the place and run it on the plan of a metropolitan hotel.

Avoided Trolley; Ran Into Wagon

In seeking to avoid a trolley car on Watchung avenue early this morning, an unknown wheelman rode directly into one of J. W. VanSyckel's delivery wagons. His wheel struck between the front wheel and shafts of the wagon and he was thrown on his head, but escaped being run over. The horse stepped on the bicycle, rendering it almost useless. Beyond a few bruises the young man was uninjured, but those who witnessed the accident say his escape from serious injury was almost miraculous.

DANCED AT A BENEFIT.

Affair Given to Aid Martin Walsh, the Injured Motorman, Was a Success.

Over 100 couples attended the dance given in Washington Hall, last evening, for the benefit of Martin Walsh, the motorman, who was so terribly injured in the trolley accident at Westfield early last month. Prof. O'Reilly was on hand with his orchestra and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

The affair was one of the most enjoyable of its kind ever given in the hall, and as a result a handsome sum will be handed to Mr. Walsh, who is still confined to the hospital.

The committee who had the dance in charge and helped to make it the success it was consisted of I. L. Tingley, Walter L. Randall and William Bird.

They were assisted by Thomas Malone, Peter Winn, Frank McCabe, Michael Nevins, Michael Kelley, Eugene Sharp, Harry Gunn and Charles Bernard.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

ELIZABETH TO GIVE BRYAN A BIG WELCOME

Elaborate Arrangements for the Reception of the Presidential Candidate Tomorrow.

A G. O. P. MEETING TONIGHT.

FOURTH WARD REPUBLICANS WILL GATHER IN REFORM HALL.

Scotch Plains Democrats Raise a Banner This Evening—Doings of the Politicians in Both Parties in Various Parts.

The Elizabeth Democrats are arranging for a monster reception to William Jennings Bryan on his visit to Elizabeth tomorrow night, where he will arrive at 7:11 and speak for 20 minutes in Scott Park, which will be profusely decorated and brilliantly illuminated with colored electric lights. The Democratic candidate for the Presidency will be met at the railroad station by a committee and a unique parade will be had down Broad street to East Jersey street, to the park, three blocks away. The novel feature of the parade will be the lining up of all the Democratic clubs in the city along the gutters on Broad street, while the candidate passes by in a barouche drawn by four gray horses. Nearly a ton of pyrotechnics will be shot off along the line of march and about the speaker's stand. Mr. Bryan will be escorted back to the station with the same display of fireworks and pomp.

Scotch Plains Democrats will raise a banner this evening at the corner of Park and Bartle avenues. Thomas W. F. Scanlon, of New York, will deliver a speech in connection with the banner raising.

Because of the refusal of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to permit William Jennings Bryan to speak from the rear platform of his car at New Brunswick tomorrow the committee in charge has secured the courthouse yard for the open-air meeting. A platform will be erected and the candidate will be taken from the train to the place of meeting in a carriage. The objection raised by the railroad company to the open-air meeting at the railroad station was the danger from passing trains.

There will be a Republican rally at Reform Hall this evening under the auspices of the Fourth ward campaign committee. Although the rally is under ward auspices it will be open to the voters of the city and not of any one section. The speakers for the occasion will be Congressman Charles N. Braum, of Pennsylvania, and Col. Wm. E. Rogers, of Washington, D. C. The North Plainfield Glee Club will be present and give several selections. It was originally intended to hold the meeting in Republican headquarters, but the plan has since been changed and the meeting will be held in Reform Hall, corner of Central avenue and West Second street.

A meeting of the board of managers of the Second Ward Republican Association will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at Republican headquerters. Some important matters will be considered.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Third Ward Republican Association Friday evening at the ward headquarters in the Casino.

An informal programme is being arranged for the "open house" at Republican headquarters Saturday evening. Two excellent speakers are promised. There will also be music

The Bryan and Stevenson Club, of Netherwood, will hold a meeting this evening in John Hensey's store at the corner of North and Leland avenues. Several new members are expected to be present this evening.

The U. S. Grant Republican Club of the borough held a meeting last evening, and listened to an interesting address by Clarence L. Murphy, who reviewed briefly the many reasons why McKinley and Roosevelt should receive the unanimous support of all. The club expect to go to Bernardsville Friday evening if suitable arrangements can be made for the trip.

Invitations have been sent to the following to act as vice-presidents at the Republican rally in Reform Hall this evening under the auspices of the Fourth ward Republican campaign committee:

Dr. O. L. Jenkins, Councilman J. F. Buckle, Horace J. Adams, Councilman W. L. Gloak, Harry B. MacDonald, Charles S. Sminck, City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, Councilman J. B. Dumont, S. A. Ginna, John E. Keely, City Judge Wm. N. Runyon, Assemblyman Charles S. Foote, Charles C. Davis, Councilman John van Herwerden, Former Assemblyman Roger F. Murray, Former Sheriff W. T. NEED TO WIN ONCE MORE

AND THEN PARK CLUB WILL HOLD WHIST TROPHY FOR GOOD.

Fourteenth Victory Secured Over the Forest Hill Club by a Score of 10 to 5.

Only one more win is required to make the Park Club the permanent owner of the State challenge whist trophy. Last night the Park Club four won its fourteenth match for the trophy, by defeating the Forest Hill Club challengers, by a score of 10 to 5. The game was played at the clubhouse of the Park Club on Washington avenue.

Up to last evening the Park Club, the New Jersey Whist Club, of Newark, and the Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club were tied for the trophy with thirteen wins each. A week ago the local whist players held the trophy successfully against the New Jersey Whist Club four. Next week the Parks will play the Jersey City Club team. Victory means that the trophy passes into the possession of the Park Club forever.

Last evening's game was a close one but the Parks showed their superiority from the first. It was only by careful consistent playing, however, that they took the lead and kept it. The first round showed the score 3 to 2 in favor of the Park Club four. The second round went to the Parks 5 to 0. The visitors made a final attempt in the last round but only gained a single point, the score being 3 to 2 in their favor. The total score was 10 to 5.

Fred H. Freeman, Albert E. Woltman, Ralph T. Willis and Arthur F. Freeman represented the Park Club as usual. The Forest Hill team was composed of J. M. Hunt, J. F. Sisserson, E. M. Halsey and C. G. Halsey.

PARK AVENUE HOTEL GUESTS.

Wallace, Miss Wallace, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Misch, J. K. Tillotson and family, G. R. W. Arms, A. N. Selter and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fareira, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Dodd, of Newark; E. C North, of Boston; M.L. Hellings and family, of Key West, Fla,

Manager John D. Bailey is doing everything possible to make life pleasant at this popular hotel, and throughout the season there will be many attractive features. Next Monday evening there will be an informal dance and reception and a number of Plainfield people have been invited to join in the festivities.

FREE EXCURSIONISTS

768 Plainfielders Take Advantage of Offer of Newark Merchants.

The free excursion to Newark today given under the auspices of four merchants of Newark was a great success. The train carrying the 768 Plainfield people who went did not leave this city until 10:15, over an hour late. This delay was caused by the great crowd that completely filled the special trains that started from Somerville. The committee in charge telegraphed to Jersey City and had a special train sent to this city and it arrived about 10 o'clock. The crowd was composed almost entirely of women and it was a good natured one.

Horse's Wild Plunge.

While Dennis Carney, Jr., who is employed by Jacob Heidloff, the Somerset street hardware dealer, was unhitching Mr. Heidloff's horse in the rear of the store yesterday afternoon, the animal made a wild plunge and fell down an area-way fifteen feet deep. The fortunate part of the accident is that the horse was not injured in the slightest degree. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the horse on top of the ground, but after working for some time this feat was accomplished successfully.

Gift of Tower Clock.

George N. Lowery, a former Hackettstown boy and a graduate of the Centenary Collegiate Institute, class of 1883, has pledged a tower clock and bell, to cost $1,000, to place in the tower of the main building of the new Centenary Collegiate Institute at Hackettstown.

CROOKED DRUG CLERK MAY BE SENT TO STATE PRISON.

Substituted His Name for That of Charles Hall on a Pharmacist's Certificate.

Many Plainfielders will remember Edmund Dante, the clever young man who was employed by C. E. Hepburn & Co., druggists, and who succeeded in doing some crooked work while working at the pharmacy He became involved in some crooked work in New York and was sent to Blackwell's Island for a year. After serving ten months he was released, which was just a short time ago. He was immediately re-arrested on a charge of substituting his name for that of Charles Hall on a certificate given to Mr. Hall by the college from which he graduated. The officials of the college has secured eminent counsel and they propose to see that Dante gets what he deserves.

Dante is now confined in the Tombs in New York, and he will be given a hearing today. If adjudged guilty he is liable to get five years. The charge under which he was arrested is misdemeanor. Dante was employed for a short time by Charles Hall while the latter was in Europe, and it was during that time he is supposed to have committed the act for which he must stand trial. He is alleged to have cut Mr. Hall's name out of the certificate and then remove a similar piece of the heavy paper from the edge hidden by the frame. This piece he inserted in the place left vacant in the certificate, after which he wrote his name thereon. It would take the eye of an expert to discover the clever piece of work. Dante then took this certificate to New York and secured a position as drug clerk on the strength of it. It was then that the crooked work was discovered and steps taked to prosecute the young man.

Mr. Hall was called to New York today to testify at the hearing and tell what he knows concerning the matter in question.

SURPRISE AWAITED HER.

Mrs. Bauersachs' Friends Had Arranged to Celebrate Her Birthday.

On returning home from church last evening Mrs. J. W. A. Bauersachs, of Grandview avenue, was surprised to find her home brilliantly lighted and a parlor full of guests awaiting her arrival. As soon as she was able to regain her composure she was informed that the gathering was in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Bauersachs joined in the fun and a most pleasant evening was passed in singing and playing games. One of the latter was the tailess donkey, which created much amusement. The first prize was given to Theodore Merklinger, while Miss Major secured the booby prize. It was nearly midnight before the festivities were brought to a close by the serving of refreshments. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Utzinger, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stine, Miss Major, Miss Lucetta Clark, Miss Nettie Bauersachs, Albert and Chris Utzinger and George Apgar, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Merklinger and Theodore Merklinger, of Newark.

MISS PETRIE A BRIDE FOR NEW YORK LAWYER

Charming Home Wedding Celebrated on East Sixth Street Last Evening.

E. W WILLIAMS THE GROOM.

GREEN AND WHITE WERE PREVAILING COLORS IN THE HOUSE.

Bride Becomingly Gowned in White Organdie—She is a Graduate of High School—Couple Will Reside Here.

A charming home wedding was that of Miss Grace Howard Petrie, daughter of Mrs. James Petrie, of 319 East Sixth street, to Edgar Whitfield Williams, of Washington, D. C., which took place at the home of the bride's mother last evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. C. X. Hutchinson, of Hackettstown, a brother in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterism church of this city, of which the bride is a member.

Green and white were the prevailing colors of the floral decorations, which fairly transformed the parlors. The ceremony was performed before a white altar rail, behind which was banked palms and potted plants and an arch formed of southern smilax, set with cosmos and carnations.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white organdie over white taffeta and carried a bouquet of bride roses. Her maid of honor was a niece, Miss Gladys Petrie, of Jersey City, whose gown was of mousselin de soie over pink silk. She carried pink roses. There were two flower girls, also nieces, the Misses Constance and Margaret Hutchinson, of Hackettstown. They wore white organdie over blue and yellow respectively, and their bouquets were composed of carnations.

There were two ushers, Edward C. Petrie, of this city, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Wheelock, of New York.

Only the relatives of the couple and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony. They numbered two score or more. After the ceremony, the wedding supper was served and an informal reception held. Then the couple left, amid a shower of rice and confetti, and took the train for the south.

The bride is well known in this city having lived here for many years. She graduated from the Plainfield High School and last year was an instructor at the North Plainfield High School. She has been a worker at the First Presbyterian church. The groom is a lawyer and is now practicing in New York. The couple will make their home for a time with the bride's mother on East Sixth street.

The groom was a member of the special Porto Rican Commission of which Dr. H. K. Carroll was the head, and he acted in the capacity of typewriter and stenographer for the Comsion. He compiled Dr. Dr. Carroll's report after it was prepared by the latter.

BUSINESS BOOMING.

Coal Consumers Anxious to Use the Schlicht Combustion Process.

Just at the time of election when general business is dull and business men are talking politics, it is refreshing to hear of some one who has more business than they can attend to. This is the condition Mr. Evans, the New Jersey agent for the Schlicht Combustion Process Company, finds, and it is also true of all other agents of this company. The proposition is so inviting to any one burning coal and the method of introduction so very generous on the part of the company, that it instantly appeals to the individual as a good investment. No favors are asked by the Schlicht Company agents, the installations are made at their expense and left for thirty days trial and removed if not satisfactory. Mr. Evans has just disposed of an entire county in this territory on a good stiff guarantee and had a proposition from the same party for five counties, but refused to part with the counties in question as they comprised the cream of New Jersey.

Mr. Evans has found great difficulty in securing skilled mechanics to make the installations here in Plainfield and takes this means of asking the indulgence of the public who have given time orders, till he can get the work done, but with considerably over one hundred orders in sixty days the work has accumulated, and cannot be properly done if hurried.

TEMPERANCE ADVOCATES

GRAND DIVISION S. OF T. IN SESSION HERE TODAY.

Delegates Present From All Parts of the State—Most Worthy Patriarch Murray Present.

The quarterly meeting of the Grand Division Sons of Temperance of New Jersey is being held in the rooms of Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance, Washington Hall, today. There are about fifty delegates present from all parts of the State. Most Worthy Patriarch J. P. Murray, of East Orange, is presiding over the sessions.

The business of the morning included an address by Mr. Murray in which he reviewed the work of the past quarter, and spoke of the bright future for the organization. His remarks were very enthusiastic and were encouraging to all.

Another feature of the morning's session was the initiation of three candidates.

At noon the visitors were entertained at lunch by the members of Howell Division. This afternoon's session was devoted to reports from various parts of the State, showing the progress made along the line of temperance. Each report was very encouraging. New measures were advanced to increase the usefulness of the order, and two more candidates were initiated.

Among the distinguished persons are Most Worthy Patriarch A. G. Lawson, of Camden, who is a member of the National board and chief executive for North America; and Rev. A. M. Palmer, of Somerville, who was formerly a pastor of the First M. E. church, this city. Delegates are in attendance from Newark, Elizabeth, Jersey City, New Brunswick, Camden and many other places in New Jersey. The session will close this afternoon.

ROUGH FOOTBALL PLAY.

Student at Leal's School Had His Collar Bone Broken.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Oct. 24.—Robert T. Messler, son of D. N. Messler, manager of The Somerset Democract, who attends Leal's School at Plainfield, had his collar bone broken Monday afternoon while playing football at Plainfield, one of the players jumping on him. The young man walked back to the school, changed his clothes, went to the railroad station and took the train for Somerville, although suffering intense pain. When he reached home, Dr. Hecht was telephoned for and gave medical treatment. A short time ago the boy's mother broke her ankle and is still laid up, with her ankle in a plaster cast. Mr. Messler has been ill nearly all summer and he thinks Job is not in it with him.

Will be Illustrated.

The lecture on "The Land of the Pharaohs," to be delivered by Dr. William R. Richards, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, on the evening of Nov. 13th, will be profusely illustrated by views of Alexandria, Luxor, Sakhara, Karnak, Memphis and also of the Pyramids, the Sphinx and the Pharaohs. Many pictures of Cairo will be shown. This lecture will afford the first opportunity offered to the public to hear Dr. Richards on the subject of Egypt, since his trip to the east The proceeds of the lecture are to aid the work of the Boys' Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church.

"Doc" Doty Locked Up.

"Doc" Doty, who is said to have played such a prominent part in the "rough house" on Plainfield avenue one evening last week, was arrested by Patrolman Lunger last evening. It was his first appearance in town since the affair. He was arraigned before City Judge Runyon this morning on the charge of being drunk and disorderly that night. He entered a plea of not guilty and was locked up for lack of bail to appear tomorrow morning for a hearing. He subsequently decided to change his plea but the Judge had gone to Elizabeth and he will have to wait the latter's convenience.

Somerville Firemen Defeated.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Somerville, Oct. 24.—In their efforts to bond this town to build a fire department house at a cost of $15,000, the members of the department were Monday defeated by a majority of 413 votes. The town has a model government, and has never been bonded.

EFFORTS OF THE G. O. P.

ONE MORE BIG MASS MEETING IS PLANNED FOR CAMPAIGN.

The Proposed Young Men's Demonstration Will Probably Not Be Held as Planned.

There will probably be only one more big Republican mass meeting in Plainfield before election. There has been some talk of getting up a young men's demonstration for election, but it is now doubtful whether it will be held. It was the original plan of the Republican county executive committee to have two big rallies in Union county the night before election, one at Elizabeth and one at Plainfield. Four years ago the election eve demonstration was under the charge of the Young Men's Republican Club. The latter organization has not been started this year, but there was some talk of holding a young men's rally under the auspices of the city campaign committee.

This question of mass meetings was discussed at a meeting of the Republican city campaign committee last evening but no definite action was taken. The committee sometime ago decided to hold another big rally at Music Hall, Thursday evening, November 1st. As Chairman C. N. Codding, of the county committee, had not yet announced what speakers he could furnish for that date, the committee made no further arrangements for the rally pending word from the county committee regarding speakers.

A special telegraph wire will be placed in headquarters election night by the Western Union Telegraph Company. It was decided, however, that the returns would simply be announced in the hall at headquarters and that there would be no stereopticon as there was four years ago.

SCHREIBER'S CASE.

Union County Grand Jury Postpones Further Consideration, and, It is Said, With Reason.

Grand Jurors of Union county began an investigation of the Schreiber bank robbery case Monday. Walter O. Smith, cashier of the Elizabethport Bank, from which William Schreiber stole $109,716, was submitted to a trying ordeal in the Grand Jury room. It is believed that the reason of postponing consideration of the case until Thursday is that important developments bearing on the case are expected to appear during this interval, the nature of which the authorities refuse to divulge.

Judge Gilhooly, the bank's attorney, said Monday night that there was no clew as yet to Schreiber's whereabouts.

DURNING WILL CONTEST.

Three Bank Experts Think Testator's Signature Was a Forgery.

Michael Durning, a wealthy undertaker in Elizabeth, died on July 21st 1899. He had no children, and the will left by him gives all the property to his wife. Two friends witnessed the making of the will when Durning was dying, and one of them, it was said, helped Durning to sign by guiding his hand. The couple had been married thirty years. Allegations were made by relatives that the will was forged, and a contest was begun.

Yesterday testimony was taken in the Second District Court, at Newark, before Surrogate Parrott, of Union county. The will was signed, it was alleged, two hours before Durning died. Three bank experts testified that the signature to the will was in their opinion a forgery. Testimony was taken to show the genuineness of the will.

ANNIVERSARY CEREMONIES.

Bishop Wigger and Other Eminent Clergymen Will be Present.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Oct. 24—It was announced Sunday in St. Patrick's church by the rector, Rev. Martin Gessner, that impressive exercises would be held on Sunday, November 4, which is the anniversary of the consecration of the edifice, which cost nearly $600,000, and on which there is not a dollar of debt.

Bishop Wigger and a number of clergymen from different parts of the State will participate in the exercises and the musical programme will be rendered by a selected choir of nearly one hundred voices.

The morning sermon will be preached by one of the most eloquent of the Redemptorist Fathers in New York city, and the evening sermon will be preached by Father Griffin, who was born and partly educated in this city.

F. L. C. Martin and George M. Macintyre, of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Co., have returned from a business trip to Connecticut and Massachussets.

GREAT COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS.

Miss Ida M. Craig, of Jersey City, Chosen to Fill Office of Great Prophetess.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

NEXT MEETING PLACE OF THE BODY WILL BE IN TRENTON.

Last Evening the Delegates Were Entertained by the Members of Iona Council—Committees Appointed This Morning.

The first day's session of the Great Council, Degree of Pocohontas, ended last evening with an enjoyable reception to the visitors by the members of Iona Council. Previous to the reception, during the afternoon, the most important business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted in the following: Great prophetess, Ida M. Craig, Jersey City; great pocohontas, Sarah T. Relstab, Trenton; great wenonah, Mary Morgan, Newark; great minnehaha, Lavinia Holstein, Plainfield; great keeper of records, May M. Ashmore, Trenton; great keeper of wampum, Harriet Whitmore, Oceanic.

The rest of the afternoon was passed in hearing reports from the various committees and the discussion of the same. A resolution was passed thanking the local council for their general treatment toward the visitors. Before adjourning it was decided to make Trenton the next meeting place, the fourth Tuesday in October of 1901.

In the evening the Iona Council rooms contained one of the largest assemblages it has ever seen. Not only were the 200 delegates present but the majority of the members of the three other tribes of Red Men in this city, including their friends. There was room for all, however, and the committee saw to it that everyone was provided for. William A. Westphal was made master of ceremonies and it was due to his supervision that the different numbers on the programme were carried out successfully.

First on the list was several vocal selections by Mrs. William A. Westphal which were given in her usual excellent manner. Robert Clark also sang. Several violin solos were given by George C. M. Smith, accompanied on the piano by Miss Emma Vodemeir. Recitations were given by Great Sanap Whitmore, of Oceanic, while the hit of the evening was made by Miss Ada Westphal and her brother Willie in an exhibition cake walk. They were followed by four children who gave an exhibition drill in a very clever manner.

The entertainment was brought to a close with addresses by each of the newly-elected Great Chiefs. The rooms were then cleared for dancing which was kept up until a late hour, stopping only at midnight to allow everyone to partake of an excellent supper. It was 2 o'clock before the last dancers left for home.

Today's business of the session was comparatively brief, the most important being the installing of the Great Chiefs elected yesterday and also those appointed today. The latter were: First scout, Mary Mead, of Bridgeton; second scout, Mary E. Smith, Trenton; great guard of tepee, Ellen Scull, of Jersey City; great guard of forest, Catherine Ward, of South Amboy. The installation proceedings were in charge of Past Great Sachem Arthur Stiles, of Atlantic City, as Great Sachem Newcorn of this city was unable to be present. Various measures pertaining to the welfare of the order in securing new members throughout the State, were enacted after which a rising vote of thanks was given to Iona Council for its courteous treatment of the representatives during the two days session. No further business being reported the session adjourned sine die at 1 o'clock.

Daring Theft of Bicycle.

The most daring theft of a bicycle yet reported is that of William J. Sisser's which was purloined from a a side room of his cafe a few nights ago. The wheel was almost new and had been left standing in the room, the outside door of which was open. The thief had evidently slipped in unnoticed and seeing an opportunity departed the same way. The matter was reported to the police but as yet they have no clue.

Trolley Improvements.

The street railway company has decided to place new curves and switches at various parts of the road where the old ones have become worn out. The first one is being placed at the Watchung avenue terminus today.

Oats were already in cultivation before the Christian era. It is believed that the ancient passover cakes of the Hebrews were made from fine oatmeal, because of its nourishing qualities.

On August 13th, 1695, appeared an advertisement in the London Gazette, that water gruel (oat meal) was always ready at the Mansion Coffee House in Cornhill, every morning, where as much as five gallons of it were consumed daily.

A food is made of gruel called Flummery in Scotland and Sucan in South Wales.

In Ireland, oatmeal is mixed with Indian meal and stirred in boiling water, making a dish called "Stirabout."

H-O (Hornby's Steam Cooked Oatmeal) is an improvement over all previous oat-foods, the rugged strength-giving quality of the oats being retained in a delicious, appetizing breakfast cereal.

"It mixes better with cream."

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

Mrs. Oliver Voorhees, of East Front street, has recovered from a recent illness.

Earl Linn, of Orchard place, is confined to the house with an attack of diphtheria.

Mrs. Jacob Blimm, of Somerset street, has returned from a visit with her son, John Blimm, of New York.

Miss Jennie Schultise, who has been visiting Plainfield relatives, has returned to her home in New Brunswick.

Miss Beulah Waters, of East Third street, has secured a position in the millinery department at Crosby & Hill's store.

Michael Higgins, of West Front street, who severely injured his leg and foot recently, is able to get about with the aid of a cane.

Mrs. William Cadmus, of Brooklyn, has been summoned to Plainfield on account of the death of her father, Lemuel Coles, of West Front street.

Mr. Fitch is temporally filling the position of night operator at the North Avenue Station since the resignation of O. E. Bradford, who went to Pennsylvania to accept a similar position.

A letter from Edwin Cook, of Yonkers, N. Y., announces his recent marriage to a young woman at Yonkers. Mr. Cook was a resident of Plainfield for several years and while residing in this city was actively interested in church and Sunday-school work at the Monroe Avenue church.

—It is well to know that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will heal a burn and stop the pain at once. It will cure eczema and skin diseases and ugly wounds and sores. It is a certain cure for piles. Counterfeits may be offered you. See that you get the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. L. W. Randolph.

—The Borough Board of Education will hold an important meeting next week Monday evening.

—A successful rehearsal for the production of the "Messiah" was held last Monday evening by the Plainfield Choral Society.

—Torturing skin eruptions, burns and sores are soothed at once and promptly healed by applying DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the best known cure for piles. Beware of worthless counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

—The work of macadamizing West Front street is being pushed rapidly. Crushed stone has been spread as far west as Central avenue, and the steam roller is getting in its fine work in rolling it down.

Stepped Into Live Coals.

"When a child I burned my foot frightfully," writes W. H. Eads, of Jonesville, Va., "which caused horrible leg sores for 30 years, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured me after everything else failed." Infallible for Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Sores, Bruises and Piles. Sold by L. W. Randolph. 25c.

—A dance will be given in Saengerbund Hall next week Monday evening.

—No other pills can equal DeWitt's Little Early Risers for promptness, certainty and efficiency. L. W. Randolph.

—The U. S. Grant Republican Club of the borough will go to Bound Brook Friday evening to attend a mass meeting.

—Feelings of safety pervade the household that uses One Minute Cough Cure, the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It is infallible for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. Lucius R. Squier, of Scranton, Pa., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Joseph, Washington Park.

George LaRue, of Las Vegas, New Mexico, has returned after spending a number of weeks with his brothers in this city.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

John V. Beekman, Jr., of West Eighth street, has resigned his position with Levering & Garrigues, the well-known New York architectural engineers, to accept a more lucrative one with the Edison Cement Company at Orange. Mr. Beekman and his wife will soon move to Glen Ridge to take up their residence there.

WAR IN A TRUST COMPANY.

Millionaire Gates Asks For a Receiver For the Guardian Trust.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 24.—John W. Gates of Chicago and other holders of securities in the Guardian Trust company have made application in the federal court for a receiver for the company and for an injunction to prevent a meeting of the stockholders called for today to elect a new board of directors.

This is said to be an attempt to stop the Guardian Trust company from aiding in the financing of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway, a short line which A. E. Stillwell, president of the Guardian Trust company, is building between Kansas City and Topolomampo, on the Pacific coast of the Mexican republic.

Eight new directors of the trust company were to have been elected, and President Stillwell was, it is said, in possession of enough proxies to enable him to control the election and name the directors.

The petition for a receiver makes sensational charges against Mr. Stillwell and his associates.

The court granted a temporary order restraining the disposition of any of the trust company's assets and against the holding of the meeting.

Mr. Stillwell, in a statement, said: "Mr. Gates tried to rule the trust company, and failing he is now endeavoring to ruin it. The suit is a personal attack on me and an effort to prevent the Orient line from being built. It will be a severe blow to Kansas City if a receiver is appointed for the Guardian Trust company. The company is in good financial condition, and its prospects are of the brightest kind. It is not interested in any way in the Orient railroad enterprise beyond acting as trustee, for which it is to be paid. I have been particular to keep the affairs of both companies separate and distinct, and the statement that the trust company's money was being used for the railroad is false. Gates and his friends only own about 10 per cent of the stock of the Guardian Trust company."

Mr. Gates and his assistants contend that Mr. Stillwell took advantage of them in the character of securities used in the reorganization of the Guardian Trust company. The bonds of the old Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf road figure in the bill, and the contention is made that the stockholders are in danger of losing $1,000,000 if Mr. Stillwell is allowed to carry out his plans.

ROMANTIC LOVE AFFAIR.

Dr. Ellis of Ithaca Weds Poor Girl In Spite of Parent's Objections.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Dr. Herbert J. Ellis of Ithaca married the girl of his choice yesterday afternoon despite the fact that his wealthy father had selected a society girl for his bride and would probably disinherit him for his act. Dr. Ellis was married to Miss Raynor Cohn in this city by Rev. Paul Schantz, and he sent a telegram to his father announcing the fact.

Ellis met his bride some months ago while dining in a cafe. He protected the girl from the attentions of another man and this started their acquaintance. He wished to marry the girl, but his father objected, and when the Spanish-American war broke out young Ellis was sent to the front, but he maintained a correspondence with the girl. He came here two weeks ago and, after a long hunt, found Raynor Cohn.

Dr. Ellis is the son of Walter J. Ellis, said to be one of the wealthiest men of the state.

Saloon Keepers Arraigned.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 24.—James Caffrey, Loren Lathrop, John C. Dresser, Andrew Brady, Andrew Schilling, William B. Brown and A. D. Williams, saloon keepers of Fulton, this county, which voted no license last spring, have been arraigned before Justice Wright on indictments for selling liquor, as were Edward and Charles Gray of Colosse, indicted for selling liquor to miners, and James Hayes of Phœnix for gambling. Pleas of not guilty were entered in each case, and bail was fixed at $250 in each case.

Corn and Apples.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The corn crop is now being harvested, and, according to returns in American Agriculturist's final report in its forthcoming issue of Oct. 27, the total yield is 2,188,000,000 bushels against 2,207,000,000 bushels in 1899 and 1,868,000,000 in 1898. After deducting the losses through September gales the United States crop of apples, according to a final report of American Agriculturist, approximates 48,000,000 barrels against 37,500,000 barrels in 1899.

Poor Box Robber Bagged.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 24.—Father G. Andre of the Church of Notre Dame des Lourdes, noting that the poor box in the church was being robbed, had it fitted with a burglar alarm. When this rang, he dashed into the church and out into the street in pursuit of the robber. The priest finally overtook the thief and handed him over to the police. His name was M. Landry, a cigar maker. An hour later Landry was found hanging in his cell dead.

Accidentally Shot.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., Oct. 24.—While on a hunting trip with three companions William McLaughlin, 17 years old, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. He was drawing the gun from a wagon by the muzzle when the weapon was discharged.

STRIKERS HOPEFUL.

President Mitchell's Speech Cheers Coal Workers.

END OF STRIKE BELIEVED NEAR.

Three Additional Coal Companies Signify Their Willingness to Pay Increase Until April 1—Executive Board Meeting Called.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 24.—President Mitchell's statement in his speech at Pottsville yesterday that he believed the strike would be ended by next Monday if all the operators posted notices guaranteeing the 10 per cent advance until April 1 was received here with much pleasure by the mine workers and the mine officials. It is believed that nothing will now intervene to delay the ending of the contest, which has run more than five weeks.

President Mitchell was asked on his arrival here from Pottsville on what he based his belief that the strike would end with this week, but he declined to say anything other than the proposition of the miners was so fair that he could see no valid reason why the operators should not accept. The national president was much pleased when he learned that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Delaware and Hudson, the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre and the Hillside companies had signified their willingness to pay the 10 per cent increase until April 1. He also expressed satisfaction that the Forest Mining company, whose men have been on strike since January, had acceded to the demands. President Mitchell declined to say what course would be pursued if one or more companies refused to guarantee the payment of the increase until April 1.

A meeting of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America and the officers of the three anthracite districts will be held here today for the purpose, Mr. Mitchell says, of thoroughly canvassing the situation. He would not say whether the conference would take any positive action looking toward the calling off of the strike. If any action will be taken, he said, it would depend entirely upon what the canvass would show.

More Companies Announce Advance.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 24.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Delaware and Hudson, the Hillside Coal and Iron (the Erie) and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal companies, through their general superintendents, have agreed upon an additional notice as to the 10 per cent increase. The same will be posted at once and will help to settle the great coal strike speedily.

Evangelist Wharton Indicted.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 24.—Three indictments against the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Wharton, the evangelist of Baltimore, who was arrested on a charge of fraud and also for alleged taking of money illegally, were handed up by the Monmouth county grand jury. Dr. Wharton is charged by Miss Clara Somers of Ocean Grove with having obtained money under false pretenses. Miss Somers transferred property to Dr. Wharton to be used as a home for children. She had the doctor arrested upon a charge of raising money by mortgaging it. His friends assert that there is some mistake. Dr. Wharton declares that his arrest is the result of a conspiracy against him instigated by residents of Baltimore. Since his arrest he has been in receipt of numerous letters and telegrams offering aid. No date has yet been set for the trial.

New Railroad For Guatemala.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The recent successful negotiations for the completion of the Northern railway of Guatemala have had a stimulating effect on the people of that republic, according to a report from Consul General McNally to the state department. The completion of the railway, he says, will effect direct communication between the Atlantic and Pacific and no doubt will attract shippers in the direction of New Orleans and the gulf. Heretofore, while there has been considerable import trade on the Pacific side, that on the Atlantic side has suffered, transportation being an impossibility owing to the lack of railroad facilities from El Rancho to the city of Guatemala, a distance of 60 miles.

New Coal Mines Ready.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 24.—The Pittsburg and Buffalo Coal company, which began operations in Cannonsburg late in June, has driven its slope 195 feet and now has reached the coal, a carload having been brought out of excellent quality. The driving of entries will now be pushed, and a tipple will soon be erected. The Midland company, on Plum run, farther up the valley, will soon be ready to operate extensively. The tipple is up, and some coal has already been shipped. Next month will see work begun on an extension of the road along the old state line survey, a branch of which reaches the Midland mines.

Nome Money Order Business Brisk.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—A letter received at the postoffice department from Nome City, Alaska, shows that up to Sept. 21 the Nome postoffice had sold 5,000 money orders. The money order service had been in operation then about three months, and officials here estimate that the sales of money orders for the quarter amounted to $400,000.

Stevenson's Dates Mixed.

BAY CITY, Mich., Oct. 24.—Owing to a mix up of dates Stevenson did not speak at Saginaw last night. In this city he addressed a large audience in the armory. He devoted his remarks to imperialism and trusts, ignoring the silver question. His speech was substantially the same as the one he delivered at Grand Rapids Monday night.

Big Price For a Bull.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 24.—Frank Rockefeller of Cleveland, at the combination show and sale of Herefords and Shorthorns, paid $5,050 for Columbus XVII, a prize yearling Hereford bull owned by Benton Gabbert of Dearborn, Mo. This is the highest price paid for a single animal so far reached at the show.

Urged to Conclude Peace.

ROME, Oct. 24.—King Victor Emmanuel has received from Emperor Kwang Su, through the Chinese minister to Great Britain, Sir Chin Chen Lofengluh, a message begging him to facilitate the conclusion of peace. It is similar to the messages sent to the other powers.

TRUSTED CLERK GONE

An Employee Takes $700,000 From a New York Bank.

OPERATIONS SKILLFULLY CONCEALED

Defaulting Note Teller Had Occupied Position In One of the Oldest Financial Institutions In the Country For Twenty Years.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Wall street was electrified late yesterday afternoon by the news that C. L. Alvord, note teller of the First National bank at 2 Wall street, had defaulted to an amount estimated at over $700,000.

The First National bank is one of the oldest and most powerful financial institutions in the United States. It numbers among its supporters such people as the Astors and the magnates of the New Jersey Central railroad.

C. L. Alvord, the defaulting note teller, is one of the oldest and most trusted employees of the bank. He has for the last 20 years occupied a place in the institution.

His home is in Mount Vernon.

Vice President F. L. Hine made this statement to a reporter yesterday afternoon:

"The note teller, who has been in the employ of the First National bank for many years, is a defaulter to a large amount. His operations have continued for a considerable period and have been skillfully concealed through a manipulation of his balance book.

"The discovery was made by one of the bank's employees a few days after the completion of an examination of the bank by the United States examiners.

"During the continuance of his peculations periodical examinations have been made by several distinct corps of examiners representing the comptroller's department, all expert accountants, and the bank has also had frequent independent examinations, neither of which developed any irregularity.

"The aggregate of the false entries, amounting to $700,000, has been charged off on the books of the bank out of the reserve fund without diminishing the surplus and profits of the bank as reported in its last published statement.

"It is expected that the shortage will be materially reduced by a substantial sum of which there is a fair prospect of recovery."

Beyond this brief statement Vice President Hine absolutely refused to say a word. President Baker when asked regarding the matter said that the statement given out by the vice president contained all he had to say in regard to the defalcation.

Alvord fled last Thursday and is believed to have gone to South America. He was 50 years of age and portly, weighing nearly 300 pounds. He was known as a good liver and had the most extravagant habits. He was a well known figure at Saratoga—on the race track and in the gambling houses.

Throughout the summer he spent the latter part of each week at the spa. His living expenses were said to have been $300 a day. He occupied an expensive suit of apartments at the United States hotel and spent money with a lavish hand.

At various gambling houses he was pointed out as a millionaire, unfortunate at the faro bank and roulette wheel. He was said to have plunged heavily in Wall street, and his stock speculations were as disastrous as his attempts to achieve wealth at the gambling table.

Youtsey In Jail.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 24.—Henry E. Youtsey has been placed in jail here, being brought over on his cot. Sheriff Shuff says that Youtsey talked rationally on the trip over, seemed to be in good spirits and walked from the street to the jail unassisted. Youtsey was the last of the suspects who were confined in the Georgetown jail, Caleb Powers, who was given life imprisonment, having been removed to Louisville. Davis, Combs and Whittaker, the others, whose cases were venued there, have been released on bail, Jim Howard, who is under death sentence, is in the jail here, and a strict watch will be kept to prevent him from communicating with Youtsey.

A Million From the Klondike.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The steam barkentine Morning Star has arrived from St. Michael's, bringing $1,000,000 in gold from Dawson for the Alaska Exploration company. The treasure was in charge of Captain Laggas, who has acted for three years as the pilot of the company's barges on the Yukon river. Captain Laggas expressed much confidence in the future of the Klondike. At Dawson a large amount of gold dust is now awaiting transportation. No man works for less than $1 an hour at Dawson. In prospecting Captain Laggas found a part of a mammoth's tusk 20 feet underground. It is eight feet long.

Claimed by Two Wives.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 24.—Two wives are claiming the body of Charles Place, the well known box manufacturer, who died here Sunday night. The second Mrs. Place made her home with her husband in this city. The first Mrs. Place lived in Somerville and has two children, both of whom are married. The first wife and children of Place have put their case in the hands of a lawyer, who is instituting proceedings to get possession of the remains.

Car Famine In the West.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Railroads operating in the territory west of Chicago are suffering from a car famine which threatens to result in a general blockade. Notwithstanding the pessimistic crop reports from certain districts during the past two or three months, the movement of grain in the aggregate promises to be extraordinarily heavy.

One Strike Settled.

LINTON, Ind., Oct. 24.—The strike at Island City mine, No. 1, has been settled, the coal company agreeing to give employment to the man who was objectionable to it, but reserving the right to employ or not employ any union miner in the future. The settlement seems to be satisfactory to both sides. Over 500 miners were out.

Drowned In Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 24.—Frank Williams, an engineer in the department of public works, was drowned while attempting to cross a river on horseback. The body has not been recovered. Nothing is known here as to his parents or other relatives, but it is believed that he came from Brooklyn.

MURDER MYSTERY CLEARED.

Four Young Men Charged With Killing Paterson (N. J.) Mill Girl.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 24.—The clearing up of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, whose body was found in a lane by the river last Friday morning, is all but completed, in the belief of the local authorities. Two arrests made Monday night were followed by two more in the early hours of yesterday morning, and the four men, all well connected and well known in town, were held without bail by Recorder Senior to await the action of the grand jury in the case. The friends of the prisoners refused to believe that the police theory as to how the Bosschieter girl met her death would be sustained.

The four men were charged before Recorder Senior with murdering Jennie Bosschieter "by giving her a powerful drug of which she died a lingering death." On that charge they were held for the grand jury.

The police found Grant A. Stowcroft, the cabman who the detectives learned had driven McAllister, Kerr, Death and Campbell and the Bosschieter girl on Thursday night. Stowcroft told a detailed story of the movements of the members of the party. He said that they stopped at a saloon and that the girl after drinking became stupefied and looked as if knockout drops had been given to her. The men became alarmed and drove to the house of the nearest physician, who pronounced the girl dead. After that they went to the spot where the body was found.

The physician to whom they went also told his story to the police. Chief of Police Graul would not tell what reason, if any, the physician gave for not reporting the death at the time it occurred.

It is understood that three of the prisoners have made confessions to the police with regard to their part in the case.

BRYAN IN MARYLAND.

Enthusiastic Crowds Greet Democratic Candidate In Spite of Rain.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24.—Hon. William J. Bryan, the Democratic presidential candidate, devoted the entire day to speechmaking in Maryland, speaking in succession at Rockville, Frederick, Bruceville, Union Bridge, New Windsor, Westminster, Glyndon and in this city last evening.

The Rockville meeting was the only one of the day that was not marred by rain. On account of the downpour most of the meetings were cut short, but the crowds in each case remained until Mr. Bryan had concluded his remarks.

The greeting extended to Mr. Bryan on his arrival here last evening and during the meetings held inside and outside of Music hall was limited in numbers only by the capacity of the places in which the meetings were held and in enthusiasm only by the ability of the immense crowds to give expression to it. It was raining gently, but steadily, when the special train bearing the Democratic presidential candidate pulled into the Union station an hour late, but this did not prevent the assembling of a crowd of fully 10,000 people about the depot. A parade was formed, and Mr. Bryan drove at its head to the Hotel Rennert, where he dined with several Democratic leaders, including former United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, Governor John Walter Smith and Mayor Hayes of this city.

A Cabinet of Generals.

MADRID, Oct. 24.—Senor Sagasta, the former premier and Liberal leader, declares the new cabinet will hasten the ruin of the Conservatives. He believes a great mistake was made in not giving the naval portfolio to Senor Sanchez Toca and that it was an equal mistake to retain General Linares as minister of war. The press points out that five of the nine ministers are generals. The official organ of the army declares the time has arrived to undertake energetically the reorganization of the army.

Protection of Dowie Denounced.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Daily Mail this morning devotes an editorial to a denunciation of the authorities for "encouraging and protecting" Mr. Dowie. "If the students had succeeded in ducking this aged fraud," it says, "no great harm would have been done. He is able to rely on the whole strength of the police for no other purpose except to fleece the public. His meetings should be suppressed. He deserves no more consideration than the 'welsher' of the race course."

Huguenot Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The Huguenot anniversary of the revocation of the edict of Nantes was celebrated yesterday in the chapel of the Marble Collegiate Reformed church, this city. The feature of the exercises was an address by the Rev. Charles Merle d'Aubigne, son of the historian of the reformation. He is on a visit to this country as a delegate of the Evangelical churches of France.

First Colored Man Naturalized.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 24.—The first colored man ever naturalized in this state, William Spencer Anderson, aged 82 years, a native of Liberia, has been granted his final papers by Judge Bradford in the federal court here. Anderson's grandfather was a former president of Liberia, but the new citizen has resided in Wilmington since he was five years of age.

SNATCHED FROM DEATH.

Four Men Rescued From Disabled Yacht After Terrible Experience.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 24.—The British steamer Ethelred, Captain Nickerson, belonging to the United Fruit company, which left New York Wednesday, Oct. 17, for Port Antonio, Jamaica, has arrived there, having on board Messrs. Frederick and William Langston, Noah F. Mason, Jr., and Otto Segelke of Brooklyn, who were taken on board the steamer Oct. 17 from the sloop yacht Aliris of New York, which was sighted in a disabled condition about 30 miles from Scotland lightship.

The rescued yachtsmen say the Aliris, with the party mentioned, was bound Oct. 16 from Highland Beach to Gravesend bay. When off the Romer beacon, she was struck by a northwest gale which swept over the bay. Her headsails were carried away, and her mainsail was damaged. The wind continued strong, and with an ebb tide running the yacht was carried out past Sandy Hook and drifted all night before the wind. At 10 o'clock the next morning (Wednesday, Oct. 17), when about 30 miles southeast of Scotland lightship, the yachtsmen were picked up by the Ethelred.

The rescued yachtsmen left last night on the Ethelred for New York. Before departing they formally expressed their gratitude to Captain Nickerson for rescuing them in the nick of time and for making them so comfortable, and also to Mr. Jackson, United States vice consul at Port Antonio, for his assistance and kindness there.

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR.

Flying Trip Through the Catskills. Night Speech at Norwich.

STAMFORD, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Governor Roosevelt spent the day in a flying trip across the beautiful Catskill country, leaving Kingston at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and the farmers of Ulster and Delaware counties turned out in force to greet him all along the line and displayed much enthusiasm. Stops were frequent, and at little mountain hamlets where only half a dozen buildings were apparent there were between 500 and 600 persons gathered to hear the vice presidential candidate.

Brief addresses were made at the villages of West Hurley, Phœnicia, Pine Hill, Shokan, Shandaken, Fleischmanns, Arkville and Roxbury before the little town of Stamford was reached. There a big crowd cheered the governor, and he spoke to nearly 1,000 persons in the public hall. Speeches were made at Bloomville, Davenport Center, Oneonta, Unadilla and Sidney during the afternoon and Norwich at night.

Governor Roosevelt has decided to change his itinerary so as to finish his work Saturday night, Nov. 3, in New York. This will cut out the proposed trip through Long Island, which was to have taken place on Monday, the day before election. The only place he will speak on the day before election will be to his friends and neighboors at his home at Oyster Bay.

PACIFIC MAIL LINE.

Harriman-Vanderbilt Coup Assures Great Developments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Control of the Pacific Mail Steamship company changes. E. H. Harriman succeeds Collis P. Huntington. Mr. Harriman and his colleagues have taken over a majority of Pacific Mail capital stock. Identified with Mr. Harriman in this new big deal—one of international significance—is William K. Vanderbilt. Sequels soon to follow will have farreaching consequence.

Under Mr. Huntington's direction the Pacific Mail Steamship company was a tender to his Southern Pacific interests, its operations subordinate to Mr. Huntington's great railway system. In its new control the company will have scope never hitherto contemplated. The acquisition of the Pacific Mail Steamship company makes possible the immediate accomplishment of Mr. Vanderbilt's cherished plan of a continuing transportation system—virtually under one management—from the Atlantic through to the Pacific coast, and thence direct to the far east.

Under Mr. Harriman's control—control in which W. K. Vanderbilt directly participates—the Pacific Mail Steamship company's affairs will be revolutionized. More steamships—not one or two, but many—will be forthwith added to the company's service. Most of them will be for Asiatic trade.

Spanish War Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Many inquiries have been made recently at the pension office as to the status of claims filed for pensions by soldiers of the Spanish-American war. Commissioner Evans said that the bureau scarcely had time to respond to all the inquiries, but that the claims were being adjudicated as rapidly as possible. He added that some of the claims had been delayed by the difficulty in obtaining the necessary official records at the war department. "There have been filed 34,000 claims on account of the Spanish-American war up to Monday morning, Oct. 22," said the commissioner. "Calls have been made for evidence in 33,424 of these claims. Medical examinations have been ordered by this bureau in 28,324 claims. The difference between the number of claims filed and the number of medical examinations ordered practically represents the number of widows' and dependents' claims. Four thousand two hundred and thirty-seven of these claims have been adjudicated already.

Canton Consuls Warned.

HONGKONG, Oct. 24.—The situation at Canton is comparatively quiet. It is reported, however, that the consuls have received letters warning them of danger. Refugees from Hui-chow say the rebels are welcomed everywhere. They take nothing without payment and are treated as guests instead of as enemies. Their leaders are supposed to number ten, each commanding a separate band. The one operating in the How-Lung hinterland is a mere stripling, but is everywhere successful. He is reported to have defeated a large body of imperial troops, killing 100 Chinese soldiers.

Germany Not Informed.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—A foreign office official to whom was shown the statement by a London paper that Germany had acquired the island of Farsan in the Red sea for a coaling station, replied that nothing was known on the subject at the German foreign office.

Tuan Ordered a Massacre.

TIEN-TSIN, Oct. 24.—General Gaselee's expedition, while en route for Paoting-fu, discovered at We-nan a letter from Prince Tuan ordering the extermination of the expedition among the marshes and offering arms from the government.

BOERS TROUBLESOME

Guerrilla Attacks Greatly Annoy British Troops.

GENERAL FRENCH MEETS OPPOSITION

A Large Force Encountered Near Zeerust and Dislodged After Four Hours of Hard Fighting.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 24.—Guerrilla attacks by the Boers are still giving great trouble. General French encountered continuous opposition in his march from Carolina to Bethel, his casualties numbering 36.

After the arrival of Lord Methuen at Zeerust there was a reconnoissance in force northward, which resulted on Saturday in the discovery of large numbers of Boers, who were only dislodged after artillery and rifle fire lasting four hours. The British had four killed and ten wounded. The Boers take shelter in farmhouses, which are crowded with women and children.

Lord Roberts is distributing a fresh circular to the effect that Boers voluntarily surrendering who have never taken the oath of neutrality will not be exiled, but will be permitted to return to their farms at the conclusion of hostilities.

British Alarms Unfounded.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—George Wyndham, undersecretary of state for war, writes as follows regarding the report that orders for railway supplies in South Africa have been placed in the United States: "No orders have been placed by Colonel Girouard in America in connection with the South African railway, and I am confident that the alarm ascribed to British manufacturers lest they should not have an opportunity of profiting by the business which will follow the war is unfounded."

Charles Dudley Warner's Funeral.

HARTFORD, Oct. 24.—The funeral of Charles Dudley Warner took place yesterday afternoon from Asylum Hill Congregational church, with the Rev. Joseph H. Twichell, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Parker of the South Congregational church, officiating. There was a large assemblage present. The floral tributes were of the richest character, including a standard anchor from the Society of Mayflower Descendants in Connecticut. The honorary pallbearers were: Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Colonel Frank W. Cheney, Knight D. Cheney, S. L. Clemens (Mark Twain), A. C. Dunham, James J. Goodwin, Judge William Hammersley, Senator J. R. Hawley, Professor C. F. Johnson of Trinity college, Professor T. R. Lounsberry of Yale, Professor W. M. Sloane of Columbia and President George W. Smith of Trinity college. The interment in Cedar cemetery was private.

A Gigantic Enterprise.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 24.—The Post today says that a company composed almost entirely of Pittsburg capitalists has been organized to engage in the blast furnace and steel manufacturing institutions on a gigantic scale. The capital of the new corporation is $12,000,000, and included in the enterprise are the operating of coke ovens and the mining of coal in the Monongahela valley, with the possible building of a new line of railroad from the coke and coal works to Lake Erie. The big plants in question will be located at Welland, in Ontario, Canada, which is the town near the entrance to the Welland canal. This is known as the Canadian natural gas belt, and any quantity of that fuel is available. The mills will also have the advantage of water power secured from the Niagara river at a point near the great falls.

Porto Rico Registration.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 24.—Senor Munez Rivera, the leader of the Federals, contends that the recent registration was unfair, claiming that the registration officials were Republicans and refused to register all the Federals who applied. "The voting at the election," he says, "will be biased by the government, and there is a possibility that the Federals will not go to the polls at all." The registration returns show that nearly 100,000 persons have qualified to vote, a result exceeding all expectations, the total being nearly twice as great as at the municipal elections last spring. The $25 personal property qualification, irrespective of illiteracy, is, in the opinion of Senor Rivera, responsible for the increase.

To Preserve Philippine Forests.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 24.—President Schurman of Cornell university announces that the New York State College of Forestry has been asked to furnish six competent assistants to the forestry bureau at Manila. Captain Ahern, in charge of that bureau, proposes to reorganize the bureau, which under Spanish rule employed over 130 officials to supervise the exploitation of twenty or more millions of acres of public forest domain, furnishing now a revenue of $100,000 annually. He expects to greatly increase this revenue under competent foresters. He also proposes to send graduates from native colleges to take a special course in forestry at Cornell university. A botanist is wanted.

Row Over Politics.

HYNDMAN, Pa., Oct. 24.—A riot occurred here at 2:30 in a restaurant and disreputable resort near the Baltimore and Ohio depot conducted by Willis Caves, a negro. Adam Schroyer, a white man, who was sitting at one of the tables, cheered lustily for Bryan and angered some negroes who were present. Knives and pistols were drawn and an effort made to kill Schroyer and his young son, who was nearby. A score of shots were fired, but no one was hit. A reign of terror exists. The saloons have been closed, and Sheriff Gates, who has been sent for, will be here soon with a posse of deputies.

Single Statehood Wanted.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 24.—The citizens of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory want single statehood for the two territories. The formation of leagues to promote this end has commenced. The first league was organized at Wagoner, I. T. Determined efforts in this direction are being made by the leading people of those territories.

The election of State Senators on a basis of population instead of by counties, as advocated by the State Federation of Labor, would be a radical departure from the theory of our State Government, as held by the framers of the constitution, but this does not mean that it would not be just and wise, says the Newark News, adding this comment: "By giving each county an equal representation in the Senate it was intended to safeguard the rights of the smaller ones from invasion by their larger and more powerful neighbors, and in the abstract the theory is all right. In practice, however, the result has been the reverse of that contemplated. It has placed the more populous and wealthier counties at the mercy of the others, and instead of safeguarding the rights of the smaller has made them an insurmountable obstacle in the way of progress and necessary legislation. The Senate has became the servant of large corporations simply because the latter are able to control the nominations in the smaller counties, and the men elected, regardless of politics, are for the corporations first and the people afterward."

The question raised as to the right of a County School Superintendent to hold the office of Assemblyman, has led H. Brewster Willis, county school superintendent of Middlesex, to withdraw as a candidate for the Assembly. Mr. Willis was nominated for the Assembly by the Democratic convention which met Tuesday of last week, and accepted the nomination. He was generally recognized as a strong candidate, and as he immediately began an energetic campaign, stumping the county and conducting a careful canvass, it became evident that his chances for winning were good. The question had not been raised as to the compatibility of the offices of County Superintendent and Assemblyman, but since the question has been raised Mr. Willis' investigation convinces him that they are incompatible and that he could not hold both offices if elected to the Assembly.

There will be but little interest manifested in the Republican county convention to be held in Elizabeth tomorrow, as it is already assured that Messrs. Foote, Meeker and Smith will be renominated as Members of the Assembly. The three Legislators are serving their first term, and in accordance with party custom they are entitled to the opportunity of being elected to serve a second year at Trenton. The Republicans figure it out that a nomination by their party this year is equivalent to an election in Union county.

City election will be held on December 4th next. The most important offices to be filled are those of Mayor and City Collector. It is understood that Mayor Rockfellow has no desire to be a candidate for re-election, but Collector Frank Smith undoubtedly expects to be nominated for the full term of the office he is now filling as the successor of James Martin, who resigned the position in July. Five members of the Common Council will also be elected.

This is the seventh week of the anthracite coal strike. At an average rate of wage of $8 per week, the loss to the individual miner in wages is $56, or a total of $2,800,000 for 50,000 miners. As the operators practically lose nothing, the loss is entirely one-sided. It is at this terrible disadvantage that labor fights its battles in the coal region, says the Newark Advertiser.

The Elizabeth Democratic leaders seem bound to make the visit of Col. Bryan to their city tomorrow night a notable one in the political affairs of the place. The Colonel will undoubtedly be greeted with a great and enthusiastic crowd.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

William Bettle, commissioner of banking and insurance of New Jersey, dropped in on the officials of the Dime Savings Institution the other day and made an investigation of the bank's business and resources that showed it to be in a sound and prosperous condition. There is now due depositors $634,289.66, which shows that the business of the institution has doubled in six years. The surplus on hand is $42,568.65. The detailed statement of the report is printed in another column of today's Press.

HUNT WILL LAST TO DEATH.

Bank Will Pursue Schrieber, the Embezzler, as Long as he Lives —Officers Find a Clue.

Former Judge P. H. Gilhooley, counsel and one of the directors of the Elizabethport bank, from whose vaults the clerk, William Schrieber, embezzled the sum of $109,000 and spent the bulk of it with his mistress, Anna Hart, and in gambling and riotous living, said that the detectives on Schrieber's track had an important clue, which would be actively followed up and that the net about the absconding man was rapidly tightening, and that the embezzler would have to do away with himself before the still hunt would be given up by the bank or the American Surety Company.

It is believed that the three one thousand dollar bonds will soon be recovered, and this will lead to the apprehension of the defaulter. President Heidritter, of the bank, said that there was a good clue and hoped that the hard work of all in the chase would soon be over and the young fellow placed behind the bars. From the reticence of the directors of the bank to talk about the matter adds color to the report that the young marvel among bank robbers will soon be captured. Lawyers say that Schreiber's crime is only that of embezzlement, and would, if found guilty, probably be sentenced to State's prison for five years.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

Big Bedding Business.

It's astonishing the big business we're doing in our Bed and Bedding department. In mattresses alone we average about a carload a week and in Bed Springs it's about the same way. In white enameled and brass beds our output this year will reach at least a half a thousand. But perhaps you are interested as to the cause of this "BIG BEDDING BUSINESS" of ours. Well, it's simply this: We aim to get the best products from the best manufacturers, buy them in large quantities, take advantage of freight savings and cash discounts, and save all middlemen's profits. In this way we're enabled to offer you bigger and better values at lower prices than are obtainable elsewhere. The "BIG BEDDING BUSINESS" is proof of it.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, October 24.—The discontinuance of the transfers from the Middlesex and Somerset cars to the Plainfield cars has again given rise to the rumor that the latter cars will soon run to the western end of the borough. As is usual in such cases the officials of either company deny that any change is to be made. The benefits to be derived from the change would be numerous, giving the boroughites better service and doing away with the annoying tranefer now necessary at the present terminus. Just how the change is to be made between the two companies is not known, but the recent rumor to the effect that the Middlesex and Somerset lines had been purchased by the Biker-Hine syndicate may explain matters.

The Republicans are busily engaged at present completing arrangements for the mass meeting tomorrow night. Several prominent speakers will be heard and the meeting promises to be an interesting one.

Mrs. Annie Abbott has gone to Somerville for a few days on account of the illness of her father-in-law, George W. Abbott.

Garretson & Gray are busily engaged filling a large order for crushed stone for a Perth Amboy firm.

There are letters remaining in the postoffice for Mrs. Heidenheimer and Guiseppe Mosheppe.

Eugene Thompson, of Newark, renewed old acquaintances in the borough yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton have gone to Hawley, Pa., for a week's visit with relatives.

Philip Eder will remove from the borough to Somerville about November 1st.

George Huff is having a number of improvements made to his residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reusch spent yesterday with friends in New York.

Mrs. O. B. Evans is entertaining Mrs. Potter, of New York.

W. L. Larrabee spent yesterday in New York on business.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, October 24.—The funeral services of Justice A. L. Storms were held from the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon and were attended by a large number of relatives and acquaintances. Rev. Frank Fletcher officiated. A choir composed of Mrs. Robert Giddis, H. C. Gaskill Isaac Lines and Miss Giles sang several of the deceased's favorite hymns. Mrs. Robert Giddis also gave a well rendered solo. The pall-bearers were W. J. Davis, Fred Holden, William Farrier, Nelson B. Blackford, H. C. Gaskill and C. E. Kelley. Interment was made in the Middlesex Hillside cemetery at Samptown.

It was the intention of the Democrats of the township to hold a mass meeting in Friendship Hall, next Friday night. The committee in charge have been unable to secure speakers in time and it has been postponed until next week, possibly Tuesday. Among those who will probably make speeches are James J. Bergen, of Somerville, candidate for Congress; H. Brewster Willis, of New Brunswick, candidate for Assembly and Peter Dailey, of New Brunswick. The Republicans were to have had a meeting in the same hall next Saturday night, but that also has been postponed.

Some time during last Friday night chicken thieves visited Phillip Jenner's henhery and stole thirty-five fowls. A second visit was made Saturday night to W. J. Davis's yard, but the miscreants were scared off by Charles Ward before securing any.

According to a list published yesterday there are 396 residents of the township who pay a tax for dogs.

Mrs. Ella Mechling is entertaining her niece, Miss Lizzie Stout, of Jutland.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, October 24.—John Anderson, who recently bought W. S. Emery's hotel business, is making a number of improvements about the old hostelery. A new fence has been put up along Front street, and it is said the high wooden fence along Park avenue, which has been such an eyesore to many, is to be taken down and a neat picket fence is to be erected to take its place.

Theodore Bruchman, a member of the township committee, denies that any officer of the township gave permission to the tramp painter to print any political signs on the liberty pole. Mr. Bruchman says that the whole matter was a joke anyway, but that some of the Republicans have tried to make political capital out of it.

The Democratic voters will unfurl their Bryan and Stevenson banner to the breeze tonight. The banner will be hung on Park avenue near Bartle avenue. The committee in charge have arranged for a speaker for the occasion and are expecting a large crowd.

The case of the State against Hilbrick, who is charged by William Pangborn, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, with cruelty to a dog, will be heard before Judge Clark, Friday, October 26th.

Robert Walpol, Edward Wright and George Lyons spent yesterday angling for bass at the Passac river. Luck was with the followers of Isaac Walton, and the day's sport netted fourteen fine bass.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held their regular semi-monthly meeting in their rooms last night. A pleasant visit was enjoyed from Grand Trustee Garrell, of Paterson.

The Epworth Literary Society will meet for their weekly reading and study in the class rooms of the Methodist church this evening.

The local football eleven are arranging a game with the eleven from Somerville, on the latter's grounds for Saturday afternoon.

Eugene Ford, who has been spending a few days at his home in Philadelphia, has returned.

Onward Council, L. A. B. A., held a regular meeting in their rooms last evening.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Oct. 24.—The corner stone of the new Locust Grove chapel will be laid Sunday afternoon with interesting exercises which will take place in the Mountainside school house. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Dr. James R. Danforth, of the Congregational church, Rev. George A. Francis, of the Baptist church and Rev. N. W. Cadwell, of the Presbyterian church. Arthur N. Pierson, superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday-school, J. L. Clayton, of the Congregational Sunday-school and Charles A. Decker, of the Baptist Sunday school will also be present and talk. Roland Randolph, of Newark, for many years director of the music at the Westfield Presbyterian church, will bring a quartette from that city to furnish music, both vocal and instrumental.

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of Arbie J Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Miller, of this town, to Miss Annie D. Whittemore, of Rahway, which occurred at Rahway last Thursday.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Oct. 24.—The T. A. B. Society are making arrangements to give a dance in the hall in a couple of weeks.

The railroad company have enclosed the entire upper part of the coaling station. It adds greatly to the comfort of the workmen.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church held a special meeting yesterday to arrange for the oyster.

Geo. Dunham, of Plainfield visited his sister, Mrs. T. C. Laing yesterday.

Mrs. Nevius spent Sunday in town with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Manning.

Mr. Bennet, of New Market, spent Sunday with E. Boice.

—Two labeling girls in Brady's Canning Works, Bridgeton, have bet on the election. Whichever way it goes one girl is to wheel the other around several of the main streets.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Anyone who has followed French literature, even to the slightest extent, in the last few years, cannot fail to be familiar with the charming stories of Erckman and Chatrian, their stirring war romances, their quaint legendary histories, and their tender love stories of the people. The one of these which has perhaps been the most praised is the story "L'Ami Fritz," which is the origin of the play "Friend Fritz," which will present Marion Manola and a superb company at Music Hall tomorrow night. The scene of the story is laid in Alsace, that country where the language is French and the customs German, where love is given the poetic tenderness of sentimental Germany, and the bright grace and gaiety of laughing France. In this so appropriate region, the thread of a love story is woven, as sweet and simple as the story of Evangeline, and so true that the coldest hearts beat in response to its happiness and its pathes. It is a play which is good to see. It is one which touches the noblest chords and awakens sensibilities which make our natures sweeter. The gentle idyll is one whose motive and moral is love, and which is as fragrant as the violets that Suzel kisses, and as pure as the old Bible story, running like a thread of sacred music through its episodes.

There seems to be an impression that the popular comedy, "A Romance of Coon Hollow," which will be at Music Hall, Saturday afternoon and night, is produced by colored performers. This mistake is probably due to the fact that it is a Southern story, and that a troupe of singing and dancing "Pickaninnies" is carried as an extra feature. The cast is composed entirely of actors and actresses of reputation, many of whom were in the original New York production. "Coon Hollow" is a pretty Southern heart story, possessing intense and exciting incidents. The New York Herald styled it "A Tennessee Old Homestead," and Alan Dale, the caustic critic of the New York Journal, had this to say of it: "The strength of 'Coon Hollow' lies in its humanity. The characters make the play. They are flesh and blood, real, pulsative beings." The same production will be given "A Romance of Coon Hollow" here that marked the New York presentation, all the hondsome scenery and effects being carried. There will be reserved seats at the matinee performance.

* * * * * *

Selden's funny farce, "A Spring Chicken," will be the attraction at Music Hall Tuesday evening of next week. The principal comedy role is in the hands of E. H. O'Conner, whom local theatre-goers will remember for his clever work with the "Side-Tracked" Company. Mr. O'Conner's portrayal of "Checkweed" is said to be the best character he has appeared in in recent years. The company is made up of strikingly beautiful girls, all who sing and dance. The Cafe Chantant Mlle. Charmon, one of the principals, appears in a charming specialty. She will remind you of Anna Held in the freshness of her youth and beauty. She appeals to the younger element of theatre-goers—the gilded youth so to speak; though she has thousands of admirers among the woman folks.

Wien. Durch die Einführung der neuen Civilprozeßordnung wurde die Thätigkeit der Advokaten theilweise eingeschränkt, und seit dieser Zeit ist auch der Andrang zur Advokaturspraxis ein bedeutend geringerer geworden. Während in den früheren Jahren die Anzahl der Advokatuskandidaten stets in Zunahme begriffen war, nahm sie im Jahre 1896 gegen das Vorjahr um 59 ab, im Jahre 1897 um 181, im Jahre 1898 um 85 und im Jahre 1899 um 86.—Nach Hinterlassung einer Schuldenlast von 160,000 Kronen ist der Juwelier Jakob Schulmann geflüchtet. —Der Schuhobertheilerzeuger Adalbert Schimek zündete sich eine Cigarre im Bett an und schlief dabei ein. Das Bett fing durch die Cigarre Feuer, und Schimek wurde später verkohlt aufgefunden.

Arad. Hier hat sich der Apothekergehilfe Bela Monti, in Gemeinschaft mit seiner Geliebten, der jungen Schauspielerin Marista Varay, erschossen. Monti, der im 20. Lebensjahre stand, hätte als Einjährig-Freiwilliger nach Prag einrücken sollen, und die beiden jungen Leute glaubten, die Trennung nicht überleben zu können.

Bodenbach. Selbstmord aus Gram über die Untreue seiner Frau, welche ihn verlassen hatte, hat der 26 Jahre alte Lackirermeister W. Schuhmann aus Kröglitz begangen.

Bregenz. Der erste Spatenstich am Bau der Bregenzerwälderbahn ist gethan. Eine Anzahl Arbeiter begann mit den Grabungen des den sogenannten Oelrain durchquerenden Tunnels. Der Oelrain ist historischer Boden und die Stätte, auf der ein gut Theil des alten Brigantium stand. Alterthumsforscher haben an dieser Stelle schon wiederholt Humusabdeckungen mit sehr großem Erfolge vorgenommen.

Budapest. Der Advokat Rudolph Pollak hat sich in einem Anfalle von Geistesgestörtheit erschossen.

Dux. In der Frisch Glück-Zeche explodirten Brandgase. Von den 83 Mann starken Belegschaft wurden 43 Personen, darunter der Betriebsleiter Dyl, getödtet, zehn wurden vermißt, acht waren verletzt.

Innsbruck. Der Exekutor des Innsbrucker Steueramtes, Wiester, ist unter Mitnahme eines größeren Betrages eingehobener Steuergelder flüchtig geworden.

Krakau. Vor Kurzem wurde hier der Offiziersdiener Kochanek wegen Ermordung eines Gendarmerie-Wachtmeisters verhaftet. Kochanek entriß dem Gendarmen, welcher ihn als Deserteur bei Jacmirz festnehmen wollte, das Gewehr und streckte ihn mit drei Schüssen nieder.

Prag. Der Stadtrath beschloß, von allen deutschen städtischen Schulgebäuden die deutschen Aufschriften entfernen und durch ausschließlich czechische ersetzen zu lassen.

Temesvar. Anhier starb die Tagelöhnerin Maria Slovak im Alter von 104 Jahren. Trotz ihres hohen Alters versah sie bis wenige Tage vor ihrem Tode alle häuslichen Arbeiten und hatte guten Appetit.

Schweiz.

Bern. Der schweizerische Gewerbeverein zählt zur Zeit 126 Sektionen mit 25,500 Mitgliedern, gegen 23,100 in 1898. Die letzte Jahresrechnung des Vereins ergab an Einnahmen 25,254 Francs, an Ausgaben 23,183 Francs. Die Rechnung für die schweizerischen gewerblichen Lehrlingsprüfungen erzeigte an Einnahmen 10,854 Francs, an Ausgaben 8711 Francs.—Der in der Strafanstalt Thorberg untergebrachte 37jährige Häftling Emil Chevrolet von Bonfol flocht von Garn eine Schnur, an welcher er sich an die Dampfheizleitung aufhängte und so seinem Leben ein Ende machte. who are ruptured cannot locate the seat of the trouble unless taught by someone skilled in the business. They think they can—are positive they can—are willing to argue they can—yet five minutes explanation convinces them for all time they were mistaken. The chances are that all you have guessed about this matter is wrong.
A scientific truss should never touch the pubic bone, never press the spermatic cord or any other delicate parts, should never have under-straps, should always be easy on the back and should hold the rupture at the internal ring so as not to allow any part of it to lodge in the inguinal canal.

There was a girl in the art class with me who used to complain very often of not feeling well, and sometimes she would be away for two or three days. I was talking with her one day about Ripans Tabules and what they were good for, when she told me that she was a great sufferer from constipation and that that was what made her feel so wretchedly. She was often so ill from it, she said, that she had to go to bed, and it had kept her away from the studio several times during the winter, and made her miss a good many days' work on account of the pain she suffered. I had some of the Tabules with me at the time and I gave her several, advising her to try them. She used them, every one, and liked them so much that she afterwards bought a new supply. They helped her so much that she has not been troubled since she began taking them. She thinks they are splendid.

WANTED—A case of bad health that RIPANS will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word RIPANS on the package and accept no substitute. RIPANS, 1 for 5 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

THE MODE.

Elaborate Decorations For the Winter Wardrobe.

Applications of light silk upon plain cloth, embroidered with silks of different colors and threads of gold and silver, are a feature of winter decorations. Another attractive sort of ornamentation consists of flowers and other guipure designs cut out and applied upon a ground of plain mousseline de soie or gauze.

The bolero figures largely among the new models and takes every possible

form, so there is no risk in adopting some variety of it for any kind of costume. The most fashionable shape is short enough at the back to show the corselet belt or the pointed vest, while the fronts extend a little below the waist line and are open. The long, round tabs in front have been abandoned. Another sort is completely closed and terminates at the waist line all around. The revers are relied upon to give the chief character to these little garments. They assume all sorts of fashionable forms and are large or small, plain or elaborate, according to the character of the costume and the figure of the wearer.

The picture shows a costume of beige cloth. The skirt is closed at the side under a stitched strap of cloth and fastens with three gold cords and buttons. The short bolero is ornamented with stitched straps, gold embroidery and gold cords and buttons and opens over a full chemisette of white mousseline de soie. The sleeves have large cuffs trimmed with cords, buttons and straps, and below these are full puffs of white mousseline de soie gathered into a band of black velvet. The wide plaited corselet is of black velvet, and there is a black cravat. The hat of beige felt is faced with a black velvet band and is trimmed with black velvet, a gold buckle and black feathers.

COATS AND WRAPS.

Jackets, Sacks and Long Mantles For Winter.

Boleros are seen in all shades of light taffeta, also in white. Tailor made jackets of peau de soie are worn. The style of jackets in general is short, with a small, round basque. The sleeves are plain and tight, but those of peau de soie have stitched plaits at the top.

Long, straight sacks replace capes, and long capes are not worn except for traveling or the carriage. Women who do not like the straight sack adopt the half length jacket with a fitted back and a straight front.

For evening wraps there are all sorts of long, loose mantles. Very light colors continue to be preferred for them, and empire, Louis Quinze and Louis Seize styles are chiefly seen. They are very elegant in material and decoration. Ribbon, lace and the most delicate gauze are mingled with embroideries and beads to ornament magnificent silks and velvets.

The illustration given today shows a jacket of black velvet. It is closely fitted at the back, but loose in front. The basque is cut in points, and the edges and darts are outlined with stitched bands of black grosgrain. The revers are of grosgrain with stitched borders, and the collar is heavily embroidered. The close sleeves have stitched tabs of grosgrain at the top, and the flaring wrists are edged with stitched grosgrain bands.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

COURT WITHOUT LAW.

Unique Avocation of a Philanthropic Hungarian Banker in Pennsylvania's Slav District.

George Slaine, Hungarian banker and Slav interpreter of the criminal court of Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, has fully earned the title of "judge," without ever having held a commission as notary, alderman or squire. He conducts a court in which there are no lawyers, and the only law is that of common sense.

Greensburg is in the heart of the Slav district. Thousands of miners have no idea of the rights of themselves and their fellow-citizens under the law. They are abrupt, suspicious and lax in morals. They quarrel with great frequency and make all sorts of unusual trades. Now and then they sell or exchange wives. For wives are regarded there as conveniences, and every spring large numbers of Hungarian girls are brought over and quickly taken for wives by the men. These girls do not always stick to their promises to marry the first men they meet. And this is the cause of most of the litigation before "Judge" Slaine.

AN IMPROVISED COURT.
(The "Judge" Hears Both Sides and Usually Talks Peace.)

The "judge" has no regular courtroom. When a complainant seeks his advice he blunders right into the "judge's" banking house and begins the recital of his—or her, for there are many quarrels among the women—bill of complaint. The "judge" hears both sides, talks peace, and in the majority of cases persuades them to drop the matter. One case he had was that of a man who had exchanged wives with another man, with a pair of boots as "boot." The exchange was made, but the boots were not forthcoming. Another case was that of a Slav whose sweetheart had jilted him after he had got a marriage license. He wanted to have her put in prison until she paid him $200. The "judge" talked him into a good humor, and now the young man is married to another girl.

"My reason for taking up this business—from which I get no financial returns—was to keep my fellow-countrymen out of the hands of lawyers and magistrates, who too often encourage instead of discourage litigation. I have saved them many dollars in lawyers' and court fees and have prevented many serious affairs. I cannot fine them, of course, but I do the next best thing—I persuade them to give a small amount to charity."

A POWER IN RUSSIA.

Serge Yulevich De Witte, Minister of Finance and Master of the Art of Court Intrigue.

Serge Yulevich de Witte, the Russian minister of finance, is occupying more than his share of the public eye in Europe. What with his recent negotiations for a loan in America, his visit to the Russian dowager empress at Copenhagen made in the hope of reconciling the czar and his mother for political purposes, and the reports circulated not long ago in which De Witte's disgrace was thoroughly settled to the satisfaction of correspondents, the finance minister has kept himself in view with singular persistence.

SERGE Y. DE WITTE.
(Russian Minister of Finance and Power Behind Throne.)

It is said that De Witte is deep in the court intrigue of Russia and that it is this fact which binds him to the czar. That he is eminently qualified for the part he is now playing is evident by his rise from the state of a mere railroad clerk to that of the financial master of the great empire. He was born in Tiflis about 40 years ago and is really without education, except such as he managed to pick up for himself. He began his career as a humble employe of a government railroad and rose rapidly as much by his capacity for intrigue as by his acknowledged ability.

Shade Tree Telegraph Poles.

Ornamental telegraph poles will ere long be visible in Georgia. On the line of the Stateboro railroad the poles are made of cypress, and must have been planted with the roots. They are certainly sprouting at the top, and will soon serve as shade trees, besides supporting the wires.

BOBBY.

Bobby's hat the crossin' three hours of hevery day,
'Oldin' hup the humans an' the 'osses;
When traffic gets congested, hits 'im as clears the way—
For 'is hindex finger's one of London's bosses.
Right and left 'e sends the whirlpool in a steady stream,
Standin' like a spar-buoy in the Strand;
Fleet and Piccadilly mind 'is finger, willy-nilly—
Jeems and cabby 'alt an' move at 'is command.

W'en there comes a bloody row with the 'ackney an' the fare,
We'n some bloomin' furriner's in ugly trouble;
W'en some burnin' buildin's sendin' up its fireworks hin the air,
W'en the rioters begin to boil and bubble;
W'en the over-driven 'bus 'orse is laid out with the heat;
W'en the van an' carriage lock in wrecked obstruction;
W'en there's any sort of messy row or trouble in the street,
Your mighty armlet's gleamin' in the ruction.

BOB BURDETTE
Takes a Trip Abroad

And Tells of the Queer and Interesting Ways of Our Cousins in England

(Copyright, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.)

WHAT I like more than anything else about this journey to Carcasonne, which the guide tells me lies now but a little way beyond the mountains, is the succession of pleasant surprises along the way. We crossed the Atlantic ocean without a single case of what Mark Twain calls the "Oh, my!" and we had 13 days in London without a taste of rain or the shadow of a fog. And so many travelers, Americans, clergymen, preachers, doctors, teachers and respectable members of the laity have told me that I must not think of going to London without a lantern in my boxes; that I would need it when I landed to find my way from the train to a cab; that London dwelt at all times of the year under such a fog and smoke as made it necessary to burn candles—by which the city is mainly lighted—all day.

Well, we have found the city lighted, in the daytime, by the sun, and that, too, a cloudless sun with a temperature of which the Mojave desert might be proud. It really outclassed the desert. The desert heat isn't so unendurable unless it kills you, and then you don't mind it. Oh, you may long for the heart of the desert afterward; you know better about that than I do. But as hot as it may be at Mojave or the Needles, the man and his clothes are distinct and separate existences. They have no connection with each other. But the London hotness is like the heat of the Mississippi valley—it fuses creature and raiment into one pulpy, steamy, indistinguishable mass.

In fact, when you come to climate, there is no place on earth fit for a human being to live in outside of California. This was made by an all-wise Providence for purposes of habitation; the other places are merely countries to visit. I do hope that Carcasonne will be like California. Citizens of London alone appear to suffer from heat. Only relief is found in writing letters to the Times about it. Letter to Times is singular and most efficacious combination of faith cure. Christian Science, hypnotism and actual remedy for all ills under the sun you ever heard of. No matter what happens to Englishmen—obnoxious law, extreme heat, military reverses, sickness in family, ungrateful child—anything, everything—he sits down and writes a letter to the Times. And a remarkable thing it is, a cure is complete and instantaneous. One dose does it. You never see a second letter from the same man on the same subject; the old trouble is gone; every symptom disappears; never mentioned again. It only costs a penny stamp and a sheet of paper. Letters are never referred to in the Times; no editorial abracadabra pow-wowed over them; just printed, that is all; trouble disappears. Greatest remedy on earth. Nothing in America like it. Print a man's letter in one of our papers, it only encourages him to write more, and longer ones. It makes his trouble worse. By the end of the first week, the man is writing every day, letters a column long. Finally the editor, to save space for president's message, cuts down letter to half-column. Man stops paper—18 months in arrears—and carries some patronage and support to a loathsome contemporary.

The Glacial Period.

Saw in number of shops—are no "stores" in England, except depots of naval and miltary supplies—most ingenious method for cooling shop, to great comfort of customers and employes. Large lump of ice, weighing at least ten pounds, set in nest of moss, in center of shop. Had same effect of lowering temperature of room, that same amount of ice would have on thermometer if placed in midst of Sahara on hot day. Only wonder that it was set there at all. Must be apparent to inventor that ice carts driven through city streets would cool off whole city. Put on few extra ice carts, snow come down. Great suffering among poor, who wouldn't be ready for it. Perhaps that is reason why plan is not adopted. Thoughtful people.

However, the Londoner is not an ice eater. Zero or boiling point cuts no ice with him. He doesn't know how to use it when it is frozen and cut for him. When a man has insulted his system with few of the temperance beverages the London caterer hands out to the thirsty public, he ceases to wonder that over against its 1,400 churches, London has about 8,000 public houses. Only wonders that there not more. If one drink of a liquid lukewarm horror they call "lemon squash" won't drive man to drink, two will. There are other non-alcoholic "cooling" drinks, but all much worse than this, which is the nastiest thing human being ever slushed his astonished gullet with. Tastes just as the name sounds. Sort of onomatopoetic drink.

This city of about 5,000,000 people gets along with 250,000 tons of ice per year; about as much, I reckon, as they use in Los Angeles; somewhat more than the annual consumption in Olathe, Kan. "May be he doesn't need so much ice as the rest of the world?" Well, it gets tepid, at least in London. July 24 the thermometer marked 91 in the shade, 133 in the sun. The day following it was 90 in the shade, 128 in the sun. It was so "mild" that week that two of the supreme court justices removed their wigs and the bench gave the attorneys permission to do likewise. And many of them did so! No wonder we are having trouble in China and wars all over the world!

Nay, more; during the same week Englishmen of high social standing, some of them glasses of fashion and others molds of form, appeared in Hyde Park wearing straw hats and sack coats. And when English gentlemen walk, ride or drive in Hyde Park not wearing frock coats and silk hats, anarchy is not far away, the cup is filled to overflowing and it is questioned if the bottom be not fallen out of things. "No buckles on his shoes? Then, monsieur, all is lost!" The student of Carlyle will remember that this was the first premonitory shudder of the French revolution.

Same Old Season.

However, in explanation of all these portents, they told me that "this was an exceptional year." This brought tears to my eyes. My soul overflowed. My lady wept, and the boys cried: "It is to laugh!" It was such a dear, familiar American sound. It used to have a California patent and copyright, but it has been shamefully infringed all over the world. The same old "exceptional year." I have been living in it and traveling through more than 50 years. I have never seen one "usual season."

"Bobby."

Now, his ignorance of the uses—possibly of the existence of ice in hot weather surprises me, because, in my residence of 15 minutes in London the thing that most impressed me was the plain, everyday, solid, practical common sense of the Englishman. I like his mingled independence and reverence for law. He controls the greatest city on earth without a club. The London policeman wears no belt, his blouse is light and comfortable, there isn't the suggestion of the soldier in his service uniform, and his weaponless hands are bare. But when he merely lifts a finger the street stands still. And I haven't heard him "yell" at a soul. Lost childhood, apprehensive age and bewildered "cookies" strayed from their flock find in "Bobby" a friend and guardian. I don't care where you question him, he directs you to remotest corners of London as though his beat extended over the entire city. To us he has always been ready with a little more information than was asked for. I have never observed the slightest approach to hauteur in his bearing, save toward the cabbies, who appear to be his natural enemies. If he be a "city" policeman the stripes on his armlet are red, whereas those on the "metropolitan" officer are blue. And the "city" helmet is more elaborate. The pictures of the helmet always look heavy enough for war. It is as light as the ordinary derby hat. And the "armlet," made familiar to American eyes by London pictures, merely indicates, being buckled on the arm, that the wearer is on duty. The sergeant wears the lightest and simplest chevrons on his sleeve; that is all that distinguishes his rank. His cousin on the American force of his own grade looks like a colonel in the regular army.

The London police force impresses one all the time with the sense of "service." And I hesitate to write this, because I know it will not be believed in America—but the London policeman speaks English without a brogue in it. Several of him have assured me that they were born in London. I knew, of course, that this could not be true, and yet I had been assured that a London "bobby" never joked, and I was certain that the discipline of the force should prevent them from giving misinformation to a stranger. One man assured me, solemnly, that although his grandparents were indeed Irish, he had resided in London for 18 years before he was placed on the force. I suppose the man had some reason for concealing the facts of his case from me, and of course I had no right to insist on the truth. Still, it is a pleasant fiction for an American citizen to dream over. To be dwelling in a city guarded by a constabulary of its own home-born citizens! That is utterly un-American, I know, but it's pleasant, and I'll say so if I go to the Tower for it. Going there anyhow.

Building to Last.

And another simple street idea; when our Cousin John erects a scaffolding for building operations he shows what a born sailor he is, for he lashes the great masts and poles and plank together with ropes, and thus he builds his six-story scaffolding firm and staunch as the rigging of a ship. Then when he takes it down he doesn't pound and knock it to pieces; he shakes loose his sailor knots and lashings, takes it down like the old rigger that he is, and it is good and ready for the next work. I sometimes forgot to look at a building 15,000 or 20,000 years old, where somebody was beheaded every other day for a thousand years—different bodies, you know, and not same heads of course—in the interest I felt in a sailor-like scaffolding going up for the new building next door, where busy men, instead of cutting off each other's heads, would hire, with good coin, heads wiser than their own to think and live for them. Surely, beloved, the new building is the better worth the looking at. It is always better to build than to tear down. London has no sky-scrapers to build 20-story scaffoldings for, to be sure. Which shows how far behind her hustling younger sisters of the mighty west she is. Oh, the dome of St. Paul's is 365 feet higher than the sidewalk, but it is no steel and terra cotta "shack." It is an old thing built about 200 years ago, in the days when they began at the foundation of a building and built up. Now they seem to begin almost anywhere in the air along the line of the wall, and the men who work the fastest get their story done the first and go down and help the men who are putting in the foundation. Understand that St. Paul hasn't fallen down once since the present building was finished. Must be owing to some peculiarity of construction. Which, in our modern buildings, architects have in many instances successfully corrected.

Good as Wheat.

Another thing put down in notebook I have missed. That is the cold, selfish, unapproachable, isolated Englishman. He must exist because the old traveler had warned us against him. Only, we haven't happened to meet him. Didn't know a soul in town; never in London before; didn't care for guide after first experience with one who got lost twice and didn't know so much about London as we did. Citizens recognized us in all our wanderings. Easy enough to recognize party of Americans if any girls in crowd—sailor hat and shirt waist supposed to be national costume. But Englishmen identify the men just as quickly. Never had to ask more than one question. Never met with readier, pleasanter, less obtrusive courtesy from strangers than here in London. Information, suggestion, advice—all volunteered so graciously and cordially that wondered sometimes whether it was Old England or New England we are in. Blotted that page out of notebook. Glad I made fun of that type of Englishman before I met him. Find it much safer, as rule, to make fun of all sorts and conditions of men before you meet them. Then are not hampered by facts. More than ever convinced now that people resemble people more than anybody else. And, as a rule, people are about as pleasant a class of human beings as one meets on this planet. Of course, once in while find person who is not in touch with people nor in sympathy with folk. But that is because he is an ass. Which is another race of beings. And he is not at all numerous. Never met an ass in my life that his very presence did not give me assurance that there were human beings somewhere near. For he cannot exist without them, and the more superior he considers himself, the more he thrusts himself into places where he may be seen and heard of men. It is the nature of the brute.

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

Authorship by Proxy.

There is an amusing story of a woman of title who found it difficult to understand journalistic methods when she first encountered them. The sister of a well-known and eccentric Scotch peer was traveling in Japan and the far east when she received a cable dispatch from a great metropolitan daily: "Would you acept £—— for series travel articles?" The woman was pleased, and replied by cable that she would send "copy" in a fortnight. She was, therefore, annoyed when the paper withdrew its offer, cabling her: "No need to send copy." Dignified silence seemed the only way to treat such unbusinesslike methods. Many weeks later, returning, she found a parcel of newspapers, and read with some astonishment several spirited and gossipy articles on the far east, written, it was announced, by herself. Had not a letter inclosing a handsome check accompanied the parcel, there might have been a considerable row.—Philadelphia Post.

Lacked Facilities.

Neerwander—I suppose that when you were in Rome you did as the Romans did.

Bachager—Well, no; not having a regiment of cavalry I couldn't charge them as heavy as they did me.—Brooklyn Life.

EIGHT HUNDRED IN CRASH

"SINGER TRAIN" RUNS INTO A COAL CABOOSE ON MAIN TRACK.

Thrown Down, Bruised and Cut by Glass, But None Received Serious Injury.

Eight hundred of the employes of the Singer Sewing Machine Company had yesterday morning narrow escapes from serious injury or death. They were on their way to the Singer factory at Elizabethport on a train which is known as the "Singer train" from the fact that it runs solely for their benefit.

As this train approached the Spring street station a long coal train was backing down on the main line. Just as the caboose of the coal train reached the station the engine of the passenger train crashed into it. Two brakemen who were in the caboose saved their lives by jumping.

The caboose was wrecked and the locomotive of the passenger train was badly smashed on the front and sides. The first passenger car was wrecked. How the passengers escaped death or serious injury is a miracle. The car was crowded and the occupants were thrown to the floor. Many were severely bruised and cut by the flying glass.

It has not yet been determined who is responsible for the accident. The authorities are making an investigation. Whether or not the danger signal, which should have stopped the passenger train at a safe distance from the station and prevented the accident, was set has not yet been discovered. If it was properly set the responsibility for the accident would fall on the engineer of the passenger train. No arrests have been made.

BIRTHDAY SOCIABLE.

Ladies of Grace M. E. Church Raising Money to Pay Interest on the Church Debt.

A successful birthday sociable was held in Grace M. E. church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society for the purpose of raising a sufficient amount of money to pay the interest on the church debt. The efforts of the ladies were more successful than anticipated, as $30 was realized for the object mentioned. The various members and friends enclosed their offering in a small silk sack, and the amount was supposed to tally with the age of the giver. In some cases the amount exceeded the age and in others it was less.

A feature of the evening was the musical programme, including vocal solos by Mrs. G. W. Gardner and Miss Agnes Tingley and graphaphone selections. Each number was well received and encores given. After the entertainment refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Edward Vermeule, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Pond, Mrs. Bauersachs, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Corra Ryno.

Mrs. Low assisted by Mrs. E. E. Winckler was in charge of the entertainment, while Mrs. John Valiant, as president of the society, assisted by Mrs. Most, had a general oversight of the whole affair. Other members of the society did all in their power to make the event a pleasant and successful one. Considering the night there was an excellent attendance of the members and friends.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

JUNIOR ORDER OF THE STATE SECEDES.

By Almost Unanimous Vote the State Council Takes Decisive Action in Trenton.

A NEW NATIONAL BODY N. W.

NEW JERSEY CHARTER MAY BE USED FOR NATIONAL ORGANIZATION.

Other States Expected Soon to Break Away, too—Five New Councils Organized in New Jersey—The Officers Elected.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Oct. 25.—The State Council of New Jersey Jr. O. U. A. M., by a vote that was almost unanimous, yesterday followed the example of four other States in severing their connection with the National Council.

There was but little discussion over the action, and when the vote was taken 240 favored secession, while only 12 opposed it. The five States which have now taken this action are New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The action was in accordance with the recommendation of a report made by a special committee consisting of former Senator Maurice A. Rogers, of Camden; William H. Miers, of Trenton, and Fergus A. Dennis, of Princeton.

The resolutions adopted recommend the termination of the relations between the State and National Councils; declare void the laws known as the general laws and National constitution; decide to strike from the ritual all clauses or words referring to the National Council, and instruct the incoming board of officers to employ counsel to resist the National Council; to seek legislation for the order in this State; to draft State laws, and to act with the boards of officers of New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, the District of Columbia and such other States as are willing to join them in the advancement of the order.

The State Council believes other States will break away and that the charter of the New Jersey branch will become the charter of the National organization.

The annual report of the State Councillor, former Senator Rogers, shows five new councils organized during the year and a net increase in membership of 1,849. During the year $9,138 20 has been paid out and there is a balance on hand of $9,528 32.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. J. Morgan Reed, of Goodwill Council No. 32, Atlantic City; vice-president, P. Hall Parker, of Ashland Council No. 28, Seabright; secretary and treasurer, William N. Gray, of Cranford Council No. 62, Cranford; directors, Frank H. Lewis, of Industry Council No. 35, Jersey City (two years); J. Fred Lang, of Orient Council No. 48, Elizabeth (two years); Howard S. Norris, of General Custer Council No. 130, Newark (one year); George H. Poulson, of Rutherford B. Hayes Council No. 143, Trenton (one year); auditing committee, Edwin L. Conrow, No. 25 (three years); A. J. Smith, No. 36, (two years), and William Parker.

DECIDED ON APPEAL.

Somerset County Court Heard Two Cases From North Plainfield Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Oct. 25—The case of Russell V. Bishop against Charles Jensen was tried before Judge Schenck and a jury yesterday. Lawyer Angleman represented Bishop and Frank Blatz appeared for Jensen. This was a suit for the value of four barrels of whisky. Jensen claimed the whisky was no good and returned it. The jury could not agree and so were discharged.

The case Bruce & Runyon against Henrietta Bodenheimer was next tried. This was a suit for $100 for counsel fees. Bruce & Runyon claimed that they were to have this amount when the case was given them, whether it was pushed to a successful conclusion or not. Subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Bodenheimer made up and the divorce proceedings were dropped, and she did not wish to pay the $100. The jury rendered a verdict for $100. S. S. Swackhamer represented Mrs. Bodenheimer, and Bruce & Runyon conducted their own case, assisted by F. A. Pope at the opening.

More Hospital Accommodations.

A very important meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital will be held next Monday night, when it is expected that arrangements will be made to increase the accommodations at the hospital.

WORK FOR EVERYONE, SAYS MR. NEWCORN.

Fourth Ward Republican Pictures the Prosperous Times in This City.

PRAISES G. O. P. FOR IT.

PENNSYLVANIA CONGRESSMAN WAS ENTHUSIASTIC SPEAKER.

His Speech Made Plenty of Life for the Meeting Held in Reform Hall—Says Trusts Are All Right if Regulated.

Something new to Plainfield in the line of campaign oratory was heard at the Fourth Ward Republican rally held in Reform Hall last evening. The speaker was Congressman Charles N. Braum, of Pennsylvania. He was a typical Pennsylvania Dutch stump speaker, and aroused his hearers to a state of enthusiasm the like of which has not been seen before in the present campaign.

When the meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock the hall was only partially filled. During the course of the evening, however, it gradually filled up until nearly 500 people were gathered there. Freeholder Wm A. Westphal called the meeting to order and announced Wm. Newcorn as chairman of the meeting.

North Plainfield's club sent a delegation of forty and its glee club. A few remarks were made by Chairman Newcorn. He pointed out the difference in this city between the Democratic administration of a few years ago and the Republican rule of the present day. Under the last Democratic administration, he said, there had been so much poverty and suffering that the charitable organizations of the city had united in an Organized Aid Association and established a wood yard in order to give employment to men who were willing to work but could not, on account of the hard times, get no opportunity to do so. Many were glad to take advantage of the chance to earn $1 a day three times week.

How different was the present situation. Then the Pond Tool Works had been working short handed. Now two gangs are busy there day and night. The Potter Press Works was also working day and night. The same condition prevailed at the Scott Press Works. There was a chance for every man who was willing to work.

After another selection by the North Plainfield Glee Club, Congressman Chas. N. Braum was introduced. He comes from the anthracite coal region. He spoke of the strike among the miners and told how many Bryanites had expressed the hope to him that the strike would not end until after election. They knew, he said, that their only hope for success was in some calamity. The slogan of the Democrats had been "more work and cheap living," he said. That was just what the American workingman did not want. He wanted better wages, not more work, and he wanted good, not cheap living. Regarding the prophesies of Bryan four years ago of disaster for the country, he pointed out that the McKinley and the Dingley bills had been passed and the free silver bill had been defeated and yet the United States had captured the markets of the world.

He had much to say on the fallacy of the free silver doctrine and the foolishness of militarism as pictured by the Democrats.

Regarding the trusts, he declared that the inventive genius of the Americans was responsible. It was the same movement that could be seen in the change of the manufacture of goods, once by hand and now by machinery. Properly regulated they accomplished much for the country and the Republicans were going to regulate them.

There were armies in time of peace as well as in time of war and the greatest army the United States ever saw was under a Democratic administration when an army of three million tramps, led by Gen. Coxy, marched to the National Capital. When they arrived there, the only answer they got from the Democratic administration was to "Keep off the grass."

Congressman Braum talked for nearly two hours and spoke on all of the principal issues. Col. Rogers was unable to be present but the audience was perfectly satisfied with the other speaker and cheered him widely throughout his speech. The meeting ended with the singing of the National hymn.

Special Marshal Francis Whiteley, of the borough, was on duty yesterday, while Chief Campbell was in New Brunswick.

SCHOLASTIC TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

Game Played by Plainfield High School and Rutgers Prep. School Yesterday.

THE SCORE WAS 5 TO 5

GAME PLAYED ON THE GRIDIRON AT MARTINE COMMON.

Good Clean Football Played Throughout—High School Scored in First Half—Visitors Braced Up and Made a Touchdown.

Honors were divided at the meeting of the elevens of the Plainfield High School and the Rutgers Preparatory School, of New Brunswick, on Martine Common yesterday afternoon. In the first half the High School boys took the initiative and scored once. In the second the Brunswick lads braced up, scored once and were on their way toward Plainfield's goal when the call of time came. The final score was 5 to 5. It was an exhibition of good, clean football, and delighted a crowd of several hundred people.

Plainfield had the kick-off. Davis made a fair kick and the High School soon recovered the ball on downs. The guards back formation was used with effect. Both Pond and Denton made good gains and Davis covered much ground on that play. The ball went right down the field and after five minutes of play Fred Mason went around left end for twelve yards and a touchdown. Cubberley missed the goal.

Rutgers kicked off and Plainfield brought the ball right up the field to Rutgers' twenty-five yard line and there lost it on downs. The visitors tried the ends with success and fought their way pluckily to Plainfield's 25 yard line, where the ball was lost on a fumble. Twice the ball changed hands on downs and then Davis punted. Pettit caught it and ran back 25 yards. Plainfield recovered the ball on downs and had it on their own 40-yard line when time was called.

The visitors kicked off and Plainfield tried the same tactics as in the first half with fair success. On a double pass Ughetta made twenty-five yards, to Rutgers' forty yard line. Five yards further Plainfield lost the ball on downs and then the visitors determinedly carried the ball down the field. Mass plays on tackle and end runs netted varying gains. The High School boys failed to rally and Murphy went over the line on a centre play for a touchdown. Pettitt missed an easy goal. The time of play was ten and a half minutes.

After that the local team devoted its efforts toward preventing the visitors from scoring. Once the High School boys got possession of the ball on downs, but lost it the same way after a few gains. Time was called with the ball on Plainfield's twenty five yard line in possession of the visitors.

The line-up was as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL.		RUTGERS PREP.
Van Auken-Monroe	right end	Cole, captain
Meeker	right tackle	Murphy
Pond	right guard	Green
Cubberley	centre	Feltman
Denton	left guard	Hasbrouck
Bulkley	left end	Nafey
Ughetta	quarter back	Pettit
F. Mason-Hallock	right half back	Mittag
T. Mason	left half back	DuBois
Davis, captain	full back	Hay

Score—Plainfield High School, 5; Rutgers Prep School, 5. Touchdowns—Fred Mason, Murphy. Referee—Ernest T. Rapalje, of Rutgers, '00. Umpire—H. C. Wright, of Amherst. Linesmen—J. A. Furgeson, of New Brunswick, and Raymond Miller, of Plainfield. Timekeepers—W. H. Burr, of Williams College, and Charles B. Morse, of Plainfield. Time of halves—Twenty and fifteen minutes.

The Male Contingent.

In yesterday's issue the well-known New York clothiers, Messrs. Smith, Gray & Co., made the startling and interesting announcement that everything in their fashionable winter stock has been greatly reduced in price. This sale is due to the fact that they are compelled to re-organize, owing to the recent death of two members of the firm, and the acts of the company must be liquidated as quickly as possible. A most excellent opportunity is thus afforded of procuring really fine clothes at very low figures.

Praised Grace P. E. Organ.

Bauman Lowe, organist at St. John's P. E. church, Elizabeth, was in this city recently and was given an opportunity to try the new Midmer organ at Grace P. E. church. He was loud in his praise of the instrument and said that it is one of the most perfect he has ever had the good fortune to play on. Mr. Lowe is an organist of great ability and ranks high in his profession. A testimonial like the above counts for much and is appreciated by the membersof Grace church.

MISS JOSEPH A BRIDE FOR ROSELLE GROOM

A Popular Young Woman of Washington Park Wedded to F. V. Greene, Jr.

A PRETTY HOME CEREMONY.

NUPTIAL KNOT TIED BENEATH A FLORAL WEDDING BELL.

Ministeral Uncle of the Groom Officiated, Assisted by Rev. Dr D J. Yerkes—Service Was That of the Episcopal Church.

An autumnal wedding of interest was that of yesterday afternoon, when Josephine Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Joseph, of 29 Willow avenue, Washington Park, became the wife of Frederick V. Green, Jr., of Roselle. It was a home affair and every detail was carried out with simplicity.

The home was a scene of beauty for admiring eyes. The principal colors of decoration were green and white. They were produced with the strongest effect in the parlor, where the ceremony was performed. Choice flowers, together with smylax, were arranged in a pleasing and novel manner. Directly in front of the mantle-piece there was arranged a bank of flowers, in front of which there was an altar. Suspended from the chandelier, beneath which the bridal couple stood, was a wedding bell made of white roses and smylax.

The green and white effect was carried out in the general decoration of the parlor and the reception hall. In the dining room the prevailing color was pink, and the festive board was respendant in this beautiful shade.

It was just 5 o'clock when the guests were apprised of the approaching bridal party. Miss Lavinia French, of Brooklyn, presided at the piano, and the favorite Loehengrin wedding march was rendered by her as the party entered the parlor through the reception hall from the rooms above.

First came the groom, accompanied by his brother, John Greene, of Roselle, who was best man, and his uncle, Rev. E. E. Loux, of Richmond, L. I., who officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church. They were followed by the ushers, John Wind, of Elizabeth, and H. Elsworth Cragin, of New York, after which came the bridesmaids, Miss Bessie M. Giles, of this city, and Miss Marguerite E. Greene, sister of the groom, of Roselle. They were gowned in white organdie and carried pink roses.

Then came the matron of honor, Mrs. Lucius R. Squier, of Scranton, Pa., who wore a gown of mousseline de soie over pink silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was followed by the bride, who was accompanied by her father. She was richly gowned in silk crepe de chine over white silk and she carried a shower bouquet. At the altar the party separated, allowing the bride and groom to stand in the centre.

The ceremony was that of the Episcopal church and was performed with a ring. The responses by both the bride and groom were given in clear and distinct tones. Immediately after the ceremony a reception followed and the happy couple received the usual shower of congratulations. During the reception supper was served by a caterer and later Mr. and Mrs. Greene left Plainfield to enjoy a wedding trip through New York State, including Niagara Falls.

The following programme of music was rendered during the reception by A. G. Carpenter's orchestra:

Hearts and Flowers	Tobain
Flower Song	Lange
Serenade	Braga
Intermezzo Russe	Franke
Gavotte—Loves Frolic	Briegel
My Jersey Lily	von Tilzer
Serenade	Moskowski
Melody in F	Rubenstein
Valse—Cupid's Dream	Crosby
Loves Old Sweet Song	Molloy
Gavotte—Beauty's Cunning	Czibulka
Serenade	Titl

The gifts of great value and usefulness received by the bride and groom attest the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. They include gold and silverware, cut-glass, furniture, fancy articles and many things too numerous to mention. A whole room was devoted to them and they were the envy of many who viewed them.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Greene will take up their residence with the bride's parents on Willow avenue.

Last Registration Day.

Next week Tuesday will be the last day for registering and it is a duty that every citizen owes to himself that his name appears on the list.

REPUBLICANS NAME THEIR MEN TODAY.

County Convention in Elizabeth—Everything Will be Harmonious.

ASSEMBLYMEN THE SAME.

CHAIRMANSHIP OF CONVENTION WILL NOT GO TO PLAINFIELD.

This City's Representatives Will Be Looked After on the Committees Though—Platform Will Indorse Administration.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, October 25—Republicans from all over the county are gathering here today for the county convention, at which will be nominated the Republican candidates for the three seats in the Assembly and for the coroner. The convention is to be held at the Lyceum Theatre and will begin at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A party of Plainfield leaders arrived here late in the morning in order to be present at the meeting of the county executive committee which is now in session, previous to the meeting of the convention. The rest of the Plainfield delegates and a score of spectators from that city reached here early this afternoon. Plainfield is entitled to thirty delegates, most of whom are now present.

There is really little to be done at the convention as precedent demands that the three present Assemblymen, Ellis R. Meeker, of Elizabeth; Chester M. Smith, of Westfield, and Charles S. Foote, of Plainfield, be given a chance for a second term in the lower house of the State Legislature. They will be renominated by acclamation. A little skirmish over the nomination for coroner is possible but not probable. Plainfield, as yet, has no candidate for that office.

As the chairmanship of the last Republican county convention went to Plainfield and City Judge William N. Runyon was chairman of the county delegation at the Congressional convention, the chairman of this afternoon's convention will go to Elizabeth, Summit or Rahway. Plainfield will be looked after, however, in the appointment of committees.

A platform, snort but emphatically endorsing the Republican platform and the acts of the present administration, will be adopted and the last part of the session will be devoted to speech making. The candidates will be called upon for a few words, and the county committee has arranged to have some speaker of prominence there to address the delegates after the business session is over.

WEDDING BELLS AT ST. MARY'S.

Boyle-Druhen Nuptials Were Celebrated Yesterday Afternoon.

St. Mary's church was filled with friends and relatives yesterday afternoon who had assembled to witness the wedding of Miss Catherine Druhen, of this city, and Martin T. Boyle, of Dunellen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Smyth at 4 o'clock.

John Boyle, a brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Margaret Roach, of Bound Brook, was bridemaid. The ushers were Patrick O'Keefe, of this city; Joseph Kelley, of Dunellen; Paul Clark, of Elizabeth, and James Roach, of Bound Brook. The bride was attired in a gown of point d'esprit over white silk. She carried bridal roses. The bridemaid's dress was organdie over blue silk.

After the performing of the ceremony the bridal party was driven to Dunellen, where a reception was held at the residence of John Cooper, the bride's uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle left last night for a week's visit to Yonkers, N. Y., and upon their return will reside in Dunellen.

The usual large number of wedding presents were received by the young couple, and consisted of a great variety of articles.

Historical Society's Annual Meeting.

The fifty-fifth annual meeting of the New Jersey Historical Society will be held in the rooms of the organization at 757 Broad street, Newark, Wednesday afternoon, October 31st, at 2 o'clock. A paper on the life and character of Samuel H. Pennington, M. D., LL. D., will be read by John Whitehead, and William Nelson will give "A Quaker Lady's Journal of a Trip Through New Jersey in 1803." Trustees will be elected and the annual reports of officers and committees made. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Ernest E. Coe, Francis M. Tickenor and Stephen H. Plum.

RAILROAD VICTIM BADLY MANGLED.

Unknown Man Killed Near the Clinton Avenue Station Early This Morning.

TRYING TO IDENTIFY HIM.

IT IS THOUGHT THE DEAD MAN WAS RAILROAD EMPLOYE.

No Report of a Missing Man Received by Officials—The Remains Will be Kept for a Few Days Hoping for Identification

The body of an unknown young man in a terribly mangled condition, was picked up on the Central Railroad tracks midway between the Clinton Avenue station and the Chapot factory, early this morning. The crew of a coal train which passed through this city at 6 o'clock first made the discovery and notified the authorities at the North Avenue station. They in turn notified Undertaker George W. Cole and the latter going to the spot procured the remains. It is believed that the man fell from a moving train.

The lower part of the body was horribly torn and crushed, but the face and head was barely scratched. The features are those of a man apparently twenty five or thirty years old, with light hair and moustache and fair complexion.

According to the opinion of several authorities the man was evidently an employe of the railroad, as the clothes in which the body was dressed resembled those usually worn by coal or freight train hands, with the exception of a fall overcoat. They consisted of pants and overalls, heavy shoes, no undercoat or vest and a black workingman's cap. The idea that the man was not a tramp is further strengthened by the fact that the underclothes were neat and clean as was the body also.

A diligent search of the dead man's pockets failed to reveal the smallest article whereby his identity might be learned. A torn red bandanna handkerchief was all that could be found. The railroad tracks in the vicinity of the spot where the body was found have also been carefully looked over, but nothing was disclosed. No report has as yet reached the railroad authorities of the missing of any member of a train crew, but inquiries are being sent along the line.

The body will be at Cole's morgue for a short time to await, if possible, some one's identification. This is the second body to be discovered on the railroad tracks in this vicinity inside of a month, the first one being found at Berckman street. It was buried without its identity being learned.

Teachers Studying Methods.

The quarterly teachers' meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school was held last Tuesday evening at the home of the superintendent, Mrs. Alice S. Runyon, Arlington avenue. The first half of the evening was devoted to the reading of reports and transaction of business; the latter half to an open parliament on "What are the present needs of our Sunday-school, and how shall they be met?" Many helpful suggestions were made in this line, which will undoubtedly be adopted and thus increase the efficiency of the school. The superintendent was empowered to appoint a missionary committee and a committee on methods, to add to the present working force.

Convention Echo Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenus Baptist church will hold a "Convention Echo" meeting tomorrow evening. There will be a full and complete report of the State convention by Miss Cora Brokaw, who was a delegate from the society to the convention, in addition to which there will be short talks on the convention by visiting delegates. A quartette will sing some of the hymns used during the convention. At the close of the meeting a social will be held. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Young Lad Killed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, October 25.—Frank Madusky, aged seven, was struck and killed by an eastbound passenger train Tuesday night about 6 o'clock, at the Middagh street crossing of the Central Railroad. He had crossed the tracks to meet his father, but got tired of waiting, and started to return. He darted across in front of a westbound train when he was struck by the eastbound express. He was thrown fifty feet, both legs were broken and his head was cut.

Mrs. Willard Sutton and family, of Elizabeth, have been visiting relatives on East Third street.

TROUBLE TO SECURE A NOTABLE SPEAKER.

Inability of Webster Davis to Keep His Engagement Bothers the Democracy.

OTHER POLITICAL NOTES.

MARTINE WITH THE BRYAN PARTY IN NEW JERSEY TODAY.

One Hundred Orators to Work For Democracy in New Jersey—Important Meeting of the Jeffersonian Club Tomorrow Night.

Owing to the necessity of Webster Davis going to his home in Kansas City on account of the serious illness of his father, the local Democracy finds itself at a disadvantage in arranging for a big meeting for the wind-up of the campaign. Mr. Davis had promised to speak in Plainfield and it was expected to have the meeting next Monday, but owing to the abandonment of his eastern campaign arrangements the local leaders are somewhat handicapped to get a speaker of National reputation. Every effort is being made with State and National committees to secure some noted man to address a big meeting in Music Hall, but as yet it has been impossible to get such a speaker as is desired. As is well-known every speaker of reputation is engaged for every moment of his time until election day, and consequently it is almost impossible to get the promise of one to come to Plainfield. It is expected, however, that someone suitable for a large meeting will be secured by tomorrow night and if so the meeting will probably be held next Wednesday. The inability of Mr. Davis to keep his engagement in Plainfield is a great disappointmhnt to the hundreds that would like to hear him, as he is a speaker of exceptional brilliancy and merit.

James E. Martine, who is with Col. Bryan and the other New Jersey leaders today, telegraphed The Daily Press from Philadelphia as follows this morning: "New Jersey delegation well represented. Great throngs crowd the streets. Hotel Lafayette crowded with men, all of whom are wild for Bryan."

The colored voters of the city will hold a mass meeting this evening in Washington Hall at which time Hon. Wm. F. Powell, U. S. Minister to Hayti, will be the principal speaker. Seats will be reserved for women. The vice-presidents include many of the prominent politicans and leading Republicans of the city.

Secretary Devereux, of the Democratic State committee, today assigned sixty speakers for Democratic meetings in New Jersey next week.

Robert Davis will take charge of Bryan as soon as he reaches Jersey City tonight, and stick to him until he leaves Bryan at Dover tomorrow. Bryan and Davis will be taken through Jersey City in an open barouche to the various meeting halls. A bugler will preceed the barouche and blow a big trumpet as a sort of herald. Behind the barouche will march 3,000 Democrats, with little Bryan pictures stuck in their hats and with American flags in their hands. There will be a great fireworks display.

A Democratic mass meeting will be held at Mt. Bethel Monday night which will be addressed by S. S. Swackhamer, president of the North Plainfield Democratic Club, and the Somerset county candidates.

James E. Martine will wind up the campaign at Raritan the night before election with a speech at a Democratic rally to be held there.

The registration in Elizabeth Tuesday which was the last day, was phenomenal, being larger than ever known there before on the final day for registering in a Presidential campaign. Every ward shows a heavy increase. The increase is the greatest in the Republican wards. The total will foot up over 10,000, which will be and increse over 1896 of more than 1,200.

An important business meeting of the Democratic Jeffersonian Club will be held in the rooms of the Hillman Association, in the Stillman building over Rowley's drug store, tomorrow night. Plans are to be made for important work in connection with campaign affairs leading up to election.

Borough Councilman S. S. Swackhamer has consented to address a Democratic mass meeting at Whitehouse Saturday evening.

Sheriff Schoonmaker, of Somerville was a visitor in the city and borough, yesterday.

Miss May VanFleet, of East Third street, is entertaining company from Jersey City.

WILL DECIDE TODAY.

President Mitchell Will State Mine Workers' Decision.

END OF THE LONG CONTEST PROBABLE

Coal Companies Controling Three-Quarters of the Anthracite Production Have Announced the Advance of Ten Per Cent.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 25.—President Mitchell announces that he will today probably late in the afternoon or evening, issue a statement defining the position of the United Mine Workers in the present situation of the strike. He also says that his statement will in all likelihood indicate whether the strike will be immediately declared off or whether it will be continued.

This announcement is made as a result of yesterday's conference between the national and district officers of the United Mine Workers. The impression around headquarters is that the statement will contain practically a declaration that the contest is ended. Coal companies controlling about 75 per cent of the anthracite coal product, it is learned, have posted notices, but President Mitchell will not say that all of them comply with the terms of the Scranton convention.

The big companies in this district that have not posted the notices are the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, G. B. Markle & Co. and Coxe Bros. & Co. The Markles have granted no increase of wages of any kind.

The conference discussed plans as to what should be done in the event of one or more of the coal companies declining to grant the demands of the miners as set forth in the resolution adopted at the Scranton convention. No definite conclusion was, however, arrived at.

The notice posted by several of the larger companies in the Lackawanna and Wyoming regions which announced that the mine workers will be given 2½ cents on every car or ton in order to make up 10 per cent came in for much consideration at the conference. When the conference adjourned last evening, this matter was still under discussion.

Bryan In Maryland and Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 25.—Mr. Bryan made two speeches of some length in this city last night, having made 17 other addresses during the day. Beginning at St. Michael's on the eastern shore of Maryland, he spoke in succession at Easton, Preston, Hurlock, Vienna, Salisbury, Berlin, all of which places are in Maryland, and at Frankford, Georgetown, Milford, Harrington, Dover, Clayton, Middletown, Kirkwood and Newcastle, in Delaware. The audiences of the day were as a rule fair sized, and a majority of them were thoroughly appreciative. At a few of the stopping places in Delaware there was apparent lack of enthusiasm.

England Would Be Friendly.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, speaking at the banquet of the Fishmongers' company in London last evening, dwelt at length upon the imperial aspirations of the British nation. "Union with the colonies," he said, "does not signify hostility to other nations. On the contrary we desire their friendship, if it is not purchased at the cost of objects more essential. We hope they will reciprocate the friendly sentiments we express and feel for them. If they decline our friendship, we shall do without it. If we cannot persuade them, then we must be isolated."

Two Killed by Express Train.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Jacob Herring, 77 years of age, of Harrington Park, N. J., and his housekeeper, Eliza Benyan, 76 years of age, while driving to the home of ex-Sheriff W. G. Herring, a brother of Jacob Herring, were both killed by being struck by an express train of the West Shore railroad at Harworth crossing. Mr. Herring had stopped his horse in order to allow a freight train to pass and, thinking the track all clear, started to cross, when the express, which was coming in the opposite direction, bore down upon him before he could avoid it.

Zionists Appeal to McKinley.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—William Hamner Piper, on behalf of the Zion church, has sent a telegram to President McKinley and Governor Nash of Ohio protesting against the treatment of the representatives of the denomination at Mansfield, O., and appealing for their protection. Mr. Piper says in the telegram that these ministers have not broken a single statute of the state and that the right to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ is vouchsafed to them by the laws of Ohio and the constitution of the United States.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25.—Skirmishes continue between the Russians and the Chinese at various points along the Manchurian railway. The Amur Gazette, which is published at Blagovestchensk, capital of the Amur government, asserts that the Chinese bank of the Amur river will be offered free to Russian settlers. It is reported that the construction of a railway between Blagovestchensk and Tsitsikar has been decided upon.

Woolley In Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—With a welcome which was hearty if not uproariously demonstrative, John G. Woolley, the presidential candidate of the Prohibition party, made speeches in many places in eastern Massachusetts yesterday, concluding his day's work at a rally held in Berkeley temple, in this city. In each of his several speeches he laid stress upon the subserviency of the Christian voter to the rum power.

Miser Dies In Wretched Home.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Henrietta Schmidt, a miser, was found dead in her wretched home here. The body was discovered by the police and coroner, who forced an entrance to the house. Several bags containing money were found concealed about the woman's body. She owned valuable real estate and had money in bank.

President Salles' Mysterious Visit.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Buenos Ayres correspondent of The Times says: "Dr. Campos Salles, president of Brazil, has arrived here. The object of his visit is a mystery, but it is supposed to be designed to check the aggressive policy of Chile toward other South American states."

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are clogged and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

CUBA'S CONVENTION.

The Constitutional Gathering Causes Little Interest.

REVOLUTIONARY PARTY MAY CONTROL

Real Fight of the Convention Will Be Over Seating of the Delegates. Modern Homes For Workingmen In Havana.

HAVANA, Oct. 25.—It is remarkable how little public interest is displayed in the forthcoming constitutional convention. Less than two weeks will intervene between this and the opening, but scarcely a newspaper discusses the issues involved or offers any sort of a suggestion as to the constitution that should be adopted. The partisan journals are attacking each other savagely, however, on the qualifications of delegates, and there are numerous indications that the opening days of the convention will witness plenty of mud slinging.

The real fight will come on the seating of delegates. It is said that the Nationalists will claim 16 out of 31 members of the convention, but the Republican and Democratic combination is confident of the majority.

Probably party lines as drawn in the election will not figure in the convention after it is organized. The likelihood is that the revolutionary element will then array itself under the leadership of the Havana Nationalists and General Maximo Gomez, thus controlling the convention. This element is in closer touch than any other with the government of intervention, and therefore it is possible that some result will be attained.

The ayuntamiento has approved a project involving the expenditure of $300,000 for the erection of modern homes for workingmen in the outskirts of Havana. Rents here are so exorbitant and the working classes are so densely crowded in unhealthful quarters that it is generally admitted that some serious movement must soon be made to better residential conditions.

Delegates Leave Santiago.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Oct. 25.—The departure of the provincial delegates to participate in the proceedings of the forthcoming constitutional convention at Havana caused an immense demonstration yesterday afternoon. It is estimated that they were escorted to the wharf by upward of 12,000 persons, of whom nine-tenths were colored people. The political parties are drawing the color line very closely, and this is causing bitter feeling between the races. The whites predict that the convention will last a year, alleging that most of the delegates will prefer $300 a month to the establishment of a Cuban republic. All the local papers dramatically exhort the delegates to fulfill their duty and quickly expel the Americans from the island.

Sampson Gave Consent.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—Rear Admiral Sampson was seen at the Charlestown navy yard and in reply to questions said that he had received an invitation to attend the Alabama State fair at Birmingham, but that it was impossible for him to accept. He said he had put himself in the hands of Dr. Beyer of the Wabash and felt that his health would suffer greatly from a trip to Birmingham. He said he was gaining steadily. The rear admiral said regarding Lieutenant Hobson's speech in which he praised the bravery and skill of Admiral Sampson and said he was dying of a broken heart: "When Hobson was here, he asked me if he might say something to the people of his section about me. I said he might. I knew he would not say anything improper. Hobson is a fine fellow who performed his duty well and who nearly lost his life in doing so. He always served me faithfully, and I take an interest in him."

Do Not Want to Be Sold.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, Oct. 25.—Intense adverse feeling has been excited here by the renewal of the report that Denmark intends to sell the Danish Antilles to the United States. A meeting of the colonial council has been convoked at St. Croix for the purpose of making a formal protest. The newspapers discuss the question, declaring in bold type "we do not wish to be sold." There is no desire, much less enthusiasm, among the population to belong to the United States.

Carter Case Postponed.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 25.—The hearing of the habeas corpus case of Oberlin M. Carter, ex-captain of engineers, against Warden McClaughrey of the federal prison, through which Carter hopes to gain his freedom, has been postponed until Nov. 9. The postponement is occasioned, it is reported, by the ex-captain's desire not to face a curious crowd in court, and to avoid this additional time is required to change the necessary papers and writ.

Pension For Railway Employees.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at a meeting yesterday determined to establish a pension fund for the benefit of the employees of the lines west of Pittsburg. This project, which will go into effect Jan. 1, is identical with the pension system now in operation on Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburg and will include from 12,000 to 15,000 employees.

Vanderbilt Employees Drowned.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 25.—G. G. Graham, Robert Earwood and Richard Russell, employees on George W. Vanderbilt's Biltmore estate, were drowned in French Broad river, nine miles south of Asheville. They were going to their work, picking pine cones, and attempted to cross the river, which was much swollen from recent rains. Their boat was overturned.

Dedicated by Emperor William.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria yesterday dedicated, with elaborate ceremony, the Suspension railway, which runs along the river Wipper and connects Elberfeld and Barmen, a high ingenious structure. The kaiser made the initial ride over the line. Subsequently his majesty attended the dedication of a hall of fame in Barmen.

Today and tomorrow Col. Bryan is devoting his campaign work to New Jersey. Every minute of the time he will spend in this State will be utilized in addressing great crowds that will gather at various points in many different counties which his "swing around the circle" will touch. Mr. Bryan is undoubtedly the most wonderful political campaigner that this country has ever seen, considered from a standpoint of his capacity to stand without perceptible injury to his physique the wear and strain incidental to the efforts he is putting forth that he may win a victory for the highest office in the gift of the people.

With Mr. Cleveland on the political fence, so to speak, interest attaches to the attitude of members of his former Cabinets. Some of them have come out strongly for McKinley. Among these are John G. Carlisle, Charles F. Fairchild, Don M. Dickinson and J. Sterling Morton. William C. Whitney and Daniel S. Lamont, it is understood, will vote for McKinley. On the other hand, Richard Olney is outspoken in favor of Bryan, and Hilary A. Herbert, W. S. Bissell and Hoke Smith are also supporting the Democratic ticket.

The Essex County Democrat convention last night nominated James T. Belden, of East Orange, for Register and Andrew G. Vogt for County Supervisor. The Assembly nominees are Dr. Thomas Dunn English, Frank Swartzwaelder, John Mooney, William A. Kelly, Cornelius A. Reilly, John Wieder, Charles A. Wurth, Fred E. Schaan, Edward E. Mullen, Frank N. Unanget and Harry F. Backus.

Figures of the total school population in the United are obtainable now only up to July 1, 1899. The United States Commissioner of Education shows in his annual report, just made, that the total number of children in all public schools, public and private, on that date, was 16,738,362, of which 15,138,715 were enrolled in the public schools.

The renomination of Lemuel E. Miller by the Democrats of Cape May completes the list of Senatorial nominations by the two political parties in the eight counties which are to elect State Senators next month. The candidate represented Cape May in the Senate in 1892 94.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Now that there is so much talk of the ratio of gold and silver and the demand of Col. Bryan and his Democratic friends for sixteen to one, one of the old paper notes of the monetary system of the State of Virginia, dated 1781, is of interest to the student of the financial question. One of these notes, included in the collection owned by Ernest R. Ackerman, of West Eighth street, is quite a curiosity. It is for $1,000 and states on its face that "that this bill of One Thousand Dollars shall be exchanged and redeemed in Spanish Milled Dollars, or the value thereof in gold or silver, at the rate of One for Forty, at the Treasury of Virginia."

The plea of a child for more animal stories has induced Rudyard Kipling to add to his series of funny "Just So" tales which have appeared in The Ladies' Home Journal. After the famous author had published the last of that series there was a flood of letters to the Journal asking for more. One among these was addressed to Mr. Kipling personally, and was forwarded to him in England. It proved to be a letter from a child who pleaded with the author to "give us some more stories about animals; we enjoyed your others very much. There is not much written that we little folks can enjoy, so please dear Mr. Kipling, write something about my pussy." The earnestness and sincerity of the child appealed very strongly to Mr. Kipling, who is exceedingly fond of little folks, and he writes to the Journal saying that he is going to grant that child's request even if he has to disappoint all his other friends.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—James Smith, of Elmwood place, has about completed the improvements on the property occupied by him.

NEW CHINA CLOSETS in solid oak, beautiful golden finish, four shelves and round corners, in plain oak, 12.98, instead of 14.50. In quartered oak, 14.98 instead of 16.00.

BROOKLYN OIL HEATERS. Smokeless and odorless, the oil tank is twice as large and twice as durable as any other make and the smokeless attachment will prevent wick from being turned up too high, they will heat a room 20 feet square in cold weather. They are the best stoves that we know of. We have them at 2.98, 3.98, 4.98 and 5.98.

THE UNIVERSAL CHOPPERS.

Now being demonstrated in our basement by Mrs. Ellis. Over a half gross of them sold during the past few days. Will chop a pound of meat in two minutes. Will chop all kinds of fruits and vegetables into clean uniform pieces—fine or coarse, without mashing. In fact does away with the chopping knife and bowl entirely and is so simple in construction that a child can use it. Come in and see it operated.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Oct. 25.—The fifty-first annual meeting of the Middlesex Bible Society was held in the Presbyterian church yesterday. The day's programme was commenced at 10 o'clock with a sermon by Rev. P.T. Pockman, of New Brunswick. Only two other speakers were heard during the day. They were Rev. T. A. DeMaris, of Cranbury, who gave an address on the "Uniqueness of the Bible, and one by Rev. W. I. Haven D. D., secretary of the American Bible Society. His subject was, "The American Bible Society." The treasurer's report was given and showed the society to be in a flourishing condition. The election of officers for the ensuing year was held and resulted as follows: President, Rev. J. M. McNulty, of Woodbridge; first vice-president, Rev. J. G. Mason, of Metuchen; second vice, Hon. J. D. Buckalew, of New Brunswick; third vice, Rev. S. K. Doolittle, of Dunellen; secretary, Thomas S. Long, Dayton; treasurer, Lafford Totten, Esq., New Brunswick. The following executive committee was appointed: Rev. P. T. Pockman, chairman, Revs. M. H. Hutton, W. R. Wedderspoon, Ph.D., and John S. Voorhees, Esq. Refreshments were served at noon, to the members by the Ladies Aid Society, of the church.

Miss Edna Smith entertained about fifteen of her friends at a lawn party yesterday afternoon in honor of her fourteenth birthday. A few hours were spent in playing games after which refreshments were served.

There were 136 tickets for the Newark excursion sold at the depot yesterday which is slightly below the number sold on previous occasions.

A small wreck occurred near the Greenbrook tanks yesterday in which three coal cars were smashed. The track was cleared in a short time.

The date for the oyster supper in the Presbyterian church has been set for October 30th. It will commence promptly at 6 o'clock.

Rev. Father Bogard, of Bound Brook, was in the borough yesterday for the purpose of securing a census of the parish.

Rev. W. C. Stinson, of New York, has returned after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sampson.

Dr. Brakeley attended the funeral services of Peter Huff at Somerville, yesterday.

W. H. Taylor has been suffering from a slight illness for the past two days.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 25—The wedding of Miss Edna Sinclair Bunting to John E. Grey, of Trenton, took place at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bunting, of Cream Ridge Farm, this afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. T. Darwood, of the Stelton Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of guests. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was tendered the young couple, after which they left for Trenton, where the groom is engaged in business. Mr. and Mrs. Grey received a large number of handsome presents, which will assist them in beginning housekeeping.

It has now been definitely settled that the mass meetings of both the Democrats and Republicans will not be postponed. The Democrats will hold theirs in Friendship Hall tomorrow evening, a telegram from the chairman of the executive committee stating that in order to have speakers it must be held on that night. The Republicans will give their demonstration Saturday evening and will have for speakers Hon. William S. Youngman, of Boston, and Hon. Edward N. Hicks, of New Brunswick. The candidates for county offices will also be present.

All day long yesterday the banks of the pond was lined with men and boys in search of fish which had become stranded by the opening of the sluice gates. Although a number of large catches were made the fish are not nearly as plentiful as they were a few years ago when the pond was emptied.

Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Livermore arrived in town from Lebanon, Conn., yesterday. Mr. Livermore will preach his first sermon next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Clark will celebrate their tin wedding anniversary tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnes, of Rahway, spent yesterday with Mrs. Evelyn Calhoun.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Oct. 25—A very quiet but pretty home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cory Johnson, 1320 Webster avenue, New York, Monday evening at 6 o'clock, when their daughter, Mary Francis, became the bride of Horace G. Young, of Fanwood. The event was witnessed by the immediate families of the young people only, and while their engagement has been no secret there are many of their friends who did not know of the event until the announcement cards arrived. Rev. O. C. Woodruff, formerly pastor of the Methodist church, but now pastor of the Methodist church at Little Falls, officiated. They are enjoying a honeymoon trip to Bermuda and upon their return will make their home with the bride's parents.

The case in tort of Miller against Bondy in Judge Clark's court, which was tried several months ago and damages given the plaintiff, has never been settled owing to the fact that the defendant, Dr. Bondy, who has had a number of engagements with the law in different sections of the State, being so slippery that he has been enabled to keep out of the way. Judge Clark has now issued execution to take the body of said Bondy; so a warrant has been issued and as soon as the Doctor can be located he will be made to pay the judgment or serve time.

The Democratic banner was swung to the breeze on Park avenue yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. No exercises were held at the raising, but in the evening W. F. Scanlon, of Wilmington, Del., made an address upon the issues of the party at an outdoor meeting which was held on the green about the Liberty Pole.

The Wednesday Evening Literary Society enjoyed an interesting reading from one of Shakespeare's works at their meeting last evening.

John Robinson, E. L. Hand and Frank R. Allen are attending the county convention being held at Elizabeth this afternoon.

The Junior football eleven will meet the Westfield eleven on the latter's grounds in Westfield tomorrow afternoon.

The woods along the mountains are beginning to put on their full autumnal dress and the effect is very pretty.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Caters to Women's Stylish Fancies.

Mme. E. Cottrelly, recently of New Rochelle, N. Y., has just opened dressmaking and millinery parlors in the Stillman building, of West Front street. She brings excellent recommendations and will do high class work in all its branches at moderate prices. Tailored work will be a specialty. She is the maker and patentee of the Cottrelly "M. B. C." walking and bicycle skirts.

Son of a Pugilist.

Alfred Mace, the evangelist, who will lecture and preach the Gospel the next two weeks in Plainfield, is a son of the noted prizefighter, "Jem" Mace. He is an earnest and finished speaker. His object is simply the welfare of others, as he neither receives salary nor takes collection at his meetings.

The Misses DeMott, of Somerset street have been entertaining company from Bound Brook.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The story of "Friend Fritz," which will be seen at Music Hall tonight is as follows: Fritz Kobus, landed proprietor of Alsace, is a bachelor. Suzel (Miss Manola), the little daughter of his head farmer, is a quaint, meek, sweet little maiden. David Sichel, rabbi of Clairafontaine, is, by way of avocation, an incorrigible matchmaker. In the first act Suzel brings butter and eggs, for duty's sake, and brookside violets for shy friendship's sake, to her master's house. In the second act Fritz Kobus goes to Suzel's farm for a change of air, and learns change of heart; in the third act we are shown Fritz in the last stages of futile revolt against what he still calls the folly of love, brought to his senses by the shewd management of the kind old rabbi, and yielding, right willingly at the last, to the witchery as old as Eden. The plays move straightforwardly, simply, quaintly; a part of its story is told in song, Julian Edwards having written for it a half score of lyrics, duets and choruses.

The public do not easily size up an attraction visiting their city for the first time. The printing is no criterion, for frequently the poorest shows have the finest of paper. "A Romance of Coon Hollow," which is announced to appear at Music Hall Saturday afternoon and night, is recognized as a standard comedy, having been produced at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York, in September, 1894, and been a strong road success for over six years. The comedy is styled by the New York Herald "a Southern Old Homestead," and is a fascinating story on the lines of "Blue Jeans" and "In Old Kentucky." It is put on with magnificent special scenery, no house scenery whatever being used, and there are novel electrical effects. The characters are skillfully drawn and are interpreted by a company which receives praise all along the line. Reserved seats for the matinee are now on sale at the box office.

Of Mlle. Charmon, who plays the role of "Worldly Widow" in the new musical farce, "A Spring Chicken," which is announced for next Tuesday night at Music Hall, it is said: "You may have to buy a new hat or bonnet or so after your wife or sweetheart has seen Charmon's wardrobe, but don't you care. Her imitations of 'Anna Held' are alone worth the price of a couple of hats, Charmon has not been seen outside of New York, where she was the principal feature for four weeks on the roof gardens. She has not yet fully mastered the English language, and speaks with a delightful Parisian accent."

What's Your Face Worth?

Sometimes a fortune, but never, if you have a sallow complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin—all signs of Liver Trouble. But Dr. King's New Life Pills give Clear Skin, Rosy Cheeks, Rich Complexion. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Walked off the Bridge.

Daniel Munday, of Elizabeth, had a very narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday night at the street railway bridge over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks in Cranford. He was standing on the rear platform of a car, and as the car mounted the grade on the trestle, the trolley left the wire. The car stopped and the conductor leaned through the platform window to put it back. It took some moments to readjust it, and Munday, thinking to watch the operation and not knowing that the car was on the bridge, deliberately walked off the platform into the air. He dropped about twelve feet and struck the ground squarely on his heels. He walked back to the car and did not seem to be injured at all.

Banker Routs a Robber.

J. R. Garrison, Cashier of the bank of Thornville, Ohio, had been robbed of health by a serious lung trouble until he tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Then he wrote: "It is the best medicine I ever used for a severe cold or a bad case of lung trouble. I always keep a bottle on hand." Don't suffer with Coughs, Colds, or any Throat, Chest or Lung trouble when you can be cured so easily. Only 50c and 1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Joseph Sattele, of East Sixth street, will entertain a few of his friends at his home Saturday evening. An informal musical programme will be rendered.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

who are ruptured cannot locate the seat of the trouble unless taught by someone skilled in the business. They think they can—are positive they can—are willing to argue they can—yet five minutes explanation convinces them for all time they were mistaken. The chances are that all you have guessed about this matter is wrong.
A scientific truss should never touch the pubic bone, never press the spermatic cord or any other delicate parts, should never have under-straps, should always be easy on the back and should hold the rupture at the internal ring so as not to allow any part of it to lodge in the inguinal canal.
Can you locate the internal ring? If not you are guessing wrong for that is the "A.B.C" to start from.

For three years and a half I suffered horribly with dyspepsia; everything I ate disagreed with me. I gave up all rich foods and consulted several physicians, but still I did not get any better, was badly constipated, had frequent headaches and dizzy turns. In February last I began taking Ripans Tabules and felt better almost immediately. I have taken three Tabules a day ever since, and would not know what to do without them.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

WINTER STYLES.

Different Variations of the Fashionable Skirt.

There is a tendency toward the Louis Seize styles in some of the new models. The skirt is plaited, the bodice pointed, there is a fichu drapery around the shoulders, and frills of lace or mousseline de soie ornament the sleeves at the elbow.

The short skirt has totally dropped from receptions and all social occasions, and the demitrain, which has been universal since this law came into action, is now to be largely replaced by the full train, long and ample. The front is as long as it can be without the wearer walking upon it.

Linings making one with the skirt will be still much worn during the winter for costumes for general service and walking, as the separate lining is inconvenient in many respects for such gowns. Plain tailor made walking skirts are often totally without a lining, being made of double faced golf cloth, which is very thick and warm. A flannel shirt waist is the accompanying bodice.

CLOTH BOLERO.

Today's illustration shows a bolero of beige cloth. It is short, closed and forms a slight point in front. The high collar turns over, and there are two little pelerines, closed, with stitched tabs and gold buttons. The sleeves are large at the base and slashed on the outside, the opening being crossed by stitched tabs, and inside the loose sleeves are full undersleeves of cream surah, with plaited cuffs. The high corselet belt is of cream surah. All the edges of the bolero are bordered with stitched cloth straps. The fronts are closed with stitched tabs, and at each side are stitched imitation pocket flaps.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

STYLES AND COLORS.

Delicate Tints Continue to Enjoy High Favor.

Straight sacks are seen in great variety and are worn for walking, driving and traveling. The simplest form is perfectly plain, slightly curved at the side seams and finished with stitching. The more elaborate ones are laid in plaits, and in one model these plaits are mounted on a yoke which forms a sort of short bolero. The plaits are hollow and are stitched flat except toward the foot, where they are left free to flare. The collar and sleeves are also plaited, and the sleeve is wide at the wrist.

TEA GOWN.

The pastel tints worn during the summer have merged into Louis Seize shades, which are franker and fresher, but still of a soft and vague character. There is also a new line of rich broche silks, having a plain or glace black ground upon which appears a Louis Quatorze or Louis Quinze design in one color—ruby, emerald green, amethyst, old rose or peacock blue.

The illustration pictures a tea gown of nile green voile and mousseline de soie. It is loose, with a long train, and the back portion is of voile. Lace shoulder caps are intwined in coquilles down each side of the front, and the full front itself is of nile green mousseline de soie, heavily embroidered with gold at the foot. The empire belt and the bands around the shoulders are of gold embroidery on white satin. The long, tight sleeves are of voile and extend over the hand.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE BOSSCHIETER MURDER.

Further Facts Regarding Shocking Crime In Paterson, N. J.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 25.—Chief of Police Graul of this city has learned where the "knockout drops" given to Jennie Bosschieter were purchased and has found a drug clerk who, it is said, will testify to a purchase of chloral made by McAlister. Saal, the saloon keeper in whose place the drops were administered, yesterday told a detailed story of the rounds of drinks had by the party before they took Jennie on the fatal ride. He remembers that the first call for drinks was two glasses of beer and one of absinth. It was in the latter that the first dose of the drug was administered, according to the police. When this round of drinks was served, the party was composed of the girl, McAlister and Campbell. The next round was two glasses of beer and one of milk and selters. Into the latter more of the drug is alleged to have been placed. Then, after Kerr and Death had joined the party, there was a quart of champagne divided between the five, and into this, it is alleged, McAlister poured a double dose of the drug because the first two doses had failed to take effect and the girl was not yet in condition for him and the others to work their will.

Schulthorpe, the hackman, has made two separate confessions or revelations. One was to the police and the other before witnesses other than the police and was made before and sworn to by him before Recorder Senior. They are said to agree in minute details as well as the main facts. He has, however, added to them at intervals when some incident has come to his mind. The chief says he does not need to rely on the hackman for conviction. He says the hackman's story will of course form the basis of the case, but it will be corroborated. The purchase of the chloral will be proved. The happenings in the saloon before Schulthorpe became involved in the affair and many other things are to be proved by independent witnesses. Some of these have not yet been mentioned in the case. One is said to be a man who passed the carriage while the four prisoners were trying to revive the girl beside the river. Dr. Townsend, too, will supply important links, and there are others. The police have, it is said, the names of several persons who saw the girl being assisted from the saloon into the carriage.

There has been some question as to the degree of crime that can be charged against the prisoners. The law, however, is explicit. Under the provision of 1898 just such an occurrence as the death of the girl is provided for. The doing of an act which is of itself criminal, in this case the administration of the drug, for a criminal purpose, if it results fatally, is made punishable by death.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The annual report of the judge advocate general of the army was made public.

Daniel F. Dobie, warden of Clinton prison at Dannemora, died of heart disease.

C. M. Cotterman has been appointed director general of posts in the Philippines.

An extraordinary scarcity of money was reported to threaten a financial crisis in Sweden.

The Chicago labor troubles, as far as they affect the construction of the new postoffice building, have been settled.

Naval Movements.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The navy department has ordered the tugs Piscataqua and Wompatuck to be put in commission for service in Chinese waters. The torpedo boats Dupont, Porter, Cushing, Ericsson, Foote, Rodgers and Winslow are to be fitted out for the winter cruise of the north Atlantic squadron. The Dahlgren has been placed out of commission at Portsmouth, N. H. Two weeks' work has been authorized by the department upon the Frolic, which is to go to the China station instead of the Dorothea. Rear Admiral Schley, on his flagship Chicago, will proceed to Montevideo about Nov. 1.

Police Guard a Funeral.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 25.—Six police officers were on duty at the Universalist church during the service over the body of the late Charles Place, the well known box manufacturer. Two women, each claiming to be the wife of the deceased, had taken steps to secure possession of Mr. Place's body, and the police were put on guard to prevent a possible disturbance in the church edifice. A crowd attended the service, but no trouble of any kind arose. Both women involved in the case were present with their children, the married daughter of one and the three young children of the other.

Indians Boycott a School.

DULUTH, Oct. 25.—The government has built a $50,000 schoolhouse for the Nett Lake Indians, but the latter refuse to allow their children to attend it because it was not built on their reservation. Major S. W. Campbell, the agent in charge of the Nett Lakers, returned from a visit to the band, whom he tried to induce to withdraw their boycott, but without success. There is no law by which the Indians can be compelled to send their children to a school off the reservation, and the officials are nonplused.

Negro Mother's Terrible Crime.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 25.—A negro woman named Carry Caldwell, who lived in the northern part of Mecklenburg county, N. C., killed her three children and committed suicide. The woman cut each of the children's throats with a razor and then drew the same instrument across her own throat, from the effects of which she died some hours later.

Two Thousand Boxers Killed.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Shanghai says that the troops of Yuan Shi Kai, governor of Shangtung, have again defeated the Boxers on the border of the province of Chili, killing 2,000 of them.

Why It Succeeds.

Because It's For One Thing Only and Plainfield is Learning This.

Nothing can be good for everything.
Doing one thing well brings success.
Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.
They're for sick kidneys.
They cure backache, every kidney ill.
Here is Plainfield evidence to prove it.

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit avenue, says: "I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the U.S.

DAWSON IS CHANGED

A Wonderful Transformation Effected In Two Years.

YUKON GOLD OUTPUT INCREASING.

Consul McCook Says the Once Dirty Mining Town Has Now the Air of a Thriving Commercial Center.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—An interesting report upon the conditions in Dawson City and the Yukon district of Alaska has been furnished the state department by United States Consul McCook.

"Dawson today," he says, "presents a marked contrast to the Dawson of 1898. Then no one, except possibly the judges on the bench, wore a white shirt. The town was thronged with miners, pack on back, prospecting for gold. The streets were veritable mudholes. Now people dress much as they do in the cities of the United States, a man with a pack on his back is an unusual sight, and one can walk the town over with polished shoes and not have them soiled."

Dawson City does not appear like a mining town, states Consul McCook, but rather a thriving commercial center. It is crowded just now, for more come in than go out. Electric railways are promised by 1901, and public schools have been opened and are well attended.

The government at Ottawa, it is reported, will offer for sale at public auction in Dawson every claim that has reverted to it by lapse or otherwise, and 30 days after the time of sale all claims not sold will be declared open for location.

The output of gold has been increasing, says the consul, in spite of the fact that the average values of the gravels worked have been steadily declining, the richest mines having been worked first. But meanwhile the cost of working has decreased and enables properties to be profitably worked now which would not have yielded gains two years ago. There should be a continued output of from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 worth of gold annually for many years to come, according to Consul McCook, if the expenses of working are further reduced.

Valuable placer gold claims are reported to have been located in the Stewart river mining district, about 100 miles from Dawson, and a stampede has followed to the scene of the finds.

Root Speaks In Canton.

CANTON, O., Oct. 25.—Secretary Root's meeting here last night was an impromptu affair. It was conceived, arranged and under way in a period of a little more than three hours. The secretary and Mrs. Root are here for a social visit with President and Mrs. McKinley at their Canton home. The recent illness and present condition of the secretary have prevented him from taking an active speaking part in the campaign, but he came west expecting to deliver one address and that in the old McKinley district. The meeting was announced for Youngstown this evening. As a mark of respect to the late Secretary Sherman all political meetings arranged for Ohio Thursday and Thursday night were called off, including the one at Youngstown.

Consul Stowe's Troubles.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The state department is in receipt of a dispatch, dated Sept. 26, from Mr. Stowe, consul general of this government at Cape Town, in which he refers to the recent arrival there of American citizens shipped on board of British transports in charge of mules and horses from New Orleans. Mr. Stowe remarks that through his instructions to the consular agents at Port Elizabeth, East London and Durban many of these citizens who have been sent to Cape Town have been reshipped to the United States, but he adds: "Ships still continue to arrive, and I am still burdened with this extra duty. All or nearly all need money, which I am unable to give."

Consul Wants Schreiber's Picture.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Charles H. Schmidt, who represents the German consulate in Elizabeth, N. J., and vicinity, has received a letter which may have some bearing upon the case of Schreiber, the Elizabethport bank defaulter. The letter is from the American consul in the southern provinces in Germany, a Mr. Clay, and while brief is to the point. It asks that a picture of William Schreiber be sent him at once. There is no hint in the letter that Schreiber has been seen or caught in Germany, but the request looks as if something had been seen or heard of Schreiber in that section of Germany. The photograph has been forwarded by Mr. Schmidt.

FIFTEEN YEARS WEDDED

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE VANDERHOEF HAD A PLEASANT CELEBRATION.

Friends and Relatives Joined in Making The Event a Happy One—Those Who Were Present.

Fifteen years of happy wedded life has been the fortune of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Vanderhoef, of 915 West Front street. This event was pleasantly celebrated last evening at their home, when a number of relatives and friends assembled and joined in making it a memorial one to the celebrants. The home was decorated in a patriotic manner.

A pleasing programme of music was rendered during the evening by Chas. H. Lyons on the piano and Louis Deckenback on the violin. They also furnished music for dancing. At a late hour supper was served, after which the guests departed.

The bride and groom were married fifteen years ago yesterday at Orange by Rev. John Scarlet, an intimate friend of the family, who formerly preached in the M. E. church at Somerville. They lived about a year at Orange, after which they took up their residence in Newark, where they remained for eight years. Six years ago next month they came to Plainfield. Mr. Vanderhoef is the manager for the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company on West Front street. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderhoef received a handsome collection of valuable and useful presents.

Those present at the celebration included the following.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deckenback, Mrs. John Deckenback, Charles H. Lyons, Fred Jordan, Edward Lindsley, Miss Ella Lindsley, Miss Anna Lindsley, of Orange: Mrs. John Lindsley, of Washington, D.C.; Miss Lizzie Gulick and Peter VanDuyne, of Bound Brook; Mr. and Mrs Vincent L. Frazee, Miss Addie Weaver, P. V. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Love, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Loughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirch, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Crawford, Miss Mary VanEps, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard VanCamp and son, Miss Mabel Thompson, Miss Addie Codington, Mrs. Frank Reardon, Miss Nettie Young, Miss Ethel Laing, Miss Grace McKee, Miss Juliet Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, Mrs. W. H. Lyons, Mrs. Bertha Richards, Alvah Carey, Edward Ross, Walter Emmons, Edward Laing and P. V. Smith, of Plainfield.

EXCELLENT MAPS OF NEW JERSEY.

State Geologist is Issuing a Series Well Nigh Perfect.

John C. Smock, State Geologist, has just issued a series of topographical maps of New Jersey, based on recent surveys.

There are probably the best maps of New Jersey extant. One includes the vicinity of Trenton, from Bordentown to New Brunswick.

There rre twenty of the maps in all. Those of Elizabeth and Plainfield are now ready.

The sheets of each map are 26x34 inches, and the scale is 2,000 feet to an inch.

They are sold at the nominal cost of 25 cents per sheet, to simply cover the cost of printing and postage.

Wedding Invitations Out.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Emma Edith Schoonmaker to Clifford Whiting McGee, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs Henry A. McGee, of Orchard avenue, Washington Park, to take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 14th, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Lothrop Schoonmaker, 963 Central avenue. Both young people are well known in this city, where they have been prominent in society.

ONE DAY FOR HORSE THIEF.

Prisoner Pleaded, But His Conviction Would Have Been Doubtful—Other Sentences.

At a brief session of the Orphans' Court and Court of Special Sessions yesterday, presided over by Judge Vail, two persons were araigned.

Wm. Robinson, of Martins Creek, Pa., arrested in June last on a charge of horse stealing, preferred by Liveryman Keenan, of Elizabeth, retracted his former plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult. He was sentenced to one day in jail.

Robinson, a year ago, called at Keenan's stable and hired a rig for the alleged purpose of delivering goods. He drove to Newark, where it has since been learned he left the horse in stable, expecting, as he claimed, that it would be called for.

The authorities say that while they are positive that Robinson is no new hand in the line of horse stealing, yet in the present instance had he stood trial it would have been impossible to have secured a conviction.

The other person arraigned was Howard Lowrie, a colored boy from this city, arrested on suspicion of being one of the boys who stole a tray of watches from the store of Woodhull & Martin.

Lowrie, who has all along protested his innocence, was discharged under a suspension of sentence.

Appointed a Gamekeeper.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, Oct. 25th—The Cranford Fish and Game Protective Association has appointed Charles Squires gamekeeper, at a stated salary, to patrol the grounds of the association and arrest all persons who trespass on the posted lands. Squires is soon to be made a State deputy game warden, and the association intends to enforce the game laws and keep hunters from coming into the township and vicinity and shooting the game which has been stocked upon the lands and farms belonging to the association. Keeper Squires was made a member of the association, as was also J. B. Marsten, which completes the list of members, limited to twenty-five.

Accused of Libel.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Oct. 25.—W. H. Morse, editor and propritor of the Westfield Republican, was arrested today by Constable J. M. C. Marsh on a charge of alleged criminal libel preferred by Mrs. Caroline Donaldson. He was taken before Justice E. R. Colline, who held him in $350 bail to appear before the Grand Jury. Following is the statement on which Mrs. Donaldson bases her charge: "John Donaldson returned home Saturday night with a supply of whiskey in his head and finding his wife and a certain man too happy to suit him, proceeded to make Jerusalem road a sulphurious place."

Music Hall Matinees.

For the special accommodation of many ladies, Manager Maze Edwards will hereafter reserve certain seats in the orchestra and orchestra circle for all matinee performances. General admission to the matinees will be 25 cents for adults; 10 cents for children under twelve, and reserved seats 50 cents each, which can be secured in advance.

Appointed Appraisers.

J. A. Smith, David C. Smalley and J. P. Homan, who were appointed to appraise the goods levied upon at the city mills formerly conducted by Mr. Snyder, met this morning and performed their duties. The appraisement was made by P. M. French to whom money is due for rent.

Filled to the Limit.

Muhlenberg Hospital is still filled to the limit with patients and the nurses are kept constantly busy attending them. The need of more room and greater facilities, together with more help, is growing steadily and some action will have to be taken soon.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK

TWENTIETH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF UNION COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

Being Held in Trinity Reformed Church Today—Entertainment by the Women of the Church.

The twentieth annual convention of the Union County Sunday-school Association convened this morning in Trinity Reformed church, and will continue throughout the day and evening. Up to the noon hour there were about 200 delegates present, but many more are expected this afternoon. The session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., pastor of the church, and Rev. George Buckle, of Elizabeth, president of the association.

The first business was the presentation of the report of the recording secretary, Rev. W. B. Hamilton, of Elizabeth. This was followed with the "Home Department Round Table," by Rev. Dr. A. E. Main, who is the county secretary. This is comparatively a new department, but it has shown remarkable growth. The report of the county secretary and treasurer, George H Krause, of Cranford, showed that the association is ahead in many respects, but in many financial ways it is behind. All but $110 of the $400 pledged to State work has been paid. He reported a balance of $112 in the treasury, out of which the expenses for today's convention have to be met.

Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, of Trenton, who is State secretary, was the next speaker and he told of the State work being done by the various departments in the twenty-one counties. It is proposed to organize a normal class department at the State conference to be held at New Brunswick November 15th, when Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut will speak. He commended G. E. Hall, of the executive committee, and Dr. Main, of the home department, for their excellent work.

After an offering was received for the State and county work the morning session closed with devotional exercises. The delegates then partook of dinner served in the Sunday-school room.

Between 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock three conferences were held in the church. One for pastors and superintendents was led by H. H. Dawson, of Newark, and a second one for teachers and Bible students was led by Rev. H. A. Bomberger, of Philadelphia. The third conference was for primary and junior teachers, and was led by Miss Edith Cairns, of this city.

Mrs. H. W. Marshall, of Trinity church, is in charge of the arrangements for serving dinner and supper to the delegates, and she was assisted by women from various churches. A table for the ministers was in charge of Mrs. C Schenck Mrs. A. J. Moore, Miss Gertrude Tier, Miss Victoria Martin, Miss Grace Smith and Miss Grace Rowland, of Trinity church. Another table was presided over by members from the same church. They were the Misses Grace and Ollie Wikoff, Berg, Annie Searing, Josephine Fritz, Gertrude Tier and Mrs. W.C. Startup. The other churches are represented as follows:

Crescent Avenue—The Misses Helen Elizabeth and Florence Cahoone; First Baptist—Mrs. J. A. Powlison, Mrs. George F. Brown, Mrs. Frank Jones; Park Avenue Baptist—Mrs. D. M. Runyon, Miss Henrietta Cuming, Miss Giles; Congregational—Mrs. J. A. Robinson, Miss Winckler, Miss LaBoyteaux; First M. E.—Mrs. S. H. Tugwell, Mrs. Burton Jones, Mrs. I. M. Courser; First Presbyterian—Mrs. Fred Bird, Mrs. S. B. Kelly; Seventh-Day Baptist — Mrs. John Mosher, Miss Bessie Randolph, Miss Myrtle Randolph, Miss Jessie Littell. Those who assisted in the kitchen include Mrs. J. M. Tier, Mrs. Schofield, Miss Annie Searing, Mrs. A. J. Moore and Mrs. Reighton.

This afternoon's session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. N. W. Cadwell, of Westfield, after which there was an address, "Decision Day," by Rev. H. A. Bomberger, of Philadelphia. This was followed with other addresses and business of importance. There will be a very interesting session this evening.

Ben Silverstein Takes a Wife.

Benjamin Silverstein, of this city, was married in New Irving Hall, New York city, last evening, to Miss Sadie Blankstein, of that place. The ceremony was performed by the rabbi of the bride's temple. It was followed by a dance, the grand march of which was led by Ben Pollak and Miss Sadie Leichtentritt, both of this city. Before returning to Plainfield, where they will make their future home, Mr. and Mrs. Silverstein left for a week's trip to various New England points.

"Doc" Doty Goes to Jail.

The trial of Howard Doty, alias "Doc" Doty, for his part in the "rough house" on Plainfield avenue last week, took place this morning before City Judge Runyon. Doty's story was somewhat plausible, but the Judge had already heard the story of the other participants. Doty was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to jail for farty days. He will go to jail.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Martha Goodman, of Manning avenue, who just recently underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital, passed through it successfully and is doing very well.

Elwood R. Hall, the prescription clerk at Leggett's drug store, yesterday morning received a telegram telling him of the serious illness of his father, and he started at once for the home of his parents at Middletown, N. Y.

MISS ARMSTRONG A BRIDE

Popular Young Woman Becomes the Wife of George Townley.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong, of East Fourth street, was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when their daughter, Miss Clara Armstrong, was united in marriage to George Townley, also of this city. Rev Floyd Appleton, curate of the Grace P. E church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of guests. Miss Carrie Tisch, of Newark, was bridesmaid and Harry VanDoren, also of Newark, was best man. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of castor colored cloth. The bridesmaid's dress was of the same material. The bridal party took their places to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Justina Smith. After the ceremony was performed a reception was held, the bride and groom leaving before it was over for a few days wedding trip to various points. Among the many beautiful presents received by the young couple was a handsome sofa presented by the bride's former fellow employes at Crosby & Hill's.

Married Twenty-three Years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conger, of Mountain avenue, celebrated their twenty-third wedding anniversary at their home last night. A large number of guests were present and a most enjoyable evening was passed in various ways. The house was decorated in a very tasty manner, the colors pink and green predominating. A handsome table bank of flowers with the years 1877 and 1900 on it attracted considerable attention. The celebrants were presented with a large number of handsome articles in honor of the occasion.

Didn't Tell the Truth.

On complaint of Mary Jane Hurling, a young colored woman, John Cuff was arrested and haled before City Judge Runyon this morning. He was charged with striking her on the face. It came out in the trial that she had deliberately falsified in her statement to the Judge. John Cuff was released and the Judge sentenced her to pay a fine of $5 or go to jail for twenty days.

Narrow Escape.

Garrett Eick, of East Third street, narrowly escaped being killed by the drill engine at the North Avenue station this morning. Mr. Eick is deaf and did not hear the engine approaching.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK WAS TALKED ABOUT.

Closing Sessions of the Union County Association Held Here Last Evening.

THE OFFICERS CHOSEN.

H. W. MARSHALL AT HEAD OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Interesting Addresses Made by Speakers on Topics of Special Importance to the Teachers in Attendance.

The afternoon session of the Union County S. S. Association was continued yesterday in the Trinity Reformed church, after the delegates had partaken of a most excellent dinner prepared by women from the various city churches. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. Newton W. Cadwell, of Westfield, after which a thoroughly interesting address was delivered by Rev. H. A. Bomberger, of Philadelphia, who spoke on "Decision Day." He urged the observance of this day in all Sunday-schools and told of the great good it has accomplished.

The next number on the programme was "Our State Association," and the subject was very ably treated by the State president, C. B. Parsons, of Red Bank. He reviewed tersely the condition of the State Association, showing it to be satisfactory and flourishing. He spoke of the many ways that the county associations can help the State association and he urged more work along these lines.

At this time there was a report of the nominating committee consisting of F. E. Smith, G. E. Hall, H. W. Marshall, G. L. VanEmburgh and J. W. Gavett. The committee presented the following names as officers for the coming year and they were all elected: President, Rev. J. W. Richardson, Plainfield; vice-presidents, Rev. C. S. Converse, Union; George H. Krause, Cranford; James T. Barnes, Rahway; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Rev. George A. Francis, Westfield; recording secretary, Rev. W. B. Hamilton, Elizabeth; member of state executive committee, George E. Hall, Plainfield; home department secretary, Rev. Arthur E. Main, Plainfield; primary superintendent, Miss Edith Cairns, Plainfield; executive committee, H. W. Marshall, Plainfield; Wellington Morehouse, Westfield; Elias D. Smith, Elizabeth; George G. Teller, Cranford; Fred Mershon, Rahway; Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, Elizabeth; W. D. Porter, Summit.

The election of officers was followed with an address on "Graded Schools," by Wm. Macgeorge, of Vineland. The speaker brought out some very interesting facts in treating his subject, and they proved to be helpful to many. Objections were made to some of his ideas and plans as not being suitable for all schools. Mr. Macgeorge urged a well-defined graduation and thought that would assist wonderfully in the general work of a Sunday-school.

After the above address, George H. Krause, who was the corresponding secretary and treasurer, announced the names of the various schools entitled to a certificate for having contributed on an average of 3 cents per capita. The certificates were presented to the following schools: M. E. Presbyterian and Central Presbyterian, Summit; Bethlehem, Clark Township; First M. E. and First Presbyterian, Cranford; Locust Grove, Congregational, First Baptist and New York Avenue Baptist, Westfield; St. Luke's Reformed P. E., Murray Hill; Milton, Grand Street Chapel and Second Presbyterian, Rahway; Central Baptist, St. James M. E., Second Presbyterian and First Presbyterian, Elizabeth; Scotch Plains Baptist, Willow Grove, Fanwood, and First Presbyterian, Roselle.

Mr. Krause suggested that inasmuch as the Epworth League of Union county was in session at Elizabeth, and could not attend the Sunday-school convention, that it would be a pleasant act to send a telegram of greeting. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., of Trinity Reformed church, and Rev. N. W. Cadwell, of Westfield, were appointed a committee to follow out the suggestion.

"Financial Facts," was the subject assigned G. E. Hall, of this city, he talked briefly. The principal facts are set forth in a little book issued by the committee, and Mr. Hall gave a synopsis of them. He stated that the association desire to raise $600 during the coming year for the work, and he hoped all would assist in the effort to give the State Association the

NEW REPUBLICAN DAILY FOR THIS CITY

The Daily Bulletin Will Soon Appear as a Full-fledged Local Newspaper.

H. J. TALFORD TO EDIT IT.

THE ENTERPRISE ENCOURAGED BY REPUBLICAN LEADERS.

The Paper Will be Issued From the Plant of the Monarch Printing Company—Frank L. Jones Associated With Mr. Talford.

This city is to have another newspaper—a one-cent daily. The promoter of the new enterprise is H. J. Talford, formerly a reporter for The Daily Press.

About two months ago Mr. Talford established the Daily Bulletin, a small sheet containing a synopsis of the local news, that was gratiutously distributed about the city, principally for the benefit of advertisers.

The Daily Press is reliably informed that the issuing of the new daily paper was made possible by the formation yesterday of the Bulletin Publishing Company and that a one-cent afternoon daily paper, to be known as the Daily Bulletin, will be launched at once.

Frank L. Jones, president of the Monarch Printing Company, is to be associated with Mr. Talford in the new venture. There is also a silent partner. The new daily will be issued from the office of the Monarch Printing Company on West Fifth street.

Some time ago The Daily Press predicted that it was a matter of but a few months before another Republican daily newspaper would be established in Plainfield. That prediction is about to be verified. It is no secret that for a long time the Republicans of this city have been thoroughly dissatisfied and utterly disgusted with the vacillating policy pursued by The News. Its open disregard of the wishes of the local leaders of the Republican party has been so manifest that it has not only endangered the welfare of the party, but is believed to have also materially jeopardized its interests. The noticeable apathy displayed by The News, particularly regarding political affairs, has so embittered certain factions of the Republican party in this city that Editor Runyon's position on these matters has been roundly denounced by prominent politicians in the G.O.P.

The News will have to look sharp or the new daily may obtain a strong foothold with the party leaders in this city.

The Daily Bulletin will reappear in folio form next Thursday afternoon. Mr. Talford, its managing editor, is a Republican. He has had many years experience in the newspaper field, having filled important positions upon daily newspapers in New York State, and he is well fitted to fill the important position to which he has been chosen.

ELIZABETH GAVE BRYAN AN OVATION.

Fully 12,000 People Greeted the Presidential Candidate at the County Seat.

MR. MARTINE WAS WITH HIM

STATE CONVENTION OF THE DEMOCRATIC CLUBS

James Bergen to Speak in North Plainfield Monday Night—Jeffersonian Democratic Club Meets Tonight.

If there is a section in this country that Col. Bryan should have a favorable impression of it should be Union county. Twice now within a year Mr Bryan has received a wonderful ovation in this county. The first was last February when, before he was a candidate, he was a guest of James E. Martine in this city. The second time was last night when as a Presidential candidate he spoke to an audience in Elizabeth that numbered fully 12 000 people. The assemblage met in Scott Park, near the City Hall, in that place.

The crowd was an enthusiastic one, and was made up of all classes of people. In substance Mr. Bryan's speech there was about the same as he has delivered at other points, although he localized it somewhat. James E. Martine, of this city, accompanied Mr. Bryan throughout his trip in New Jersey yesterday, together with a number of other State leaders. Mr. Martine intended remaining with Mr. Bryan today, but he was called home on account of important business. He says that Mr. Bryan was greatly gratified at his reception in New Jersey. A large number of Plainfield Democrats went to Elizabeth last night to attend the meeting.

At the State convention of Democratic clubs in Trenton yesterday Walter L. Linbarger, of North Plainfield, was elected a member of the executive committee from New Jersey.

Tomorrow night the North Plainfield Democratic club will keep "open house." Monday night they will hold a meeting that will be addressed by James Bergen, candidate for Congress.

Every member of the Democratic Jeffersonian Club is urged to be present at the meeting to be held in the rooms of the Hillman Association, over Rowley's drug store, on West Front street, tonight. Important business will be transacted.

S. S. Swackhammer, of the borough, goes to Whitehouse tomorrow where he will speak at a Democratic mass meeting.

The convention of the Democratic clubs of New Jersey met in Trenton yesterday. Dr. Cornelius Shepherd, of Trenton, was the temporary chairman. He made a speech, which was confined to the question of imperialism. State Chairman Gourley addressed the convention, and predicted Democratic success in New Jersey. He was followed by Augustus Thomas, the playwright.

A meeting of the Board of Managers of the Second Ward Republican Association will be held at Republican headquarters this evening at 8 o'clock.

"Open house" will be held at Republican headquarters in the Marsh building, Park avenue, tomorrow evening. There will be speaking and special music.

Arrangements are being made to have a delegation from this city take part in the big Republican parade at Elizabeth Monday night.

PETER MARTIN DEAD.

An Old Resident of Mt. Horeb—He Was 81 Years Old.

The death of Peter Martin, aged 81 years, occurred yesterday morning at the home of his son, 233 Somerset street, where he had been living for the past year. He was an old resident of Mt. Horeb. He was a veteran of the Civil War and was a member of Co. 8th, 37th Regiment, N. Y. Vol., and during that war he lost a leg. His illness was due to a paralytic stroke, and Dr. Zeglio has been attending him for over a year.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the residence of the son on Somerset street, and at Mt. Horeb church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment will be in the Mt. Horeb cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Henry DeMott.

Last Registration Day.

Next week Tuesday will be the last day for registering and it is a duty that every citizen owes to himself that his name appears on the list.

SELLING BOGUS BUTTER.

UNION COUNTY DEALERS CHARGED WITH VIOLATING LAW.

A Plainfield Grocery Firm Caught in the Net—One Offender Fined $50.

The State dairy commissioner is making things hot for milkmen and grocers in Union county who are violating the law against selling adulterated milk or bogus butter. During the past week detectives for the dairy commissioner have been making an inspection of the milk sold in the county by dairymen who have preferred charges against Carl Hoffacker and W. C. Tubbs, of Elizabeth; Albert Heitman, of Roselle, and William Trustrum, of Rahway, for alleged selling of watered milk; and against Vail & Gardner, grocers of Plainfield, who are accused of selling oleo-margarine for butter.

Milkman Trustrum was arraigned before Police Justice Frazee at Rahway and pleaded guilty. He was fined $50 and costs. The other alleged offenders will be arraigned next Thursday in the Elizabeth District Court before Judge Atwater. Lawyer John F. Brown, of Elizabeth, is conducting the prosecution for the State dairy commissioner.

HISSED JUDGE'S NAME.

W. C. T. U. WOMEN DISAPPROVE OF JUDGE STRONG'S OPINION.

Speakers Indignantly Deny That "Appetite for Liquor is God-Given"—Officers Elected.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Oct. 26—The principal topic in the meetings of the State W. C. T. U., which has been in session here for two days, was the remarks made by County Judge Strong Monday, when he said: "The appetite for liquor was God-given." The Judge's name was hissed repeatedly. Several speakers referred to him in reading their papers always in scathing terms

Mrs. Mary C. Hunt made the Judge's remarks the basis of her talk. "Was there anything so absurd?" she asked indignantly. "'The appetite God-given!' He might as well say that all persons have a dominating appetite for opium and that when, because of the appetite being gratified, the victim becomes enslaved, the appetite was God-given.

"The fact is, alcohol is a narcotic poison. All narcotics have the power to create an appetite for them. There wasn't enforced the temperance education when the Judge went to your schools or he would have known better. Future judges will never make such a mistake as that."

Mrs. Emma Bourne, of Newark, was re-elected president. Mrs. I. H. Demarest presented the president with an engraving, "Madonna and Child," and made a short address. Mrs. I. H. Demarest was re-elected corresponding secretary, and Mrs. H. L. Caminade as treasurer. Mrs. E V. Sheet and Dr. E. W. Lake were candidates for recording secretary. Dr. Lake was elected.

The delegates elected to attend the National convention were: Mrs. Emma Bourne, Newark; Mrs. I. H. Demarest, Closter; Miss E. H. Elfreth, Haddonfield; Mrs. H C. Caminade, Trenton; Mrs. Mary D. Tomlinson, Plainfield; Mrs. E. M. Thacher, Florence; Mrs. V. F. Cox, Tabor.

DANTE FOUND GUILTY.

Slick Young Man Evidently Has Come to the End of His Rope in Crooked Word.

Edmund Dante, the drug clerk, who practiced deception and theft in this city some time ago, when employed by C. E. Hepburn & Co. and Charles Hall, was arraigned in New York on Wednesday, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The charge upon which he was arraigned was for obtaining a position under false pretences, it having been learned that the charge of forgery having been committed in this State, would have to be heard here. Dante will be sentenced next Monday on the charge preferred. After he serves his time for that charge he will probably be brought to this State and be compelled to stand trial for forgery. In this case against him the New York College, of which Mr. Hall is a graduate, will be the plaintiff. Mr. Hall was present at the hearing on Wednesday.

Change in Trolley Schedule.

The timetable of the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway has been changed so that after 10 o'clock in the evening the cars will run on half-hour time instead of every fifteen minutes. The last car will leave Elizabeth and Plainfield at 12 o'clock.

—A fine display of fresh vegetables will be found at Neuman Bros., tomorrow.

HEAD-ON COLLISION OF TROLLEY CARS.

One of the Motormen, it is Alleged, Got Excited and Didn't Use the Brake.

NO PASSENGERS INJURED.

THEY WERE BADLY JARRED BY THE TERRIFIC COMPACT.

One Car was Late and the Motorman of the Other Started Out on Single Track to Make the Next Switch, but He was too Late.

An attempt was made last evening to run two of the new double-truck cars of the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company over a single track in opposite directions. The attempt naturally failed, and the front platform and vestibule of one of the cars was generally demoralized. Motorman Jack Curren, of Elizabeth, was somewhat pinched, and the passengers were tumbled about. Nobody was seriously injured, however.

As is frequently the case, the cars of the Plainfield-Elizabeth line failed to keep on schedule time. One of the new closed cars, No. 69, was scheduled to leave Scotch Plains, bound westward at 7:30 o'clock. The car was somewhat late. Failing to meet another car on the double track between Scotch Plains and the Plainfield city line, Motorman Curren, of car No. 69, waited at the end of the double track for the eastbound car. After waiting nearly ten minutes he started out again.

Meanwhile another of the big closed cars, No. 71, in charge of Motorman Fitzsimmonds, of Elizabeth, was waiting on the turnout on East Second street, near Richmond street, for No. 69. The motormen must have started out at almost the same time and each hurried his car forward as fast as possible in order to reach the next switch where each supposed the other was waiting.

Curren was the first to hear the other car just as they approached the bend in East Second street, where Berckman street intersects it. He brought his car almost to a standstill when Car No. 71 came around the bend at full speed and crashed into the other one.

Street railway officials refuse to say who was to blame, but it is currently reported that Fitzsimmonds became excited and turned on his power in attempting to apply the electric brake.

The cars came together with a loud crash. The platform of the westbound car was crushed in and the vestibule wrecked. Curren was caught between the controller box and the front of the car. His left leg was injured. The passengers in the eastbound car were deposited in a heap in the front end of the car. One woman, bound for Westfield, whose name could not be ascertained, swooned, and was not restored to consciousness for some time. Other passengers were bruised, but none seriously injured.

On board car No. 69, the passengers were jostled about but, as the car had been almost at a standstill, they managed to keep their seats. Great excitement prevailed for a time. Finally the wreck of the front of car No. 69 was thrown to one side of the street and the car was run back to Elizabeth and thence over to Newark where it will be repaired at the shops of the North Jersey Traction Company.

Car No. 71 was badly strained and the paint on the front was mostly scraped off. That car will also have to be laid up for repairs.

NO IDENTIFICATION MADE.

Railroad Victim's Remains Have Not Yet Been Claimed.

Out of the scores of people who have viewed the body of the man found on the railroad tracks near Clinton avenue yesterday morning, not one has been able to give the slightest clue which might lead to his identity. Several declared that the features were familiar, but could not tell where they had seen them.

The remains will be kept until tomorrow when, if nothing different is learned, they will be interred.

The railroad officials have made a thorough search and are certain that that the man was not one of their brakemen.

H. C. VanEmburgh and wife who went to Omaha, Neb., on their wedding trip, have started on their return trip, and after a few days at Washington will return to Plainfield.

Mrs. G. W. Lowerre, of Grandview avenue, attended the annual State meeting of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held at Somerville yesterday, of which she is a member.

CANAL TRAFFIC WHOLLY TIED-UP

A Thousand Ton Boat Is Wedged in the Narrow Lock at Bound Brook.

PLIGHT HARD TO OVERCOME

IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO TEAR OUT SIDES OF THE LOCK.

In the Meantime No Boats Will be Able to Pass—Keystone the Name of the Craft That Has Caused the Trouble.
(Special to the Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, October 26.—Traffic on the Delaware and Raritan Canal is wholly tied-up because of a peculiar accident which happened at the lock at this place. Early Wednesday morning the new thousand ton boat Keystone, bound from Philadelphia to New York, and loaded with lumber, attempted to enter the lock. It was her first trip through the canal, and as she had met with no similar trouble at the other locks it never entered the minds of the canal people that she would have trouble in getting through this lock, which is the narrowest of the series.

The Keystone is 185 feet in length and measures twenty-three feet, seven inches in width. The lock at this place is barely twenty-four feet broad. The boat approached at half speed and was soon wedged in the lock, and despite the efforts of her crew and the lock tenders could not be moved. As time passed craft of all descriptions began to arrive from both directions, until at nightfall the waterway was filled for a considerable distance in both directions with a motley assemblage of steamers, towboats and rafts, including the large steamers, Elko, Martha Stevens, Vesper, Defiance, Delaware, Ianthe, Golden Age, Yuma and Bristol.

As the towboats all had their strings of mules, the scene was a very animated one. The canal management soon had their wrecking crews on the spot, and yesterday morning the tug Relief, Capt. Britton, assisted by two of the steamers, succeeded in dragging the Keystone out and allowing the waiting craft to proceed. Then the Keystone again attempted to pass through with the result that she became more firmly wedged than before, being unable to pass either way.

The wrecking crews are at their wits end, all their various schemes being of no avail, and another lot of vessels are congregating near the lock.

As the Keystone cannot be again withdrawn, it is thought that the sides of the lock will have to be cut away to release the vessel and allow her to proceed. As this will consume a long time the canal promises to be closed indefinitely. Captain Rickenbach, of the Keystone, in an interview with a Press reporter, said that he thought the great weight of lumber had caused the vessel to spread and thus become too wide for the locks.

DEATH OF OLD VETERAN.

Samuel C. Terry, Sr., Passes Away After a Long Illness—He Was a Painter by Trade.

After an illness covering a long period, Samuel C. Terry, Sr., aged about sixty-eight years, died this morning at his home on East Third street. His last illness was caused by a paralytic stroke, and for the most part of the time he had been confined to his home. Owing to his condition his death was not wholly unexpected.

Mr. Terry was born in this city and has lived here all his life, with the exception of the time he spent serving in the Civil War, about three years. He enlisted in Co. I, 31 N. J. Vols., which company was formed in this city. Before he was discharged he was promoted to a lieutenacy. After the war Mr. Terry returned to Plainfield and became foreman for the late Martin Giles, who conducted a paint and wallpaper store. Later he engaged in the restaurant business, and at one time was employed at the well-known "Holly-Tree-Inn," on North avenue.

After remaining in that business for a time he returned to the painting and paperhanging business, working for Woolston & Buckle. He was employed by them for about fifteen years. He has been unable to work since last spring, when he suffered a paralytic stroke. Mr. Terry leaves a wife and two sons, Samuel C. Terry, Jr., and Frank Terry.

Mr. Terry was a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and at various times held the offices of quartermaster and officer-of-the-guard. The members of the post will attend his funeral in a body.

G. O. P. COUNTY TICKET IS NOW COMPLETE.

Three Assemblymen and a Coroner Nominated at Union County Convention.

IT WAS HELD AT ELIZABETH.

PRESENT ASSEMBLYMEN ALL RENOMINATED TO SECOND TERMS.

Complete Harmony Prevailed and Delegates Became Quite Enthusiastic During the Course of the Meeting—Dr. Bushing Named for Coroner.
(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Elizabeth, Oct. 26.—With a unanimity of opinion and considerable enthusiasm, the Republicans of Union county nominated their candidates for the Assembly and coroner yesterday afternoon. The county convention was held in the Lyceum Theatre this city. The three present Assemblymen were renominated and Dr. Bunting, of Elizabeth, was chosen to go on the Republican ticket as coroner. Complete harmony prevailed.

At 3:17 o'clock Charles N. Codding, of Westfield, chairman of the county committee, called the meeting to order. A meeting of the county committee had been held previous to the convention at which the temporary officers were chosen. Mr. Codding announced Charles H. Denham, of Westfield, and S. Rusling Ryno, of Rahway, as secretaries. Frank Bergen, of Elizabeth, was named as temporary chairman and E. B. Horton, of Cranford, as temporary vice chairman. William N. Runyon, of Plainfield, and Robert L. Patterson, of Elizabeth, were appointed a committee to escort the officers to the platform.

After taking charge of the convention Mr. Bergen had something to say. He declared that he had always believed, until recently, that Mr. Bryan was a sincere man who really thought that he could accomplish great things for his country. After reading his speeches of the last few weeks, however, Mr. Bergen explained that Mr. Bryan must have either lost his head completely or else be an arrogant demagogue. He also talked on the important place accorded to Union county in State affairs.

He appointed the following committees: Rules—C. O. Poor, of Westfield; William N. Runyon, of Plainfield; Peter F. Sherf, of Elizabeth. Credentials—William Matthews, of Lyon's Farms; F. W. Veghte, of Roselle; N. R. Foster, of Cranford. Resolutions—John D. Barr, of Elizabethport; E. L. Hand, of Scotch Plains; W. H. Cloak, of Rahway. Permanent organization—Geo. Squiers, of Elizabeth; H. H. Downs, of Westfield, and W. H. Coggshaw, of Summit.

After a brief recess to allow the committees to get in their work the convention met again. The temporary organization was made permanent and the following resolutions were adopted:

The representatives of the Republican party of Union county assembled in convention resolve:

That we renew our allegiance to the cardinal doctrines of the Republican party, briefly and distinctly expressed by the late James G. Blaine as follows: (1) Peace with the whole world; (2) commercial expansion in every practical direction; (3) encouragement of every form of American industry, and (4) protection to every citizen, native or naturalized, at home and abroad. And we declare that the gratifying and unequalled prosperity which our country now enjoys is due mainly to the vigorous support of these doctrines by the people during the last four years.

Deliberate discussion and costly experience have established the proposition that the gold standard is essential to our domestic prosperity and to commercial expansion, and we approve the law enacted by Congress which more firmly establishes that standard in our financial system. We gladly admit that our patriotic fellow citizens, commonly called gold Democrats, are entitled to a large share of the credit for that beneficent law, and we beg to remind them that the views of the Republican party on the political issues of our day and the doctrines of the Democracy of Jefferson's time are in substantial harmony. Jefferson believed in protection, sound money and expansion, and so do we.

We denounce the reckless and dangerous efforts of Bryan and his followers, who stir up strife and hatred between the men who work for wages and the men who furnish work and pay wages. Accurate statistics and the books of the savings banks, show beyond all controversy that it is not true that the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer. The masses of the people of this country were never so comfortable and prosperous as at present, because wise public policies prevail and demagogues are distrusted. Political economy teaches nothing more clearly than that the friendly co-operation of capital and labor is essential to the welfare of both, and therefore whoever urges the working man to injure or destroy the business of his employer is the enemy of all workingmen and of all who employ labor.

We approve the honest and efficient administration of our State government by our neighbor and friend, Foster M. Voorhees, and we gladly express our satisfaction with the faithful and vigilant work of our representatives in the last legislature.

We pledge our support to the candidates nominated by this convention, and as all citi-

POPULATION OF CITIES.

Interesting Facts Made Public by the Census Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The census bureau in a bulletin just issued summarizes the returns of population of cities having 25,000 inhabitants or more in 1900, the individual census of each of these cities having been officially announced heretofore. There are 159 of these, and the bulletin shows that the percentage of increase in their population from 1890 to 1900 was 32.5 as against 49.5 for the same cities in the previous decade. The absolute increase in the population of these cities from 1890 to 1900 was was 4,839,136, or 82,426 less than the absolute increase from 1880 to 1890, when it was 4,921,562. The 159 cities combined have a population in 1900 of 19,694,625 against 14,855,489 in 1890 and 9,933,927 in 1880.

New York under the act of consolidation which became effective Jan. 1, 1898, has grown to be a city of very nearly 3,500,000 inhabitants in 1900 as compared with a population for what was formerly New York city of a little more than 1,500,000 in 1890 and of substantially 1,200,000 in 1880. The population of the territory now comprised within the present limits of New York was approximately 2,500,000 in 1890 and 1,900,000 in 1880. It is the premier city of the country in point of population, a position which it has uniformly held at each decennial census since and including 1790.

Chicago, with practically 1,700,000 inhabitants, and Philadelphia, with not quite 1,300,000 inhabitants, hold the second and third places in 1900, the same as in 1890, although at the census of 1880 their positions were reversed. Philadelphia then had very nearly 850,000 inhabitants as compared with not much more than 500,000 for Chicago.

St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore, the next largest cities, have not changed their relative rank in 1900.

Cleveland and Buffalo have both increased materially in population during the last ten years and now take precedence over San Francisco and Cincinnati, which in 1890 were the seventh and eighth places in point of population.

The most significant growth of cities is that for the three cities in the state of Washington—namely, Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma. These three cities combined had only 4,981 inhabitants in 1880, but their population had increased to 98,765 in 1890 and to 155,233 in 1900, the increase during the past decade being equivalent to 57.1 per cent.

Nebraska is the only state in which the combined population of the cities contained therein shows a decrease from 1890 to 1900.

COULD NOT CATCH CAILLES.

General Hall's Expedition Captured a Town and an Island.

MANILA, Oct. 26.—General Hall, with 700 men of the Second, Eighth and Thirty-seventh regiments and the Macabebe scouts, has returned after spending 21 days in the mountains between Navitae and Binangonan, province of Infanta, east coast, in pursuit of the insurgent general Cailles, who escaped to the south. General Hall reports that he found the country deserted except by farmers and fishermen.

A detachment of 256 men with whom it was proposed to prevent Cailles' flight northward embarked on the transport Garrone and awaited off Binangonan the arrival of the troops, who were marching overland for that place. The troops received a hearty welcome from the inhabitants of Binangonan, and two companies under Captain Fremont of the Second regiment established a garrison there.

General Hall then reconnoitered the island of Polillo, east of Luzon. The transport on which the reconnoissance was made grounded twice on the reefs surrounding the island, but was hauled off by the gunboat Yorktown. General Hall found an ungarrisoned insurgent village. The inhabitants willingly surrendered to the Americans, who were cheered. The expedition then returned to Manila on the Garrone.

During General Hall's operations one soldier and 18 Chinese bearers died of exhaustion.

Debs on the Stump.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Eugene V. Debs, candidate for the presidency on the Social Democratic ticket, was the principal speaker at a mass meeting held last night in the Academy of Music under the auspices of the Social Democrats of this city. Edward Cuppinger, the Socialistic candidate for congress at large from Pennsylvania, presided, and Frank M. Gessner of Pittsburg was the first speaker. Mr. Debs said in part: "The Republican party represents the dominant capitalistic class, the Democratic party the perishing middle class and the Social Democratic party the working class. The whole issue is one of class, and the sooner the workingmen of the country become class conscious the quicker will victory be theirs."

Casualties of a Day.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 26.—A suicide, a railroad fatality and a serious hunting accident are among yesterday's casualties in Connecticut. Lewis C. Wheeler, aged 36, threw himself in front of a train at Stratford and was instantly killed. Mrs. Jacob Matson, aged 50, was instantly killed while engaged in picking up coal along the Consolidated railroad tracks in Greenwich, and George Custer, a clerk in the bank of the Union Trust company, New Haven, who with two companions was hunting in the woods of Branford, received a charge of birdshot which scattered from his knees to his head. He will recover.

Spain's New Ministry.

MADRID, Oct. 26.—At the cabinet council yesterday, the queen regent presiding, General Azcarraga, the premier, declared that the new ministry would continue the work of the late cabinet and would maintain the equilibrium of the budget. He declared that the war budget would not differ materially from its predecessor. He also announced that the Spanish legation in Peking had been suppressed.

Actor Sothern Laid Up.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—Mr. E. H. Sothern, who opened an engagement on Monday night at Ford's in "Hamlet," was not able to play last night and probably will not be able to the rest of the week. He is in his bed at the Stafford, suffering intensely from a wound in his foot, the result of an accident in New York while he was playing there soon after the opening of the season.

Thirteen Killed at a Wedding.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 26.—During a wedding ceremony last Sunday at Argyrokastro, in Epirus, the floor collapsed, with the result that 13 persons were killed and 40 others injured.

THE STRIKE IS OVER.

President Mitchell So Declares After a Long Conference.

REJOICING GENERAL AND HEARTFELT

Work to Begin Monday In All the Collieries Granting Scranton Convention's Demands—In All Others Tie Up Will Continue.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 26.—The mine workers' strike has been declared off against all companies which have complied with the strikers' demands, and the strike will be continued against those companies which have not granted the Scranton convention's demands. The strikers will return to work Monday at the places where the tie up is ended.

There was much rejoicing here when the announcement was made that the coal strike was at an end in so far as concerned the collieries where the conditions demanded by the miners had been complied with.

The United Mine Workers' officials firmly believe that all the operators against whom the strike has not been declared off will concede the miners' demands by Monday. In fact, it was said by one of the higher officials of the union that the statement was not drawn up until positive assurances had been received that the other companies would comply with the demands.

No such assurance, however, was received, as far as could be learned, from G. B. Markle & Co., in this district, which is the only company that has not offered an increase of wages.

The following statement was given out for publication by President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers:

"To the Miners and Mine Workers of the Anthacite Region:

"Gentlemen—After carefully canvassing the entire strike situation we, your officers, district and national, have concluded that your victory is so nearly complete that no good end can be served by continuing the strike longer. The contest has been in progress for 39 days, and the companies employing you have, with few exceptions, signified their willingness to pay the scale of wages formulated by the Scranton convention of Oct. 12 and 13.

"We are aware that some disappointment and dissatisfaction has been caused by the failure of the operators in districts 1 and 7 to separate the reduction in the price of powder from the advance in wages, but after careful inquiry we are satisfied that each mine employee will actually receive an advance of 10 per cent on the wages formerly paid. In the Schuylkill and Lehigh regions the largest companies have agreed that the sliding scale should be suspended and that wages should remain stationary at 10 per cent until April 1, 1901, thus removing one of the iniquities of which you have complained for many years.

"Your attention is respectfully called to the fact that the laws of the state of Pennsylvania provide that miners should be paid semimonthly upon demand. We should therefore advise that each mine employee serve notice on the companies that he expects to be paid his wages twice each month, as provided by law.

"As there are some few companies who have neither posted, notified nor signified in any other manner their willingness to pay the 10 per cent advance in wages and suspend the sliding scale, we would advise that unless the men employed by such companies receive notice before Monday that the advance will be paid they remain away from the mines and continue on strike until the companies employing them agree to the conditions offered by the other companies, and the employees of the companies who have offered the advance of 10 per cent and abolished the sliding scale are hereby authorized to resume work Monday morning, Oct. 29, and to be prepared if called upon to contribute a reasonable amount of your earnings for the maintenance of those who may be compelled to continue on strike."

All Classes Rejoice.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 26.—The bulletin announcing the ending of the great miners' strike was received here with the greatest enthusiasm by all classes. The news had been expected, and large crowds collected in front of the newspaper offices. When the bulletin was posted, there was a look of satisfaction on every face. Business men in particular were much pleased that the conflict had come to an end. Money is expected to be a little tight for the next few weeks, as the miners will not receive any pay now until the middle of November, but with steady work and an increase of 10 per cent in wages the amounts will be big when they do come. Among the companies that have not posted notices in this vicinity is the Susquehanna Coal company of the Pennsylvania system, but some time ago the officials of that company issued a statement that when the strikers were ready to return to work the company would pay its men the same as the other companies.

Strikers Make Dangerous Threats.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 26.—Fifty strikers met at the silk dye works of Chavary & Bodwin at Little Falls yesterday afternoon and threatened to burn down the building. The members of the firm communicated with the sheriff's office in this city, but could not get any assistance at the time. The men struck because they objected to the boss, Albert Grassi, and because one of their number had been discharged. They made a demonstration in front of the works and succeeded in getting hold of Grassi and beating him.

Bicycle Record Broken.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 26.—The world's bicycle record for distance in the even hour behind pace was placed at 40 miles 330 yards, by Will C. Stinson of Cambridge on the Shore City oval yesterday afternoon in a ride sanctioned by the N. C. A. The previous distance in the given time was made by Stinson last Saturday of 39 miles 1,453 yards, when he broke by 407 yards the record made by Elkes on the same track Oct. 5.

Dwellings For Workingmen.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The city of Dusseldorf has appropriated 20,000,000 marks for the erection of workingmen's dwellings owing to the scarcity of cheap houses there. The city of Charlottenburg is taking similar steps.

New Lord Lieutenant For Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—The Evening Herald revives the report, which it asserts is well founded, that the Duke of Marlborough will succeed Earl Cadogan as lord lieutenant of Ireland.

SHERMAN AT REST.

Ohio Statesman Mourned by Nation's Leaders.

LAST SAD RITES AT MANSFIELD.

City Draped In Mourning—Schools and Business Houses Closed—All Parts of the Country Send Floral Offerings.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 26.—In a picturesque little cemetery where generations of Mansfield's builders sleep lie the remains of John Sherman, Ohio's senator and the nation's statesman. There yesterday, while the great men of the country looked on with mournful eyes, all that is mortal of the former secretary of state was laid to rest with ceremonies that were impressive yet eloquently simple. All Ohio contributed laurels to the illustrious dead, and representing the nation were President McKinley, Elihu Root, secretary of war, and other Washington officials, who arrived on the special train which brought the remains from the capital, where Mr. Sherman died. The city was draped in mourning. Every business house closed at 2 o'clock, and all the schools were dismissed that the pupils might attend the funeral services at Grace Episcopal church, where half a century ago John Sherman first worshiped and where for years he was a vestryman.

From the funeral train, which arrived at 10:16 a. m., the remains were escorted to the church through streets that were thronged with citizens and thousands who had gathered here from other places. The route was marked in the early morning with many banners eulogistic of national and state candidates of the various parties, but as a mark of respect to the dead all of these were removed before the procession began. In the solemn line of march were two companies of the Eighth Ohio volunteers, which fought in the Spanish war, while flanking the hearse was a squad of 42 survivors of the famous Sherman brigade, gray and bent with age, but stepping with tread as men with half their years. No funeral dirge was sounded, and at the church the casket containing the remains was removed to a place in front of the chancel, where it was banked with rich floral offerings. One of these tokens was a wreath of white roses and carnations sent from the White House by President McKinley. Another was from the Richland Bar association, and another was the offering of the corporation of Mansfield. There were scores of others from New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Cincinnati and other parts of the country.

President McKinley and his immediate party did not tarry at the church where the remains were left in state, but went at once to the residence of Congressman Kerr, where luncheon was served and where they remained until 2:30 p. m., the time for the funeral services. The honorary pallbearers were General Nelson A. Miles, Colgate Hoyt, P. T. Sherman, Frank B. Wilbogg, John Sherman Hoyt, William McCord, Alfred W. Hoyt and Charles A. Sherman. These escorted the remains into the church, which was then thrown open to the multitude, and for hours thousands of men, women and children filed past with noiseless tread viewing the pulseless body.

After the services at the church the cortege moved in Main street to the cemetery, a mile distant. At Central park the procession passed under an immense arch of mourning on which was emblazoned in gilt letters "The Nation's Loss."

Roosevelt In New York.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 26.—The closing speeches of a strenuous day in the Roosevelt campaign were made at Auburn and Syracuse after jumps through widely divergent counties. Altogether it was a favorable day because, while in Auburn and Syracuse there were several interruptions, the questions and answers were rather in a good natured form, and there was no friction which indicated a desire on the part of either questioner or answerer to enter into a personal controversy. Syracuse itself was a blaze of light, while thousands of people thronged the streets. The Auditorium, where the speechmaking was held, and the square, where the outside meeting took place, were both much too small to accommodate those who desired to hear Governor Roosevelt. In Auburn three meetings had to be held to accommodate the people.

Thirty Shoe Factories Shut.

QUEBEC, Oct. 26.—Thirty shoe factories employing 1,000 men shut down as the result of difficulties between the union and the manufacturers. The trouble grew out of the refusal of a union man to work for weekly wages instead of piece work. He was discharged and a nonunion man engaged. As a result all the men in the factory went out. The manufacturers' committee thereupon decided to shut down until a better understanding is obtained.

Motorman Killed.

ROCHESTER, Mich., Oct. 26.—A passenger car and a construction car collided on the Detroit, Rochester, Romeo and Lake Orion Electric Suburban railroad as a result of Motorman Griffith not obeying orders to wait at Washington. The vestibule of the passenger car was crushed and Griffith received injuries from which he died soon after. None of the passengers was injured.

Too Much Wine For William.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Emperor William, during his visit to Elberfeld, complimented the quality of the wine offered him as a welcome, but regretted his inability to empty the immense goblet. Turning with a laugh to Alderman Himmelmann, he said, "If I were to empty this the honorable council would have to carry me down stairs."

Requisition Honored.

ALBANY, Oct. 26.—Governor Roosevelt has honored a requisition of the governor of Illinois for the extradition to that state of Louis Vehon, who is under arrest in New York city charged with having robbed a mercantile concern in Chicago. It is alleged that he appropriated funds belonging to the company to his own use.

Archduke to Renounce Succession.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The Berliner Tageblatt publishes a special dispatch from Budapest which says that the Austrian heir apparent, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, will shortly renounce the succession to the throne in favor of his brother Otto and the latter's son, Archduke Charles.

BACK FROM THE SAHARA.

French Expedition Greeted Enthusiastically After Long Absence.

BORDEAUX, Oct. 26.—An immense crowd gave an enthusiastic welcome yesterday to the officers and a number of the men of the Foureau-Lamy expedition, which returned from west Africa on board the Ville de Pernambuco after accomplishing for the first time in French colonial history a journey across the Sahara from Algeria to the French Kongo. The mission has achieved much valuable scientific research. Representatives of President Loubet and General Andre minister of war, received the members of the expedition, delivered addresses and distributed decorations.

The Foureau-Lamy expedition was the largest exploring party that ever entered the Sahara. M. F. Foureau, its leader, had made nine expeditions at the expense of private citizens and scientific societies among the sand wastes and oases south of Algeria before the French government equipped the expedition which has just returned to France. In consequence of his modest equipment or for political reasons advanced by the government several of M. Foureau's journeys had been comparatively short, but despite this he had accomplished more ere starting on the tenth expedition than any other man toward the study of that portion of the Sahara which is immediately south of Algeria.

The tenth expedition, which set out in the latter part of 1898, was equipped regardless of expense, and the instructions of the French colonial office to M. Foureau were to cross the Sahara and, without exciting the suspicion of other powers or entering any parts of their territories, to explore the districts of the Sudan which under the treaties signed between France on the one hand and Great Britain and Germany on the other from 1891 to 1894 fell to the share of France. M. Foureau took with him 180 Algerian soldiers under Commander Lamy and five other officers. The entire personnel of the expedition numbered about 200. One thousand camels carried the equipment for the work.

Big Nugget of Gold.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The biggest nugget of gold ever received at the assay office in Wall street, according to Superintendent Mason, arrived yesterday from a mining company in British Columbia. It was consigned to the New York agents of the Bank of Montreal. The nugget contained a fraction over 753 pounds of the solid yellow metal and is valued at $154,000. It came in a solid cone the shape of a beehive and stood about two feet high. This cone was wrapped in canvas and fitted with an oblong box made of two inch planks and heavily bound with iron. The gold was held firmly in the box by two wooden wedges driven in from the top. Two heavy iron rings were set in the sides of the rough box, and through these were fitted wooden bars by which the box was lifted. It required four men to remove it from the truck in the assay office to the scales.

The President at a Wedding.

CANTON, O., Oct. 26.—President McKinley and Secretary of War Root, returning from the Sherman funeral at Mansfield, did not reach Canton until late last evening. They stopped over at Massillon, eight miles west of this city, where they were joined by Mrs. McKinley and Mrs. Root to attend the wedding of Arvine C. Wales and Edna Elizabeth McClymonts, children of old time friends of the McKinleys. The wedding was an elaborate one, about 350 guests being present, including people from Canton, Cleveland, New York, Chicago and several from European cities.

Von Moltke's Birth Celebrated.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Celebrations in honor of the centenary of the birth of Field Marshal von Moltke began last evening. The general staff, whose chief he was for many years, gave a banquet at the Kaiserhof, Count von Schlieffen, chief of the general staff, presiding. Today Emperor William will give a large banquet at the castle in Berlin, to which Count von Schlieffen, with a number of other generals, and the surviving relatives of Moltke have been invited. It is understood that the kaiser will deliver a speech of exceptional importance at the banquet.

Peruvian Finances In a Bad Way.

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 26.—In the Peruvian chamber of deputies the special finance committee recently appointed to consider the monetary situation reported that there was no budget to approve because the recent cabinets had not furnished the information solicited by the chamber. The report said also that it was absolutely imperative to find means to meet an immense deficit in prospect and that the entire responsibility for the unsatisfactory character of existing financial conditions rested with the government.

Murderer Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Thomas Eldridge, colored, was sentenced at Newark, N. J., to 20 years in the Trenton state prison for the murder of Thomas Maloney on May 21 last. The murder was the result of a saloon quarrel. Eldridge had retracted his plea of not guilty and had pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree.

Well Digger Takes a Tumble.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Frank M. Green, a well digger, narrowly escaped violent death near here. While being drawn out of a well with a windlass the fastenings broke just as he reached the top, and Green was hurled 30 feet to the bottom. He was severely injured, but will recover.

MISSIONARY CHANGES.

Proposal to Consolidate Six Well Known Societies.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 26.—At the annual business meeting of the American Missionary association the most important feature was the report of the committee of nine on a closer union of the six missionary societies of the Congregational churches and which was characterized as a revolutionary document.

The report, which was referred to a committee of five, recommends that a joint annual meeting of all the six societies be held in October each year, with a united missionary conference at the same time and place. Each society is to have its separate board of directors and other officers as at present. Each is to have one secretary, and it is recommended that the treasuries of the six societies be consolidated into two offices with two treasurers, one in Boston and the other in New York.

The collection of funds is to be under a special subcommittee of two members each from the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, Congregational Home Missionary society and American Missionary association and one delegate each from the Congregational Church Building society, Congregational Educational society and the Congregational Sunday School and Publishing society. The committee is to have charge of a "forward movement," for systematic giving by the churches and other agencies, to supervise the work of missionaries and publications and also to have power to readjust the work or territory of the societies as shall be found most advantageous for the work.

Rev. Dr. F. A. Noble of Illinois was elected president.

GOVERNOR ALLEN BLAMED.

Federal Leader In Porto Rico Charges Him With Unfairness.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 26.—William H. Hunt, secretary of Porto Rico, is of the opinion that the resolution of the executive committee of the Federals to invite members of that party to stay away from the polls at the forthcoming election is merely a ruse to mislead the Republicans. He expects both parties to poll their full strength. At all events he has received no official intimation that the Federals will withdraw from the contest.

Senor Munoz Rivera, the leader of the Federals, says that in his personal judgment the Federals ought to participate, but that he feels bound to follow the committee's resolution and is preparing to lend his assistance in carrying it out. He charges Governor Allen with unfairness and alleges favoritism.

The general opinion is that the Federals intend to initiate legal proceedings after the election with a view of nullifying the result on the ground of illegality.

Senor Rivera, it is understood, will shortly visit the United States for the purpose, among others, of establishing a newspaper there whose policy will be to point out alleged defects in the government of Porto Rico.

Death of Insane Patient.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 26.—William McFadden, a patient in the Hudson River State Hospital For the Insane, whose home was in Westchester county, died in the hospital on Tuesday under suspicious circumstances. A patient reported to Superintendent Pilgrim that McFadden's death was caused by blows which he received from Attendant Alonzo Birs on Sunday. Dr. Pilgrim thereupon discharged Birs, although he denied the charge. On the coroner's order an autopsy was performed by the hospital staff, assisted by Dr. Mann of this city. Black and blue marks were found on the abdomen, and two of the ribs were slightly fractured, yet the doctors reported that the autopsy showed unmistakably that death resulted from a natural cause.

New Lake Built Steamer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The steamer Waccammaw, the first of a fleet of six steamers to be put in operation by the Atlantic Coast Steamship company for the lumber trade on the Atlantic coast between Georgetown, S. C., and northern ports as far as Boston, has arrived here from Toledo. The Atlantic Coast Steamship company is a new organization with a capital of $1,000,000, which will engage in carrying North Carolina lumber from Georgetown to northern seaboard cities. At Georgetown, S. C., the new company has docks 1,200 feet long with a storage capacity of 15,000 tons.

Secretary Long's Western Trip.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary Long will leave Washington tomorrow for his western trip, during the course of which he expects to make several political speeches. He goes from here direct to Colorado Springs, where his daughter resides. The dates and places at which speeches will be made have not yet been arranged, but it is expected that he will make one or two speeches in Colorado and perhaps others in Nebraska and other states. He probably will be gone about ten days.

Strikers and Militia Clash.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—Advices from Valleyfield received here state that a conflict has occurred between the strikers and the militia. Eight soldiers and 15 strikers were injured, two soldiers and one striker probably fatally. Another detachment of 200 militia left Montreal for Valleyfield last night.

REBELLION SPREADS

Boxers Threaten Destruction of American Missions.

INFLAMMATORY NOTICES POSTED.

"Foreign Devils" Charged With All Manner of Heinous Crimes—Chinese Officials Take the Insurrection Lightly.

HONGKONG, Oct. 26.—Advices from Lien-chau, on North river, say that American mission property there is threatened with destruction by Boxers, who have posted the following proclamation:

"We have organized to protect our country and our homes, and we rely upon one another to support the order to drive out the foreign devils. They are mad. Their folly passes description. They are the usurpers of our land. They disturb our borders.

"In all the provinces and prefectures chapels have been opened, and our people are deceived, ripped open and disemboweled, while the foreigners grow fat on the revenues of China, insulting our officials and merchants and seizing our temples and palaces.

"The emperor is indulgent and permits this. Who can foretell the intentions of the foreign devils? Day by day they act more outrageously. When we behold the present condition of affairs, our hearts are bruised with grief. Therefore we have organized our strength to destroy the devouring wolf throughout the empire."

The Boxers took the American Presbyterian mission buildings, but have not destroyed them.

Rebellion is spreading along East river and North river in the province of Kwang-si. It is supposed to be aimed at the overthrow of the Mantchoo dynasty, but the reports are so contradictory that it is next to impossible to form a lucid impression.

In Canton the Chinese officials are taking the insurrection so lightly that foreigners believe it will be very difficult to suppress.

AT PAO-TING-FU.

General Gaselee Tells of the Arrival of the Allies.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The following dispatch from General Gaselee, commander of the British troops at Pao-ting-fu, has been received by the secretary of state for India, Lord George Hamilton:

"Pao-ting-fu, Oct. 20.—The allied troops under my command arrived here yesterday. British, German, French and Italian guards have been posted at the gates. Today all the generals, with small escorts, went through the town, after which they arranged for the allotment of quarters for occupation. I shall keep most of the British in camp for the present. Am waiting for orders from Waldersee regarding their future disposition.

"Most of the inhabitants remain in the city. There are no signs of hostility.

"Mr., Mrs. and Miss Green and a child are here, after great sufferings. Many who escaped death were handed over Oct. 16 to the French force. Mr. Green is in the hospital. The ladies and the child are well.

"Have received the following from Horne-Campbell:

"'Arrived at Mao-chiao Oct. 17. Twenty-five hundred imperials retreated before us. One hundred surrendered, but on producing proofs that they had been sent by Li Hung Chang to suppress Boxers, released them with their arms.'"

Sir Robert Hart, director general of the Chinese imperial maritime customs, in an article in the November number of The Fortnightly Review, takes a pessimistic view of the Chinese situation. He frankly declares his opinion to be that the Boxer movement "is national and patriotic, has taken hold of the Chinese imagination and will spread like wildfire throughout the length and breadth of the empire."

"There is not the slightest doubt," he says, "that 50 years hence there will be millions of Boxers in serried ranks and war's panoply at the call of the Chinese government."

Discussing the alternative courses open to the powers, Sir Robert sees a very real "yellow peril" ahead and no hope of a permanent solution.

Only One Telegraph Line.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—General Greely has received a cablegram from Major Scriven, commanding the signal corps detachment in China, saying that there is only one complete and secure telegraph line between Peking and Taku, and that is the line of the United States signal corps. It is working regularly and satisfactorily. A permanent line has been rebuilt by the corps since Peking was occupied by the troops.

Imprisoned Europeans Delivered.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—The Havas agency has received the following dispatch from Peking: "The French detachment under Colonel Drude has delivered the French and English missionaries and the French, Belgian and Italian engineers who were imprisoned by the Chinese at Ngan-kia-tchuang, Pao-ting-fu, Ting-cheou and Tcheng-ting-fu and all the Europeans between Pao-ting-fu and Tcheng-ting-fu."

Rumors of a Loan.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The East Chinese Railroad company, according to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Frankfurter Zeitung, is trying to effect a loan in the United States and France through the Russo-Chinese bank. The Frankfurter Zeitung's correspondent, who gives $55,000,000 as the amount, says that Director Rothstein is about to start for New York in the interest of the loan.

Scotch Tweed Trade Dull.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—United States Consul Fleming, at Edinburgh, informs the state department of a critical depression in the Scotch tweed trade. Firms are going out of business, factories stand idle, and the manufactories still operating find it well nigh impossible to do a profitable business. Overproduction, foreign tariffs, the displacement of tweeds by flannel suitings, the extreme fluctuation in the price of wool and foreign competition are some of the causes assigned for the present bad condition of trade.

President Salles In Argentina.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 26.—Dr. Campos Salles, president of Brazil, who arrived here Wednesday with a squadron of three warships, landed yesterday and was received with popular enthusiasm. He has had a cordial interview with General Roca, president of Argentina.

The Betting of the Campaign.

The Indianapolis Press gives the betting history of the present political campaign. Accompanying the article is a chart showing how the odds have fluctuated in five months from 5 to 1 on McKinley in June, down to 2 to 1 September, and then back to 4½ to 1 in the present month. The history of the larger wager is given circumstantially, and a general idea of the vast sum of money that is to change hands as the result of the November verdict is suggested. It is stated, for instance, that Richard Croker "stands to win" no less than $340,000 in the event of Mr. Bryan's election. Some millions of dollars are now wagered upon the contest, and the total will be appreciably augmented before the ballots are cast.

Taking up the information given by the Hoosier paper, the Newark News makes the following truthful comment:

"To read the article in question and those of a similar character which have appeared in other reputable journals, one would be led to infer that betting is an entirely legitimate operation in the United States—a natural and praiseworthy element of our political campaigning, in fact. No one would suppose that these wagers, which are prominently announced in the public prints of the day and accepted by all classes of people as the most reliable index of the real drift of public sentiment, are tabooed on the statute books of every State in the Union, while in most an election wager is ground for disfranchisement. And yet, what is the difference, morally speaking, between betting on an election, the price of wheat, a prize fight or a horse race? And wherein is the man who wagers a thousand dollars on McKinley's election less a law breaker than the man who bets a thousand dollars on a cock fight?"

Mr. Doughty is Caustic.

Charles W. Doughty, who has been engaged in Plainfield for several months experimenting at the sewage beds with his precipitating and filtering tank process with the idea of remeding the difficulties that have been encountered at the beds in their operation, contributes an exhaustive article to the Dunellen Call this week in which he attacks the Common Council and other city officials for their refusal to take advantage of his offer.

Mr. Doughty makes Joseph O. Osgood, the expert employed by the Council to determine the advisability of the city's action on the proposition made in behalf of the Doughty's process, the subject of a vigorous attack as to his qualification to act in such a capacity. By the use of much scientific language, which the lay mind is unable to comprehend, Mr. Doughty insists that Mr. Osgood made no thorough attempt to find out the merits of his system, but on the contrary gave him a half-hearted interview in which his (Doughty) claims were disputed without reason. Mr. Doughty dismisses Mr. Osgood from his consideration with these words: "I vote Mr. Osgood as amiable and able an 'expert' as ever 'cut a throat or scuttled a ship.'"

Mr. Doughty hints at dire things that will happen to Plainfield because his system has been rejected and then speaks out to the people of Plainfield in these words: "Awake to the weight, consequence, bearing of the case; it is of little importance to me outside of a purely humanitarian view."

A Newark merchant, who began business in a small way and now has a vast establishment, declares that "steady, common sense advertising in the newspapers will pay, and always has paid. The fact that a merchant's concern is not of the big class should not deter him from putting all the money he can into newspaper advertising, as he can't tell what his possibilities are until he has done that." The Philadelphia Record adds that "if an advertisement in a newspaper of large circulation does not more than pay for itself it is because of some fault in the ad."

G. O. P. COUNTY TICKET IS NOW COMPLETE.

zens who think alike should work together for the public welfare, we cordially invite our fellow-citizens who are in favor of sound money and prosperity to join with us in this campaign.

The call for nominations for three Assemblymen was made by wards, townships and boroughs. John D. Barr, of the First ward, Elizabeth, presented the names of Charles S. Foote, of Plainfield, Chester M. Smith, of Westfield, and Ellis B. Meeker, of Elizabeth. Everybody else seconded them and the secretary cast a ballot for them amid general rejoicing.

Mr. Barr also presented the name of Dr. P. DuBois Bunting, of Elizabeth, for Coroner, and he too was unanimously nominated. A committee composed of Charles N. Codding, Surrogate George T. Parrott and Hamilton F. Kane, was appointed to fill any vacancies on the ticket.

While waiting for James McMasters, of Elizabeth, and City Judge William N. Runyon, of Plainfield, to bring on the candidates, Louis A. Graff, an erstwhile Democrat from this city, told why he came to support the Republican ticket. He explained that it wasn't a case of his leaving the Democratic party. The Democratic party left him. Col. Sweet, of Linden, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil Wars, made a speech which brought the delegates to their feet. He, too, was a Jeffersonian Democrat but declared that there was more of the doctrines of Jefferson and Jackson to be found in the Republican party than in the party headed by Bryan.

Short speeches were made by the three Assemblymen, and then somebody suggested that, in the absence of the Coroner, Judge William N. Runyon ought to speak. The Judge thought "America" would be more appropriate than the Coroner, and led the singing of the National hymn. The delegates then gave three cheers for Judge Runyon and everybody else they could think of and adjourned.

TO PUNISH DISHONESTY.

New Jersey Coal Exchange Begins Crusade Against Short-Weight Dealers.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, Oct. 26.—Without any formal announcement of its intentions, the New Jersey Coal Exchange has taken up a crusade against dealers who sell short-weight coal, and will use its influence to bring to justice such of them as it can obtain conclusive evidence against.

On evidence presented by members of the exchange, the Grand Jury is said to have found an indictment against Samuel Wilson, Jr., a local coal dealer, who has been making vigorous attacks on the exchange. Those who obtained the evidence say that they did it purely in the interest of justice, and not from any motive of revenge. In justification of this assertion, they say they have against other dealers similar evidence that may result in indictments soon.

"Purely in the interest of honest competition," says Secretary Canfield, of the exchange, "the New Jersey Coal Exchange intends to make it hot for any dealer it finds selling shortweight coal. Such action is within the scope of the duties of the exchange, and is certainly to the interest of the coal consumer."

Mr. Wilson claims that the allegations against him are unfounded, and says that when the proper time comes he will have something to say regarding other dealers in the city.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Oct. 26.—Another good crowd was brought out by the Republicans at their meeting in the town hall last night. As usual much patriotic fervor was aroused and all present thoroughly enjoyed the speeches. The campaign songs were sung by all present with great enthusiasm.

The quiet precincts of the borough were invaded by a gang of rowdies late Wednesday night whose cries aroused a number of the residents. They removed several wagons and carts from Charles Coriell's yards and placed them on the sidewalk in front of Weidenhaupt's market to the annoyance of the proprietor yesterday morning.

Justice A. W. Warden was pleasantly surprised yesterday by receiving a gift of three barrels of apples from his sister whose husband is the owner of a large farm at Petershan, Mass.

The Dunellen football team will play an eleven from the North Plainfield High School on the Lincoln avenue grounds tomorrow.

Percy Abbott attended the funeral services of his grandmother, Mrs. George W. Abbott, which were held at Somerville yesterday.

Miss Katie Eder, who has been spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maier, left for her home in New York today.

The last meet of the Middlesex Bowling Association for the season will be held on Schephlin's greens tomorrow.

Isaac J. Stites attended the convention of the Elizabeth District Epworth League held at that place yesterday.

Gilbert and Edward Herlick and Frank Giddes attended the wedding of a relative at Bernardsville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Terry were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Terry, of Westfield, yesterday.

Rev. Henry Ketcham, of Westfield, will again occupy the Presbyterian pulpit Sunday.

Miss Annie Sirisky, of Raritan, spent yesterday with relatives in the borough.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Merrell are spending a week with relatives in Newark.

Miss Bizzie Hunt returned today after a brief trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Louise Brakeley has gone to Easton for a week's visit with relatives.

The regular monthly meeting of the fire department was held last night.

Mrs. William H. Terry visited friends in Somerville yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 26—Speeches at the Democratic mass-meeting, to be held in Friendship Hall this evening, will be made by Rev. A. Kennedy Duff, Hon. Francis Daley, of New Brunswick, and others.

Eighty-seven carp, one of them weighing fifteen pounds, were captured jointly in the pond yesterday by Theodore Roantree and Edward Johnson. Several other large catches were also made. The water will probably be higher in the pond tomorrow, as Miller Otto expects to lower the gates tonight.

Miss Alice Heyden, of Saratoga, N. Y., has returned home after a three weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. George Coriell.

New Market was well represented at New Brunswick yesterday when W. J. Bryan delivered his speech.

Miss Kittie Johnson, of Newark, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Snowden.

Mrs. George Runyon is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. Hill, of Trenton.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Oct. 26.—The many friends of Miss May Cotton, a former member of the corps of teachers in the public school, will be pleased to learn that she has accepted a very nice position in one of the Brooklyn schools. Miss Cotton takes with her in her new surroundings the very best wishes of all her friends in the village.

The friends of Charles Layton, a veteran of the war of '61, are pleased to learn that he has been granted a pension. Mr. Layton made application several years ago but the case was put off from time to time and he had about given up hopes of ever receiving one. Several days ago a check was sent him for $750, the claim being allowed from the day his application was received.

The executive committee of the Republican Club are planning for one more trolley ride before the campaign closes. Due notice will be given all members and as this will probably be the last outing of the club the committee hope all will turn out and make the occasion one to be remembered.

A number of the teachers and scholars of the Baptist Sunday-school attended the annual convention of the Union County Sunday-school Association held in Trinity Reformed church, Plainfield, yesterday.

In the case of Frech against Lamade in Judge Clark's court, execution has been issued and levy made upon goods and chattels of defendant. Constable sale will be held on Monday, 29th inst.

Horace Hand, the genial secretary of Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., represented the above council at the State Council meeting this year which was held at Trenton Wednesday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, of Little Falls, this State, have been the guests for a short visit at the home of Loftus Hollingsworth.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., held an important meeting in their rooms last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Oct. 26—Mr. and Thomas Brantingham attended the marriage of their niece, Miss Bunting, of Piscataway, yesterday.

Dan Laing returned home yesterday after an eight weeks' stay in the Catskills. He is greatly improved in health.

There will be a Democratic meeting at New Market this evening, and a Republican rally tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Eckert returned yesterday from New York, where she was attending her father, who is very ill.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The performance of "Friend Fritz" in Music Hall last night by Marion Manola and a capable company of players was as pretty and entertaining a musical comedy as has been seen in this city in some time. The audience was small but appreciative.

* * * * * *

"A Romance of Coon Hollow," laid amid the mountains and glens of East Tennessee, comes to Music Hall tomorrow afternoon and night after over six years of success on the road, with a wealth of scenery and mechanical effects, and an acting company of the very best artists. The typical Southerner is an interesting character, and in "A Romance of Coon Hollow" he is not overdrawn or distorted. The play is produced with special scenery and mechanical effects, all of which are carried. A steamboat race on the Mississippi between the famous Robert E. Lee and Natchez, with the boats lighted and under full steam, is one. The old wood landing on the river is given with moonlight effects, and enlivened by a mad revel of singing and dancing. The episode of the burglary, a cotton compress in operation, give thrilling color to the word painting. A view of "Coon Hollow" at night, with electric, calcium and lime-light effects, is a new feature.

* * * * * *

In "A Spring Chicken," the new musical farce comedy which will be seen at Music Hall next Tuesday night, the characters introduced are such as one might encounter at any summer resort. A susceptible old fellow with money, a rube, Sheriff, a fresh young hotel clerk, a bunch of dancing gay soubrettes and chorus girls and other lively individuals, all sing and dance and cut merry capers. The cast is as follows: Chickweed, E H. O'Conner; Ida Hoe, Miss Gertrude Barnes; Liza Wright, Miss Harriet Clarke; Fuller Coyne, David Rivers; Lotta Noyes, Marie Williams; Con Daily, Syd A. Hughes; Ann Tique, Beatrice Jansen; Mrs. Spooner, Mlle Charmen; Wayback Lovejoy, E. S. Norton; Woodbury Mann, C. H. Kittredge and a chorus of well-trained voices.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK WAS TALKED ABOUT.

The last number on the programme for the afternoon was "Primary Work," and Miss Nettie Beeching, president of the Plainfield Primary and Junior Teachers' Union, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Powlison and Mrs. Baker, also members of the Union, and Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, of Elizabeth, took up the time devoted to this subject. They set forth the benefits of the summer school held at Asbury Park, and told of the methods and plans used in conducting work of the Union. The speakers were very interesting and they held the attention of all present.

The session adjourned at 5:30 o'clock and partook of the excellent supper prepared for them in the lecture room of the church. Mention should be made of the church decorations, which consisted of autumnal foliage. It was arranged by Miss Mary Berkaw, assisted by members of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity church.

An interesting evening session during which a most excellent address was delivered by C. D. Meigs, of Indianapolis, Ind., brought the session to a close. It was preceded by a song service, which concluded with Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. J. W. Richardson. At 8 o'clock the day's business was resumed with Rev. George Buckle, of Elizabeth, in charge. Three resolutions were adopted by the association, the first expressing regret at the inability of Vice-President Rev. C. S. Converse, of Union, to be present on account of illness and extending to him the sympathy of the association; second, That the association do all in its power to prevent as far as possible the sale of spirituous liquors: third, That a vote of thanks be extended to Trinity church for the use of the edifice and to all other schools which assisted in making the convention enjoyable. Reports were then given by the secretaries of the various townships.

The speaker of the evening, C. D. Meigs, associate editor of the Sunday-School Evangel, was introduced. Mr. Meigs is a very forcible speaker and his remarks held the closest attention of his listeners from start to finish. His subject was "Old Fogy and New Fogy Sunday-schools.

At the conclusion of Mr. Meigs' remarks a return greeting from the Epworth League convention at Elizabeth was read after which the session was brought to a close by the assemblage singing, "Blessed be the Tie that Binds." The next meeting place will be decided later by the executive committee and will probably be Rahway.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

A GYM FOR HOPE CHAPEL.

West End Society Will Build Up the Bodies of its Young Men.

Several contractors in this city are engaged at present in figuring on the plans for a gymnasium building to be erected by the trustees of Hope chapel in the rear of the present edifice. The plans call for a one-story building, 68 by 30 feet, with a reception room in front 16 by 30 feet. Space is to be left between the new building and the present bowling alley for the addition of another alley at any future time. The intended building is to be fitted up with all the paraphernalia necessary to a first-class gymnasium, and is to be for the use of the members of the Young Men's Association, an organization connected with the chapel. A. L. C. Marsh, of this city, is the architect. Work will be commenced on the new building as soon as possible.

A New Manager.

Richard Brown, of Jersey City, has been appointed manager of the paint store and business, formerly conducted by Marsh, Ayers & Co., by the owners, The C. A. Wooley Paint and Color Co., of Jersey City. John L Green, of the borough, is bookkeeper and will have charge of the store.

Architect for Institute.

Oscar Teal, of Washington Park, is the architect for the new Hackettstown Institute.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Rheinprovinz.

Köln. Vor der hiesigen Strafkammer gelangte jüngst das Schiffsunglück zur Aburtheilung, das sich am 11. Juli auf dem Rhein bei Wiesdorf durch Zusammenstoß eines Schraubendampfers mit einem Fährnachen zutrug, und bei welchem von den zehn Insassen des Bootes sieben, darunter der Fährmann selbst und drei seiner Söhne, ertranken. Wegen Außerachtlassung der ihm obliegenden Pflichten wurde der Kapitän des Dampfers, Johann Heitger, zu einem Monat Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Aachen. Dahier erschoß sich der Hauptmann Hannemann vom 40. Infanterie-Regiment.

Elversberg. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Pfarrer Pieper wegen 15 Jahre lang fortgesetzter, ganz bedeutender Unterschlagungen im Amte und Fälschung öffentlicher Urkunden zu fünf Jahren Zuchthaus und zum Verluste der bürgerlichen Ehrenrechte auf dieselbe Dauer.

Bohwinkel. Die Schwebebahn Bohwinkel-Elberfeld-Barmen, System Eugen Langen, wurde von Bohwinkel bis zur Barmer Grenze fertig gestellt.

Provinz Sachsen.

Halle. Durch Strafverfügung der Regierung in Merseburg ist ein hiesiger angesehener Einwohner, welcher sein Einkommen aus der von ihm früher betriebenen Fabrik jahrelang zu niedrig deklarirt hatte, mit 20,000 Mark Strafe und 2220 Mark Nachsteuer belegt worden. Derselbe hat es vorgezogen, den Betrag von 22,220 Mark Strafe und Nachsteuer an die hiesige Kreiskasse zu zahlen, ohne es auf gerichtliche Entscheidung ankommen zu lassen.

Hohenmölsen. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den schon mehrfach vorbestraften Arbeiter Koster wegen Straßenraubes in je zwei Fällen, ferner wegen Diebstahls im Rückfall zu 14 Jahren Zuchthaus.

Mühlhausen. Der Buchhalter Höhlein in der Paul'schen Brauerei ist nach Unterschlagung von 1200 bis 1500 Mark, die er zu kassiren hatte, flüchtig geworden.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Der 36 Jahre alte Kaufmann Karl Albert Wendel und die Dienstmagd Elise Bartelt, die wegen Brandlegung steckbrieflich verfolgt wurden, sind letzthin in einem Berliner Hotel verhaftet worden.

Ohlau. Vor Kurzem fand auf dem Gemeindefriedhofe in Ottig die Einweihung des seitens des Vereins ehemaliger Kameraden des 11. Grenadier-Regiments errichteten Grabdenkmals für den verstorbenen Unteroffizier Wilhelm Kosa statt. Kosa war aus dem Unteroffizier- und Gemeinenstande des Regiments der Einzige, der für hervorragende Tapferkeit im Kriege 1870 auf 1871 mit dem Eisernen Kreuze erster und zweiter Klasse ausgeschmückt worden war.

Oppeln. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den praktischen Arzt Dr. Hägele wegen falscher Anschuldigung richterlicher Beamten, sowie wegen Unterschlagung zu drei Jahren Gefängniß und fünf Jahren Ehrverlust.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Altona. Der aus dem Leckert-Lützow-Tausch-Prozesse bekannte Journalist Leckert ist geflohen. Er schrieb von hieraus unter dem Namen Larsen für Zeitungen, verübte aber Schwindeleien, so daß seine Verhaftung erfolgen sollte, wovon er jedoch Wind bekam.

Husum. Ein Theilnehmer an dem berühmten Todesritt von Mars-la-Tour am 16. August 1870, der im Jahre 1844 geborene Schneidergeselle Nickelmann, ist hier gestorben.

Provinz Westfalen.

Münster. Der Verein für Wiesenbau, Moor- und Haidekulturen hielt hier seine Generalversammlung ab. Laut dem vom Provinzialwiesenbaumeister Breme hierbei erstatteten Jahresberichte sind gegenwärtig in der Provinz Westfalen noch 320,000 Hektar leicht zu kultivirender Oedländereien vorhanden. Für gemeinschaftliche Meliorationsanlagen, intensive Kulturen, Riesel- und Polderanlagen sind bis jetzt in der Provinz fast 25,000,000 Mark aufgewendet worden. Der Verein besteht seit 1879.

Dortmund. Das Schwurgericht verurtheilte den Berginvaliden Bührer aus Schnee, der seinen Schwiegersohn Heinz ermordet hatte, zum Tode.

Hörde. Der Arbeiter Guhr stürzte auf dem Werke des Hörder Vereins in einen mit flüssigem Metall gefüllten Behälter und wurde binnen wenigen Augenblicken bis auf wenige Reste von der glühenden Masse verzehrt.

who are ruptured cannot locate the seat of the trouble unless taught by someone skilled in the business. They think they can—are positive they can—are willing to argue they can—yet five minutes explanation convinces them for all time they were mistaken. The chances are that all you have guessed about this matter is wrong.

What a Woman Buys to Be in Style in New York

The Economical Woman Is a Favored Mortal at the Present Time

There are no radical changes in STYLES

THE styles of the season, and that includes winter as well as the days of autumn, certainly favor the economical woman, for her last year's gowns may be worn another year without being out of style. Not that there are no changes, for there are, but they are comparatively few and unimportant, and even when made they do not replace the fashions that have been in vogue for the last year. There are modifications in sleeves and in skirts, but in both the old styles predominate, and so will really be the fashionable ones among the greater portion of womankind.

A HANDSOME TRAVELING COSTUME.

It may be early yet to attempt to judge of what the winter will bring forth, but I base my statement on a view of the earliest Paris importations. We were promised radical changes, but these importations do not carry out the expectations in this line, and while they are disappointing to a certain class of women who desire great and constantly changing variety they are received with favor by those whose purses make economy a necessity.

One of the slight changes that are noticeable is a tendency to go back to the bustle that has, since its banishment, several seasons ago, tried so hard to break into fashion's circle. It comes this year in a decidedly modest form, and is nothing more than a small pad or wire arrangement worn in the skirt a few inches below the waist line. As we have it now it is unobtrusive, and the woman without it is quite as well off as the woman with it.

The chief thing that is noticeable is the lack of extravagant elaboration and a tendency towards a growing refinement that cannot help but be pleasing to the cultured woman. What extravagance is seen is along the commendable lines of more beautiful materials and exquisite laces and trimmings, but they cannot be used with good effect where the outlines are not artistic and the colorings and combinations delicate and refined.

RECEPTION GOWN IN PEARL GRAY.

Pretty gowns for the FALL BRIDES

FALL weddings are a feature of the society functions of the day, and the trousseaus are elaborate affairs. The materials for wedding gowns are white, ivory or cream duchess satin, bengaline poplin silk, mushroom white glace silk, broche l'orient satins, crepe de chine silks, silk cashmere or nun's veiling, and fine French mousselines.

The more elaborate of the fall wedding gowns have been made with trains, and with them are worn veils, but these are the exceptions rather than the rule, and the majority of the autumn brides have been married in comparatively plain though very tasteful gowns.

The trousseau must necessarily include, of course, the traveling dress, reception and at home gowns, tea gowns and all the long list of garments for every special occasion, all of which seem to be more charming this year than ever before, though more simple.

One of the pretty tea gowns made for an autumn bride is of pale yellow chiffon draped over a soft flesh pink silk, with silk embroidery of pink around the bottom. The bodice is cut with deep V's in front and back, with eight rows of shirring, and three extra ones extending over the shoulder. The chiffon falls in graceful folds over the arm, and forming a short bodice in front and long in the back.

A pretty traveling costume is a coat and skirt made of a covert cloth in a dark gray. The seams have strapped bands that are stitched with white silk. The coat has a turnover collar and pointed revers.

A pretty reception gown is a study in pearl gray crepe de chine. The skirt has an elaborate system of tiny tucks around the bottom, with strappings which form encircling bands, and most decorative scrolls. The bodice is made with three plaits in clusters, caught with wee buttons covering the front. The yoke and neckband are of white satin, embroidered with gold paillettes, and the collar of string-covered lace threaded through with black velvet.

Some lesser things in the FASHION World

AND why not devote a paragraph or two to the many pretty novelties that the stores are so full of these autumn days. These novelties are quite as much a part of every perfect wardrobe as the most elaborate gowns; indeed, without them the elaborate gown would be but a poor affair.

A CHARMING BRIDAL TEA-GOWN.

Now for the coming horse show season a new novelty ribbon is sure to be among the popular accessories of dress. It is of a unique pattern, with horseshoes woven through it, and is proving attractive to every feminine lover of horses. It is also being used for picture frames, handkerchief cases and pin cushions by the equine fanciers.

A novelty in the way of hatpins has made its appearance this fall. It is one that will not injure the hat, and to prevent this has little catches sewn to the hat under the rim close to the head on either side. The hatpins themselves are like extra long hairpins, with heads which will not go through the little catches. The pins go through and fasten securely into the hair, holding the hat in place. They are really excellent. There can be elaborate heads to these pins also, but, alas! they hardly show at all.

Lace medallions framing a bit of painted or embroidered silk are having considerable vogue and make a lovely trimming to evening capes. If one likes the empire effects they are quite appropriate on a garment of this sort. Very remarkable is an empire cloak of black lace the pattern about the bottom having inserted pieces of silk panne something after the medallion fashion The lace falls over lining of pink silk. The sleeves and short directoire jacket are of black satin heavily embroidered in jets. Behind there are two long ends that fall from the jacket, slightly shaped, like elongated coattails.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 28—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Do not worry.—Math. vi, 25-34.

Life is crowded with careworn and worry ridden people. Thousands are overanxious about meat and drink and about the morrow who have no concern about the great future beyond the grave. But not only among the unsaved are those who worry to be found, but they also exist among the people of God. This should not be. Worry is a sin. It is distrust of God and of the promises of God. It is a result of attaching undue importance to the less important things of life. If we seek first the kingdom of God and keep the kingdom of God first in our lives, we will not worry over meat and drink. He who gives due prominence to the spiritual will find that he will not need to worry about the temporal, for God will take care of that.

Christ in this part of the sermon on the mount not only warns against the folly of worry, but also shows by reason and by illustration the needlessness of it. He suggests three reasons why we should not be overanxious or worry about meat or drink or our future temporal wants:

1. We should not worry because God gives us our lives. "Life is more than meat, and the body than raiment." God gave us life. God made our bodies. These are more than meat for the life and raiment for the body. Therefore, if God has given us the greater, we can depend on Him for the less. He who created life can certainly be depended on to sustain it. He who made the body will not allow it to want for clothing. Having given the greater, we can safely rely upon Him for the less.

2. We should not worry because God cares for that which is less valuable than man and will therefore provide for man. He feeds the fowls of the air; He clothes the lilies of the field. But what are the fowls of the air, what are the lilies of the field, compared to man, who has been created in God's image and redeemed by the precious blood of the Son of God? If God cares for the grass of the field, which today is and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how can we ever doubt that He will care for and provide for us?

3. We should not worry; worry is fruitless. "Which of you, by taking thought, can add one cubit to his stature?" Worry is useless—it is worse than useless. It not only does no good, but it does harm. It unfits us for the accomplishment of the very purposes over which we worry.

What God does is a full guarantee of what God will do. Let us not, then, be overanxious about the present or the future. Trustfulness becomes the Christian much better than overanxiety. Let us trust and never be afraid.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a roll call service, each one responding as his name is called.

BIBLE READINGS.

Job xxxviii, 41; Ps. xvi, 1-11; xxiii, 1-6; xxvii, 1-14; Luke xii, 22-31; Rom. viii, 1-6; Phil. iv, 6-13; Heb. xiii, 5, 6; I Pet. v, 6, 7.

More Faith.

I hear men everywhere praying for more faith, but when I listen to them carefully and get at the real heart of their prayers, very often it is not more faith at all that they are wanting, but a change from faith to sight.

"What shall I do with sorrow that God has sent me?"

"Take it up and bear it and get strength and blessing out of it."

"Ah, if I only knew what blessing there is in it, if I saw how it would help me, then I could bear it. What shall I do with this hard, hateful duty which Christ has laid right in my way?"

"Do it and grow by doing it."

"Ah, yes, if I could only see that it would make me grow!"

In both of these cases you do not see that what you are begging for is not more faith, although you think it is, but sight.

You want to see for yourself the blessing in the sorrow, the strength in the hard and hateful task.

Faith says not, "I see that it is good for me, and so God must have seen it," but "God sent it, and so it must be good for me."

Faith, walking in the dark with God, only prays Him to clasp its hand more closely; does not even ask Him for the lighting of the darkness so that the man may find the way himself.—Phillips Brooks.

The Lamp of Faith.

Matthew Arnold once said that the duty and privilege of his life consisted in bearing forward the lamp of life for his father. So, I believe, you and I should take this lamp of faith that our fathers lighted, should fill it and quicken it and make it more glowing, and should not only press it faithfully to our breasts, that it may guide our individual feet in the devious paths of life, but we ought to come out with it and carry it into the dark corners of poverty and shame and sin and human need and suffering, so that it may become, indeed, not only a light to us, but a "light that lighteth every one who cometh into the world."—Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham.

Tact.

Talent will carry a man a long distance, but tact will carry him a step farther. He who has great talent and little tact will be rated at less than he is, but he who has great tact and little talent will be accorded a place of honor. With some tact is a birthright; with others it is acquired by hard work and in the face of many failures. Like all other gifts of nature, it does not fall into the lap, but it may be had by purpose and effort. A few brief rules may be in place to help the tactless to be tactful.—Rev. Dwight E. Marvin in Advance.

CAPTURED A GENERAL.

Lieut. Johnston, Who Performed the Feat, Tells How the Surrender Was Brought About.

Not every young officer in the Philippine service has the good fortune to capture a Filipino general. Of course, generals are plentiful enough among the insurgents, but Gen. Hizon, whom Lieut. John S. Johnston, of the Forty-first infantry, recently made a prisoner, was a figure of much importance among the ill-conditioned troops who are waging their warfare against our sovereignty in the Philippines. Lieut. Johnston does not boast of his capture as a great exploit. On the contrary, he says: "It was one of the greatest pieces of bullheaded luck that ever happened to me. Here is how it occurred: I was out with a detachment of four soldiers and a native. About noon we entered the plaza of San Jose. I observed a man leaving the convent of the village church and crossing a field toward a line of bamboo which fringed the edge of the stream. At the thicket he was met by a servant with a horse, which he mounted and made off in the direction of the Culabasa road. I sent two of my men to head him off.

LIEUT. JOHN G. JOHNSTON.
(Young Illinois Soldier Who Captured a Filipino General.)

"He led the chase for about a mile, I in direct pursuit. My pony got tangled up in the branches and I was nearly out of the race. But an accident had also happened to the pursued. His horse had slipped and thrown him, breaking his arm and severely spraining his ankle. He tried to conceal himself under the bank of the stream, but was discovered by Private Wheeler. Arriving myself a few moments later, he surrendered to me, telling me who he was. His splendid gray pony escaped."

Young Johnston is a native of Illinois and a graduate of the state university. He served with distinction in the Spanish-American war.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 28, "Do Not Worry"—Text, Math. vi, 25-34.

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God."

Distraction and distrust are the two evils which our Lord here warns against. He has been showing the impossibility of two ruling motives or powers being followed. One cannot be absorbed by worldly things and also alert in matters of the spirit. If calculations of gain or fashion or fun are uppermost in the mind the purity and peace of godliness will be covered up or driven out. They do not mix well. But God ought to be served fully, therefore do not be distracted by fears as to the future. Do today's duty diligently and trust God to fix work and wages for the future. You can confide in Him for the uniform running of the world. He knows your needs. He has even provided in His system that birds shall be fed and lilies beautified, though neither has power of reason to lay up provision for the future.

This is not an impracticable vision of things nor a fanatical release from labor and prudent foresight. There is nothing in this sermon on the mount which the humble Christian cannot now practice in any land or legitimate occupation. It does not abolish the necessity for patient toil nor absolve from the duty to carefully calculate and economize resources. It gives no warrant for thriftless mendicancy nor presumptuous idleness. It is a high, clear note calling for firm confidence in God as able and willing to care for His own and the peaceful pursuit of daily labor in hopefulness.

Tenderness and Sensitiveness.

These are far from being the same. In fact are often widely separated. Sensitiveness frequently is found associated with selfishness. Care for your own comfort if not controlled may make you careless of the rights of others. Tenderness of heart for others' needs will bravely bear trials and harsh circumstances uncomplainingly until one actually comes not to feel the nettle sting of slight and scorn. We too much pity ourselves and spend too little sympathy for others. If one must toil in this world there is wisdom in letting the callous places of the hands harden that the rough things of life may be more readily grasped and wielded. Blisters come at first, but they will heal. Cultivate some measure of indifference to the criticisms of others and you shall suffer less and be wiser. Increase your tenderness of touch in dealing with other souls and you shall find it far better than overmuch regard for your own ease and pleasure.

To Their Posts.

Bishop Moore goes to China. His official residence was fixed at Shanghai by the general conference. His post will be an important one.

Bishop Vincent takes up his residence in Zurich, Switzerland, and will have oversight of the work in Europe during the quadrennium.

Bishop Warren sailed for Manila in the early summer, as the work demanded immediate attention. Bishop Thoburn remains in this country a while to recruit his shattered health. Bishop Parker returns to India this autumn.

Dr. W. P. Thiekield is removed from the general secretaryship of the League to the secretaryship of the Freedmen's Aid society and will have headquarters at Cincinnati.

Dr. T. B. Neely removes from Philadelphia to New York and takes charge of the office of secretary of the Sunday School union and Tract societies.

League Rally.

After the summer and its vacation interruption of work come the autumn reunions, with cooler weather, longer evenings and the need of plans for vigorous campaigning. Let the machinery be overhauled and got in order at once. No need of waiting until the storms of winter set in. Begin now. Talk it up; arouse interest; get together and start the devotional department on a new track of vigorous effort for advance work. Socials are good. Have some live music and refreshments, with greetings after absence, but don't neglect the religious work in the first spoke of the wheel. Meet and pray together; not dull and lifeless dragging, but short, earnest, heartfelt petition for God's presence and help. Talk cheeringly and helpfully. Get into line yourself and call others to fall in and move ahead—now, not next January!

New Leaders.

In the missionary society Dr. A. B. Leonard is chief secretary and Mr. H. R. Carroll first assistant. Rev. W. F. Oldham, D. D., of Columbus, has also been elected as assistant and will probably present the missionary cause to the church at large in pulpit and on platform

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

While nobody was particularly happy to see the Alis A. A. defeated last Saturday by the Orient F. C., of Newark, the defeat will probably serve the usual purpose of waking up the local players to a realization of the fact that they need more practice and better training. The visitors were in fine physical condition while the Plainfield boys had made no preparation for the game save a little practice in signals a few evenings before. As soon as the Alis boys realize that they must take care of themselves during the week and keep in some kind of training, then will the local team make a far better showing than it did last week.

That game should have been won by the Alis team. They outclassed their opponents in the first half but in the second they simply became demoralized. While the visitors played a rough game that temporarily disabled many of the local players, they played hard, snappy football which won the game for them. When time was called, they were comparatively fresh while the Alis boys were tired out. Had the Alis team been able to hold the same pace in the second half that they set in the first, they would have won an overwhelming victory even against the rough play of the Orient team. The result of that game should be an object lesson to the Alis eleven.

An important problem which Captain Roy. T. Phillips of the Alis A. A. team will have to solve before tomorrow is to find a quarterback. Houston, the crack little quarterback from Cranford who made such a good showing at the beginning of the season, is out of the game for the present on account of a disabled shoulder. Dumont, who played in that position last week, will not be able to play again. At the practice last evening, a new candidate for the position appeared in Allan Taylor, older brother of James Taylor who has done such good service on the Alis team. Allan Taylor used to be one of the best running backs in the city and played a strong game despite his light weight. He has not played now for several years but will probably be tried at quarter next Saturday. He lacks training, however, and may not be able to stand the entire game.

ROD AND GUN.

Dr. D. C. Adams, of Grove street, and J. A. Smith, of Central avenue, will leave tomorrow for Virginia, where they will spend some time hunting game.

FINE MUSICAL TALENT.

Appreciative Audience Listened to the Programme Rendered for Benefit of St. Peter's Church.

The concert given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening for the benefit of St. Peter's Lutheran church, attracted a large and appreciative audience.

The contralto solos by Mrs. F. M. Ward called forth hearty applause. Her first selection was "Aria from Sampson and Delilah," and in part second she sang "In Springtime," with violin obligato by Arthur S. Mosher. Other special features of part first of the programme included the tenor solo, "Flight of Ages," by George Smith, and a soprano and contralto duet, "I Feel Thy Angel Spirit," by Miss Mabelle B. Smith and Miss Grace Teller. The audience was somewhat disappointed to learn that on account of an injured finger Fred VanEps would be unable to play the banjo. His place was taken by Wm. Bowen, of Newark.

Herr Julius Schulz, pianist, of the New York University, rendered "Grand Fantasia de Faust." The orchestra, under the direction of Martin A. Korff, did excellent work. Their first selection was "College Songs," and part two was opened with "Cupid's Dream," and closed with "Administration March."

In the second half of the programme Wm. Holmes, baritone, was a feature. He sang "Best of All," by F. Moir, and later on he and George Smith sang "Excelsior," in a commendable manner. Another feature of this half of the programme was the cornet and trombone solos by Morris and Chris. Sorensen, accompanied by the orchestra They played "Beyond the Gates of Paradise."

Those who composed the orchestra included Martin Korff, leader; Arthur S. Mosher, Dayton Hoagland, Robert Speir, George C. M. Smith, violins; Dr. J. F. Berg, 'cello; Jacob Byer, bass; Claus Wallender, Herbert Harold, clarionets; Morris Sorensen, Chris Wallender, cornets; Chris. Sorensen, trombone; A. G. Carpenter, piano. The accompanists of the evening were Miss Jessie Utter and D. Stuart Pope, and they assisted much in making the affair a success.

AGED WOMAN DEAD.

She Had Suffered With Hernia for Years Without Telling Any of Her Friends.

Miss Mary B. Brown, aged 81 years, died last evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Albert V. Nolan, 720 Watchung avenue, with whom she has lived during the past twelve years. Miss Brown had been a sufferer for forty years with hernia, and she never disclosed the fact to anyone. Recently her condition became such that medical aid was summoned. An operation was considered absolutely necessary as the chances were against the patient otherwise. Drs. T. H. Tomlinson and Rolland Tomlinson, assisted by Dr. W. H. Murray, performed the operation last night, but the patient was too weak to survive it, and she died an hour afterward.

Miss Brown was a member of the Unitarian church and the Rasores Club, of this city. She was a native of Boston. She was a woman of rare attainments and possessed a great many excellent qualities. She was loved and esteemed by all who knew her, and she will be greatly missed.

Funeral of L. W. Coles.

The funeral of the late Lemuel Coles was held from the house on West Front street Wednesday evening, and was conducted by Rev. Dr. W. C. Nelson. GIFTS TO GAGHANITES.

THE NOTED ASSOCIATION THE SUBJECT OF MANY BENEVOLENCES.

Its Rooms Resembled a "Rummage Sale"—Members Were Filled With Philanthropic Impulses.

When all the members of the Gaghan Association had taken their places Tuesday evening, the rooms presented the appearance of a modern curiousity shop or the Jackson building during the heigth of the rummage sale. Articles of every description were placed around the association hall, while several Gaghanites kept clamoring that there was more outside or on the way. The reason for this unusual display, the president explained, was due to his appeal for donations to use in furnishing the meeting rooms. For several weeks past various members had been unable to gain a seat with the result that Seargeant Totten had become lame from standing. Others declared that unless there were more conveniences furnished they would refuse to pay their dues. This latter threat had the desired effect but upon investigation no money was found in the association vault and the president was forced to issue the call for help, relying on the generosity of the respective members.

The result was far beyond everyones expectation as there seemed to be no limit to the gifts. First of all, and one which greatly increased the respect for the donator, was the presentation of the famous barouche by the president himself. To what use the vehicle could be put in the rooms the honored leader did not state, but the gift was accepted with a vote of thanks. Charlie Hall explained that a certain curious affair in one corner was his notorious "day lamp" which burned best in the day time. He had had bought it for his wheel but after due thought concluded to give it to the association for use in case of an accident at the power station.

Considerable surprise was occasioned by a gift from Aleck Martin, which strongly resembled an artifical limb. Aleck was present and declared that since he had been on the street cars he had no further use for the article and thought the association might use it. Winzenreid reported that at a great cost to himself he had decided to donate his pedigree cow which gave buttermilk. When several members openly declared this was an impossible feat, John indignantly asked, "What else could a cow give, but her milk?" The doubting Thomases made no reply.

Other gifts reported were a pair of Dublin walking brogans from Billy Mitchell, a barrel of Springdale apples from Mark Hipp and a new harp from Mike Nevins.

A loud cheer was given by all present where Conroy arose and with tears in his eyes gave up his Irish collie, which a friend had sent him from Ireland, C. O. D. Howard Manning had no gift but offered to build benches about the room, in order that the members, including Totten, might have a seat. The offer was opposed by some on the ground that he was in the habit of building three-legged stools. A dispute arose as to the merits and demerits of Manning's carpentry, when the circuit was cut by the Sergeant and the members dispersed.

AN ORDINANCE

Granting Permission to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its Successors and Assigns, to Lay and Maintain Underground Conduits, Cables, Wires and Manholes for Electrical conductors in the Borough of North Plainfield, New Jersey, to be used for Telephone and Telegraph purposes.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, as follows:

Section 1. That the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to construct and maintain for the uses and purposes of its business aforesaid, a system of subways and underground conduits, including the necessary manholes and street openings, and lateral connections to property lines beneath the surface of the streets, avenues and other highways of the Borough of North Plainfield, and to place, maintain and operate in said system of subways or underground conduits, the wires, cables or other electrical conductors necessary for its said business; also to construct, maintain and operate for such purposes a system of electrical conductors in connection with the necessary poles for distribution from the electrical conductors to be placed in the subways or underground conduits hereinbefore mentioned;

Provided that said company shall in no instance make any excavation in any street or public place in said borough without having first obtained written permission so to do from the Chairman of the Committee on Streets of said Borough specifying the location of such proposed excavation, and that no such permission shall be given unless the said company shall then have on deposit with the Borough Clerk the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars to guarantee the restoration of such street or public place to the condition hereinafter specified and which said sum or the remainder thereof shall be returned to said company whenever it shall have completed such restoration to the satisfaction of the Mayor and Council.

Section 2. And be it further ordained that the following streets, avenues and highways and parts thereof are hereby designated for the construction of the underground conduits of said company, to be opened in each instance only after the granting permission as specified in Section one of this ordinance:

Somerset street, Green Brook to Prospect avenue,
Grove street, Green Brook to Prospect avenue,
Westervelt avenue, Green Brook to Mountain avenue,
Watchung avenue, Green Brook to Coddington avenue,
Washington avenue, Green Brook to Rockview avenue,
Sycamore avenue, Green Brook to Rockview avenue,
Park Place, Somerset street to Mercer avenue,
Mercer avenue, Duer street to Rockview avenue,
Jackson avenue, Somerset street to Franklin avenue,
Grandview avenue, Somerset street to Franklin avenue,
Myrtle avenue, Willow avenue to West End avenue,
Willow avenue, Washington avenue to West End avenue,
Rockview avenue, Grove street to West End avenue,
Green Brook Road, Somerset street to West End avenue,
and all other streets, avenues and highways of said borough as may be necessary, and from time to time designated in permits granted by resolution of the Mayor and Council of said Borough for the construction of such conduits; said company may on the same streets, avenues and parts thereof, erect the necessary poles, fixtures and supports for distributing its electrical conductors along, across and above the surface of the streets in connection with said subways; said poles shall be placed inside and within eighteen (18) inches of and adjacent to the curb line, and shall be erected only under written permit from the Street Commissioner; said cables shall in all cases be placed under the carriage way, and within five (5) feet of the curb line, unless obstructions make it necessary to go further from the curb line, and then only after permission has been granted by written permission from the Chairman of the Street Committee and shall be placed at least eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the street.

Section 3. And be it further ordained that the said manholes shall be located beneath the surface of the streets at such points along the line of the subways or underground conduits as may be necessary or convenient for placing and operating the electrical conductors which the said company may from time to time place in said subways or underground conduits, and shall be so constructed as not to interfere with the passage of the public over and along the said street, and the said company shall restore any street or avenue which may be disturbed in the construction or maintenance of said subways or conduits and manholes to the condition in which it was at the commencement of the work thereon, and free from any cost or expense whatever to the Borough of North Plainfield. And the said company and its servants and employees in the laying of any wires or conduits, in excavating or replacing the earth in any street, alley or public place, and of the pavement thereon, shall be under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and shall promptly comply with any order of said Commissioner in reference thereto, but shall in no case be deemed or held to be the servants or agents of the borough.

The earth removed in making any excavation shall be restored and the pavement taken up shall be relaid by the said company in as good condition as before the making of such excavation or taking up of such pavement, and thereafter shall be maintained in as good condition as the surrounding pavement, until such street, avenue or highway in each case shall be repaved by the Borough. No street, avenue, alley or public place shall be incumbered for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the work for which the excavation is made. The cost of restoring the earth or otherwise, arising from such excavations, and the laying of pavements and repairs thereto, caused by the opening of any such avenue, street, alley or public place, shall be paid by said company, and said work shall be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

In case the company shall fail to restore, relay or repair any pavement or street surface within forty-eight (48) hours after receiving notice from the Street Commissioner that such work is required, said Street Commissioner shall have the right to cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the company.

Section 4. And be it further ordained that said company shall indemnify the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield against, and assume all liability and damages which may at any time arise, come or occur to said Borough from any injury to persons or property from the doing of any work herein mentioned, or from any neglect of the company or its employees or from any failure of the company to comply with the provisions of any ordinance of the Borough relative to the use of streets or other public places, especially as to the putting up of lights or barriers at or around excavations; and the acceptance by the company of this ordinance shall be an agreement by it to pay to the Mayor and Council of North Plainfield any sum of money for which the Borough may become liable from or by reason of any such injury and damage.

Section 5. And be it further ordained that all poles now erected in the streets or public places of said Borough belonging to said company and all poles hereafter erected by said company in any of said streets or public places shall within a reasonable time be properly painted and made sightly, and shall be so kept by said company.

Section 6. And be it further ordained that nothing in this, or any previous ordinance or grant of the Borough of North Plainfield shall be claimed, held or construed to give said New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors, lessees or assigns, any exclusive right to the use of any street, avenue or public place of said Borough, but that said Borough shall at all times be at liberty to grant like rights and privileges to any other person or persons, corporation or corporations, and that whenever in the prosecution or making of any public improvement in said Borough, such as the laying of sewers or drains, water pipes, gas pipes, the changing of street grades, the widening or improvement of any street, avenue or public place, or any similar public work, it shall become or be deemed by the said Mayor and Council necessary or desirable that any conduit or conduits, subway or subways, manhole or manholes, lateral connection or connections, pole or poles, wire or wires, or other appliance of said company in any such street, avenue or public place, shall be moved, changed or altered in position or location the same shall be so moved, changed or altered in position by said company at its own expense within ten days after written notice by the Street Commissioner of said Borough to said company served at its nearest local office that such movement, change or alteration is required, and further that said Borough shall not be in any wise liable for any injury to any property of said company done in the reasonable prosecution by or on behalf of said Borough of any public work or improvement; nor shall said Borough be in anywise liable for any damage or injury to any property of said company resulting directly or indirectly from any failure of said company to comply as aforesaid with any such notice.

Section 7. And be it further ordained that the said company shall file with the Mayor or Borough Clerk its acceptance of this ordinance within twenty (20) days from the date when such ordinance shall take effect, and shall also file with the Borough Treasurer a satisfactory bond with sureties approved by the Mayor in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) that it will faithfully comply with and perform all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Section 8. And be it further ordained that the said the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company shall provide sufficient space in said subways or underground conduits to accommodate the telegraph or telephone wires or conductors operated from time to time by the Police, Fire or other departments of the Borough of North Plainfield, and permit such use thereof by the Borough free of charge.

Section 9. And be it further ordained that said company shall pay into the Borough Treasury all advertising and printing fees incurred by the Borough under this ordinance, and that this ordinance shall take effect on the ninth day of November, A. D. nineteen hundred.

Approved October 19, 1900.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN

Big County Demonstration and Parade at Elizabeth Monday Evening.

PLAINFIELDERS WILL GO.

CLOSING MASS-MEETING TO BE HELD HERE THURSDAY NIGHT.

Congressman Charles N. Braum Will Be the Chief Speaker—Was Chosen on Account of His Successful Speech at Reform Hall.

Election day is scarcely more than a week away. Compared with that of four years ago the campaign has been a very quiet one. Both parties have held mass-meetings, large and small, but of the parades and other spectacular adjuncts of campaign times, there has been an entire absence. As the last ten days of the campaign are here the Republicans now feel the need of stirring up a little enthusiasm among their local supporters.

Two happenings of interest to Plainfield Republicans are planned for the coming week. Monday night the largest Republican demonstratton seen in Union county will take place at Elizabeth. There will be a monster parade in which 2,500 Republicans and advocates of "sound money" from all over the county are expected to participate. The affair has been planned by the city central committee of Elizabeth, but the county committee has given its sanction to the demonstration and an effort is being made to get the Republicans of the entire county in line and make it a county demonstration rather than one confined to the city of Elizabeth alone.

J. Smylie Tucker, secretary of the central committee, has invited the ward organizations and all the voters of the city through the campaign committee to participate in the parade and it is probable that Plainfield will send a delegation to the county seat to take part in the parade.

Plainfield has no uniformed campaign clubs but there are many young men who are willing to turn out for the occasion. Some of the ward organizations may send delegations and there is some talk of the formation of temporary organizations of the young men for the parade so that they may march together and not among the unattached paraders.

Those who are to participate in the parade will leave this city Monday evening on the train, leaving the North Avenue station at 7:06. At Elizabeth, they will take the Elizabeth avenue car to Elizabeth avenue and Third street and go to Liberty Park near by, where the parade will be formed. The procession will start at 8 o'clock sharp and will march to the uptown districts and there disband.

Elizabeth's companies of Rough Riders, the Frelinghuysen Lancers, of Newark, the Fowler Battery, of Rahway, and uniformed clubs from Orange, Montclair, Newark, Bayonne, Jersey City and other cities will be in line. Then there will be a number of ununiformed "sound money" clubs from Elizabeth and other places.

Plainfield itself will have no parade before Election Day but the Republican city campaign committee has planned for a last grand rally, to be held at Music Hall Thursday night. It was originally planned to wind up the campaign in Plainfield with a big mass meeting on the eve of election as was done four years ago. On account of the difficulty of getting a good speaker that night, the local committee has decided in favor of the meeting Thursday night.

Considering that New Jersey is assured for McKinley and Roosevelt, the Republican National committee has withdrawn all the speakers of National reputation from this State and sent them to the doubtful places. Plans to secure some of the best of the country's orators for this city have consequently been changed.

Everybody who heard Congressman Charles N. Braum at the Fourth Ward rally at Reform hall Wednesday evening was pleased with him. He was a genuine surprise and awoke more enthusiasm at that gathering than has been seen at any political meeting in Plainfield this campaign. So pleased were the members of the committee on speakers with him that they have decided that he will be just the man to address the closing mass meeting in Music Hall next week.

This was not accomplised without difficulty, however. The national committee offered the services of Ellis H. Roberts, Treasurer of the United States, as the best available speaker assigned to New Jersey. Congressman Braum had been assigned to Phillipsburg for Thursday night but a vigorous effort resulted in a change of assignments and Plainfield will have another chance to hear the man who represents the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania in Congress.

FINED $20 FOR CRUELTY

ALBERT BRINKLEY MALTREATED A DOG OWNED BY HIM.

Beat the Animal With a Club and Then Gashed With a Razor and Let it Run in the Streets.

The case of Albert Brinkley, who was charged by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals with having abused and tortured a dog, was heard before Judge Clark in Scotch Plains yesterday afternoon. Brinkley is a resident of Plainfield, living on Berckman street.

The complaint was made by Wm. N. Pangborn, agent for the society. The complainant charged the defendant with unmercifully beating several days ago a dog belonging to him. After failing to kill the animal by beating it, it was charged he procured a razor and proceeded to finish the job by cutting the poor brutes throat.

In this he was only partly successful. After making the attempt he allowed the dog to run about the place and out upon the street howling with pain but made no effort to end the animal's misery until the neighbors arose in arms and threatened him with arrest. Then he became scared and procuring the razor once more finished the ghastly work.

The matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Pangborn and a warrant was sworn out against the man. Brinkley's defence was that it was a put up job on him by his neighbors, who did not like him. Judge Clark thought the evidence presented warranted him in making some sort of an example of the case so as to warn others who delight in abusing dumb animals, so the prisoner was fined $20 and the cost of the court.

DISTRICT LEAGUE.

Tenth Annual Convention in St. James Church, in Elizabeth—Officers Chosen.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Oct. 27—The tenth annual convention of the Epworth League in the Elizabeth district of the Newark conference met here Thursday in St. James M. E. church. This district takes in the League societies of the churches in Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield, Roselle, Rahway, Cranford, Whitehouse and Tottenville, S. I.

Two hundred delegates and many friends were at the opening of the convention. An address of welcome was made by Rev. Dr. George Willing, pastor of the church, in which the convention was held. Moreland T. Townley, of Westfield, made the response. Following this came the report of the standing and special committees and the appointment of committees for next year. The afternoon and evening was devoted to general business and the election of officers.

MEETING OF THE D. A. R.

Somerville Chapter Entertains New Jersey Members.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Oct. 27—The meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution of New Jersey was held here Wednesday in the First Reformed church. General Frelinghuysen Chapter and Miss E. Ellen Batcheller, State Regent, received the delegates. Mrs. Hardwicke, regent of the local chapter made the address of welcome, which was responded to by Miss Batcheller.

Mrs. Mary Cravan Thomas, of Bound Brook, Miss Forsythe, vice-president general, of New York, Mrs. Washington A. Roebling, vice-president general of New Jersey, and Mrs. Bedle, regent of the Paulus Chapter, also made addresses.

Railroad Company Blamed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, October 27.—The Coroner's jury in the case of Frank Meideiski, who was killed at the Middagh street crossing of the Central Railroad, brought in a verdict yesterday that the deceased met his death by being struck by an engine of the Central Railroad, and censuring the company for not providing a flagman at that crossing. The boy's father has brought suit against the company. Dungan & Reger are his counsel.

A Loyal Partisian.

In one of the front windows of Street Commissioner Doud's home on Duer street, "old glory" and portraits of President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt are displayed and during the evening a large lighted lamp is placed behind the flag and pictures, causing a very attractive and pretty sight.

Out of the Hospital.

Fred Breem, of the fire department, who has been the hospital under treatment for appendicitis, was discharged Thursday and he has returned to his home in West Second street.

QUEER BASIS FOR A WOMAN'S SUIT

Resident of Scotch Plains Asks $50,000 from New York Woman for Delicate Services.

SHE RECOVERED LETTERS.

WEALTHY WOMAN FELL IN LOVE WITH HER BROTHER.

When the Latter Died Mrs. Gynette Got the Correspondence That the New York Woman Had Written and Gave to the Latter.

Mrs. Anna Gynette, of Scotch Plains, has brought suit against Mrs. Ida Webster, of New York, wealthy in her own right and the wife of a Charles B. Webster, formerly a member of a large department store firm, for $50,000 The basis of the suit, she alleges, is a promised reward for the delicate services she rendered Mrs. Webster in securing and handing over certain letters, the publication of which would have been decidedly compromising.

In her statement filed Mrs. Gynette does not mince matters, and mentions that the other party to the letters was her brother, Louis Matthei, who committed suicide a few years ago.

Mrs. Webster is now in Europe, but her counsel, James A. Deering, denounced the suit as blackmail. Justice McAdam, in the Supreme Court Wednesday, refused to place the suit on the preferred calendar.

Mrs. Gynette, without preliminary, sets forth in her statement that Mrs. Webster was in the "early eighties a widow, when she married Mr. Webster. Feeling a desire to travel abroad in 1889, she left her husband behind and sailed. Before going she engaged as courier and guide Mrs. Gynette's brother, Louis Matthei."

Matthei accompanied her in a year's wandering, the complaint avers, and during that time Mrs. Webster became more attached to him than strict conventionality requires. She did not release him when they returned in 1890, and made long tours of this country.

The following year, continues Mrs. Gynette's affidavit, Matthei fell in love with a young girl and married her. He tried to shake off his ensnarer, but she would not be forsaken without a struggle. She wrote to him many letters, couched in endearing terms.

It was the recovery of these letters and their return to Mrs. Webster that she demands the $50,000 for.

When she handed over the diary and letters she demanded the $50,000, but was put off with the statement that she was entitled to nothing. She then commenced her suit.

MISER FOUND DEAD.

He Lived Alone in South Bound Brook and Was Last Seen Alone on Monday Last.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Oct. 27.—The decomposed body of Peter Conlin, an aged carpet weaver, was found in his home in South Bound Brook Thursday afternoon. Conlin lived alone, and was believed to be a miser who hoarded money in his home. He was last seen alive Monday. A milkman who called at his house every morning was surprised to find the milk which he left inside a window accumulating, and an investigation followed. Conlin was found dead in his bed and there were suspicions of foul play. County Physician Wagoner, however, believes that the man died from natural causes. Conlin's neighbors say that he always kept a large amount of money in bank bills concealed in an old Bible, which he showed when he paid a bill. A search of the house by the authorities failed to reveal any trace of the Bible or money, but a heavy gold ring, wrapped in an old rag, was found on the floor near the bed. Conlin's purse, containing a small sum of money, had not been disturbed.

Notables Posed.

The pictures shown in the presentation of "Miss Jerry," the picture play by Alexander Black, are drawn from actual photographs taken especially for this play. Chauncey M. Depew, Mr. Dunn, New York's weather prophet, and other prominent people posed especially for the pictures appearing in the different scenes. Mr. Black will appear in the Y. M. C. A. star course Monday.

DEAD MAN IDENTIFIED

RAILROAD VICTIM PROVES TO HAVE BEEN JAMES O'NEIL.

Formerly Worked at Pond Tool Works and Identification Made by Some of the Employes There.

Just in time to prevent the burial in an unknown grave, Thursday morning's railroad victim has been positively identified. According to the statement of a score of employes of the Pond Tool Works the man was James O'Neil, and had been employed in the foundry department of the shop some time ago. Among those who are positive of his identity are Patrick McNamara and William Spencer. The former says that he roomed with O'Neil for a short time during his stay in this city. The man came here from High Bridge where he has a married sister. Another married sister is said to reside in Philadelphia It is generally believed that O'Neil was coming to this city on a freight train and as their is a steep grade at Clinton avenue, attempted to get off at that point. In some manner he must have fallen beneath the wheels and was ground to death. Chief Kiely has communicated with the authorities both at High Bridge and Philadelphia in the hopes of getting a trace of either of the sisters. He has hopes of hearing from them before the day is over.

CONVENTION ECHO MEETING

Park Avenue Baptist Christian Endeavorers Heard of the Great Assemblage at Jersey City.

A convention echo meeting was held last evening by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and there was a very large attendance. Miss Annie W. Wyckoff, president of the society, led the meeting. A report of the recent State Christian Endeavor Society convention was given by Miss Cora Brokaw; in addition to which five-minute talks upon the subject "What one thing impressed me during the Convention," were given by Rev. Chas. A. Francis and Arthur N. Pierson, of Westfield; E. E. Anthony, of the Trinity Reformed church society. These remarks were very helpful and interesting, and the report of Miss Brokaw was most excellent, holding the close attention of the audience from beginning to end.

Features of the service was a vocal solo "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown," by Thomas A. Cuming, and two selections, "Sunlight," and "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go, Dear Lord," by a quartette composed of Miss Ada Runyon, Miss Florence Hawkins, David M. Runyon and Wheaton S. Lowry. These selections were used at Jersey City during the convention.

After the meeting a social time was enjoyed and refreshments served by the committee from the society. A number of visiting delegates were present from the Christian Endeavor societies of this city, Westfield and Dunellen.

PASTOR'S RECEPTION.

Rev. J. W. Richardson Will Entertain Members of His Congregation.

The pastor's reception tendered the church and congregation by Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson will occur on Thursday evening November 1st. From 8 until 8:30 o'clock the pastor and wife will receive. A rare musical and literary programme has been arranged for the pleasure of the guests, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Fred Van-Epps accompanied by Professor McClymont will render selections on the banjo and piano. Miss Lucky the elocutionist recites Captain January and Saphrona Tabor at the opera. Mrs. Mary Johnson will be the piano soloist, and Professor P. Ludwig Conde will render violin solos. Reverie by Vieuxtemps and Gipsy melodies by Pablo de Sardsate. The social hour will follow the programme.

A Genuine Country Dance.

While the time for the formal resumption of social activity among Plainfield's society folk is not yet at hand, the members of the Cotillion Club have planned an informal and altogether novel affair for Hallow E'en. They will give a genuine "Country Dance" at the clubhouse of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Wednesday evening to which many have been bidden. The guests are asked to appear in country costume so some strange combinations may be expected. The invitation are written on brown paper.

Insurance Men Confer.

A conference of the local agents of the Prudential Insurance Company was held in this city yesterday, at which time several of the company's general agents gave brief talks encouraging the men to do more work. Plans for carrying out a more aggressive line of work was also discussed.

WOMEN'S CLUBS MEET IN NEWARK.

State Federation is Guest of the Many Local Organizations.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

SECRETARY'S REPORT SHOWS 88 SOCIETIES ARE AFFILIATED.

Total Membership in the State is 6,500 —Mrs. Stewart Hartshorn, of Short Hills, Elected President for the Ensuing Year.

New Jersey State's Federation of Women's Clubs held yesterday its sixth annual meeting in the High Street Presbyterian Church, Newark. Several hundred women, representing every county, were in attendance when Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, of Elizabeth, the president, called the morning session to order.

The visiting delegates were the guests of the following local organizations: Current Topic Club, Half Hour Reading Club, Newark Working Girls' Club, Sunshine Society, Philitscipoma, Philomethian, Ray Palmer, Saturday Club, Seasame, School Teachers' Guild and Travelers' Club.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Stewart Hartshorn, of Short Hills; first vice-president, Miss Mary McKeen, Camden; second vice-president, Mrs. Hobart Houghton, Bayonne; third vice-president, Mrs. Herbert Gnade, Rutherford; fouth vice-president, Mrs. John R. Scudder, Jersey City; recording secretary, Mrs. Julia Miller, Elizabeth; corresponding secretary, Miss C. G. Tuttle, Newark; treasurer, Miss Celia Gardiner, Rahway; auditor, Mrs. Henry B. Taylor, Newark; directors, Miss Elizabeth Vermilye, Englewood; Miss Mary Jerkins, Boonton and Mrs. E. Y. Davey, Jersey City.

Mrs. Eugene V. Magee read the secretary's report. It showed the Federation to have a membership of eighty-eight clubs, with a membership of 6,500 women. Seven clubs federated since the Atlantic City meeting of 1899. Three clubs withdrew in the same time.

The principal discussions were on the legality of the Federation's charter and the proposed co operation of the Women's clubs of New Jersey in the coming Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

Mrs. Williamson, the retiring president, delivered a farewell address.

FALL RALLY OF THE C. E.

Union County Christian Endeavorers Arranging for it to Be Held Next Month.

The Union County Christian Endeavor Union is arranging for its fall rally, which is to be held next month. Under the efficient leadership of the president, W. J. Hamilton, Jr., the county union is becoming a working force, and the various departments are organized for aggressive work. The officers and department superintendents will be glad to aid the local unions or individual societies in any way possible; and for the convenience of the Christian Endeavorers the list of officers and superintendents is herewith given:

President, W. J. Hamilton, Jr., Westfield; first vice-president, E. W. T. Faint, Elizabeth; second vice-president, Mr. Higgins, Roselle; recording secretary, E. F. Sheppard, 210 West Fourth street, Plainfield; treasurer, James E. Folsom, Westfield.

The department superintendents are as follows: Lookout and prayer meeting, T. Edward Burroughs, 326 East Fifth street, Plainfield; Bible study, W. A. Dempsey, Westfield; missionary, Charles H. Bell, 49 West Jersey street, Elizabeth; press, Miss Nellie K. Foote, Elizabeth; junior work, Miss M. E. Baumgartner, Rahway; good citizenship and temperance, N. Hastings Trimble, Elizabeth.

For Those Who Will Go in Chorus.

W. W. Howland, chairman of the committee in charge of the "Messiah" chorus, suggests that it is essential to know who are going to be members of the chorus and that, unless those to whom notice has been sent and no reply received attend the next rehearsal or notify the secretary that they expect to do so, their names will be dropped from the roll and the vacancies filled with others.

Fell Off New Bridge.

The practice indulged in by children of playing on the girders of the Madison avenue bridge resulted in one of them falling through last evening. Fortunately he landed on his feet and beyond a wetting was unharmed. His cries attracted a crowd who thought he had been seriously injured.

FOR SAKE OF CHARITY.

TEA AND SALE FOR BENEFIT OF THE RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

Attended by a Large Number of Women — Financial Success was Beyond Expectation.

One of the most pleasant social functions of the season was the tea and sale given yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock under the auspices of the Plainfield Relief Association at their rooms on West Front street. The affair was held for the purpose of raising money to assist the association in carrying on their worthy enterprises and helping those, why by force of circumstances, are poor so far as worldly possessions are concerned. There was a noble response from the people of Plainfield and vicinity and the rooms were thronged from the very beginning till long after the hour of closing.

The social features of the affair were most enjoyable and numbered among those present were the good women of Plainfield whose efforts are always to be found in every worthy charity, and who contribute largely toward the maintenance of these enterprises. The officers and members of the association are delighted with the cordialty and support given their efforts yesterday and they feel encouraged in their plans for the winter's work.

In addition to the social side there was a sale of home-made cake and candy, which was very successful. Miss Tracy was in charge and she was assisted by the Misses Hayes, Wood, DeLaney and Hebert. No trouble at all was experienced in disposing of the cake and candy, and the sum of $56 was realized therefrom.

To the reception committee much credit is due for the success attained. They gave all a cordial welcome. The committee was composed of Mrs. J.K. Myers, president; Mrs. Henry Lapsley, treasurer; Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. W. E. Lowe, Mrs. Emil Woltmann, Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. L N. Lovell, Mrs. Martin I. Cooley, Mrs. S. S. Guion, the Misses Tweedy and Mrs. Ruth Leonard.

As stated the social features were prominent, and this was evidenced in the tea room, which was in charge of Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Mrs. Lawrence Myers, Mrs. J. Evarts Tracy, Mrs. D. J. Yerkes. They were assisted by the following, who were waitresses: The Misses Fisk, Holly, Schroeder, Bishop, Lapsley, Ostermoor, Mary Anderson Reinhart, Etna Strong and Lotta Lowe.

The financial success of the affair was beyond expectation. The sum of $104 was the total realized, and additional contributions are expected. A silver offering was received at the door by Howard Lapsley and VanWyck Brooks, and those who attended were generous in their contributions at the door and in their purchase of cake and candy. The new addition to the building occupied by the association, which has just been completed, was inspected by those present and all expressed themselves as well pleased with it.

A Rare Opportunity.

It is reported of the annual meeting of the American Board, held at St. Louis this month, "Never before has such thrilling experiences of danger and deliverance been brought to the Board meeting by eyewitnesses as these stories told by the missionaries from China." The most thrilling story was told by Dr. J. H. Ingram, who endured the horrors of the eight weeks siege of Peking. He will give an account of it in his address at the Congregational church tomorrow. Few in this country have as yet had a chance to hear of the late siege from one who was there.

Fred Bennett Home.

Fred Bennett, son of the late Joseph R. Bennett, has been visiting his aged mother, Mrs. Mary L. Bennett, and sisters, at 45 Lincoln place. Mr. Bennett is assistant engineer on the torpedo boat Dupont, which is laid up at the Brooklyn navy yard for repairs. He was on the New York during the engagement in Santiago harbor at the sinking of the Spanish gun boats.

Better Hospital Accommodations.

Unless there is a change in plans the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital at their meeting Monday evening will take some action toward increasing the accommodations at Muhlenberg Hospital. The conditions are such that something must be done soon.

Conference of Teachers.

The Sunday-school teachers and workers of New Jersey will hold an important conference in New Brunswick November 15th and 16th. Plainfield will send a large delegation. The conference will be held in the First Reformed church.

THE SAVINGS BANK IS NOT IN DANGER.

False Rumor Circulated on the Street Yesterday as to the Condition of That Institution.

ABLE TO MEET ALL DEMANDS

THE BANK IS SHOWN TO BE PERFECTLY SOUND.

Efforts Made to Trace Out the Source of the Story but They Have Failed—Report Made by the State Examiner.

In some mysterious manner a rumor was circulated on the streets yesterday that the Dime Savings Institution was not in a safe condition. Though efforts have been made to trace out the source of the story they have failed. When a Press reporter called at the bank this morning he was informed that there was not the slightest cause for anyone to question the stability of the institution.

It was admitted that such stories had reached the ears of the officials of the bank, but there had been no unusual withdrawing of accounts by depositors as a result. Several of the depositors had made anxious inquiries as to the rumor, and when informed by the officials of the bank that there was no cause for a scare the interrogators went away well satisfied that their funds were perfectly safe.

The bank is able and willing to meet all demands of depositors. It is regarded as one of the most substantial and safe institutions of its kind in the State. Only this week examiners from the office of Insurance and Banking visited the bank and made a thorough examination of the assets and liabilities. The result of their examination was shown in the report printed in The Daily Press Wednesday. The report is as follows:

ASSETS.

Bonds and Mortgages	$316,700.00
Bonds owned (Par value, $295,754,701) Market value	328,543.00
Loans on Collaterals	5,500.00
Furniture and Fixtures	500.00
Interest Due and Accrued	8,206.49
Cash on hand	21,197.16
	$680,646.65

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$634,289.66
Interest Accrued to Depositors	3,683.00
Rents and Salaries Accrued	105.42
Surplus	42,568.57
	$680,646.65

This morning the officials of the Dime Savings Institution decided that it would not do to let the attacks be made on the name and credit of the bank without some action on their part. As a result it was decided that a reward of $500 should be offered for evidence that would lead to the conviction of the person or persons who originated and first circulated the maliciously false report. The offer of the bank is made in the advertising columns of The Daily Press today.

HE IS NOT SCHREIBER.

New Brunswick Authorities Hoped They Had the Defaulter.

New Brunswick authorities thought yesterday that they had located William Schreiber, the Elizabethport bank robber. A woman, whose identity Prosecutor Voorhees will not disclose, notified that official that a man answering the description of Schreiber had been around Old Bridge for several days.

One of the bank clerks and John Ferguson, a detective in the employ of the office, drove yesterday to Old Bridge. The man was found, but he bore only a slight resemblance to Schreiber, although he did stutter.

A Fakir.

Tiffany & Co., gold and silversmiths of New York, have asked The Daily Press to state that a person giving the name of "Howard" is not authorized to sell or take orders for anything sold or made at their house. Such a person has been making the rounds in Plainfield and their attention was called to the man by one of their customers. He sells a silver polish and represents himself as an agent for the above house. He is about six feet tall, light complexion, and uses fairly good English.

To Hold Red Men's Fair.

At the meeting of Miantonomo tribe of Red Men last evening ten candidates received the chief's degree. A committee of five was appointed to confer with other committees from Wetumpka tribe and Iona council to arrange for a Red Men's fair to be held in the near future.

He Was in the Siege of Pekin.

The people of Plainfield will have the opportunity tomorrow of hearing of the siege at Pekin from one who was within the walls. Dr. I. H. Ingram, a medical missionary of the American Board, is expected to speak in the Congregational church both morning and evening.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Improvement In Steel and Iron—Cotton, Wheat and Corn Decline.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade says:

The elections mean a great deal to business interests, and, although confidence in the future is seen on every hand, it is but natural that men do not care to take unnecessary chances and therefore delay new engagements as far as possible until after the ballots are counted. But contracts for steel rails for the season, thus far are within 50,000 tons of last year's heavy booking, and the confidence in an ultimate marked improvement is so strong that all raw materials are firm and without any speculative activity to stimulate them.

Conditions in iron and steel market steadily improve, orders gradually swelling in volume, and buyers make less effort to secure concessions. In most cases quotations are not altered, but there is an advance to $20 at Philadelphia for billets, owing to the better business in rails. Pig iron moves freely, especially at Chicago, where manufacturers have contracted heavily for finished stuff in excess of raw material on hand. Minor metals are quiet, except for further weakness in tin. Silver has reached the highest price in four years.

Cotton showed little recuperative power after last week's decline and closed lower. Even Mr. Ellison's estimate that the world would require 10,380,000 bales of American cotton this year failed to make much impression. Wheat also continued its downward course, owing to good news here and abroad, but an encouraging feature was the accelerated foreign buying as quotations declined. Atlantic exports for the week were 2,935,028 bushels against 2,253,625 a year ago and Pacific shipments 878,043 bushels against 658,583 last year. Corn is slightly weaker, while pork products have fallen sharply. Most other provisions are heavy, but linseed oil rose sharply to 75 cents.

Hides were active, with the average price at Chicago for ten grades 10.3 cents, higher than at any time since last May. Leather also reached a higher level on good buying.

Failures for the week were 205 in the United States against 190 last year and 28 in Canada against 23 last year.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

An alligator two feet long was found in a Newark (N. J.) pumping station reservoir.

Four hundred thousand dollars was transferred to Chicago from the New York subtreasury.

A big black bear that got on the Erie tracks near Port Jervis, N. Y., was struck by a train and instantly killed.

Explosion of boilers crippled hoisting apparatus at a coal mine near Minonk, Ills., and imprisoned 250 men in the workings.

Imports into the United States from Porto Rico have trebled and exports to the island quadrupled since the new tariff went into effect.

Mai Lucy Leeton filed a breach of promise suit against United States Senator Sullivan of Mississippi in the District of Columbia supreme court.

Ex-Secretary Porter Very Ill.

POMFRET, Conn., Oct. 27.—Mr. John Addison Porter, formerly secretary to President McKinley, lies dangerously ill at his residence in this place, suffering from a disease which must ultimately take him off. For many months before he resigned his position as the confidential secretary of the nation's executive he had been in poor health, and his suffering finally made it imperative that he abandon work. Since that time he has traveled extensively. Of late the unmistakable symptoms of an incurable disease developed acutely, and ten days ago he came to Pomfret, where at his home he has since been invalided. On Wednesday of this week a necessary and very dangerous operation was performed by Dr. S. B. Overlock. Mr. Porter rallied splendidly from the shock and is resting comfortably. The members of the family refuse to give out any statement of the case and have sealed the lips of the attending physician. It is learned, however, that the case is perfectly hopeless.

Negro Convicted of Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Charles Perry, the second of the three negroes charged with the murder of Professor Roy Wilson White, the young law instructor of the University of Pennsylvania, was last night convicted of murder in the first degree. Henry Ivory was found guilty two days ago. Amos Stirling yet remains to be tried. Professor White was murdered and robbed on the night of May 19, and the three negroes were arrested a few days later.

Hays to Be President.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Charles H. Tweed of the Southern Pacific railroad confirms the report that Charles M. Hays has been selected for the presidency of the company, made vacant by the death of C. P. Huntington. He said that Mr. Hays would assume the new office about Jan. 1 and that he would have headquarters in San Francisco. Mr. Tweed added that the other officers of the Southern Pacific would probably retain their present positions.

Fatal Explosion of Gasoline.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—An explosion of gasoline occurred in the dwelling 131 Race street, resulting in the death of Rachel Rosenblatt. Three other persons were slightly burned. An almost miraculous escape from death was made by Hester Krausnos, who leaped from a third story window with her child, alighting upon an awning. Both mother and child escaped injury.

Guatemala Removes Duty on Fruit.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Consul General McNally at Guatemala writes to the state department that the Guatemalan government has issued a decree making the exportation of fresh fruits from the country free of all fiscal duty. This revokes a governmental decree of recent date which placed a duty of 10 cents on each bunch of bananas exported.

To Rebuild Emperors' Tombs.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The Bavarian government has ordered the rebuilding of the tombs of the ancient German emperors in the Cathedral of Speyer. The Hohenstauffens and the rulers of the Salic dynasty will rest in a fine new crypt in suitable sarcophagi.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—It turns out that the reported general reduction in telephone rates in Chicago will not take place. There will be no reduction except on ten party lines to small residences.

FOUR POWERS HALT.

Third Clause In Anglo-German Alliance Creates Distrust.

FRANCE, RUSSIA, JAPAN AND AMERICA

Chinese Antiforeign Leader Commits Suicide by Swallowing Gold Leaf. Prince Tuan Is Severely Censured and May Follow Suit.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—In diplomatic quarters there is felt to be some significance in the fact that France, Russia and Japan, as well as the United States, have not yet accepted the invitation to accept the principles of the Anglo-German alliance. It is understood that this nonaction of the powers is not due to any concerted movement among them, although each appears to be halting on the third clause.

A diplomatic official said that on mature consideration of this third clause it was seen to involve two constructions; first, that if any power took territory in China as a result of the present trouble, then Germany and Great Britain also would take territory; or, second, that if any country took territory in China, Germany and Great Britain would seek to prevent this action or otherwise jointly act against the country seeking to extend its dominions.

Either construction, it was pointed out, was such that the powers not party to the agreement could not be expected to bind themselves to its acceptance. Under these circumstances it was said that the powers would seek to learn Russia's views on the third clause, as Russian approval undoubtedly would remove the idea that there is any possible menace intended. But it is recognized among diplomatic officials that it would be extremely difficult to secure an expression from Russia on this point, as an unfavorable rejoinder, which she might be expected to give, would amount to a declaration that she had some territorial designs on Manchuria, and a refusal to answer would be similarly open to such construction.

The impression is growing among the representatives of these powers that the present nonaction will continue for some time and that the agreement will be confined to Great Britain and Germany, at least until there is a fuller understanding of the third clause than either of these governments has given thus far.

The Chinese minister has received a dispatch stating that Kang Yi, a member of the cabinet, with Yung Lu, and one of the intense antiforeign leaders, whose punishment was demanded by the powers, died of illness on the 18th inst.; also that Yu Hsien, the late governor of Shansi, who is said to have been responsible for the death of many missionaries, has committed suicide by swallowing gold leaf. Minister Wu regards this act as the result of the disfavor which the high officials have received from the throne.

The death of Kang Yi is an important event, as he was one of the ringleaders whose punishment was demanded by the powers. He held the position of assistant grand secretary and president of the civil board and also was one of the six Chinese statesmen making up the privy council, or cabinet, which is the body nearest the throne.

Following the demands of the powers for his punishment, an edict was issued handing him over to the board of censors to consult and decide upon a penalty for his misdoing. The same edict punished Prince Tuan, but it was thought that the Tuan influence would secure leniency for Kang Yi and others. The dispatch shows, however, that Kang Yi himself recognized that there was no hope of imperial favor. Although the dispatch to Minister Wu says only that Kang Yi "died" on the 18th inst., it is thought that this "death" was the natural result of the disgrace which has overtaken the antiforeign and Boxer element.

Governor Yu's method of suicide, by swallowing gold leaf, is unique to China. It is a means by which high personages take their life, the gold leaf being representative of their high station. The leaf forms a congealed ball in the canals of the body and brings death from suffocation.

Minister Wu's advices also show that Prince Tuan has been visited with severe censure from the throne and to such an extent that it would be no surprise if he followed the course of Kang Yi and Yu.

According to the latest Peking and Yokohama dispatches the first meeting of the foreign representatives with reference to the peace negotiations should have been held yesterday.

Li Hung Chang has been appointed generalissimo of the Wu-wei army, consisting of foreign drilled soldiers armed with foreign weapons.

Dr. Morrison, the Peking correspondent of The Times, wiring Thursday, refers to the courtesy of the United States legation in providing transport wagons for Sir Claude M. Macdonald, the retiring British minister, on his departure from Peking.

"The punitive expedition to Pao-ting-fu," he says, "is reduced to an absurdity by the mistaken clemency regarding the integrity of the city and the failure to punish the officials."

Chinese Turn Guerrillas.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—The remnants of the Chinese troops in the wide spaces of country around Mukden, Manchuria, official dispatches say, are broken up into guerrilla bands, which are plundering villages and farms. Three explosions which occurred at Mukden Oct. 10 whereby 26 Russians were wounded were deliberately carried out by Chinese while the Russians were engaged in destroying the contents of a powder magazine. Forty mines were dug out of a railway embankment by the Russians.

Antiforeign Agitation Quelled.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—With reference to the recent fighting in the German hinterland of Kiao-chau the foreign office has received reports that the attitude of Kwan Shi Kai has not given occasion for complaint lately and that the antiforeign agitation in the province of Shangtung is now considered quelled.

Immigrant Building Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Assistant Secretary Taylor has accepted from the contractors the new main Ellis island immigrant building, New York harbor, and yesterday signed a check for $45,000 in final payment.

Baron Russell's Will.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The will of Baron Russell of Killowen has been admitted to probate. The testator bequeathed his entire estate, valued at nearly £150,000, to "my dear, good wife."

ROOSEVELT HONORED

New York Gives Rousing Welcome to the Rough Rider.

ORATORY, MUSIC AND FIREWORKS.

Trained Singers and Military Bands Led by Searchlight Baton—Parades From All Parts of the City Meet at Madison Square.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—There was a great demonstration last evening in honor of Theodore Roosevelt, who arrived at 5:30 p. m. from Albany. Over 75,000 men paraded to Madison square, where the governor spoke in the Garden. There was a wonderful display of fireworks. The governor left Syracuse in the forenoon, and his itinerary for the day included Little Falls, Amsterdam, Schenectady and Albany. The stop at Little Falls was, however, cut out.

Although the elements had all day been threatening to play havoc with the plans arranged by the Republicans of New York county, particularly with regard to the outside arrangements, the reception of Governor Roosevelt, candidate for vice president, was carried out in Madison Square Garden to the accompaniment of a tumultuous ovation, which at times fairly made the rafters of the mammoth amphitheater vibrate.

Although the time set for the great demonstration—8 o'clock—was an hour earlier than that of the welcome accorded Mr. Bryan a little more than a week ago, throngs pressed into the famous arena as soon as the big doors swung open, and from then until the moment General Greene called the vast assemblage to order there was one steady, pushing stream of eager humanity, all striving to find a point of vantage.

The boxes at Madison Square Garden contained hundreds of women dressed in bright colors. Among them were Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and the governor's two sisters, Mrs. Douglas Robinson and Mrs. W. S. Coles, who sat with Mrs. Roosevelt. In other boxes were the Misses Alice Roosevelt and Corinne Robinson, Mrs. T. C. Platt, Mrs. Edward Platt, Mrs. A. C. Gray, Mrs. Harding

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Davis, Mrs. N. B. Scott, Mrs. Lemuel E. Quigg, Mrs. William Barnes of Albany and a party and Mrs. Vermilye.

Governor Roosevelt spoke for exactly 50 minutes. He immediately left the Garden for his sister's home. General Greene next introduced Charles S. Fairchild, former secretary of the treasury under Cleveland's first administration, who met with a flattering reception. He was followed by Hon. B. B. Odell, Jr., candidate for governor.

There were 18 separate and distinct parades and all were together at Madison Square Garden, marching to a common center from the uttermost parts of the city.

With a multitude so vast as this the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America" was a remarkable feature.

There were 500 trained singers and 42 military bands in the musical exercises outside the Garden. On each of two special stands 100 of the trained singers were placed, and the others were divided up among the other stands to direct the people in the rendition of the two national hymns.

The vocal music was led by Frederick C. Ellenberg of 310 East Eighty-sixth street and the instrumental music directed by George L. Humphrey, bandmaster of the Seventh regiment. Bandmaster Humphrey ascended to the searchlight in the tower of the Garden and led the singing of the vast assemblage by means of the wave of light instead of a baton.

At the reception dinner tendered Governor Roosevelt at the Fifth Avenue hotel the following were guests:

Governor Roosevelt, Chairman B. B. Odell, Jr.; Senator T. C. Platt, former Governor Frank S. Black, former Governor Levi P. Morton, Senator William P. Frye of Maine, J. K. Richards, solicitor general of the attorney general at Washington; former Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Fairchild, General Francis V. Greene, Frederick S. Gibbs, Joseph H. Manley, Cornelius N. Bliss and N. B. Scott of the national committee, William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the executive committee; William H. Ten Eyck, executive chairman of the Republican county committee, and Franklin Murphy of New Jersey.

MR. BRYAN IN NEW JERSEY.

Concludes His Tour In That State. Well Received In Several Towns.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 27.—Hon. W. J. Bryan yesterday concluded his campaign tour of the state of New Jersey. The day was a successful one in that the crowds which he addressed were both attentive and of fair size, but the majority of them were neither so large nor so demonstrative as those of New York. The day was given up to a section of Jersey which is populated largely by people who do business in New York city, and the people at the various towns at which stops were made said that in view of the absence of so many of their townsmen the attendance was excellent.

The tour was made over the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad, the most distant point touched being Dover, 40 miles south of New York. The other towns at which speeches were made were Hoboken, Harrison, Orange, Summit, Morristown, Boonton, Paterson, Belleville and Newark, three speeches being made at the latter place. In reality Mr. Bryan's Thursday work extended into yesterday, for he did not retire in the morning until about 2 o'clock, and one of the pleasantest occasions of Thursday night was the last of the series. When he reached his hotel in Hoboken, after his tour of the city, he found about 500 German citizens awaiting his arrival. They insisted upon tendering him a serenade and sang several of the songs of the fatherland in a way that delighted the presidential candidate, notwithstanding he is unfamiliar with the language in which the songs are written.

At the conclusion of his series of meetings in this city the national candidate expressed himself as highly gratified with the Jersey campaign.

Mr. Bryan will make a brief run into Connecticut today, speaking at New Haven and Bridgeport, but will return in time to participate in the meeting of the Democratic clubs in New York city to night.

Bryan Reaches New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—William Jennings Bryan arrived at the Hoffman House at 12:20 this morning. He was in excellent condition and retired immediately. He left for New Haven at 9 o'clock this morning. The exact places where he will stop in Connecticut have not yet been determined, but it is expected that he will return to New York city about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Bryan was accompanied by ex-Governor William J. Stone and several New Jersey Democrats who had been in attendance upon his Newark meeting.

PREPARING FOR WORK.

Big Wyoming Valley Collieries Will Open Monday.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 27.—The big coal companies of the Wyoming valley are making preparations to resume work on Monday. The mules that have been in pasture for the last month or so were taken down into many of the underground workings yesterday. The individual operators are also getting things in shape for work again, although as yet they have not posted notices of the 10 per cent increase in wages.

It is the impression in Pittston that the Pennsylvania company will fall in line with the other companies on Monday. The Susquehanna company at Nanticoke has made no move as yet, and its 3,000 employees are more or less anxious as to what the outcome will be.

A committee of employees of the Kingston Coal company waited on Daniel Edwards, the president of the company, and asked him if he would grant the advance. Mr. Edwards said he would do whatever the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company did. The committee went away satisfied.

There is no doubt but that the Kingston company will post notices today. T. D. Nichols, president of the United Mine Workers of this district, has arrived in town from Hazleton. He said he had no doubt but that by Monday all the companies, with possibly the exception of the Markles, would post notices of increase.

Nonunionists Mobbed.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 27.—Fifteen hundred angry men, women and children assembled near the Cameron colliery last evening, and as the nonunion workmen left for home they were assailed by volleys of cobblestones. Although every one of the workmen had been sworn in as special policemen and were armed, they did not shoot into the mob, which was led by four women carrying American flags. In escorting Paul Klinger, the breaker boss, from the mine his brother, Constable Joseph Klinger, fired one shot at a crowd on a bridge because they hurled rocks at the pair as they traversed a railroad. Following the shot, part of the mob chased the brothers into the city limits. Miles Dougherty, an officer of the local miners' organization, hearing of the riotous demonstration, hurried to the scene and in a brief address persuaded the mob to disperse.

Getting Ready For Work.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—President W. V. S. Thorne of the Pennsylvania Coal company is here to confer with the local officials about putting up the 10 per cent notices, and it is expected the company will have fallen into line before tonight. This will make all the mines in the Lackawanna region free to work on Monday. A demonstration will be given here tonight by the breaker boys in honor of President Mitchell. They will present him with a gold badge emblematic of his efforts to get them out of the breakers and into the schools.

Uncle Sam's Printing Business.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Thomas J. Sullivan, acting director of the bureau of engraving and printing, has submitted to Secretary Gage the annual report of the operations of the bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30. A summary of the work done during the year shows a total of 116,909,423 sheets, as follows: Notes, certificates of deposit, bonds and national bank notes, 26,032,718; internal revenue stamps, 48,784,045; customs stamps, 225,000; postage stamps, 40,042,547; postage stamps for Cuba, 162,300; postage stamps for Porto Rico, 16,550; postage stamps for the Philippines, 52,010; postage stamps for Guam, 1,570; checks, certificates, drafts, etc., 1,592,683. The number of sheets printed does not really give a fair conception of the amount of work done. There were, for instance, 40,042,150 sheets of postage stamps, but the number of stamps in the sheets was 4,026,452,574. The number of internal revenue stamps was 2,439,747,312.

The Thomas Reaches Manila.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—General MacArthur has informed the war department of the arrival of the transport Thomas at Manila. The headquarters, band and First battalion of the Fifth infantry, the headquarters, band and Second battalion of the Eighth infantry, 383 recruits, 13 contract surgeons, 6 female nurses and 4 employees of the Philippine commission were aboard.

Hawkins Pleaded Guilty.

DOVER, Del., Oct. 27.—In the Kent county general sessions court yesterday John D. Hawkins, former secretary of state, pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement as bailee. His offense consisted in securing $3,500 for a client for the purpose of paying off a mortgage and misappropriating the money. Sentence was deferred until Monday.

Cows and Calves May Come Free.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The treasury department has decided that cows and their calves can be properly admitted to entry free of duty as household effects under the provisions of paragraph 504 of the act of July 24, 1897, which requires former ownership and use abroad and a declaration that they are for household uses.

PAYMASTER'S REPORT.

General Bates Gives the Cost of Our Army For a Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Paymaster General Bates reports to the secretary of war that during the year ended June 30, 1900, he has paid to the army, regular and volunteers, $33,656,966; for the emergency fund "to disband the Cuban army," $1,642,860. Several minor recommendations concerning the pay of the army are contained in this report.

A comparison of the expenditures of the last fiscal year with those of the fiscal year of 1899 shows a net decrease of $35,382,147. The mileage provisions under the act of May last have applied satisfactorily to the army with the single exception of what are known as "agreement road" deductions. The expense, time and labor involved in the multiplicity of time and distance tables required under the ever changing conditions of the railroads making these deductions is found to offset completely any saving to the government through their use in the transportation of troops and supplies. General Bates therefore recommends that this clause be stricken out of the mileage provisions.

The paymaster general calls particular attention to the 10 and 20 per cent extra day allowance provided by congress for the troops serving in the island possessions and Alaska, which unfortunately deprives the troops serving in China from a share of this bonus, the disturbances in the Chinese empire not having assumed a threatening aspect when this law was passed in the latter part of May. He recommends that this extra allowance be extended to officers and men serving in all countries beyond the limits of the United States proper and that the time of this foreign service shall be computed from May 26, 1900, the day the act became a law.

THE SHERMAN WILL.

Disposes of Property Estimated to Be Worth $2,500,000.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 27.—The will of the late John Sherman was taken to probate court yesterday by Congressman Kerr and Attorney Parker of Washington. The document disposes of an estate valued at $2,500,000. It is dated at Washington, Dec. 22, 1890.

Mrs. Mary Sherman McCallum is given $100,000, half in real estate of her choice and the balance in bonds. After other bequests are paid she with five others gets the residue, making her share, it is estimated, $500,000.

The other bequests are: To Mansfield for park purposes, $5,000; Oberlin college, $5,000; Kenyon college, $5,000; heirs of Charles Sherman, $10,000, divided equally; Hoyt Sherman, brother of the deceased, $10,000; heirs of the late General W. T. Sherman, $10,000; heirs of James Sherman, $10,000; Sister Susan Bartley, $10,000; children of Mrs. Fanny Moulton, $10,000; Lampson Sherman, $10,000; Elizabeth Reese, $10,000.

It was learned at the home of the late Secretary Sherman that the five residuary legatees besides Mrs. McCallum are nephews of the deceased, one son of each of the five brothers.

Killed by Boiler Explosion.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 27.—A boiler attached to a stationary engine used to operate a washing machine in the yard of Mrs. David Stephenson exploded while a number of young men were inspecting the machinery. Thomas Stephenson, aged 21 years, was instantly killed by being hurled against a fence, while Harry Daubert and James Wilson were so badly scalded that they will likely die. John Music, Robert Lindenmuth, Thomas Daubert, Hayden Evans, Lewis Kleber and Joseph Ryon had their faces severely scalded.

The Cup Defender.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Journal and Advertiser says: "While the officials of the New York Yacht club still observe the utmost secrecy regarding the new cup defender it can be stated on the best of authority that the boat has been ordered and will be built by the Herreshoffs and that over a week ago more than $100,000 had been subscribed for her construction."

Bank Embezzler Sentenced.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 27.—In the federal court J. M. McKnight, former president of the German National bank of Louisville, recently convicted on the charge of embezzling the bank's funds, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment at hard labor. His attorneys were granted a writ of error, and he was released on $12,000 bond.

Cable Ship at Port Said.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Word was received at the war department that the cable ship Burnside is at Port Said on her way to Manila. This vessel left New York on Sept. 26 and carries a full equipment of cable paraphernalia to connect Manila with all the islands of the Philippine archipelago.

Walking Round the World.

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—Captain Alfred James Montague Trevillycan was in this city yesterday and is on a tour over the world on foot on a wager of $10,000. He has to accomplish the trip in five years or lose the money. He left late in the afternoon for New York.

American Steel Rails In Scotland.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Scotch steelmakers, owing to the importation of American steel plates, have reduced their prices 5 shillings, making 15 shillings' reduction in a fortnight. These reductions, it is thought, will fully meet the American competition.

PART OF THE EMPIRE

Transvaal Under the Royal Standard.

JACOBSDAL NOT TAKEN BY BOERS.

Report Turns Out to Have Been False—Highlanders Repulsed Attack With Heavy Loss—Raids In Northern Natal.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—A dispatch from Pretoria, dated Oct. 25, says:

"The Transvaal was today proclaimed a part of the British empire, the proclamation being attended with impressive ceremonies. The royal standard was hoisted in the main square of the city, the grenadiers presented arms, massed bands played the national anthem, Sir Alfred Milner read the proclamation, and 6,200 troops, representing Great Britain and her colonies, marched past."

It now appears that Jacobsdal was not captured by the Boers. Advices received from Cape Town shortly after midnight say:

"Later news from Jacobsdal shows that 200 Boers unsuccessfully attacked the garrison. The highlanders had 14 killed and 20 wounded."

Reports from Durban state that the Boers are raiding in the northern part of Natal. They have burned the railway station at Waschbank and blown up a culvert.

The Earl of Rosslyn writes to The Daily Mail this morning in reference to the attack made upon him at the banquet of the Pall Mall club on Thursday by Winston Spencer Churchill, who accused him of "slandering British officers" in accounts the earl had sent to newspapers from South Africa and who went so far as to give the lie direct to some of Lord Rosslyn's statements. The earl says:

"I shall be only too glad to expunge the paragraphs complained of from my book if an official investigation clears the officers of the suspicions against them. In the meantime I have written to Mr. Churchill demanding an apology."

London is likely to be disappointed in its pageant today. The steamship Aurania, which is bringing the city of London imperial volunteers to England from South Africa has not yet been spoken. The people of Southampton watched anxiously yesterday afternoon, everything being in readiness for the reception. Crowds waited on the wharfs until 1 o'clock this morning, only to hear from incoming vessels of heavy weather, with fog, in the channel.

One German mailboat which arrived from West Africa two days late reported that a terrific gale from the northeast prevailed 48 hours after she left Madeira.

Mr. Kruger's Plans.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Dr. Leyds, the Transvaal agent, who is in this city for a few days, was questioned with reference to the plans of former President Kruger. He said: "Most of the stories published on the subject are imaginative. Mr. Kruger will land at Marseilles, and I shall go to meet him. The reception will be entirely in the hands of the French themselves. Nothing has yet been definitely decided upon as to the details of Mr. Kruger's stay in Europe. But Mr. Kruger is an old man and not accustomed to a cold climate, so it is likely he will sojourn in the neighborhood of Nice for the winter."

Expecting Kruger In France.

MARSEILLES, Oct. 27.—Mr. Kruger is expected to arrive here Nov. 11 and remain at least a day. An elaborate demonstration is being organized in his honor.

To Enforce Havana School Law.

HAVANA, Oct. 27.—Mayor Rodrigues has issued an order to the police directing them to take into custody children under 12 years of age found in the streets unaccompanied during school hours. It is the intention of the authorities to enforce the school law strictly. Senor Cancio, secretary of finance, has instructed the municipalities to appoint a board of appeals, such as is provided for by law, to decide appeals on questions of taxation. The board is to consist of three taxpayers and three members of the municipality in each case.

Colonel Smith Requested to Resign.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—At a special meeting of Gloucester command, No. 17, Spanish War Veterans, held in Brooklyn Thursday night, it was decided to request Lieutenant Colonel Clinton H. Smith to resign his membership in the command. The trouble grew out of charges that Colonel Smith while a member of the Seventy-first New York volunteers was guilty of cowardice at the battle of San Juan Hill. The question has been argued at length in the courts and before national guard officials.

Was This Alvord?

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 27.—It has been learned that a man answering the description of Alvord, the missing note teller of the First National bank, New York, visited on Tuesday the sanitarium of Dr. Frank H. Barnes, on the outskirts of the city. Dr. Barnes stated that the man looked about the place for some little time and made a number of inquiries, but went away without giving his name or any clew as to his identity.

To Select Site For Coaling Station.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Secretary Long has appointed the following board to report upon a place for the location of a naval coaling station in the Philippine Islands: Admiral Remey, Captain McCalla, Captain Thomas, Civil Engineer Menocal and Lieutenant Commander Niblack.

Salisbury to Hold Two Offices.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Standard, in a paragraph obviously inspired, announces that Lord Salisbury will retain the double office of prime minister and secretary of state for foreign affairs and that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain will retain the portfolio of secretary of state for the colonies.

Fatal Bicycle Accident.

HARTFORD, Oct. 27.—Charles E. Holmes, aged 55, cashier of the Hurlburt National bank, Winsted, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by being thrown from his bicycle. He leaves a widow and three daughters.

Largest Gold Fund In the World.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The gold in the treasury yesterday amounted to $451,477,404, the highest point ever reached since the foundation of the government. This is said to be the largest gold fund in the world.

COMING EVENTS.

October 28—Hugh R. Munro, Vice-President of the Niagara Lithograph Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., will address the Y. M. C. A. rally at 4:15 p. m. Mrs. George W. Gardner will sing.

October 29—Alexander Black, the picture play, "Miss Jerry," in Y. M. C. A. Star Course.

October 30—Union Bible class taught by Rev D. M. Stearns, at Y. M. C. A. Hall. 2:30 p. m.

Publicity is necessary to the success of every man except the burglar and his kind, says the Philadelphia Record. Even an artist must get his name before the people or starve. Frank Millet had exhibited many good pictures, but the critics ignored him. Then he perpetrated an atrocious thing in the gaudiest colors. Nobody could fail to see it, and it made people shudder. The critics were furious, and screamed their detestation of the work. "But they had to mention my name," said Millet, "and that was what I wanted." After that people were curious about the artist's pictures and his fortune was assured.

Judge Woodbridge Strong, of New Brunswick, denies the accuracy of the newspaper stories that represent him as declaring that the appetite for alcohol is as natural as the appetite for bread, and that it was quite right to satisfy it. What he did say was, as he positively declares, that he could not refuse licenses when the law allows them, and that he simply tries to enforce the laws as they are and not as he might like them to be.

Johnston Cornish, the Senator from Warren county, is the only Democrat holdover member of the New Jersey Senate. Twelve Republican Senators, or one more than a majority, hold over and eight are to be elected.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

This exceptionally mild autumn, with its succession of mellow days, warm as summer time, coupled with the strikes in the mining district and resulting in the extremely high price of coal, suggests a compensation beautifully put by Sterne in one of his novels, "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb."

* * * * *

J. W. VanSickle, the North avenue butcher, received a letter yesterday from his friend, Dr. L. S. Pocock, who is now at Hotel Florida, Havana. He says that he had a stormy and rough voyage going, yet he was not sick a minute. Neither did he lose a meal. The day he wrote the letter, last Wednesday, the temperature was 80 degrees. He says that he expects to return home the middle of November. In closing he says that he would like to take a spin behind Mr. VanSickle's "Belle," which he has done so often before.

SCHREIBER INDICTED.

Union County Grand Jury Said to Have Found a True Bill in the Embezzler's Case.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, October 27.—The Union County Grand Jury at noon Thursday adjourned until Friday morning. It has finished the investigation of the Schreiber bank robbery case, and it is rumored that an indictment has been found against the defaulter. Monday the Grand Jury, so Prosecutor English expects, will be able to make its final report to Judge VanSyckel.

Thomas Doyle, who killed Farmer Horace Baldwin, of Amonville, and against whom an indictment for murder has been found, will be arraigned in court Monday, so the prosecutor says, to plead. This is the only indictment that will be made public Monday.

Judge VanSyckel is through with the Supreme Court causes that he had marked for trial and the few Circuit Court causes left on the docket for this term will be tried by Judge Vail.

Prosecutor English, who is just recovering from an illness of several weeks, will take two weeks' rest from Monday before beginning the criminal trials.

—The electric light company has completed the work of laying underground conduits through North avenue, and a traveling public is pleased.

ON TAPIS AT THEATRE.

SEVERAL GOOD PLAYS PROMISED BY MANAGER EDWARDS.

Among the Most Prominent Attractions That Will be Seen is Bob Fitzsimmons, The Pugilist.

The Marion Manola performance of the musical comedy of "Friend Fritz," the only dramatic entertainment that has been given at Music Hall this week, but this afternoon and tonight we are to have two fine performances of Charles Callahan's big scenic play, "A Romance of Coon Hollow," a story of life, love and jealousy in the Tennessee hills. As before intimated in the columns, "A Romance of Coon Hollow" is by no means a clap-trap melodrama. It is natural and pastoral in its characters, with a strong dramatic plot. The comedy is neat and refined, and it will be given here with the splendid original New York cast.

Tuesday night of next week Edgar Selwyn's musical farce comedy, "A Spring Chicken," will have its first presentation in this city. It scored considerable success last season and the present management has greatly added to its drawing qualities by the selection of a splendid cast of characters, among whom are numbered E H. O'Connor, a very clever comedian; Miss Gertrude Barnes, a beautiful singer, and Mlle. Charmion, a cafe chatant, an artist, whose style of work is similar to that of Anna Held. She gives a remarkably vivid imitation of the fascinating French actress, and her selections are very chic and pleasing.

"Hogan's Alley" is booked for appearance Friday, November 2d. The comedians Gilmore and Leonard first brought out this play about two years ago, and when presented here met with marked success. It has drawn good sized audiences wherever presented and is said to be much improved in every respect since it was first seen here.

On Monday, November 5th, the late Fanny Davenport's famous Sardou's play of "Fedora" will be produced here for the first time by a carefully selected company of artists.

Fanny Davenport played the role of Fedora nearly five hundred times. She paid the celebrated French author a hundred thousand dollars in royalties for this piece alone. Charles H. Clarke, managing the present tour of the play, has secured the rights of Sardou's "Fedora" from Clarence M. Brune, who has exclusive control of all the pieces in which Fanny Davenport made her fortune.

Robt. Fitzsimmons is booked for appearance Thursday, Nov. 8th. In "The Honest Blacksmith," which has been written for "Bob," Percy Williams has succeed in putting on the stage the world's greatest fighter with his wife, Mrs. Fitzsimmons and their son, Bobbie, Jr., in the atmosphere of their home life, so true to nature that in witnessing it, it is almost impossible to believe that the scenes are being enacted in a theatre. It is a story of home and sporting life, giving the lanky Cornishman full choice to display before the public just what he does at home, a place so dear to him, as well as in the preparation for a sparring contest with his trainer.

Following this the late Annie Pixley's great success "M'liss" will be presented with Nellie McHenry in the title role and a host of other novelties are promised for month of November.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—Nineteen patients are under treatment at Muhlenberg Hospital. Of late only a few have been discharged.

—The work of relaying the gutter on the south side of West Front street was commenced today. The work on the opposite side is about completed.

—The members of St. Peter's Lutheran church will probably realize $25 profit from the concert given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall last Thursday evening.

—The best method of cleansing the liver is the use of the famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Easy to take. Never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, N. J., October 27th—The Somerset and Middlesex Traction Company cars still continue to carry passengers in the borough free of charge. A change is expected to take place shortly, but of what nature nothing definite is known. The officials of the company and the Plainfield company still deny that there has been any consolidation.

A large delegation from the Republican Club went by trolley to New Brunswick last evening for the purpose of hearing Hon. Mr. Miller, of Virginia, deliver an oration. Mr. Miller is a speaker of rare excellence and the boroughites were more than repaid for their trouble. The return trip was made by a special car.

A valuable dog belonging to W. H. Kuhns has strayed away and despite a diligent search no trace of it has been found. A reward of $5 is offered for its return or information leading to its whereabouts.

The concert for the benefit of Clarence A. Roberts, which was to have been given in Music Hall, Plainfield, last Monday, has been postponed until Nov. 19th.

Frank Smalley returned home yesterday after a month's engagement as cook on a boat plying between New York and Cuba.

There will be special services in the Methodist Church next week, commencing on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

The Literary Circle will meet tonight at the residence of Mrs. John Herbert. The tragedy of Julius Cæsar will be read.

The Republicans expect to send a delegation to the New Market mass-meeting to be held tonight.

Mrs. Morris, of Greenbrook, left yesterday for New York where she will remain for the winter.

Mrs. Mahlon Dayton has been entertaining her mother, Mrs. C. J. Floyd, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Miss Cora Doty has gone to Mount Bethel for a week's visit with relatives.

James Cannon attended a ball and reception at Junction last night.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 27—The first mass meeting to be held in New Market during the present campaign took place in Friendship Hall last evening and was in charge of the Democrats. A good sized crowd listened to several speeches. This evening the Republicans will hold a meeting at which several prominent speakers will be heard. It is also announced that an open air meeting in the interest of the Prohibitionist party will be held in town Monday night.

The improvements at Wilson's ice-houses are being hurried but it will be at least a week yet before they are completed.

G. Urbausky has disposed of his poultry business and will remove his family to Jersey City, Monday.

Miss Hazel Lord is spending a few days with Miss Grace Lecompte at West Dunellen.

Mrs. William L. Lawrence and Mrs. Bertha Moody spent yesterday in New York.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Oct. 27—The Young Tigers, the junior football eleven, went to Westfield yesterday afternoon to play the eleven of that place. For some reason the Westfield boys failed to show up, so no game was had.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held an interesting meeting in their rooms last evening. The report of the representative to the Grand Council, which met at Trenton Wednesday, was received and other work done at that session was talked over. Twilight Council was a fast friend of the movement to withdraw from the Supreme Council and will do good work for the new order.

The local football eleven have been very unfortunate in having their date cancelled at the last moment when it is too late to arrange another. A game was scheduled with the Y. M. C. A. eleven of Elizabeth for this afternoon. Last night the Elizabeth eleven telegraphed that they were obliged to cancel the game.

The members of the Republican Club will attend the political demonstration at Elizabeth Monday evening in a body. A special car will leave the Park avenue crossing at 7 o'clock. All members and friends of sound money are invited to go with the club and enjoy the pleasant outing.

A very pleasant event in the social life of the borough was the reception given by Mrs. A. D. Beekon at her home Friday afternoon from 3 to 6, in honor of her friend, Mrs. Charles R. Vincent, who has lately become a resident of Fanwood.

The subject of Rev. G. M. Shott's sermon for Sunday morning will be "Unity in Diversity." In the evening "The Iron Gate."

Phillip Jahn, who has been taking a two years course of study in the trade schools of Germany, returned home Friday evening.

Charles Ball, of Cumberland, Md., is making an extended visit with his mother, Mrs. Samuel Ball.

John Bornmann has brken ground for a house adjoining his cottage on Westfield avenue.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Oct. 27—A wreck occurred on the Lehigh Valley Railroad yesterday on the Amboy track near the new tower at this place. A broken axle was the cause. A car of shelled corn and a car of flax seed were broken open and the grain scattered over the tracks.

The school had a half-holiday yesterday on account of the teachers' meeting at New Market.

The coal storage is cleaned out except a little supply of coal for use on the road.

Herbert Cubberley is quite ill, so that he was absent from school yesterday.

W. H. Manning has carpenters and painters at work repairing his home.

PICKPOCKETS FOLLOW BRYAN.

Republicans at Elizabeth Lose Valuables in the Crowd.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, October 27.—Deepite the fact that the entire police force of this city and all the reserves, together with several Newark dedectives, were on duty here Thursday night, pickpockets plied their vocation successfully in the big crowd that gathered at Scott Park and in the adjacent streets to see and hear William J. Bryan.

D. W. Silvers, an old grocer and a Republican, was relieved of $50 that he had in his trouser's pocket, while Dr. Oscar Adelberg, a prominent dentist, also a Republican, lost his pocketbook containing $8, valuable papers and a gold ring that belonged to his deceased father. The pocketbook and papers were found the next morning lying on Washington street, and were restored to the owner. Several other persons lost their watches.

Detective Decker arrested Teddy Miller, who is said to be a New York crook. He was picked up on suspicion just after Grocer Silvers discovered he had been robbed. He is being held for further investigation.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

Adjutant-General Stryker Seriously Ill.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 27.—William S. Stryker, Adjutant-General of the State of New Jersey, is seriously ill with heart trouble and has the constant attendance of physicians. He was stricken Thursday night and did not show much improvement during the day.

Mrs. Schreiner, of Paterson, who has been visiting borough frinds, has returned home.

TERRIBLY INJURED IN A LARK.

Leg of Small Girl Stealing a Ride Broken by a Telegraph Pole.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Rahway, Oct. 26.—As several young pupils were leaving Lincoln school yesterday a wagon with a telegraph pole came along. The pole was chained under the wagon, and the children, seeing an opportunity to ride, got astride the pole.

Nearing Maple and St. George avenues, Laura Fox's foot was close to the ground. The log scraped the ground just then and the little girl's leg was broken in two places. The flesh was scraped from the bone.

Personal Experience in a Siege.

There will be a special evening service at the Congregation church tomorrow under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. The speaker will be Dr. J. H. Ingram, a medical missionary just from China. His topic will be, "Personal Experiences in the Siege of Peking."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Im Jahre 1899 brachen in Sachsen 135 Arbeiterstrikes aus, die sich auf 929 Betriebe erstreckten und an denen die Bauarbeiter (Maurer, Zimmerer, Ofensetzer u. s. w.) mit 49, die Metallarbeiter mit 36 und die Textilarbeiter mit 9 betheiligt waren. In den betroffenen Betrieben waren, bei Beginn der Ausstände 34,500 Personen beschäftigt, von denen jedoch nur 13,142 sich an den Ausständen selbst betheiligten. Von ihnen waren 7741 zur sofortigen Arbeitseinstellung berechtigt, während 4294 kontraktbrüchig wurden. Zum völligen Stillstand kamen nur 158 Betriebe durch die Arbeitsniederlegung. — Vor der versammelten Mannschaft des hiesigen Pionierbataillons Nr. 12 wurde bekannt gegeben, daß die vormals der dritten Kompagnie angehörenden Pioniere Luther aus Blasewitz und Schreinert aus Freiberg, welche freiwillig bei dem ostasiatischen Pionierdetachement eingetreten waren, nicht mehr unter den Lebenden sind. Ersterer erhielt einen Schuß in den Kopf vor dem Feinde, letzterer erlag auf der Hinfahrt einer Krankheit.

Auerbach. Der verstorbene Rentier J. G. Förster hat zu Zwecken der inneren und äußeren Mission und des Gustav Adolf-Vereins je 5000 Mark und dem evangelisch-lutherischen Gotteskasten 4000 Mark testamentarisch vermacht.

Bärenstein. Jüngsthin feierte der Privatier Karl Grund mit seiner Gattin in seltener Rüstigkeit seine diamantene Hochzeit, umgeben von 10 Kindern und 35 Enkeln und Urenkeln.

Leipzig. Predominating Styles as Seen in NEW YORK

Some of the Changes Noted in Both Skirts and Sleeves This Season

A CHOICE IS OFFERED IN THE NEW SLEEVES

SOME new ideas in sleeves are being shown, and they are acceptable because of the choice in selection they afford. It is not every woman who appreciates the bell-shaped sleeve, and if nothing else were offered many would be tempted to forego the pleasure of being in style rather than wear them.

But, after all, these new sleeves are but variations of the sleeves we have been used to through the summer season, following in many ways the pagoda style. With the bell sleeves there are all sorts and conditions of undersleeves, either full and puffy or close-fitting, and long or short, according to the style of the gown, prevail to a great extent. The latter are simply small editions of the former, and in either case the becoming effect should be very seriously considered.

HOUSE GOWN OF RESEDA GREEN CASHMERE.

Many of the new cloth gowns have sleeves that show but the suggestion of an undersleeve—only a little puff—while in the gowns of lighter materials the undersleeves compose half the length of the sleeve. These are, as a rule, finished with a frill of lace over the hand.

As to the size of the fall and winter sleeves some say they are to be larger, though such a change can hardly be said to be shown in the models that are displayed or the new gowns that have been turned out for fashionable customers.

There is, however, a noticeable change in the size of the sleeves of coats and jackets, and these are some little larger. But even here the tight-fitting sleeve has not yet gone out, or even given first place to the newcomers. In coat sleeves one of the favorites of past seasons is still popular. It is the sleeve that flares over the hand, and saves many from the bell shape that is decidedly unpopular with some.

HOUSE GOWN OF PALE BLUE SILK WITH RAISED EMBROIDERY.

PRETTY HOUSE GOWNS FOR AFTERNOON RECEPTIONS

FOR the elaborate house gowns for afternoon receptions and teas that are now popular light tones and lightweight materials predominate. Of the materials the favorites are silks, poplins, cashmeres, nun's veilings, grenadines and lace robes. They are trimmed with satin and velvet bands, lace insertions on the heavy order, such as guipure, cluny and Maltese laces, oriental ribbon, hand embroidery and machine stitching.

To describe a few of these reception gowns I will begin with one of pale blue silk, trimmed with raised embroidery. This gown has a plain front gore with plaits at the side and back. To finish the hem is the raised embroidery, this extending quite high on the front gore. The bodice has a tucked vest of the blue silk, with a figaro in deep points heavily embroidered, and a knot of black velvet to fasten at the bust line. A crushed girdle of black velvet. The sleeves are covered with the raised embroidery.

Another is a unique and novel affair of French cashmere in reseda green. The skirt has a deep circular flounce around the bottom, with black insertion to edge. A plaited upper skirt from the front gore, and extending to just below the knees, with a circular flounce to finish. Diamond-shaped trimmings on the skirt and bodice of white satin covered with a trelise work of narrow black velvet. The bodice has a vest of white satin, with an oval-shaped piece of the cashmere up the center to the bust line; this is fastened on each side with cleverly-arranged wee bows of black velvet.

A third is a beautiful gown of lilac poplin, trimmed with silk lace and narrow black velvet. It is made a princess, with three rows of silk lace brought from the neck and covering the entire front of the bodice. At the waist line the lace widens at each side, extending around the skirt, one row at the hem, one at the knees and one row between, with a heading of black velvet ribbon. A bolero effect of the lace and ribbon, with elbow sleeves of the poplin trimmed with lace, and tucked undersleeves of white silk.

THERE IS A NOTICEABLE CHANGE IN SKIRTS

WHILE there is quite a noticeable change in skirts for the late fall and winter, the variety is so great that no woman need discard a last winter's skirt because it may possibly be out of style. To be sure, there were some of the fads that were seen last year that are not in vogue now, but then no one ever expects a fad to last more than one season, and the woman who cannot afford new clothes with each change in the weather does not often indulge in them.

PRETTY HOUSE GOWN OF LILAC POPLIN.

The skirts that may be said to be new are made more bouffant about the bottom than previously. This is done by the insertion of plaited fans, or sometimes plaited panels running to the waist, with the plaits confined to within a foot of the hem. This is a Paris importation, so I am told, but it is one that is meeting with favor among the fashionable set.

There are some materials that are better adapted to this method of making than others. Of all materials lace is the best, and they are made with inserted panels of silk. I saw a lace skirt made in this way a few days ago, and it was certainly beautiful. It was a gown of black lace made up with a bright green silk in the panels and for trimming on the bodice. The color combination sounds loud, but it did not look so, though it was decidedly Frenchy. On the skirt the green silk was used in two narrow panels on either side. At about the knees these panels are held by three rows of narrow black velvet and jet and below allowed to flare. At the hem they are trimmed, not held, by three more rows of velvet and jet. The bodice is of the bright silk, covered with jetted black net. A bolero of black lace ends on the bust, with two long scarf ends falling down on the skirt.

There is a seeming tendency towards shorter skirts than for two or three seasons past, and but few, if any, trailing skirts will be seen in street gowns. Even on the elaborate visiting costumes the skirts drag but a very little. The reason for this is that skirts are growing too full at the bottom to permit of their being lifted or worn easily.

SARAH DAVIDSON.

Singing in the Rain

Oh, the rain! The beautiful rain!
(Look where you're shovin' that umbrellar!)
Streaking the skies with a crystal stain—
(Tryin' to make a sluiceway of a feller?)
Unhappy must have been the poet's lot
(Madam, that's my eye that you've just hooked onto)
Who thro' long drizzling misty years has squat
(Don't dreen any more of that down my neck than you want to)
Upon this water-logged and rain-infested spot—
(Land of Goshen, man! Reckon my pockets hold water?)
And thought of forty different names for lakes,
And puzzled over fitting rhymes for otter,
And frogs, and fish, and brooks, and water snakes,
And wrote his lines web-footed, as was mete
For verse that waded with its plashing feet.
They learn indeed in suffering what they teach in song,
Whose muse soaks where it rains the whole year long.

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

BOB BURDETTE
Takes a Trip Abroad

He Sees the Beauties of the Lake District of England Through the Rain

(Copyright, 1900, by Robert J. Burdette.)

THE best time to visit the lake district of England is during the rainy season. Do not let the guide books mislead you or you may miss the rare spectacle of beholding the indescribable beauties of this fascinating region through the soft veil of mist and the slanting portiere of the rain, which affords the most perfect atmosphere of Wordsworth and Ruskin land. The rainy season in the lakes begins at four a. m. on the 1st of January and lasts until 13 p. m. on the 31st of December. Oh, some years it may extend several days or a few weeks beyond that time, but that is unusual. In making up your itinerary through England, then, be sure to reach the lake district some time during that limit. Otherwise you might strike a dry day, and then you would feel that all your rain coats, goloshes and umbrellas were so many incumbrances. They are, anyhow, as the incessant rains usually soak through them, but you feel it more on a dry, hot, dusty day. It is indeed a weariness of the flesh to walk around a poet-haunted country with a pair of arctics on your feet and a fur overcoat hanging over your arm, with the thermometer doing 92 degrees in the shade. But if you get to the lake district in the right season this will not befall you.

When we engaged our seats on the coach for the staging stretches between Penrith and Windemere I looked after the booking myself. I couldn't trust the other members of the family. I said:

"You have to be firm as a meat ax with these fellows. I'm not going to pay for four outside seats and then have some robber of a tourist come along at the last minute, bribe the guard and the coachman, jump our outside claim and crowd us down into the steerage of a British tallyho. You leave these fellows to me."

So I fell upon the stage man with my severest "civis Americanus sum" manner, frightened him badly—though he concealed his terror admirably—by telling him if I was flimflammed out of the smallest edge of one of those outside seats I would write to the American ambassador, the London Times, the Kickapoo Scarehead, besides—and I shook my head darkly. The cowed manager said that he would see to it himself that my family got outside seats. He did.

We got 'em.

The Blessed Rain.

Nobody minds a little rain in the lake district. Wheelmen of all sexes pedaled cheerfully through the steady downpour or wearily dragged their silent steeds up the long rain-swept hills. Blessed old England—it never makes any mud with its rains. An English bicycle, with all the rainy weather appurtenances thereunto appertaining in the way of mud guards, shields, splashers, brakes and scrapers, looks like a machine shop gone wrong. And the pedestrians plodded along, happy and sentimental, with cheery halloas at the people perched on the upper deck of the stage. And the people who had wisely secured and resolutely held on to the outside seats sat in them and soaked and smiled as they felt cold currents of summer rain—the only cold water in all Great Britain—purl under and around them in ever new and changing but always chilling torrents, and they "begged pardon" as they adroitly maneuvered, each to get his umbrella shed underneath the eaves of the other "rank outsider," and so trailed the cascades of water off the projecting rib down his neighbor's back, inside his collar. And the sufferer, by very force of English habit, only said: "Thank you," and sometimes he looked it. And from all the charming little hotels in the lake villages, day by day, little parties of pedestrians and cyclists set out to walk the trails. Sometimes they went prepared for rain. Oftener, knowing how impossible it was to fight the fates, they didn't, but went out, light of hand and heart and foot, all unincumbered, and took the weather as it came. If by some miracle the sun shone they sang as they walked. And when, to make up for lost time, it rained the harder, they merely quit singing and walked a little faster. That was all. If they eventually grow a-weary of too much precipitation they return to London, where the weather is always beautiful and fair. And hot.

Powerful Statistics.

How easily you can prove anything you wish by the accurate statistics which you carefully gather yourself. Never was in London but twice in all my life, and the sun shone clearly all the time—both times, 100 per cent. of sunshine. Never was in the lake district but once, and it rained every day. Moral: But the moral is obvious. I always enjoy fooling with statistics. A friend told me a few months ago that he had never seen a drunken man in London. We were walking home at the time, late at night, and just as he finished the statement we stopped to watch three drunken women fighting in the street. A couple of drunken men joined them and they had a merry five-handed tournament, until a placid bobby came along and scattered them without breaking a head. And, I may add, without making an arrest. He simply sent them home. My friend sighed heavily several times as we went on our way. I knew the necessity for retabulating his statistics lay heavy on his heart. He finally insisted that if I made a note of the painful and very remarkable and unusual scene we had just witnessed that I must in strict justice also set down the number of nights I had gone home without witnessing such a rare occurrence. But I told him that if he began to permit investigators to doctor each other's statistics you never could prove anything by them. Moreover, I don't believe you can prove much, anyhow, by the things you don't see. If you begin to accept such evidences as that you can prove anything and everything all the time and everywhere, simply by serving a subpoena on the nearest blind asylum.

A Land of Beauty.

But it really does not rain all the time among the lakes of Wordsworthshire. Only most of the time. And even on our rainy tour, now and then we had two or three hours of afternoon sunshine, and we forgot there had ever been such a thing as discomfort in all this world of sun and frost and rain. No one could better sing this land of rain and sun than Wordsworth's self:

There was a roaring in the wind all night;
The rain came heavily and fell in floods;
but then the morning dawned, and —now the sun is shining calm and bright,
And birds are singing in the distant woods.

And rain or shine, it is a land whose beauty is independent of all weathers. Beautiful, even without the glamour, which romance and poetry and history have combined to invest it. It is a little mountain setting of lakes, or meres; nearly a score of them nestle in a map of gray and green—rocks, mountains and meadows—about 25 miles square. They are gentle mountains, to American eyes. Even the mighty Helvellyn lifts his dark brow only about 3,000 feet into cloudland. It is a land to inspire Wordsworth, rather than Byron. All the places that he most loved are touched with the beauty of gentleness, although mere mountains and the lakes that mirror them are the birthplaces of fearful storms. Rydal Mount, where Wordsworth lived so long, and where he died, is sequestered and lovely. Here at the roadside, between Grasmere and Ambleside, they show you "the poet's seat," a flight of steps cut in the rock, leading up to the clift at its summit—a rude, natural armchair. There were his walks and haunts—these lakes and fells were his loves. Here he sleeps in the old churchyard at Grasmere—such a rudely built, crude, rough-finished church it is—with the Rotha singing at his side. Matthew Arnold—whose home was his fairyland, sings tenderly in his dirge for Wordsworth, apostrophizing this river:

Sing him thy best. For few or none
Hears thy voice right, now he is gone.

Wordsworth's wife rests in the same grave, and the simple stone that marks it bears only the inscription: "William Wordsworth, 1850. Mary Wordsworth, 1859." We always think of him as one of the poets of the long ago. But 1850 was but yesterday. Only a few paces away sleeps Hartley Coleridge, son of the great Coleridge. And Southey rests in this lake country, in Crosthwaite churchyard, near Keswick. On the end of an old tomb is an inscription which commemorates the virtues of an old family servant who is buried with the poet. And at Coniston, on the shore of Coniston lake, Ruskin sleeps in a grave as yet unmarked, even by an ungraven stone. Above him the trees. At his feet a wall covered with ivy. The grasses cover his grave, and day by day garlands and sprays of flower and shrub are laid upon it by reverent and loving hands of the tourists who would have irritated him, living. There are some men who cannot keep us from loving them. Not a bow shot from his grave the hall of Coniston institute was thronged with these same tourists, at an exhibition of Ruskin's original sketches and a few precious paintings, some Turners among them, which had belonged to him. Here at the head of the lake is the great tree beside which, he said, was the most beautiful view in all the lake region. Another place to visit is the home of Dr. Thomas Arnold, he who sleeps in the chapel at Rugby, and who is beloved by thousands of boys who never saw him.

Testing the Wishing "Gate."

All this lake region is a paradise for pedestrians. The only way to visit it, indeed, is afoot. It is not to be traveled over, but loitered through. We loitered through it a little ourselves. We went to the Wishing Gate at Grasmere and wished for fair weather right away.

Out came the sun, sudden, swift and clear as a daytime skyrocket. Forthwith we went for a row on Windermere. My lady took the tiller and the willing crew bent to the laboring oars. Our light bark shot across the placid bosom of the silver mere, breaking it into a thousand ripples, like a brick going through a mirror. The lake was sacred to poetry and song. We sang "We Are Seven." But, as that charming poem has never been set to music, and we improvised four different tunes for it, and as the galley slaves at the oars panted laboriously, the effect was decidedly blank verse. But we all thought we knew a tune that would go to "Lucy Gray." So we tried that in memory of Wordsworth. Then it rained. After it rained the boat full we pulled back to the landing and the man baled us out. He said we should have pulled the plug out of the bottom of the boat and the water would have run out. We said we saw the plug, but were afraid if we drew it the more would run in. He said: "Not while it was raining it wouldn't." And, indeed, we believed him.

Fraudulent Memorials.

We afterward learned that the rain was not caused by our singing "Lucy Gray," as we feared was the case, but because the "wishing gate" was a modern substitute for the original, and that it cannot guarantee a wish for a longer time than 25 minutes—just long enough to get a man out into deep water and then pull the planks from under him. The original gate was taken away years ago to save it from the claws and hoofs of the relic hunter. A new gate is now put up every year, hacked to pieces and carried away. And sensible, trusting and confiding people go to this fraudulent imitation, wish over it and go away buncoed to the core. For the safety and the moral well-being of the public oleomargarine isn't the only thing in the market that should be labeled. We wouldn't mind the imitation "wishing gate" and the fraudulent shrine and the lying bones of the miracle-working saint who starved to death—not because he was too good to eat, but because he was too lazy to work, and was such a dead beat he couldn't get credit at the boarding house or grocery—if we never learned how cruelly we had been deceived. But late or soon—and usually very soon—we find these things out, every one of them.

"Idol Tears."

And after you have shuddered over the lonely cairn of Black Dhugald yr Dhhudhhu the Red, and afterward discover that it was only a pile of stones made four years ago when the farmer cleared that field, and that the original cairn was carried away by a flood 1214 B. C., you lose faith in stone heaps and grieve over a wasted thrill. We have kept a careful account of these things, and find, by striking a trial balance, that we have 26 thrills to our credit, having used them at the wrong places and on fraudulent things. This gave me the right to sleep past the tombs of about two acres of Irish kings, half a mile of shrines and half a dozen delicious murder places of fabulous horror. And I yet have several thrills due me. I am not going to waste any tears on this tour. When a careless or ignorant guide permits me to weep over an icehouse when the tomb is on the other side of the castle I am going to cork up the tear jug for use at the next place, and save the wear and tear on my lachrymal glands. I enjoy a good cry as well as any man, but I am not going to water the rivers or the rain-sodden marshes with my tears. I am going to cry on something that can appreciate a little moisture, and that is entitled to it, and needs it. There wouldn't be one-half the weeping in this world that there now is if only we wept over the right things. Most of our tears patter into the sea, which is overfull and wet and bitter already as water and salt can make it. And the misery and pain which needs our tears and sympathy shrivels and droops in the burning desert. Eyes are poor things to cry with, anyhow. Weep with your pocketbook, man; sob with your bank account, and you may say, with the psalmist: "Put thou my tears into thy bottle."

ROBERT J. BURDETTE.

SENSIBLE, TRUSTING AND CONFIDING PEOPLE GO TO THIS FRAUDULENT IMITATION.

Safe.

Mrs. Von Blumer—Dear, dear, I dropped my diamond ring off my finger this morning, and I cannot find it anywhere.

Von Blumer—It's all right. I came across it in one of my trousers pockets.—Harper's Bazar.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE.

Iron Moulders' Union Held a Ball at Washington Hall Last Evening.

One of the largest and most successful dances held in Washington Hall took place last evening under the auspices of the Iron Moulders' Union. Over 200 people were in attendance. Professor O'Reilly's full orchestra furnished the music.

John Whalen acted as floor manager and was assisted by Ernest Rowe, Thomas McCauley, Richard Bittle and Ernest Derflinger. The committee of arrangements who made the affair such a success was Ernest Rowe, chairman; Charles Gallagher, John Whalen N. C. Hagerty, M. A. Leahy, Charles Hope, Ernest Derflinger, Richard Bittle, Peter Russ and Thomas McCauley.

To Furnish New Building.

The manual training school building, that has been in course of construction in the borough, is about completed and Superintendent Wightman went to New York today to see about furnishing the same with proper fitting. The work of installing the new heating and ventilating system is progressing satisfactorily, and the work of repairs is moving along steadily.

Successful Operation.

Katy Green, 8 year-old daughter of Lawrence Green, of West Third street, was operated upon Thursday by Dr. Ard for a very bad case of cross-eye. There seems to be reasonable hopes that the trouble will be removed successfully.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Items That Concern Democrats and Republicans in Different Parts of the State.

Borough Councilman Swackhamer is scheduled to make a Democratic speech at Mt. Bethel Monday evening.

The Democrats of the borough will hold a meeting this evening, listen to good speeches and witness a comical sketch arranged by local talent.

It is not likely that another big Republican mass meeting will be held in the borough before election. The U. S. Grant Club has been doing good work for their party, and the members will hold several smaller meetings between now and election.

A delegation of members from the U. S. Grant Republican Club of the borough attended a mass meeting held at Bernardsville last evenue.

Hon. Chas. N. Braum, of Pennsylvania, will address a Republican mass meeting at Music Hall, Thursday evening.

A meeting of the board of managers of the Second Ward Republican Association was held at Republican headquarters last evening. Details concerning the canvass in the Second ward were completed.

A meeting of the Republican city campaign committee will be held Tuesday evening at Republican headquarters when arrangements for the mass meeting at Music Hall Thursday evening will be completed.

Rev. William T. Griffin, U. S. Consul at Limoges, France, will speak at the "open house" at Republican headquarters this evening. Rev. Mr. Griffin is a good speaker and is thoroughly informed on the progress of American interests in Europe. He will give some interesting facts. The North Plainfield Glee Club will sing.

City Judge William N. Runyon, chairman of the Second Ward Republican Association, has issued the following call: "An invitation has been received by the Second Ward Republican Association of Plainfield, N. J., to participate in the demonstration, arranged by the Republican central committee of Elizabeth, to take place at Elizabeth Monday evening, October 29. All members of the association are urged to meet at the North avenue station Monday evening and take the 7:06 train for Elizabeth and there take part in the parade. Young men of this city, whether or not members of the association, are cordially invited to join the delegation and give Plainfield a strong representation.

William N. Runyon,
Chairman."

Fell From Shed.

While at work on the new depot this morning, James Walsh, a slater, slipped and fell from the train shed to the ground, a distance of twelve feet. He was badly bruised and it is feared one leg is broken. The 9:58 train arrived a few minutes after the accident and the injured man was assisted aboard and sent to his home in Elizabeth.

Gave a Banquet.

Following the Republican mass-meeting held in Washington Hall last Thursday night under the auspices of the Southern Republican League, a banquet was served in the rooms of the League on East Front street. At this banquet there was a number of leading Republicans from among the white people, and they were treated royally.

Earl Lynn, little son of Fred G. Lynn, of Orchard place, is much better after a severe illness.

T. E. H. Curtis and mother, of West Eighth street, left today for Lakewood for a few days. They will register at the Laurel House.

Miss May Kelly and Miss Estella Trust, late graduates of our Plainfield Business College, have secured very desirable positions in New York.

Fred Wynne, of East Fifth street, is confined to his home the result of injuries received while at work Monday. Dr. Browning is in attendance and hopes to have his patient around in a few days.

RETURNED GOOD FOR EVIL.

A Jealous Dog's Tantrums and the Undeserved Treatment He Received.

Jealousy is as much a characteristic of dogs as of human beings. Before DeBrown married, he had a brindle and white bull pup with a big, wrinkled head, pointed ears, undershot jaw, and a sidewheel way of locomotion. He was heavy in front, broad between the forelegs and tapered symmetrically to the tip of his ratlike tail. His name was Zephyr, because of his cyclonic tendencies, and he thought more of DeBrown than of the rest of the universe in a lump, says the Detroit Free Press.

DeBrown recently took unto himself a wife, and Zephyr at once began to prove a misnomer. Husbands always caress their wives during the honeymoon, individual cases differing as to the rest of the time. When the dog saw DeBrown show visible affection for Mrs. DeBrown, there were all kinds of trouble and no recess. Zephyr first tried to slay his mistress, and was temporarily put out with a baseball bat. His second attempt was thwarted with an ice pick.

But brindle and white bull dogs are tacticians, and Zephyr changed his plans of campaign. He hid under the bed in the bridal chamber and bided his time. When it came he made narrow ribbons of silk gowns, tore lingerie into bandages such as are sought for at the hospital, piled the bed by mouthfuls in the middle of the floor, stripped most of the furniture of upholstery, and made the carpet look as though it had been moth food for a whole season.

Then the pup lay down to enjoy the approval of his conscience without apparent regard as to what the future held for him. The husband glared upon the variegated wreck and rushed for a revolver. The howling Zephyr thought that his time had come when the wife put him behind her, expostulated with the infuriated DeBrown and gave the homely brute one more chance. Now he sticks closer than a brother to her, and paces by her side wherever she goes.

A True Gentleman.

Familiarity with the prevailing standards of etiquette gives a young man a distinct advantage, and he who is sure that he knows is at ease and conforms automatically to social requirement. None can be perfect in deportment who has to stop to consider how things ought to be done. If a man be a gentleman at heart the outward polish is easily acquired—between manners and morals the tie is intimate. A true gentleman is simple, unpretending, natural. He is courteous and considerate, and has the personal dignity that comes of self-respect, not self-conciousness. He treats every woman as a lady, speaks well of others and recognizes hospitality as a mutual obligation.—Ladies' Home Journal.

EMPTIED POCKETBOOK.

Bold Theft at a Sandford Avenue Home Committed By a Young Colored Man Yesterday.

William T. Pirks, of Newark, was arraigned before Justice Nash this morning on charges preferred against him by Miss Ida Kelley, of Sandford avenue. Pirks appeared at the residence where Miss Kelley is employed yesterday afternoon and asked to see her sister, who was upstairs. While Miss Kelley was absent Pirks abstracted $2.50 from a pocketbook which had been left on an oil stove. The complainant noticed the pocketbook displaced and upon examining it discovered the loss. She accused Pirks of taking it, which he candidly admitted. He then left the house. Miss Kelley followed and calling a policeman had him arrested. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was held in $100 bail for his appearance before the Grand Jury. Both parties are colored.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Kate McDonald, of Fanwood, has gone to Jersey City, where she will visit friends for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Alpaugh, of Jersey City, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Eoff, 149 Crescent avenue.

Mrs. Lemuel Coles, of West Front street, wishes to extend to her neighbors and friends her thanks for their kindness in her bereavement.

Mrs. Chase, formerly a resident of East Front street, and the mother of Frederick F., and Louis A. Chase, has been visiting her Plainfield friends for a week or more. She is now living in Colorado Springs, Col., and she accompanied an excursion party from her home to New York. She returned home today.

Lively Runaway.

A horse attached to a delivery wagon belonging to M. E. Stephenson, of North avenue, ran away on Somerset street this morning. The driver was thrown out and rendered insensible for some time. He recovered sufficiently to go home shortly after. The horse was caught before any serious damage resulted.

Killed a Mad Dog.

A white bull dog, frothing at the mouth, appeared on the city streets early this morning. Roundsman Flynn went out in search of the supposed mad dog which was traced to Blair's stable on West Sixth street. William McConnell there killed the animal with a bale stick before the officer arrived.

A Member of the Stock Exchange.

T. E. H. Curtis, of West Eighth street, who inherited by his father's will a seat in the New York Stock Exchange, has been elected a member of the Exchange.

Leal's School Boys Won.

The Leal's School eleven defeated the Plainfield High School team this morning on Martine Common by a score of 18 to 0.

For Being Drunk.

For being drunk Sheridan Jones was arrested this morning by Patrolman Totten on East Second street.

$75,000 LOSS FROM A FIRE.

Chapot's Factory Totally Destroyed—Origin of Fire is a Mystery.

THE TOTAL INSURANCE AMOUNTS TO $55,000.

SMALL FIRE AT FACTORY YESTERDAY MORNING WAS COMPLETELY EXTINGUISHED.

Cause of Both Fires is Unknown—Fire Blocked Traffic on Central and Burned Telegraph Poles—Alarm was Sent in at 4:45 o'Clock.

There were two fires at the chamois factory of C. Chapot & Sons, on South Second street, near Rock avenue, yesterday, the causes of which are unknown. The morning blaze was discovered in its incipiency and extinguished by the fire department with a loss of only $100. The conflagration of the afternoon spread to the entire building and burned it to the ground, leaving only the brick powerhouse and stack remaining.

The loss has been variously estimated from $75,000 to $90,000, to partially cover which there is insurance amounting to $55,000. The frame factory, the floors and walls of which were saturated with oil, burned very rapidly and fiercely. The illumination could be seen for miles and several thousand people were attracted to the scene.

Half a mile from the Dunellen station, the factory stood close to the tracks of the Jersey Central Railroad. The nearest hydrant was on West Front street, almost 2,000 feet from the building. The factory itself was 223 feet long and 43 feet wide. On the south side was a wing used as a drying shed.

While the theory of Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, is that mice and matches were responsible for the morning's fire, it is not known how it originated. The night watchman discovered the office full of smoke and rushed to box 49, corner of South Second street and Clinton avenue, and turned in an alarm at 10:30 o'clock. The fire was in the floor just ever the office, which was located in the south-western end of the factory. It had evidently been burning for many hours as the heavy floor joists were completely burned off. The prompt arrival of the West End Hose Company saved the building. The flames were finally extinguised with a stream from the chemical engine. The loss was $100.

Great care was taken to see that not a spark of fire remained and some thought Chief Doane needlessly exact in his care to make sure of finding all the fire. The building was then turned over to the Chapots who promised to remain there the rest of the day.

At 4:15 o'clock, John Chapot, one of the sons, was walking to the office from the rear of the factory when he saw that the end of the building was a mass of flames. He ran to the telephone and only had time to shout "fire" when the heat and flames drove him away. Thomas Warren, a lad living on Rock avenue, saw the blaze and sent in an alarm from box 89, corner of West Front street and Rock avenue.

The West End Hose Company was the first to reach the scene. They laid in a line from the nearest hydrant on West Front street but the 1,000 feet of hose would hardly reach more than half way to the fire. Meanwhile the south-western end of the factory was a mass of fire and the flames were spreading fast.

On the arrival of the rest of the apparatus, the line of hose, 1850 feet long, was completed and the steamer started at work. A length of hose burst and furthey delay was caused in replacing it.

By the time the firemen arrived it was plain that the building was doomed. The flames rushed along over the oil soaked woodwork and the intense heat set fire to buildings more than a hundred yards away. A light wind fanned the fire. The telegraph poles on the south side of the track were afire and the eighteen wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company soon fell. The great heat drove the firemen back and set fire to the railroad ties and the telegraph poles across the track. The latter were saved by use of sand and a fire extinguisher.

Paint on the hose wagon across the track was blistered, and two westbound passenger trains and one eastbound freight were held up for half an hour.

Many barrels of oil had been stored on the southeast side of the building, and Chapot and his men labored hard to get them out before the flames reached them. C. Chapot was overcome by heat and excitement and had to be carried home. The other members of the firm were greatly excited. A quantity of partially-finished chamois was carried out of the drying shed and hauled away in carts.

The strong headway the fire had secured and the great inflammability of the building made it impossible for the firemen to do anything except devote their efforts to preventing the fire from spreading. After the line of hose was repaired, the water was turned on the railroad ties which were beginning to blaze.

By 6 o'clock the structure had been consumed and only a heap of blazing ruins remained. The ruins burned, however, all night, the oil defying the efforts of the firemen to extinguish it. There were a number of barrels of oil which were not saved and which exploded at intervals during the fire. The recall was sounded at 10:24 last evening. At 1 o'clock this morning the firemen went home, leaving watchmen on guard.

The insurance on the building and contents, as placed by Elston M. French, is about $55,000. Of this amount one-half is in companies represented by him. The remainder is divided between several other agents, of which W. A. Woodruff is the largest, holding $18,750. J. C. Pope & Company and Armstrong Mulford also hold small amounts. The insurance is made payable to Alphonse Weil & Son, of New York, who control the output, and for whom Chapot & Sons act as agents. At present the exact loss cannot be determined, having been placed at widely differing amounts.

A Press reporter interviewed Frank Chapot this morning and to him the latter declared his firm would, at the least, lose $30,000 in addition to the insurance. This great loss is due, he said, to the great quantity of chamois on hand ready for the Christmas season and to the valuable machinery. When running with its full force the factory employed from 75 to 100 hands.

It was the only one of its kind in the country, the process for preparing the chamois being known only to the elder Chapot. The secret has been in the family for 300 years. It is written out and placed in safe deposit, to be divulged to the eldest son only upon the death of the father. This is the first time in the history of the family that a factory has been destroyed. The burned building was completed in 1895, the chamois previous to that time being prepared at what is now Watchung. The firm came to this city from France. As soon as matters can be adjusted satisfactorily the factory will be rebuilt.

Keystone Out of the Lock.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, Oct. 29—By the most strenuous efforts of the wrecking crews, assisted by a couple of large tugs, the Keystone, which has been wedged in the lock of the Delaware and Raritan canal at Bound Brook for some time, was dragged back into the upper level Saturday. Her cargo will now be removed and if she is then unable to proceed through the lock Capt. Rickenbach intends to arrange a steering gear in the bow, and the empty boat will then be towed backwards through the canal to Bordentown.

Chemical Engine Damaged.

The chemical engine received damages yesterday which will necessitate it being sent to the shop for repairs. While turning the corner of Central avenue and Second street in answer to the first alarm, the rear wheels struck the curb, bending the axle. During the afternoon blaze the engine was brought close to the fire for the purpose of wetting nearby houses and the intense heat scorched one side. The damage in either case, however, was trifling and the engine will be out of service for a very short time.

LEAL'S BOYS ROLLED UP A BIG SCORE.

Defeated Plainfield High School Eleven Saturday Morning in Hard Fought Game.

SCORE WAS 18 TO 0.

POOR JUDGMENT AND A FUMBLE SPOILED HIGH SCHOOL'S SCORING.

Leal's School Team Made Three Touchdowns in First Half—Fine Interference—High School Braced Up in Second Half.

Quickness to take advantage of every opportunity enabled the Leal's School eleven to roll up the unexpectedly high score of 18 to 0 against the Plainfield High School team in a hard fought football game on the gridiron at Martine Common Saturday morning. The teams were much more evenly matched than the score would indicate. Twice the High School boys had a chance to score but poor judgment lost one and fumbled the other.

Both teams played good football. The High School was weakened by the loss of the Masons behind the line, while the removal of Pond and subsequently Denton to fill their places weakened the center trio. "Angel" Davis, captain of the High School team, was only able to play part of the game and his absence was felt. Nevertheless the High School boys held together, and in the second half had rather the advantage of their opponents. The fine showing made by the Leal boys was unexpected. Their interference was excellent, while they made long gains with "guards back" formation.

Leal's kicked off and the High School soon lost the ball on downs. The ball changed hands twice more on downs and then Brown ran around left end from the forty yard line for a touchdown. The time of play was five minutes. Tilney kicked the goal.

Mimford fumbled High School's kick-off and Cubberley fell on the ball at the middle of the field. On a quarterback trick, Ughetta carried the ball to Leal's fifteen yard line. Other gains netted five yards. With three downs and four yards to gain, Davis attempted to kick a goal from the field but the Leal rushers came through the line so fast that he punted instead and the ball went over the goal line. The Leal team then had the right to kick off from their twenty-five yard line.

High School lost the ball on downs. Cahoone broke through the line and ran 35 yards to High School's five yard line and then Rogers went round left end for a touchdown. Tilney kicked the goal.

On the first play after High School's kickoff, Ralph Schoonmaker rounded right end for forty yards. Leal's lost the balls on downs only to get it again the same way. Then the ball was worked down the field on mass plays to High Schools thirty yard line when R. Schoonmaker circled right end for a touchdown. Tilney kicked the goal. The first half ended with the ball in the centre of the field.

High School kicked off in the second half. Leal's brought the ball slowly back to the centre of the field there to lose it on downs. Ughetta ran to Leal's fifteen-yard line and there seemed a chance for a touchdown, but Pond fumbled the ball and a Leal's man fell on it. After that the ball traveled slowly up the field and the ball continued near the middle of the field until time was called.

The lineup was as follows:

LEAL'S SCHOOL.		HIGH SCHOOL.
Rogers. V McGee	right end	Monroe
W. Schoonmaker	right tackle	Meeker
Bigelow	right guard	Scull
Minford	centre	Cubberley
Griggs	left tackle	VanAuken
Hall	left end	Bulkley
Tilney	quarterback	Ughetta
Brown	right halfback	Hallock
R. Schoonmaker	left halfback	Pond, Denton
D. McGee	fullback	Davis, Pond

Score—Leal's School, 18; High School, 0. Touchdowns—Brown, Rogers, R. Schoonmaker. Goals from touchdowns—Tilney, (3). Referee—Roger Erickson. Umpire—Roy T. Phillips. Time of halves—Twenty and fifteen minutes.

Christened at St. Joseph's.

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Cannon, of Somerset street, took place yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's church and the ceremony was performed by Father Miller. Dr. P. AMERICA'S PRESTIGE DEPENDS ON ELECTION

So Said U. S Counsel Griffin in a Talk to Plainfield Republicans.

AT CITY HEADQUARTERS.

EUROPEAN MANUFACTURERS ARE HOPING FOR BRYAN'S ELECTION.

Many Have Told Mr. Griffin That All Europe Believes Democratic Victory Will End American Supremacy in Foreign Markets.

A hundred voters dropped in at Republican headquarters in the Marsh building Saturday evening and listened to an informal talk by Rev. W. T. Griffin, United States Counsel at Lemoges, France. Rev. Mr. Griffin's home is on LaGrande avenue and he only recently returned to this country in order to be here election day. According to the plan of the city campaign committee, there was "open house" at headquarters Saturday evening. There was no set programme but City Judge William N. Runyon, chairman of the committee on rooms and entertainment, was in charge.

A brief but interesting description of the Paris Exposition was given by Mr. Griffin. He called attention to the fact that the American exhibits, particularly in the line of manufactured articles, excelled those of the rest of the world and received the greatest awards given by the exposition authorities. While it was a matter of perfect indifference to the people of the United States who the next sovereign or ruling power was in any of the countries of Europe, Mr. Griffin told how much interest he had discovered among the nations of Europe in the approaching national election in this country. Men of all nationalities had told him that it was well-known through Europe that the raising of Bryan and his Democratic cohorts to power would practically kill the immense foreign trade of the United States. The manufacturers of Europe await the result of the election, hoping for the election of Bryan as bringing sure death to American supremacy in the markets of the world.

Mr. Griffin compared the life of the American workingman to that of the pauper laborer of Europe.

He also had something to say on the subject of trusts. The greatest trust of the country was, he said, a righteous one, organized labor, which had gained for the the workingman of the country the right to state his grievences and the power to give him his just rights. Bryan declared that he would abolish all trusts. While there were, at present, features of these great combinations of capital which were to be deplored, he believed that tyranny in no form could exist for long in this land, and that the course of events which developed the trusts would just as surely control them, eliminating the dangerous features and enlarging the benefits to the country and its people.

During the evening the North Plainfield Glee Club, with Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan as accompanist, rendered a number of campaign songs. At the conclusion of the meeting many of the voters gathered around the piano and spent some time in singing campaign words to familiar airs.

Tomorrow is the last day for registration. Be sure and register if you want to vote.

Married Just a Year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hurley were pleasantly surprised Friday evening by a number of friends, the occasion being their first wedding anniversary. The time was spent in singing and dancing. The music was furnished by Prof. Frazee. The affair was gotten up by Robert Parker, the Misses Corrogan, Tommy Hand and Charles Wescott.

Mrs. Peters Dead.

Mrs. Abbie A. Peters died Saturday at the residence of her son, William Mayhew, of West Fourth street. She was fifty-nine years old. The funeral services will be held from the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

An Interesting Speaker.

Miss Thompson, a missionary from the Ferris Seminary, Japan, will address the members of the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church at their meeting Friday evening next, Nov. 2d.

Manual Training Instructor.

It is likely that the question of selecting an instructor for the manual training school in the borough will be made at the meeting of the Board of Education this evening.

O'NEILL'S BODY CLAIMED

RAILROAD VICTIM'S OLD SWEETHEART GAVE RIGHT INFORMATION.

Relatives Reside in Philadelphia and the Remains Were Taken to That City.

From the clues furnished by the employes at the Pond Tool Works foundry, the relatives of John O'Neill, the railroad victim, have been discovered. Chief Kiely went to High Bridge Saturday, where O'Neill worked for some time, and located a former sweetheart, Miss Roxbury. Upon the chief's request she came to this city at once and positively identified the dead man. She also furnished the address of a brother-in-law, John J. Reilly, of 1744 Wayne place, Philadelphia.

In response to a telegram the latter came to Plainfield on the 9:58 train Saturday night. After viewing the remains, he instructed Undertaker George W. Cole to place them in a handsome casket and ship them to Philadelphia.

The young man would have been twenty-six years old in a few months and leaves a father, three sisters and a brother, all of whom live in Philadelphia. He had a good home with them but was of a roving disposition and would be away for months at a time without their knowing his whereabouts. The last time he was seen alive by any of the family was last May when he came home for a few days. He worked in the Pond foundry a short time last December.

Mr. Reilly remained in town until yesterday afternoon when he accompanied the body home on the 2:16 train. He was very gratiful, he said, to the Messers. McNamara, Clark, Galbraith, Spencer and others who gave the first clue to O'Neill's indentity and also to Chief Kiely for his work in clearing up the mystery.

HARBOR HILL DEFEATED.

HILLSIDE PLAYERS VICTORIOUS OVER VISITING GOLFERS.

Team Match Played—Score 8 to 5—Semi-final Play for vanHerwerden Cup.

Four members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club represented the club Saturday in a match game played with Harbor Hill at Harbor Hill. For some reason all the regular members of the team could not play and it was a disappointment to both sides. The Hillside team won the match, however, by a score of 8 to 5. Nearly every time the team has played Harbor Hill they have won, and the crack players from Staten Island do not like the idea very much. Their players are veterans in the game and they think they should win once in a while against Hillside. W. L. Glenney carried off the honors Saturday by defeating his opponent 6 up. He and Dr. Ard, who won 2 up, were the only two members of the Hillside team to score.

The summary follows:

HILLSIDE.		HARBOR HILL.
W. L. Glenney	6	Otto Hockmeyer	0
Dr. F. C. Ard	2	Goldsborough	0
Morris Dumont	0	Cottrell	0
T. R. VanBoskerck	0	C. T. Wemple	5

The semi final play for the vanHerwerden cup took place Saturday morning. Miss Margaret Holly, Miss May Holly and Miss Daisy Shepard were the only three eligible to play. Miss Margaret Holly fortunately drew the bye, leaving the other two to play. This play resulted in Miss Shepard defeating Miss Holly 2 up and 1 to go. The final play for the cup takes place today between Miss Shepard and Miss Margaret Holly, and the result will be awaited with considerable interest. The winner today decides the permanent ownership of the cup.

There were no other events on the course Saturday, but a large number of members gathered at the clubhouse in the evening and enjoyed a dinner party. The social features were delightful and all were loud in their praise of the excellent dinner served by Mr. Ivamy, the steward.

A Memorial Service.

An impressive service was held at the rooms of the W. C. T. U. yesterday morning in memory of the late Lemuel Coles, who was one of the faithful workers and attendants at all the Gospel meetings of the union. There was a large attendance and many spoke personally of the exemplary Christian life of the departed.

Installation of Elders and Deacons.

Yesterday morning the newly-elected elders and deacons of Trinity Reformed church were solemnly installed for a term of two years each by Dr. Schenck, in the presence of a large congregation. The elders were G. L. VanEmburgh, H. E. Gayle and Robert Clark, Jr., and the deacons were W. Oliver, T. R. VanZandt and A. K Willett.

E. I. SERRELL IS SURE OF PRESIDENT'S CUP

His Chief Rivals Failed to Score in Weekly Competition at the Park Golf Club.

ONE WEEK'S PLAY MORE.

HIS LEAD IS SO GREAT THAT OTHER OPPONENTS CANNOT CATCH UP.

First Honors Went to W. de la R. Anderson—M. T. Townsend Defeated W. J. R. Thiers for Challenge Trophy.

Although play for the president's cup will be continued on the links of the Park Golf Club next Saturday, it is now a certainty that Edgar I. Serrell will hold the coveted trophy until next season. In the weekly competition for that trophy Saturday afternoon Serrell's closest rivals failed to advance their scores sufficiently to make it possible to catch up with Serrell on the last day of play.

Serrell led last week in the race for the cup by a comfortable number of points. Allan B. Laing was second and Morgan T. Townsend third. As a result of Saturday's play Townsend tied with Laing for second place. They now have 10½ points each to Serrell's 14. Even if Laing or Townsend takes first honors with three points next Saturday, Serrell will still lead and the trophy will consequently go to him.

There was a fair turnout at the Park Club course Saturday afternoon and some fifteen members entered for the weekly competition for the cup. W. de la R. Anderson surprised everybody by turning in a 91 gross which divided first honors with J. H. Howell. He played with Serrell and beat him easily, Serrell only making a 97. Townsend in a match with W. J. R. Thiers made a 94 from scratch, which gave him third. Laing played but did not turn in any score.

Four cards came in and they were as follows:

	Gross.	Hand.	Net.
W. de la R Anderson	91	4	87
J. H. Howell	105	18	87
Morgan T. Townend	94	0	94
Edgar I. Serrell	97	0	97

W. J. R. Thiers, who now leads in matches won for the green committee challenge trophy, failed to take that trophy away from Morgan T. Townsend, the present holder. Thiers was next on the list of challengers. The first three holes were halved. Then Townsend won six straight and Thiers gave up the match. Thiers has done no playing at all of late and was way off his old game. Townsend was in fair shape, making a 94.

The standing for the president's cup is as follows:

Edgar I. Serrell	14
Allan B. Laing	10½
Morgan T. Townsend	10½
Wm. R. Faber	8½
Meredith Dryden	8
George T. Rogers	6½
H. D. Hibbard	6
S. St. J. McCutchen	5 5-6
Charles A. Reed	5½
W. J. R. Thiers	5
Gustavus W. Faber	4½
W. de la R. Anderson	6½
Wm. M. McCutchen	4
Samuel Townsend	3
George C. Werth	3
Herbert S. Rogers	3
J. H. Simpson	3

Scattering—Henry C. Wells, Gustavus W Faber, Donald A. McGee, Charles B. Morse, J. D. Sandford, Townsend Rushmore, Charles Duree, Frank Rogers, Roger F. Murray, Wm. A. Townsend and J. H. Howell.

The standing for the green committee challenge trophy is as follows:

W. J. R. Thiers	10
Morgan T. Townsend	7
Gustavus W. Faber	2
W. de la R. Anderson	1
Fred P. Taylor	1
Edgar I. Serrell	1

Rehearsal of "Messiah" Chorus.

The regular rehearsal of the "Messiah" chorus will be held this evening in the lecture room of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, entrance on Crescent avenue. The committee in charge desire that those who received notice to take part in the rendering of the oratorio this season and who have not replied to the notice, will inform the committee at once whether they intend to participate. Unless the secretary is so informed without further delay, the names will be dropped from the roll and others will be selected from the new applicants to fill their places.

Shakespearean Reciter.

Marshall Darrach, the great Shakespearean reciter, will appear at the Casino on next Thursday night under the patronage of seventy-five well-known society people. He has recited before large audiences in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and in Washington, where Mrs. McKinley led the list of patronesses. Mr. Darrach will give "The Merchant of Venice," and it will be given entirely from memory.

LAST APPEAL OF LOCAL DEMOCRACY.

James Minturn, of Hoboken, to Speak in Washington Hall Wednesday Night.

NO MUSIC HALL MEETING.

ASSEMBLY CANDIDATES WILL ALSO BE PRESENT.

Borough Democrats Had a Clam Chowder Saturday Night and Tonight They Will Hear James Bergen.

The Democrats of this city will hold one more mass meeting before the end of the campaign, but it will not take place in Music Hall. Owing to the inability of the State committee to furnish a speaker of National reputation to fill the place that Webster Davis was expected to occupy in the wind up of the local campaign on the part of the Democracy, it was decided not to use Music Hall at all. Instead another meeting will be held in Washington Hall. The date fixed for this meeting is Wedneeday night of this week when Corporation Counsel James Minturn, of Hoboken, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Minturn is a speaker of excellent address and will discuss the issues from the Democratic standpoint in an able and vigorous manner. Other speakers will be Frederick W. Park, of Cranford, and John Lammerding, of Elizabeth, Democratic candidates for members of Assembly.

James E. Martine delivered a speech at Californ Saturday night. Tonight he speaks in Bayonne and Friday night he will speak in New Bruswick.

The Democrats of the borough turned out in large numbers Saturday evening and enjoyed a smoker and entertainment given at headquarters in the Eggerding building on Somerset street. An additional attraction was an abundance of clam chowder. During the evening John H. Carney entertained the crowd with humorous selections, and Spencer Scribner and William E. Pangborn gave a black sketch.

The first Prohibition meeting of the present campaign will be held in Saengerbund Hall on Somerset street tomorrow evening under the auspices of the North Plainfield Prohibition League. The principal speaker will be Rev. J. H. Howard, of Elizabeth. There will be other speakers. Music and recitations will form part of the programme for the meeting.

James J. Bergen, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Third District, will address a mass meeting this evening in the borough.

An important meeting of the Democratic Jeffersonian Club will be held in the rooms of the Hillman Association on West Front street tomorrow night.

CYCLIST'S BAD FALL.

Frank Haurand Collided With a Pedestrian and Had His Collar Bone Broken.

In the rush to get to the Chapot fire yesterday, bicycle and other accidents were quite numerous. The most serious reported was that which befell Frank Haurand, of Somerset street. He was riding his wheel at a high rate of speed, when as he was crossing Plainfield avenue at Third street, a man rushed directly in front of him. A collision resulted and Haurand was thrown to the ground with great force. He was assisted to his home and Dr. Long was called. His collar bone was broken and he was badly bruised and shaken up. This morning he was feeling quite badly and will be confined to his bed for two or three days. The pedestrian escaped without serious injury.

Bert Frazee, a member of the department, was standing on the rear step of the chemical engine when it turned a corner unexpectedly. Frazee was thrown off and bruised considerably. He was able to continue to the fire a short time afterward.

A bicycle ridden by a colored man collapsed as he was passing the Pond Tool Works. The rider landed on his head and was stunned for some time. On regaining his senses he picked up the wrecked wheel and with a sorrowful expression turned back toward town.

A Christening.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Keller, of Park avenue, was christened yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's church by Father Miller. The given name is Otto Frank. Frank Haurand, brother of Mrs. Keller, was godfather. The immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony.

—A fair will be held in the German Reformed church during the present week.

When baby from its tiny state
Decided he would grow,
His source of natural supply
Became unhappily a-dry;
And then we used H-O.

Then how his little body knit
To fibre fine—and Oh!
No twitches turned his life amiss,
No flatulence—because there is
No colic in H-O.

But there is body, bone and brain,
And vim, and healthy glow;
For mother Nature intervened
That happy day on which we weaned
The baby on H-O.

R. Henry Depew, administrator of Helen J. Depew, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath, a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay her debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises: It is, on this nineteenth day of September, nineteen hundred, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, and real estate of said Helen J. Depew, deceased, appear before the Court, at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, on the twenty-first day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and real estate of the said Helen J. Depew, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay her debts, or the residue thereof, as the case may require. And it is further ordered, that this order be set up and published in one of the newspapers of this State, as by the statute directed.

By the Court.

MISSIONARIES SUFFER.

Boxers Claim Orders to Kill All the Foreigners.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Chinese imbroglio is in a state of stagnation. Shanghai sends renewed rumors that the court is sending agents from Si-guan-fu to collect funds in the southern and central provinces. Advices from Pao-ting-fu give harrowing accounts of the suffering of missionaries at the hand of Boxers, and it is reported that ten missionaries are still at Cheng-ti-n-fu.

The correspondent of The Morning Post at Pao-ting-fu, wiring Oct. 20, says: "The Boxers declare that the provincial treasurer has ordered them to kill all foreigners. He allowed 11 American and 4 British to be massacred."

Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times under date of Oct. 26, says:

"The foreign ministers in conference today decided to add the names of Prince Yi and Ying Nien to those of the seven officials whose execution France has demanded.

"It is said that the commander of the allied troops at Pao-ting-fu has arrested the provincial treasurer, who was chiefly responsible for the ill treatment of the rescued missionaries."

The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Express claims to have authority for the statement that when peace is restored Russia will hand back to its owners the railway from Tong-fu to Newchwang.

A German Opinion.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The Berliner Post publishes an inspired article devoted to showing that the Anglo-German agreement will in no way interfere with Russia's interests in Manchuria. "If England had not arrived at an agreement with Germany," says the Post, "she would have been compelled to do so with Russia. This would have been a serious blow to German trade. Germany in her capacity of an honest broker has served Russian interests."

FROM FAR HAWAII

Floods Do Much Damage—Light Registration in the Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—Advices from Honolulu, dated Oct. 20, state that the heaviest rainstorm which has occurred there within two years began at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short time the streets were impassable. The rainfall in Nuuanu valley, about two miles from Honolulu, was 8.15 inches. The Nuuanu stream broke its banks and washed every movable object away. Acres of the town on both sides of the river were submerged to a depth of three feet, and the Chinese were driven away in wild haste. The water covered the floors two feet deep in some cases. The heaviest rainfall in the city proper was 4.17 inches, while the heaviest on the island occurred on the north side of the mountains, being 9.10 inches. A native workman was drowned.

The official returns of the registration in all the islands of the territory have been received. Only 11,216 persons registered in the group for the coming election.

This is 3,000 less than the registration during the last year under the monarchy. By islands the registration is as follows: Hawaii, 2,717; Maui, 2,058; Oahua, including Honolulu, 5,704; Kaulai, 739.

Fierce Minnesota Storms.

WINONA, Minn., Oct. 29.—This city and vicinity was visited yesterday morning by the worst storm in many years occurring at this time of the year. Lightning did considerable damage in the city, striking in a number of places. All the railroads entering the city suffered considerable loss by washouts and high water. The Chicago and Northwestern had 1,000 feet of track washed out near Rockland, Wis., and 1,000 feet near West Salem, Wis. The company also suffered slight damage between Winona and Stockton, Minn., on account of high water. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul had two washouts near here, one at Kings Cooley and another at Lamoille. All passenger trains on the river division of the St. Paul road have been abandoned.

Mr. Bryan's Busy Day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Much refreshed by a greatly needed rest, William J. Bryan left the city last night at 9:35 o'clock on a campaigning trip to the counties of Chenango and Schoharie. Mr. Bryan's schedule calls for 19 speeches in those two counties today. He is due back in New York shortly before 7 o'clock this evening, and tonight he will speak at a mass meeting in Hamilton Fish park, on the east side, and also at the Academy of Music and other places in Brooklyn. The Democratic candidate for the presidency spent a quiet day in his rooms at the Hoffman House, and although there was a steady stream of callers he managed to secure a good sleep after luncheon.

Mount St. Elias Damaged.

PORT TOWNSHEND, Wash., Oct. 29.—A report has reached here from Yakutat that Mount St. Elias was badly shaken by the recent earthquake that did so much damage at Kodiak. Indian trappers and hunters who were in the vicinity of the mountain have returned to Yakutat and say that the mountain was badly torn up. The shock was so severe that a mass of ice acres in extent broke loose near the top of the mountain and came crashing down the sides, carrying everything before it. The Indians state that from where the avalanche started clear to the base of the mountain it made a track about half a mile wide, where no snow or ice remained.

Coal Mining Company Fails.

RICHMOND, Oct. 29.—The Richmond Coal Mining and Manufacturing company, operating coal mines at Cayton, in Henrico county, upon petition of one of the Boston bondholders, has been placed in the hands of a receiver. President Ware B. Gay was named as receiver. The Virginia Coal and Coke company has operated the mine for the past nine years as lessee and in that way is involved in the litigation in the United States courts. Both companies are composed mainly of Boston and New York men.

Acetylene Gas Explosion.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—An explosion of acetylene gas that was to be used for a stereopticon entertainment wrecked the interior of the First Presbyterian church in Austin, and the operator, George W. Leitch, recently returned from missionary work in India, lost his right hand and sustained other injuries. His brother James was slightly hurt. The accident occurred while preparations were being made for the evening's entertainment, a stereopticon lecture by Mr. Leitch on "Ceylon and India."

FIGHTING CONTINUES

Americans Have Several Sharp Encounters With Filipinos.

ENEMY ACTIVE IN YOUNG'S DISTRICT.

The Philippine Commission Revising Customs Tariff—Insurgent Captain Charged With Inhuman Crimes Is Sentenced to Death.

MANILA, Oct. 29.—While scouting near Looc a detachment of the Twentieth and Twenty-eighth regiments under Captain Beigler was attacked by 400 insurgents armed with rifles under the command of a white man whose nationality is not known to the Americans. The insurgents for the most part were intrenched.

After a heroic fight Captain Beigler drove off the enemy, killing more than 75. The fight lasted for two hours. Captain Beigler and three privates were slightly wounded, and two of the Americans were killed.

An engagement took place Oct. 24 between detachments of the Third cavalry and the Thirty-third volunteer infantry, numbering 60, and a force of insurgents including 400 riflemen and 1,000 bolomen. The fighting was desperate. Finally, under pressure of overwhelming numbers, the Americans were compelled to retire on Narvican. Lieutenant George L. Febigor and four privates were killed, nine were wounded and four are missing. Twenty-nine horses are missing. A number of teamsters were captured by the insurgents, but were subsequently released. The enemy's loss is estimated at 150.

A civilian launch towing a barge loaded with merchandise near Arayat was attacked by a force of 150 insurgents under David Fagin, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry. The American troops, on hearing firing, turned out in force before the boat could be looted and recaptured it.

Fagin, who holds the rank of general among the insurgents, has sworn special enmity toward his former company. Of the 20 men he captured a month ago seven have returned. One was killed in a fight, his body being horribly mutilated. Fagin sends messages to his former comrades threatening them with violence if they become his prisoners. It was Fagin's men who captured Lieutenant Frederick W. Alstaetter, who is still a prisoner.

General Hall's expedition, with a force of nearly 800 men, through the mountains to Binangonan, province of Infanta, in pursuit of the insurgent general Cailles, although it discovered no trace of the enemy, encountered great hardships on the march. Twenty Chinese porters died, and 40 men were sent into hospital. After stationing a garrison of 250 men in Binangonan and visiting Polillo island, off the coast of Infanta province, General Hall and the rest of his force embarked there on the transport Garronne.

Reports from General Young's district show a daily increase of insurgents there owing to the fact that recruits are going thither from the towns.

While a detail of the Thirty-third volunteer infantry was returning from Bangued on rafts it was fired upon by insurgents, Sergeant Berdstaller being killed and two privates wounded.

The Philippine commission has decided to compile the revised Philippines customs tariff from its own investigations, assisted by the report of the army board.

The rebel Captain Novicio has been tried by a military commission at Baler, northern Luzon, charged with burying alive a seaman named McDonald of Lieutenant Gilmore's Yorktown party. Novicio was found guilty and sentenced to death. The commission's sentence is now in the hands of General MacArthur for approval. Testimony was produced at the trial showing Novicio also caused the death of Veuville, another member of Lieutenant Gilmore's party, by delivering him into the hands of the native tribesmen known as Iggorotes, who under the pretext of going fishing lured Veuville into the woods and murdered him with two Spanish friends who were Veuville's fellow captives. The tribesmen bound Veuville, opened his veins and sucked his blood until he was dead. The evidence also showed that Novicio killed a Filipino named Rodrigue who was suspected of being friendly to the Americans. General Wheaton has approved the commission's sentence.

The President's Sunday.

CANTON, O., Oct. 29.—President McKinley went to church yesterday morning. Captain McWilliams accompanied him. Later the president and Mrs. McKinley and Captain and Mrs. McWilliams went to the country home of Mrs. Marie S. Saxton, west of the city, for lunch. A few social callers were received during the day and evening, and an impromptu delegation called composed of about a score of commercial travelers who chanced to meet at a hotel and decided to call on the president. Eleven different states were represented in the party.

Two Sunday Wrecks.

WALTHAM, Mass., Oct. 29.—The second freight wreck here on the Fitchburg road within a week occurred yesterday afternoon, but fortunately no one was killed, although two men were slightly hurt and seven cars and one locomotive were badly damaged. The injured are V. A. Barnes, fireman, and James Livingston, head brakeman, both of Fitchburg. A singular coincidence is that Engineer Lynds, who was engineer of the freight that was run into last Sunday, was also in charge of the train that was telescoped yesterday.

Famous Gun at Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 29.—The gun from which the first shot in the Spanish-American war was fired, has reached Nashville, which is to be its permanent home. It is a Hotchkiss rapid fire one pounder and comes from the gunboat Nashville, which sent a shot over the bow of the Spanish merchant vessel Buena Ventura.

Bulgaria and Roumania Will Agree.

SOFIA, Oct. 29.—At the opening of the sobranje Prince Ferdinand predicted that the difficulty between Bulgaria and Roumania growing out of the latter's demands for the suppression of the Macedonian revolutionary committee would soon be settled.

A Rich Find of Gold.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—Advices from Dawson City state that a big strike has been made on Goring creek, 16 miles above the mouth of Hunker creek. The whole creek has been staked.

BOERS AGGRESSIVE.

Cape Police Suffer Heavy Loss Near Hoopstad.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND STILL IN FIELD.

Lord Roberts Reports Many Engagements—At Philippolis the British Garrison Was Overpowered by Treachery.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—According to a dispatch from Cape Town to The Daily Mail a force of Boers attacked and surrounded a patrol of Cape police with a convoy near Hoopstad, Orange River Colony, last Wednesday, and a sharp fight ensued.

"The police," says the correspondent, "were compelled to abandon two Maxims. Ultimately re-enforced by the yeomanry, they succeeded in getting away with the convoy, but they lost 7 killed, 11 wounded and 15 captured. The colonials were outnumbered ten to one, and the engagement lasted for two hours.

"The Boers have 15,000 men in the field, nearly half of whom are in Orange River Colony. These are divided into commandoes of some 300 each, but are capable of combination for large operations."

The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Barton's losses Thursday and additional casualties were a captain and 12 men killed and 3 officers and 25 men wounded. The Boers had 24 killed and 19 wounded. Three Boers who held up their hands in token of surrender and then fired on our men were captured and tried by court martial. I have confirmed the death sentence imposed on them.

"Methuen has dispersed the Boers near Zeerust. They had six casualties, and we took 28 prisoners. Our casualties were six wounded.

"Kitchener has made a night march and captured a Boer laager near Krugerpoort.

"The Boers occupied Philippolis a few days ago. The little garrison held out pluckily, and 3 were killed and 11 wounded before they were relieved. As the entry into the town was effected by the treachery of some of the inhabitants I have directed Kelly-Kenny to send the persons implicated in this out of the country.

"Lieutenant Chapman and 50 cavalrymen were ambushed between Springfontein and Philippolis. Seven escaped."

Lord Roberts adds that General Barton has scattered General De Wet's force at Frederickstad. The British had three officers wounded.

Kruger Will Appeal to the Powers.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 29.—The Transvaal agency announces that Mr. Kruger will arrive at Marseilles on the Dutch cruiser Gelderland Nov. 11 or 12. He will have apartments at the Grand Hotel de Noailles, where he will receive several French, Dutch and Belgian delegations. Mr. Kruger will proceed to The Hague without stopping at Paris, and after expressing his thanks to Queen Wilhelmina for Dutch hospitality on board the Gelderland he will appeal to the powers to intervene in the South African settlement on the basis of article 3 of The Hague convention.

American Jockeys Again.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The question of English versus American methods in the racing world continues to agitate the sporting writers for the London press. The Daily Telegraph again protests against the idea that the supporters of Lord Durham are animated by feelings of jealousy and points to instances of warm welcome extended to American owners and jockeys. "So far as the American trainers are concerned," it says, "there was never an unfriendly word used until one or two of the latest comers were suspected of 'doping' their horses. This is a punishable offense in the United States and ought to be here also." The Standard, which makes the stewards of the Jockey club responsible for the recent trouble, declares that Lord Durham's attack was directed primarily against their "supineness and torpidity." It accuses them of "ignorance and misplaced energy" and cites a case where last week they summoned a gentleman of the highest character, whose integrity it would be absurd to doubt, to explain the running of his horse. The Times remarks that "it would be difficult to overpraise the services Lord Durham has rendered to the cause of turf reform."

A Cave Discovered.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 29.—P. M. Helfer and E. A. Holmes, Syracuse university students, discovered a cave near Jamesville, this county, Friday. They crawled into it, and, finding a passage leading downward, they entered that also and soon were in a second cave. Another passage leading downward was entered, and the boys found themselves in a third cavern. They had only a few matches and when they tried to retrace their steps could not locate the opening. After searching for more than two hours they found a small hole in the roof of the cave. By alternately standing upon each other's shoulders they managed to dig away the rock and crawl up into the cave by which they entered, finally reaching the open air. An exploring expedition will soon be organized.

Postoffice Clerks Join Union.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Postoffice clerks of Chicago have entered the ranks of the trades unionists. The clerks have affiliated themselves with the American Federation of Labor, and the new organization will be known as the Chicago Postoffice Clerks' union. It is claimed that practically all the 1,400 postoffice employees in Chicago are included in the move. Foremost among the objects for which the new union is to strive will be the adoption of the eight hour work day for letter carriers in Chicago and throughout the country.

Shot His Daughter.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Herman Grenis, a storekeeper at Chester, N. Y., while transferring a revolver that he did not know was loaded from his show window to a showcase, accidentally discharged it, and the bullet entered the cheek of his 10-year-old daughter, who was waiting for him to go home, and lodged in the back part of her skull. The wound is fatal.

France and Russia Accept.

VIENNA, Oct. 29.—The semiofficial Politische Correspondenz asserts that France and Russia, after discussion, have decided to accept the Anglo-German agreement.

A NOTABLE DEDICATION.

Cathedral of St. John the Baptist Opened In Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 29.—Yesterday, upon the feast day of St. Simon and St. Jude, the magnificent cathedral of St. John the Baptist was dedicated by Mgr. Sebastiano Martinelli, delegate of the pope to the United States, assisted by some 50 priests, including 10 bishops.

Mgr. Martinelli was the celebrant of the mass, assisted by Vicar General Bazin of Atlanta, Rev. Dr. Brannen of New York, Rev. Dr. Rooker of Washington, secretary to Archbishop Martinelli, and Rev. Dr. Flynn of Morristown, N. J. The weather was perfect, and the services were attended by an immense throng.

The ceremony of dedication itself did not occupy more than half to three-quarters of an hour. The pontifical high mass, which followed was of greater length and was interspersed with elaborate music by the choir.

The exercises were concluded with the sermon by Rev. William O'Brien Pardow, S. J., of Washington. Dr. Pardow is the ex-provincial of the Jesuits in this province and is now connected with St. Aloysius church in Washington.

After the conclusion of the service the visiting prelates proceeded to the De Soto hotel, where they partook of an elaborate dinner tendered by the local entertainment committee in honor of Mgr. Martinelli.

At the vesper service at 8 o'clock Bishop Leo Haid of North Carolina preached, and an elaborate musical programme was rendered by the choir.

The new cathedral, built upon the ruins of the cathedral begun by Bishop Persico in 1873, dedicated by Bishop Cross in 1876 and destroyed by fire two years ago, is probably the handsomest specimen of Gothic architecture in the south. The transept has a depth of about 100 feet by a width of 80 feet. The aisles are laid with encaustic tiling, while the spaces between front pews and the sanctuary and in the rear of the pews are laid with marble tiling. The walls of the building are of a deep buff color, while the ceiling is of a bright cream color, the effect of which is greatly enhanced by the ivory tone of the branching arches. The wainscoting around the walls is of marble. The building is lighted throughout with both gas and electricity.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The torrential rains in the coast country of Guadalajara, Mexico, have caused widespread damage.

All wine merchants agree that the French vintage of 1900 is the biggest and best for many years.

Comte Cahen d'Anvers, a well known figure in Parisian society, was killed in an automobile accident.

In a collision on the Transcaspian railroad between Batoum and Tiflis 8 persons were killed and 20 injured.

London dispatches said that William Waldorf Astor had donated £10,000 to the Cambridge university benefaction fund.

George W. W. Blake, Democratic candidate for the legislature, fell dead from heart disease just as he had finished a speech at Dana, Ills.

Over Twenty Millions of Gold.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—A total of $20,166,687 worth of gold dust and bullion has been received at the Seattle assay office during the present year. Following are official figures showing the amount of gold dust and bullion received between Jan. 1 and Oct. 4, 1900: Number of deposits, 6,028; ounces of gold and bullion, 1,243,168; from Cape Nome, $2,710,427; other Alaskan points, $462,893; total from Alaska, $3,173,320; from British Columbia (Atlin), $493,116; Yukon district (Klondike), $16,374,488; Washington, Oregon, Idaho and foreign gold coin, $125,762. Since Oct. 24 the office has received an additional $150,000 from Nome and $50,000 from other points. The probabilities are that before the season closes Nome will have furnished $5,000,000.

Four of a Family Drowned.

PORT CLINTON, O., Oct. 29.—A quadruple drowning occurred near Plaster Bed, on Sandusky bay, eight miles east of here, yesterday afternoon. The drowned were the children of William Stark. Mr. Stark and the children went for a boat ride. On returning to shore the boat became fouled in a fish pound net, and the oarsman could neither forge the boat ahead nor go back. The children became frightened, and, leaning over the side of the small craft, it capsized, resulting in the four deaths. Mr. Stark came here from Toledo three weeks ago He then had a family of a wife and ten children. Last week Harvey, aged 4, died, and the week before another child, aged 3 months, also died.

Australia Loyal to Great Britain.

SYDNEY, Oct. 29.—Mr. William John Lyne, premier and treasurer of New South Wales, during a speech at the opening of a German fete here said: "The temper of the Australian people was never so affectionate toward the mother country as it is now. The war in South Africa has produced a patriotic bond which should last eternally. It has been suggested locally that her majesty should assume the title of queen of Australia. To me it seems a good proposal. Indeed, I think her majesty might well be approached with a view to her assumption of the title of empress of the British empire, thus embracing all the colonies and dependencies."

Roosevelt's Quiet Day.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Governor Roosevelt spent Sunday very quietly here, taking a long drive with Mrs. Roosevelt during the day and going to the Episcopal church in the evening. He said, "Mrs. Roosevelt and I ate lunch in the woods, and it was an ideal day for it." The trip today includes but three stops—Cortland, where the party stays for one hour; Ithaca, where a three hours' stop will be made, and Elmira, where the party stays for the night.

French Bark Lost.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The British ship Maxwell, Captain Davies, from Iquique, has landed at Dover the crew of the French bark Bretagne, Captain Guillon, which sailed from Antwerp April 3 for San Francisco. The men were picked up after they had abandoned their vessel off Cape Horn on Aug. 16, with loss of rudder and all sails.

WORK FOR MINERS.

Wyoming Valley Coal Companies Generally Resume Work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 29.—All the coal companies in the Wyoming valley with a few exceptions have now posted notices granting their employees the 10 per cent increase asked for by the Scranton convention. The exceptions are a few individual operators who do not employ many hands.

The Kingston Coal company has notices posted granting the increase. This company employs 2,200 men and was the last of the big individual concerns in the valley to grant the increase.

The officials of the Susquehanna company had a conference with their employees Saturday night and agreed to pay them the advance.

President Mitchell and the executive board of the United Mine Workers visited Pittston yesterday. They were received by a large crowd, and there was great enthusiasm. Addresses were made by President Mitchell, Fred Dilcher and others. Mr. Mitchell told all the miners to go to work today. He also congratulated them on their good behavior during the strike.

Some Companies Hold Off.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 29.—The Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, operating the Audenreid, Honey Brook and Green Mountain collieries in this district, has not yet complied with the demands of the anthracite miners. It is said that the company will grant the concessions by Nov. 1, when work will be resumed. There will be no resumption of work at the Milnesville colliery, which is operated by the A. S. Van Wickle estate. Owing to an agreement with the Pennsylvania Railroad company the officials say they cannot afford to grant an increase of 10 per cent, and if the men return to work they will have to be contented with the old rate of wages. The Van Wickle company has granted the increase at its other collieries at Coleraine and Beaver Meadow.

WILL NOT RETRACT.

Winston Spencer Churchill Accused Lord Rosslyn of Falsehood.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The solicitors of Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill have written to the solicitors of the Earl of Rosslyn declining, in the name of Mr. Churchill, to withdraw or apologize for Mr. Churchill's statement at the recent banquet of the Pall Mall club that Lord Rosslyn in dispatches and letters from South Africa to English newspapers had libeled British officers and made assertions that were nothing short of falsehoods.

This morning Mr. Churchill writes to The Daily Mail repudiating the suggestion that he is moved by personal feeling against Lord Rosslyn, but pointing out that the earl is responsible for "a libelous statement concerning four famous cavalry regiments."

Floods In Wisconsin.

LACROSSE, Wis., Oct. 29.—In the past 24 hours seven and a quarter inches of rain fell in this city. The storm was most severe in this city, although it was generally felt within a radius of 50 miles. The Milwaukee road suffered much damage to its tracks, and no trains have arrived from the east for 24 hours. Trains north are sent over the Omaha road to St. Paul via Camp Douglas. The worst trouble is between here and West Salem. The Lacrosse river marshes are flooded, and a farmer's family was driven to seek refuge in a tree, where they remained until rescued. The Burlington roadbed is undermined at Grand crossing, but traffic is not delayed. The Green Bay road has a washout which will require some days to repair. At Hokah the dam which held Lake Como broke, and the lake has almost disappeared. There is much damage through the country, but reports are so far indefinite. Fire started by lightning caused damage in Lacrosse to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Varsity Football.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—All of the big varsity football elevens, except the University of Pennsylvania, were scored against Saturday. Columbia made Yale hustle to win, 12 to 5, in a sensational game in this city. Harvard had to play hard football to conquer the famous Carlisle Indians by a score of 17 to 5 at Cambridge, the red men thereby breaking the hitherto clean record of the Crimson. Princeton beat Brown, 17 to 5, the Providence eleven making a goal from the field. The University of Pennsylvania played a remarkable game against the Chicago university eleven, the final figures being 41 to 0. Cornell disposed of Dartmouth, 28 to 6, and Annapolis outplayed the strong Lehigh eleven.

Census Returns Ready.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The work of counting the inhabitants of the United States is practically completed by the census bureau, and this week Director Merriam will announce the population of the country. His statement, however, will be subject to some slight revision. All the returns from Alaska are not yet in, and the returns from the American soldiers and sailors serving in the Philippines and elsewhere abroad are not complete. These figures will be estimated. The figures for the states and territories will be official.

To Write Sherman's Life.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 29.—Though ex-Secretary of State John Sherman did not designate any one as his biographer, it is thought here that Henry C. Hedges, chairman of the speakers' bureau at the Republican national headquarters in Chicago, will be chosen. Senator Sherman in his will set aside $10,000 for this purpose. Hedges has been a close friend of Sherman from the days when they were law partners here, and their intimacy continued ever afterward. Hedges still resides in Mansfield.

Professor Max-Muller Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Right Hon. Friedrich Max-Muller, corpus professor of comparative philology at Oxford university, died yesterday afternoon. His disease was an affection of the liver. Until ten days ago he was able to continue writing his autobiography, dictating to his son. He was perfectly conscious until a short time before he passed away. Frequently during his illness dispatches of inquiry were received from Emperor William.

Yerkes' London Project.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Experimental excavations at various points along the route of the Charing Cross, Euston and Hampstead railway, whose franchise was recently acquired by Mr. Charles T. Yerkes, were begun today, and the work will now be continued without interruption.

A POLICY FOR FRANCE

Waldeck-Rousseau Outlines Government Plans.

UNITY THE AIM OF THE CABINET.

Country Saved From Ruin Rather Than Led Toward Ruin, as Claimed by the Opposition—"Effacement" of the Dreyfus Affair.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—M. Waldeck-Rousseau yesterday delivered at Toulouse the anxiously awaited speech outlining the policy and programme of the government in anticipation of the reassembling of parliament. The occasion was the laying of the cornerstone of the new barracks there.

The laying of the cornerstone took place in the afternoon. M. Waldeck-Rousseau reserved his principal effort for the banquet which followed the ceremony. This was given by the municipality in an ancient Jacobin convent, where the dining hall was elaborately decorated with the tricolor. Devoting the principal part of his speech to answering criticisms, he said he had not replied before because the cabinet had received the widest and clearest mandate, because it was time to act and not to talk and because he and his colleagues looked to the chamber of deputies alone for approbation or censure of their conduct.

Proceeding to sketch the gloomy situation that existed when the cabinet took office—"with agitation increasing and Nationalism engaging in daily battles with the police"—he said that to face this condition of things a sincere concentration of Republicans was brought about, "yet not by conceding to each member of the cabinet something which separated him from the others, but by excluding everything that tended to division and retaining all that tended to unity."

"It is said," he continued, "that we are leading the country to ruin, when really it would be only an exaggeration to say that we have saved her from ruin."

Going on to discuss the government's programme, he said it did not include collectivism, but that this did not signify that the policy of Republican union excluded social reforms. He spoke of the success of the government in suppressing systematic agitation and street demonstrations, adding that the country might hope during the present calm to see marks of sincere repentance on the part of the anti-Republicans.

Alluding to what he described as the "last act of the poignant Dreyfus drama," he said that the judgment was given in complete independence and that the decision remained respected, but that at the same time humanity had found satisfaction in a "measure of clemency that has been ratified by the generous heart of our great country which awakens at last." He announced that he would ask the chamber of deputies, as he had already asked the senate, to pass a bill of effacement, a "measure necessary to assure definitive appeasement."

The Anthracite Outlook.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—The Ledger in its coal article today says: "The anthracite coal trade is everywhere preparing for the resumption of mining this week, and a brisk season at full working is anticipated at the mines. It will take several days to get everything in good moving order; but, once begun, a prosperous winter is evidently in store for the anthracite trade. The market is quite bare of coal, and there is a rush of orders to be filled, so that enormous quantities will be sent to market at the earliest opportunity, every available car being now sought to send to the breakers. Prices are expected to be fully maintained, and, while a few operators may still stand out, it is probable that adjustments will soon be made with them, that their collieries will also start and full working be universal throughout the anthracite fields."

Poisoned by Mistake.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Anna Murphy, 5 years old, is dead at the home of her parents, on Charlton street, through an overdose of morphine given by mistake. The child was suffering from bronchitis, and her mother is also ill of another disease. A physician prescribed for both mother and child, and the medicine given for the mother contained morphine. The mother, being sick in bed, asked the washerwoman to give the child the medicine prescribed for it at stated intervals. The woman by mistake gave the little one three doses of the prescription intended for the mother, in consequence of which the child died in spite of the efforts of the family to remedy the mistake after it had been discovered.

Prohibition Special Train.

ALBANY, Oct. 29.—The Prohibition special train, with John G. Wolley and party abpard, rested on a siding at Saratoga yesterday until 2:45 p. m., when it was attached to the rear of a regular train arriving at Albany at 4:20. Mr. and Mrs. Wolley were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Alida Cole of Saratoga, returning to the special at 2 o'clock. The party left Albany at 10:25 for Herkimer, remaining there the balance of the night. A total of seven stops are scheduled for today. Elmira will be reached at 6:20 p. m. for the evening rally.

Vigorous Prosecution Promised.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—It is now said in Paterson, N. J., that the present grand jury will take up the inquiry into the death of Jennie Bosschieter, for whose murder McAlister, Death, Campbell and Kerr are confined in jail. Whereas statements have appeared tending to show that there would likely be a delay by the authorities, it is now given out that the investigation is to be pushed vigorously. Dr. Townsend, who refused to appear on the witness stand Saturday, will appear at the inquest tomorrow night.

Chicago's Horse Show Opens.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The final touches in the decoration of the Coliseum had been given and everything was ready for the opening of the horse show today, which promises to surpass anything of its kind ever held in Chicago. A premium of $1 a seat has been paid by more than 6,000 purchasers. A number of late arrivals offered double prices for boxes, but were unable to secure a single one, as everything had been sold at a large premium over a week ago.

Weather Probabilities.

Bank Examinations.

As a result of the threat that the next session of the Legislature would make an investigation for the purpose of ascertaining what law would be needed to secure better methods of detecting crime on the part of bank officials, the Banking and Insurance Department of New Jersey offer an explanation of why it is almost impossible to catch the bank thieves until their loot runs up into the thousands. Thomas L. Johnson, who is in charge of the department, is the man who speaks out in defense of the State work. The trouble is, he says, that the appropriation made for the use of the department is too small to permit the employment of enough bank examiners. Up to a short time ago only two such officials were employed by the State, but now there are four. Still these four are hard-pressed for time and are unable to devote the efforts to each bank that there should be. More than this, however, and to the point, Mr. Johnson says that "a bank examiner is not a bank detective."

Mr. Johnson says that the purpose is to examine the books, apply the result of the cash, to see that the surplus is not impaired, and the securities are on hand and are proper, where trouble is in sight to close the bank and to protect the depositors. The relation of the bank to the depositors is very close, so close that one cannot be disturbed without the other being affected. The department must move with extreme caution, or, of itself, will become a bank wrecker. Every movement must be secrect or a run is caused and the bank may be ruined.

Mr. Johnson states that the department has, by its own cautious acts, prevented financial disasters. It is not always wise to rush into and proclaim that something is wrong. It is the duty of the State to right the wrong if there is no crime or the interest of the depositors jeopardized. If the officers of a bank cannot detect crime, being daily in contact with the facts, how can a bank examiner who comes in occasionally and deals with doctored books and crooked figures, asks Mr. Johnson.

Luckily, the false reports circulated about the Dime Savings Institution, by which it was aimed to impair the credit of the bank and cause a run on it by depositors—always a risky thing for any financial institution, no matter how strong—failed to stir any considerable number of the depositors to withdraw their accounts. Just how the report started it has been impossible to find out, but with the $500 reward offered for evidence that will lead to the conviction of the guilty party or parties extraordinary efforts will probably be brought to bear to trace out the offender. Of course, it may be learned that the foundation of the rumor started in some unimportant passing remark of conversation wrongly interpreted by an ignorant listener, and as it passed from mouth to ear the untruth and exaggeration continued to grow according to the old saw that "a lie will travel a mile while truth is getting on its boots." The attempt to charge the origin of the report to local Democratic sources is undoubtedly as untrue as the story about the bank is false.

Pension Commissioner Evans has announced publicly that 34,000 pension claims of soldiers and sailors who served in the Spanish-American War, have been filed in his office; and of these 33,424 are already in process of adjudication.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Local theatre goers are promised a rare treat at Music Hall tomorrow night when Edgar Selden's successful farce comedy "A Spring Chicken" is to be presented. The scenes are laid in Staten Island, the action taking place at a summer hotel, and on the beach at the famous resort. Although Managers Ready and Gossling admit that the piece is not overburdened with plot, they do insist that the three acts are sufficiently well connected as to make the entertainment as logical and consistent as the average of its class. The clerical gentleman who made the remark to the effect that he who loves not wine, women and song, remains a fool his whole life long, should have lived in these days. He could obtain a splendid livelihood as an amusement purveyor, and there is no doubt whatever but that he would recommend "A Spring Chicken" as an entertainment calculated to remove sorrow, and to give the too serious minded a better idea of the possibilities of life.

Sardou's "Fedora" the play in which Fanny Davenport won fame and fortune and which is regarded as the best role of Sarah Bernhart and by many to be the most perfectly constructed drama ever written will be presented at Music Hall on the evening of Monday, November 5th, by the New York company headed by the two well known artists, Eleanor Franklin and Brinsley Shaw, with an elaborate and costly scenic embellishment. Among the special scenery carried by the organization will be a part of that used by Davenport in the original production. It is world wide known that the plays of Sardou necessitate a mammoth scenic environment and form one of the especial features of his great dramas. "Fedora" is sent out by one of the most substantial firms of New York, the Clarence M. Brune incorporation, which only undertakes and accomplishes ambitious productions. Charles H. Clarke is the manager of this play and is regarded as one of the most careful but elaborate producers of stage effects.

Roy Applegate and Ferd Woodward, of the "Coon Hollow" Company, which was at Music Hall Saturday night, are well known in this city, and after the performance a number of their friends gathered and congratulated them upon their success in the very difficult roles of "Ralph Markham" and "Lem Stackwell," which required much hard work and dramatic force to bring out their good points. In connection with this company it might be said that Clara Doel, the leading lady, is but 17 years old, this being her first professional engagement. Her interterpretation of "Georgia," a southern girl, was the occasion for much favorable comment.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

A MORRIS CHAIR

is an article that has a place in every home. In fact no home is complete without one. There was a time when such an article was a luxury, but not now, and when we say we have the handsomest as well as the cheapest line in the city we don't exaggerate in the least, for we don't buy our furniture in any haphazard manner, and when an article is placed on our floor you may rest assured that it's the best that can be had for the money. The fact that our furniture sales are twice as large as last year is sufficient proof of it. The Morris Chairs that we direct particular attention to are those at 9.48, 9.98, 10.98, 11.98 and 12.98.

They are finished in beautiful quartered golden oak and mahogany, rubbed and polished, hair spring seats, claw feet, handsome carvings, and the cushions are upholstered in the best grades of Arlington velours, filled with hair.

Hall Furniture In this line as well as any other we are prepared to fill your wants. All the newest designs, quartered oak, golden finish, with French bevel plate mirror, heavy brass fixtures for hats and umbrellas, 12 different styles to select from, the prices start at 6.98 and run up to 12.48.

Lamp Light It is our aim to furnish the best possible light that a lamp can give. The beauty of the article is secondary—and yet we have had remarkable success in combining both light and beauty. Decorated and solid color lamps and globes to match are here in delightful choice. There has never been such a lamp stock in this town before. The character of them are away above the average. No more appropriate and acceptable wedding present could be found than one of these lamps. You are invited to inspect them. Prices and styles too numerous to quote, but we have them from 75c to 13.98. There are no duplicates of these lamps.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, October 29.—The most exciting football game played in the borough this season, took place on the Lincoln avenue grounds Saturday, between the Dunellen team and an alleged team from the North Plainfield High School. The local team came out victorious by a score of 11 to 0. Peters, of the Dunellen team, made a thirty yard run through left tackle for a touchdown. The goal was kicked by Fisher. VanNest made the second touchdown, but Fisher missed the goal. During the first half of the game George Giddis, of the North Plainfield team, received a bad cut in the head, forcing him to retire. The local boys are proud of their victory as they claim the opposing team was made up of members from the Alis and Alis Second elevens.

A surprise party was given to Miss Susie Lowrie, Saturday afternoon, by about twenty of her young friends. A delightful time was had by all in playing games after which refreshments were served. The party was arranged by Miss Alice Apgar and Miss Pearl Dodwell, and met at the home of the latter.

The Middlesex Bowling Club met for the last time this season on on Schephlin's greens Saturday. About the usual number of members were present and despite the threatening weather a pleasant afternoon was passed.

The Literary Society met at the residence of Mrs. John Herbert Saturday evening and the tragedy of Julius Caesar was read. A social hour was spent afterward.

Arthur Giddis, of West New Brighton, S. I., spent yesterday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Giddis.

Mrs. Daniel Randolph and daughter Nellie, of Piscataway, was the guest of friends in the borough, Saturday.

Engineer Gordon, of Elizabeth, expects to take possession of Theodore Kuldoshes' new house this week.

Tomorrow is the last day for registering, and every voter should make sure that his name is on the list.

Miss Frances Hayes has returned to the borough after an extended visit with relatives in Newark.

The Presbyterian pulpit was again occupied yesterday by Rev. Henry Ketcham, of Westfield.

Henry Wiedenhaupt, the butcher, is confined to the house with an attack of intermittent fever.

Mrs. Annie Abbott was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Terry, of Westfield, Saturday.

Mrs. Newton Apgar is home after a visit with her parents at Martinsville.

A. F. Randolph spent Saturday at Raritan on business.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 29.—If the attendance and enthusiasm at the Republican mass meeting in Friendship Hall Saturday night counts for anything, then there is no doubt as to which way Piscataway township will go in the coming election. The hall was crowded and everyone present enjoyed the speeches made by Hon. William S. Youngman, of Boston, and Edward W. Hicks, of New Brunswick. The meeting was a successful one and the Republicans are greatly enthused at their showing of strength. Tonight the Prohibitionist side of the campaign will be explained by Hon. Mr. Downy, of New York, at an open air meeting.

Burglars again visited New Market Friday night and entered the Lehigh Valley station and the home of Fred Ward. The only thing that seems to have been taken was a jar of preserves from the latter place. Entrance was effected to the station by forcing a window and to Ward's home by a cellar door.

Elmer Lefler, of Union, who has been spending the summer with his uncle, W. B. Smith, left for New York Saturday, where he has taken a position.

John Hill, of Trenton, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Runyon.

The G. E. Club will meet Wednesday evening with Miss Mamie Garretson.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Oct. 29—A Swede employed in Plainfield imbibed a little too freely while taking in the sights in town Sunday. When he finally started for home he became bewildered and wandered upon Benj. Elliott's place and insisted upon making a bed of the scrap iron about the blacksmith shop. Mr. Elliott was unable to arouse the fellow after he had retired, so he called in the aid of Special Officer Henry Guerrier, who conducted the man to more pretentious quarters in the town lockup. The fellow will be given a hearing before Judge Clark today and pay his little share towards the support of the township jail.

The members of the Republican Club are anticipating a very pleasant time upon their outing to see the Republican demonstration at Elizabeth tonight. A special trolley car will be at the Park avenue crossing at 7 o'clock. The start will be made about 7:10. This will probably be the last of several pleasant outings the club have indulged in during the campaign, and the committee extend an invitation to all Republicans and supporters of sound money to go with the club tonight.

John Miller, who has gained quite a reputation as a hunter, shot a silver grey fox while hunting about the mountains near Washington Valley on Saturday. This is the first fox killed through this section in several years and it was supposed that they had become extinct. The animal, which was an old fellow, weighed 13 pounds. Mr. Miller intends to have its skin stuffed as a memento of the chase.

The Registry Board will meet in the town rooms tomorrow from 1 to 9 o'clock for the purpose of revising and correcting the registry list for the coming election. This will be the last chance to get registered so it would be well to see if you are registered.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, who have been spending a few days as the guests of the Misses Hollingsworth, have returned to their home at Little Falls, this State.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, of Plainfield, have been the guests of Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Johnston, of Westfield avenue, have been entertaining friends from New York for a short visit.

Miss Emma Adams, of Middletown, N. Y., has been spending a pleasant visit of several days with friends in town.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, October 29.—McDonough Brothers have let the water off of the pond in order to lay the foundations for their new ice houses.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bigley went to Pennsylvania yesterday to visit Mr. Bigley's parents.

The carpenters have the new schoolhouse ready for the tinners to put on the roof.

Al Manning has taken the contract of remodeling the barn on the Jones place.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Wm. Dreyer, of West Front street, has returned from an extended business trip.

Miss Aimee Emmons, of Prospect place, has returned from a visit with Newark friends.

Mrs. Menzenbach, of Somerset street, has returned from a visit with Elizabeth relatives.

William Dodd, of East Fifth street, who was severely injured several weeks ago while engaged in playing a game of baseball, has entirely recovered and has returned to work.

Tomorrow is the last day for registration. Be sure and register if you want to vote.

ART IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

Valuable Hints Concerning the Hanging, Drying and Arrangement of Lace Curtains.

Hanging lace curtains and draping them is a severe strain on anyone except a professional. The work done by the professional is often not so satisfactory as that done by the amateur, as the work of the former is often too stiff and shoppy looking to suit anyone with an eye for graceful lines and effects. If the curtains are new they are often easier to manage than the old ones which have been carelessly stretched. In stretching curtains too much care cannot be taken in getting them straight and even. If the curtains have a decided pattern, particularly in the border, it is wisest to put a pair together on the frame. Pin corresponding points in the pattern together at close intervals, and see that the edges are even and the same. Much hard work can be saved by these precautions and a much more satisfactory piece of work can be done.

There is a tendency just now toward the plain muslin ruffled curtain hanging in straight lines from the top of the window to the sill. These are very dignified looking curtains and look best in a room furnished along the strong colonial lines. They are used alike in parlor, dining-room and bed-chamber. Many people of extremely good taste have the curtains of an entire floor just alike, and many persons of unlimited means select the muslin curtains in preference to the expensive laces which savor rather of fancy work and are too dainty for the quaintly dignified furnishings which are in so much favor just now. Many people prefer a draped back curtain, and if the outlook from the window is particularly pleasing, it seems wicked to shut it out or else look at it through the foggy lights of the muslin curtain.

In the design given herewith are illustrations of some of the modes in greatest use just now in curtain draping. The amateur will, with a little hard work and care, be able to hang these curtains just as well as the paid upholsterer. The curtains, to look well, should both be as wide as the window. Cross each curtain nearly together, allowing about six inches on each curtain at the outside. That is to say, the unruffled edge should come out beyond the ruffled edge of the other curtain about six inches; this should be exactly the same on each side of the window. It is impossible to give exact measurements, as much depends upon the width and texture of the curtains.

Just now it is not considered quite so stylish to finish curtains with the ruffle at the top. Run a hem in the tops of your curtains wide enough to admit running the rod in very easily. Be sure not to put your hem in until you have basted your curtains together, if you are going to cross them. Be sure that your curtains are straight across the top, and drape them back as high or low as you like them. If a small room with only one window, a good effect is obtained by draping one side higher than the other. If the rosettes are alike, pull your curtains back into position and tie lightly with a strong string, and make your rosettes out of the fullness which falls from the back below the string. I always pin my rosettes, but many sew them. They may not come right the first time, but with a little time and perseverance you will soon be an expert and find curtain draping a pleasant and satisfactory piece of work.

The lace curtains which have been in use so many years will probably be used and liked by many for generations to come. Just now the artists who devote their time to house furnishings and decorations are not inclined to use the style of curtain which our mothers and grandmothers have liked so well. Many people of perfect taste cling to the so-called old-fashioned curtain and as yet there is little indication of their falling into disuse. These curtains are usually hung in straight lines from the top of the window to the floor, and if they are of heavy texture it is useless to try to drape them gracefully. If they are of a particularly handsome pattern they do not show their beauty if draped. The cotton cord and tassel is the best to use, as ribbon looks too fussy.

For bed-chamber ruffled curtains made of figured chintz, silkoline, silk and several new materials are now offered in the shops, all of which make very pretty and dainty curtains and nearly all wash very satisfactorily. To my eyes bare windows are far preferable to windows curtained with soiled or faded curtains. Try to keep your curtains clean and better buy inexpensive ones and send to the laundry than to have fine ones which you feel you must take care of yourself, and then neglect to keep them free from soil. It is a good idea to put your curtains up so they can be taken down, rod and all, and given a good dusting every few weeks. You will be surprised to find how much dust you will shake out and you will also find that your curtains will last much longer, as dust rots any material very soon if allowed to collect.—Radford Review.

WINDOW GARDENING.

Haphazard Care Does Not Pay with House Plants; They Need Constant Attention.

Nine-tenths of the windows used for window gardening are too crowded for the plants to look well or do well. Turn a new leaf right now by throwing away every poor or insignificant growth. Better to buy new stock in the spring than to turn your precious window space into a hospital ward for sickly plants.

Keep the foliage immaculately clean. Wash the leaves once or twice every week. A plant's lungs are its leaves. Showering the foliage washes the dust out of the pores, refreshes the plant and imparts vigor. Besides this, clean plants do not harbor insects, the greatest foe of the indoor garden, and the hardest to fight.

Loosen the crusted earth at the top of the pots. The roots need air, and in soft, pliable earth they get it by capillary transmission. A hard top crust seals the soil up as though in a jug. Neither air nor water finds free entrance through it. Plants in hard soil often suffer from lack of moisture at the roots, though water has been given every day.

Slide the shades up to the top of the upper sash; take down the curtains at the plant windows, and let God's invigorating sun shine in. Sunshine to a plant is what gold is to a Klondike miner.

In extremely cold weather stay the watering pot. Plants need little water during severe weather, and they chill or freeze twice as quickly after a fresh drenching. If watering becomes absolutely necessary have it the temperature of the room, and give only in the morning. Watering in the evening during a cold snap is to invite a visit from Jack Frost.

Pet your plants. Turn them, train them into shape as they grow, pick off every dead leaf or faded flower. Haphazard care does not pay with house plants.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

VALUE OF GOOD NURSING.

How Dependent the Doctors Are Upon It—Attributes a Nurse Should Possess.

In our reminiscent moments, when we dwell upon the great advances medicine and surgery have made in the last few decades, we often lay too much stress upon our "science" and upon the remarkable labors of our colleagues, and too little upon some less obtrusive colaborers who are never heard in public urging their claims for personal recognition and priority, and yet without whose efficient collaboration the wheels of progress would have been sadly retarded, if not stopped altogether, says a writer in the Philadelphia Medical Journal.

Chief of these helpers are the nurses. They save the lives of many doctors every day by assuming responsibilities unknown to their predecessors, and so robbing the work of its harassing wear and tear. And who can calculate how many patients' lives are saved by the alert trained mind, ready to recognize danger in its uttermost outposts, and so able to summon timely aid? And yet for this very reason, because we are so dependent upon these noble helpers in our work, we should utter a warning and enter a plea for still higher and nobler ideals in their work.

The trouble with the rank and file of our nurses is that they are spoiled in their training, for the one great dominant impulse of the true nurse, old-fashioned as well as new and trained, should be the tender love of the sick and suffering, a sense of having a mission in the world only rightly fulfilled when with warm heart and skilled hands lifting some little bit of the world's weight of woe.

We have often thought that each training school should have a chair on the humanities, continually emphasizing to the nurse the emotional, humane and religious side of her calling. So true is this that we verily believe that without the dominant impulse no woman has a right to enter the sick room, any more than an unconverted man has a right to enter the pulpit, or a blind man to be a painter. All the scientific superstructure which can be piled on cannot make up for this awful deficiency in their foundation.

And yet a chair, a formal lectureship, would never make up the lack of it, for one cannot have a professor to inspire affection any more than one can buy affection in the market. It rests after all in the head of the school; she is the woman by force of daily example, by precept and practice, to see that this tenderness is in the women she selects for the course, and to see that no lines of training are followed which will tend to repress this essential element.

It is the testimony of a great surgeon that we see too much science (so-called) and too little regard for the Divine calling in almost all our training schools. "When I come to seek for nurses in my private practice, I find the woman with a true calling is rare indeed." Our training schools, some of them, are arctic in their temperature and their influence, and the influence of chief nurses seems too frequently to look to the murder of a girl's natural affection and tenderness. But the fault not seldom lies at our own profession's door. All praise, then, is due to the model hospital in Waltham, Mass., where humanity is made the chief issue, where the woman first gains her training among the poor in private practice and has every inducement to develop the affection in a sympathetic personal relationship thus established before entering the hospital mill.

Let us have science and let us have humanity, but let us not have science without humanity—i. e., the love and devotion which filled Florence Nightingale's heart and without which there can be no true and successful nurse.

EXTRA CHARGE FOR BREAD.

One of the Customs of English Inns That Do Not Please Americans.

"One of the strangest things about the management of English restaurants," remarked a gentleman who has recently returned from a visit to London, says a Washington Star writer, "is the custom of charging diners for every slice of bread which they eat. For instance, a day or two before my departure from the British capital I, as a mark of esteem, invited several English friends to dine with me at one of the most celebrated of the fashionable West end restaurants. Well, the repast was served in a private room, and everything went off splendidly until the coffee and cigar stage was reached, and I asked that my bill be brought to me. There, to my utter astonishment, the head waiter, in the hearing of the assembled company, approached me, and in a loud voice asked: 'And how many breads 'ave you 'ad, sir?'

"This question I could not answer, as I had not been engaged in counting the number of slices consumed, but one of my guests, who had evidently kept track of the bread, noticing my embarrassment, said in my behalf: 'Four plates.'

"'Ah!' muttered the waiter, 'that's one shillin' h'extra,' and, after adding the amount of my bill, he handed it to me for inspection.

"Of course, I paid for the bread, but I have been wondering ever since I did so why the American custom of not charging for 'the staff of life' is not introduced over there."

Electric-Lighting Machinery.

Some idea of the magnitude of the electric lighting machinery in this country may be obtained from the statement that the public lighting stations of New York city alone supply incandescent lamps each year to the number of 2,125,000. This is independent of those furnished by private plants.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

The teaching of Spanish has been introduced in the schools in Santa Fe N. M.

Prof. Trowbridge, of Harvard, has a battery of 20,000 cells, which can produce a discharge having an intensity of 3,000,000 that can be doubled by condensers; it gives a spark six and a half feet long.

Yale university has assumed the financial responsibility for the New Haven symphony orchestra and placed Prof. Horatio W. Parker, of the university faculty, at the head of it. This is considered the greatest service an American university has ever rendered to music.

A peculiar coincidence happened at Hazleton, Pa., the other evening during an address by Evangelist Davis In his sermon he remarked: "What if the fire alarm sounded just now,' when the ringing of the fire bells pealed forth. The scene that followed was impressive.

The number of Mohammedans in the world is about 196,500,000. Of these, 18,000,000 are under the rule of the Turkish government, 23,000,000 are ruled by other Mussulman sovereigns 36,500,000 are subject to African princes, 20,000,000 live in China, and 99,000,000 are under Christian rulers Of these last about 58,000,000 are under British rule.

The Budhist priesthood in Siam is at present divided into two sects. The one known as the Maha Nekaia—the large body—is the older and more conservative order, and represents the great mass of the people, while the one known as the Hama Yuta Nekaiaa—the body who follows righteousness—is the new and more aristocratic order, and in its numbers are the most scholarly men.

In New South Wales the state takes upon itself the charge of destitute children, with a view to removing them from the evil influences to which they would otherwise inevitably be exposed. This has been effected by the establishment of a "state children's relief board," which, since it commenced operations in 1881, with 2, boys and 35 girls, has been productive of an incalculable amount of good During the 18 years of its existence the board has dealt with no fewer than 9,053 children.

THE "Know How" —IN— PAPER HANGING is what we make no charge for. You pay for the materials and the labor—nothing more. Our paper hangers are men who "KNOW HOW" to measure a room—"KNOW HOW" to size it—"KNOW HOW" to cut, match and hang the paper. They know their business. Its good policy to intrust your work in our hands—we'll see that you get a good job That's what you want; that's just what you'll get if we do it. COAL IN ARCTIC REGIONS.

Recent Attempts to Find a Supply in the Frigid Zone for Use in Europe.

Coal beds have been found here and there near the sea in Arctic lands, and though the quality of the coal is not of the best it has been exceedingly useful to a few Arctic exploring expeditions. One of the latest examples is the steamer which carried fresh supplies to Mr. Peary in northwest Greenland last year and which found it very convenient to take on a lot of coal in south Greenland before proceeding to Peary's headquarters, says the New York Sun.

In the European Arctic, on the other hand, attempts are now making to turn the coal found there to commercial account. The first experiment has not been encouraging, but the scene of activity has merely been transferred to another field.

About half way between Norway and Spitzbergen is an island on which some polar bears were seen when it was discovered, and the little speck of land was accordingly named Bear island. It has been noted chiefly for the heaps of driftwood from Siberia that have lodged not only on its eastern coast, but have also been carried inland by big waves that sometimes overwhelm the lowest part of the island. Over two years ago the Scandinavian explorer Amtrup made a careful survey and study of this island and among the interesting things he found were beds of coal.

Mr. Theodore Lerner and the German Sea Fisheries union conceived the idea that it would be profitable to exploit these mines, and a company was organized for this purpose. Not a great deal of money was put into the enterprise, however, and the result of its preliminary work last year, in view of the inferior quality of the coal, the short working season and long-distance transportation, gave so little promise for the future that the effort was not renewed during the past season. A while ago the mining property claimed by the company on Bear island was sold by auction in Hamburg and naturally brought a very small price.

The Norwegians, however, have not been at all disheartened by the gloomy prospects of the German enterprise on Bear island. There are far larger and more promising coal fields on the southwest coasts of Spitzbergen, and Norwegian vessels during their fishing cruises have been giving them particular attention as a possible source of profit. There is now much confidence in Norway that money may be made in Spitzbergen coal mining, and the result is that during the past season several companies have been formed at various ports to carry on mining operations in these new fields. The Arctic regions, within three centuries, have supplied many millions of dollars' worth of commodities, such as whale oil and bone, fish, furs and cryolite, and it remains to be seen whether coal may be made an additional source of wealth from the north frigid zone.

"Yes, that's why." — Philadelphia Press.

IN THE SIEGE OF PEKIN.

DR. INGRAM TOLD OF THRILLING PERSONAL EXPERIENCES.

Graphic Description of the Trouble With the Boxers Heard in Congregational Church.

Dr. I. H. Ingram, who passed through all the horrors of the siege of the Legations at Pekin, related some of his personal experiences at that thrilling time at the Congregational church yesterday. He spoke at the regular morning church service and addressed the monthly missionary meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society in the evening. The church was crowded with those who came to hear him.

When the trouble with the Boxers broke out Dr. Ingram was a medical missionary of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, located at the station at Tung Chow, sixteen miles south of Pekin. As Rev. C L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, subsequently told, Dr. Ingram and the others at the Tung Chow station owed their lives to Mr. Ament, who was in charge of the American Board's station at Pekin. The Americans at Tung Chow had appealed to Minister Conger for an escort to take them to Pekin, but the country was then so unsettled that it was declared impossible for any body of foreigners to make the trip, and so Mr. Conger sorrowfully refused. Mr. Ament took eleven bullock carts and set out alone for Tung Chow. He reached there in safety and brought back the twenty-five Americans and many native converts.

Dr. Ingram told a very interesting story of the life in the British legation and it was substantially the same as has been published. The story took on new interest, however, when the congregation remembered that the little man before had been one of that party. The story of the attempts of the besieged to communicate with the outside world was new. Many messengers were never heard from but two native Christians in particular accomplished the journey and returned to the Legation with word that relief was approaching. The miraculous way in which the besieged were aided in times when the end seemed inevitable was pointed out by Dr. Ingram. His descriptions of the times were very graphic.

Is He in California?

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Oct. 29—A special from San Francisco says Wm.Schreiber, the bank clerk of Elizabethport, accused of stealing $106,000, is supposed to be in the vicinity of San Jose. Detectives are said to have foiled his attempt to escape from the country on a vessel leaving SanFrancisco, and also his attempt at Half Moon Bay to hire a fisherman to land him on the Mexican coast. In San Jose, however, all trace of the man supposed to be Schreiber was lost.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, October 29—An explosion occurred in the drug-store of Tarrant & Company, on Greenwich street, at 12:30 today noon.

It is reported that there are a large number of people killed, including forty girly.

The Warren street station of the Ninth avenue elevated railroad was totally wrecked.

The explosion damaged all buildings in the vicinity.

Charles Remsen, of Chatham street, was in the vicinity of the store when the explosion occurred.

He says that the havoc wrought was terrible. J. L. Anderson, of Third place, the tea merchant, was passing along the street near the store.

He was hurt by the flying wreckage.

He was brought home at 2:10 this afternoon.

Mr. Remsen was uninjured.

Filipino Ingenuity in War.

In a recent fight in the north the men of the Fortieth infantry ran into a trap that proved a veritable Gatling gun of savagery. The insurgents had placed a lot of bamboo over a trench and arranged a great number of bows and arrows so that the arrows were in place, the cord pulled back and the entire machine so aimed as to strike the center of a man's body. By an ingenious contrivance the stepping on the bamboo set off the bows, and a shower of arrows met the advancing column. Eight men were killed and several wounded. There is absolutely no limit to the number of arrows that may be shot at the same time by this contrivance. With a sufficient number of bows the infernal machine might be made exceedingly effective against a large force.—Chicago Record.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN ADVENTURE

Perils of Hunting Moose in the Canadian Mountains in the Winter.

Nearly all the adventure of the region of the Rocky mountains comes from the satisfying of the sporting instinct. There is little lawlessness among the resident population, and what there is is strongly curbed by the Canadian mounted police. There is practically no mining. Mountain climbing for exploration has probably caused more deaths than anything else, writes Will Sparks, in Ainslee's.

Travel through this region in the winter season, while beset with hardships enough, is still much more agreeable than in the summer. Hunters and trappers usually locate in some habitation and use it as a central point from which they search game, traveling on snow shoes. Even when a long journey is necessary, the old, experienced trapper seldom thinks of taking a tent with him, but trusts to luck to find a big, hollow tree for the night. Such trees are common in certain sections of the Canadian Rockies. They are all old and have only a thick outer shell. An old oak, six feet in diameter, affords an admirable place to bunk, provided the opening is not too large. The experienced hunter always looks for a hollow tree with the opening into it down close to the ground, as it prevents the possibility of wild beasts climbing in on top of him. Sometimes the man finds the hollow tree already occupied by a bear or a catamount, which he must fight or hunt another tree. If nightfall is already well advanced there is generally a fight, as hollow trees are hard to find in the dark by even the most experienced hunters, and in most cases the man gets the tree and the skin of the wild beast, too.

When the hunter has completed his work he builds a fire in the snow, not far from the hole in the tree, cuts a piece of meat from his vanquished foe, and prepares his supper. And never does man partake of a meal amid more solemn surroundings. The air is still, and no sound breaks the silence except the cracking of the ice on the sleet-covered twigs. Rocks, canyons and gorges are buried deep under the snow, and the light from the camp fire lights up the scene with a vivid glare.

His evening meal finished, the hunter crawls into the hollow tree and gets into his sleeping bag, lying so that his head will be close to the opening. And there he sleeps as comfortably as if he were in a bed of a $10-a-day hotel in New York. Such an experience is usually an event to mark an epoch in a man's life, and yet to the hunter and trapper in the Canadian Rockies it is an every-day occurrence.

During the winter the moose and the wood buffalo are hunted along the eastern slope of the Canadian Rockies. Both of these animals are still plentiful there, and are stalked in much the same manner as deer. But the hunting of the moose is more dangerous, and requires all the nerve a man has. The beasts are vicious, especially after a slight wound. They are hard to kill, and a rifle ball must reach a vital point to drop the game. So the hunter, hindered at every step by cumbersome snowshoes, must get quite near. When the time comes to shoot he must not waver, and yet he must be ready to run in case the beast should turn on him. The least mischance means death, for the moose's front feet are sharp. It has a trick of rushing at a man and striking an outward and downward blow that is likely to cut him in two. Dogs are generally able to take care of themselves as far as moose are concerned, but at the critical moment can do little to help their masters. When the moose, driven to bay, turns, it always makes for the man, seeming, by some strange intelligence, to know who is the real enemy. For all this, moose-hunting is the most exciting sport to be found on the American continent to-day, and the man who loves adventure will get enough on one hunt to last him until another year. Then he will go after more moose. But it may be that he will never come back.

BERGEN'S ANSWER TO SENATOR REED.

The Congressional Candidate Explains Away Some of Republican Claims.

SAYS REED IS SEWELL'S MAN

AND THAT THE SENATOR MISREPRESENTED BANK FIGURES.

The Coal Combine Bill Explained and and Reed is Accused of Supporting a Bill Like the One Bergen is Criticised for.

One of the most enthusiastic Democratic mass meetings held during the campaign in the borough took place last evening at headquarters in the Eggerding building, Somerset street. The room was packed to suffocation and the crowd remained throughout the meeting. Seated on the platform were Walter Linbarger, W. J. Conroy, John Gaffney, Adam Fritz, James J. Bergen and W. K. McClure.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock and Mr. Bergen, the candidate for Congress, was introduced and spoke for nearly an hour. He reviewed the exhaustless subjects of imperialism and trusts, and while he did not talk directly on the subject of 16 to 1, he spoke briefly concerning money, and especially about Senator Reed's remarks on the question of deposits made in Savings' Banks, which Mr. Reed made at Somerville recently.

He deplored exceeding the fact that the present administration should countenance or sanction polygamy and slavery in Zululand, under the treaty of Paris. He also deplored the fact that the Nation is rapidly under the present rule becoming an empire. The only relief from this calamity he said was in the election of the Democratic candidates and a Congress to back them up. He referred to the Administration's treatment of the people in the Philippines and Porto Rico, and how this country had for nearly two years been trying to subdue a people that Spain could not control in many hundred years.

Referring to the trusts, Mr. Bergen told how the meat, iron and rubber trusts have so monopolized the trade as to make it impossible for anyone else in that business to exist. He said that the butcher is obliged to buy meat from the trust or go out of business, and so with other small merchants selling things controlled by trusts.

Mr. Bergen took Senator Reed to task for statements made by the latter at Somerville concerning himself and the Savings Bank at that place. He says that Mr. Reed's remarks about the bank and the obtaining of figures relative to the deposits in the same were false, and, furthermore, he said that Mr. Reed deceived the people by not telling the whole truth. In telling the amount of money deposited in the Savings Bank at Somerville, he forgot to tell how much money had been withdrawn from the institution by the depositors during the past three and a-half years. This money, Mr. Bergen said, was deposited in the bank by children and people who have saved a little money and want to put it where it will draw interest. It is not an institution where laboring men place their money. Mr. Bergen then asked why Mr. Reed failed to refer to the bank at Raritan, where the laboring man does place his money. At this institution there had been a falling off, and Mr. Reed found it easy to forget this bank.

Again referring to Mr. Reed, he said that he had voted for bills introduced in the Legislature which favored special legislation for certain railroads who are in control of the Legislature. He explained his position regarding the much-talked-of "coal combine" that he was reported to have been interested in. He said that the bill was to give the Jersey Central Railroad Company the power of leasing, such as the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna and Erie Railroads have, but because the Central would not put up the necessary money to secure the privileges, their request was turned down. He said that the Jersey Central Company had always been known as a company that would not put up money for special legislation. They would not hire lobbyists as the other roads mentioned were doing continually. Regarding the bill he said it never became a law, furthermore it had nothing to do with coal combine. And yet, continued Mr. Bergen, Senator Reed voted for a bill allowing the Erie Railroad to lease the Northern Railroad of New Jersey, and this was considered all right.

Mr. Bergen claimed to be reasonably sure that W. J. Sewell had something

TEACHERS ARE TAUGHT.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE PRIMARY SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION.

Attended by Delegations From Neighboring Towns—Instructive Remarks Heard.

The fifth anniversary of the Plainfield Primary and Junior Sunday-school Union was held in the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon and evening. There was a large attendance, including delegations from Elizabeth, New Brunswick and Bound Brook unions.

The programme began in the afternoon with a devotional service, under the leadership of Mrs. Baker, of Westfield. Greetings were then extended to the various visiting unions, after which Mrs. Kennedy, of Philadelphia, gave "A Round Table Talk." It was followed by "New Phases of Old Subjects" and "Cradle Roll," by Mrs. Skillman, of New Brunswick, secretary of the State primary council; "Bible Lessons for Little Beginners," by Mrs. Pettit, of Elizabeth, president of the State primary council; "Birthday Letters," by W. D. Murray, of Plainfield; "Teaching Books of the Bible," by Miss Nettie Beeching, of Plainfield, and "Promoting Church Attendance," by Mrs. Powelson, also of Plainfield.

The latter talk was very interesting and a great many helpful facts were brought out. This concluded the programme for the afternoon. Before adjourning tea was served.

The evening session began with a song service led by John Valiant. Mrs. Robert Barnes, secretary of the union, read the roll call. The report for the past year was given by Miss Lila Spicer and showed a notable increase in membership. The programme concluded with the teaching of next Sunday's lesson by Mrs Kennedy. The subject was, "The Unjust Steward" and the speaker explained it in a thorough manner, giving her hearers many new and useful ideas. The session was brought to a close with the singing of a few hymns.

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

GERMANS HOLD A FAIR

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR UNDER AUSPICES OF LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

The Reformed Church Decorated in Patriotic Colors—Those Who are in Charge.

A very successful fair that will be continued every night this week, except Saturday, was opened last evening in the Sunday-school room of the German Reformed church in Craig place. It is given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society for benefit of the church, and those in charge have succeeded in arranging a very attractive show. There are various articles, both fancy and useful, on sale, and there is also ice cream, cake, candy and soft drinks on sale. Red, white and blue are the prevailing colors used in the decorations and the room is made bright and attractive. The various tables are arranged about the side of the room, while the lemonade will occupy a prominent place in the centre. The fancy goods table is especially attractive and contains a great variety of articles from which to select.

Those in charge of the fancy table are Miss Josephine Fritz, Mrs. Fred Bach, Miss Catherine Blimm. At the candy and cake table are Miss Lou Windham, Miss Rosie Sutterlein, Miss Margaret Fritz, Miss Sadie Blimm, Miss Anna Bardlou, Miss Margart Almer.

Mrs. Henry Bender and Mrs. William Hurst have charge of the grocery table which is well stocked with everything to be found at such a table. At the ice cream table are Mrs. C. Hoock and Miss Mirian Glaus, while Miss Bertha Bardlou and Miss Hurst looked after the coffee table. Augustus Bach is in charge of the soft drinks. In the kitchen are Mrs. Mohring and Miss Kate Berzhold. Joseph Anguerbauer is stationed at the door and receives tickets.

The committee that arranged the fair comprises Pastor Hauser, Mrs. Newton Smalley, Mrs. Wm. Krausse and Mrs. August Windham. The officers of the society are: President, Mrs. Joseph Anguerbauer; vice president, Mrs. Philip Bach; treasurer, Mrs. Jacob Blimm; secretary, Mrs. George Hauser. There will be an entertainment every evening for the balance of the week, and there will be other features to attract.

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

SELF-DEFENSE WILL BE PLEA OF DOYLE.

Farmer Baldwin's Murderer Arraigned on Indictment in Court Yesterday.

HE PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

INDICTED ALSO FOR AN ATTEMPT TO SHOOT MISS GRACE BALDWIN.

Trial Set for January 7th — John F. Brown Assigned as His Counsel—Handsome Chair for Foreman Hubbard.

The grand jurors finished their deliberations for the term yesterday, and were discharged by Justice Van Syckel. They entered the court room under escort of Sheriff Houston. Captain J. Frank Hubbard, the foreman, carried a batch of 49 indictments, which were handed in with the usual formalities, and it was announced that the jurors' labors had been completed.

Justice Van Syckel said the court had learned the jurors had had a great amount of important business, and they were deserving of commendation for their capable, faithful and diligent attention to their duties. They were discharged with thanks.

The indictments included two against Thomas Doyle, the farmhand, who killed Horace E. Baldwin at Union in a duel over the farmer's daughter, Grace. The tragedy occurred September 18th. Doyle had been a suitor for the girl's hand, but her father opposed the match, and Miss Baldwin, when she discovered Doyle to be a drinking man, rejected his offer of marriage. Doyle went to the house on this night and demanded to see the young woman. He was armed with a revolver, and the farmer refused to admit him to the house. Baldwin fired at Doyle from a shotgun, and inflicted severe injuries. Doyle shot the farmer, who died in a few days.

When the grand jurors had been discharged Doyle was brought into the court. He was pale and very nervous. He wore the coat and vest he had on the night of the tragedy, and in both garments the holes made by the shots from the farmer's gun were conspicuous.

The first indictment charged Doyle with the wilful murder of the farmer. He pleaded not guilty, and his trial was fixed for January 7th, the next term of court.

In answer to Justice VanSyckel's inquiry, he said he had no counsel, and expressed a preference for John F. Brown, who was present, and who was assigned by the court to defend him.

The second indictment was for an attempt to shoot Grace Baldwin on the night of Sept. 18th, to which Doyle also pleaded not guilty.

The other 47 indictments were handed down to the circuit court, and prisoners were arraigned before Justice Vail.

The trial of all pleading not guilty were set down for the first week in November.

Before the grand jurors entered court yesterday morning they inspected the county jail, and passed resolutions commending Warden Dodd and Mrs. Dodd on the management of the institution.

Foreman Hubbard was surprised by his associates and presented with a very handsome chair.

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

Successful Rehearsal.

A very successful rehearsal of the "Messiah" chorus took place last evening in the lecture room of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. There was a large attendance and the singers took up the work with enthusiasm and spirit Next Monday evening the rehearsal will be held in the lecture room of the First Baptist church, as heretofore, and the rehearsals will be continued there.

Hallow E'en Sociable.

Social activity at the Seventh Day Baptist church will be resumed tomorrow evening when the Christian Endeavor Society of that church will hold its first sociable of the fall. It will be a "Hallow E'en" social and some new appropriate means of entertainment will be tried.

NEW METHOD FOR THE SEWAGE BEDS.

Plan Presented to State Sewage Commissioners and Approved by Them.

SEPTIC TANK TO BE USED.

THE SEWAGE WILL BE GIVEN A SCIENTIFIC TREATMENT

Sludge Will be Dissolved in Septic Tank and Disintegrated—There Will be Eight Beds—Four in Upper and Four in Lower Tier.

After considering several methods to remedy the present unsatisfactory condition of affairs at the city sewage disposal beds, the committee on streets and sewers of the Common Council has chosen a plan which it will recommend to the Council. The details of this plan were presented to the State Board of Sewage Commissioners, at a meeting held at Jersey City yesterday. Mayor George W. Rockfellow, Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett, of this city, and Joseph O. Osgood, of New York, consulting engineer, were present at the meeting and Mr. Osgood explained the proposed changes.

After hearing the details the Commissioner approved the scheme and Mr. Osgood will prepare a report which will be presented at the regular meeting of the Common Council next Monday evening. The committee will recommend that his suggested plan be adopted.

This scheme, as recommended by Mr. Osgood, provides for a "septic" or settling tank and for contact bacterial beds. When the local sewage disposal plant was established this plan had not been heard of, but recent experiments have brought it to a working basis so that experts declare it a very satisfactory way of accomplishing the desired end.

There will be a "septic" or settling tank, covered by a roof, into which the sewage will be received. Here the sludge will, to a great extent, dissolve and be acted upon by certain organisms which will tend to disintegrate the sludge. The effluent will be led from the the tank into what are called the contact bacterial beds, where the sewage will be held for some hours and then led into similar ones on a lower level, where the sewage will be treated the same way.

There will be four beds in the upper tier and four in the lower series. The beds will not be roofed over but will be built of a comparatively coarse material, gravel, slag or cinders, the material of which will rise a foot above the sewage. The sewage will be distributed over the bed through radiating pipes and will sink through the material to a lower set of pipes which will drain the bed. After standing for several hours in the bed, the sewage is drawn off and the air drawn to the bottom of the bed thoroughly aerating it.

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

THE HACKMEN'S TROCHA.

Wall a Foot High, Foot Thick and 120 Feet Long to be Built in Front of North Avenue Station.

T. H. Laury, contractor, started the work this morning of building the proposed wall on North avenue opposite the railroad station. There was a hitch recently between the railroad company and the Common Council regarding the erection of this wall, but matters have been adjusted satisfactorily. The wall will be a foot high and a foot wide. It will be 120 feet long. The principal reason for placing a wall there is to keep the hackmen back a certain distance so that others can go in and out to the station without so much trouble. A space the width of the cross walk will be left in front of the station, so that persons can cross the street at that point.

His Intentions Were Good.

Albert Brinkley, of Berckman street, who was fined $20 by Justice Clark, of Scotch Plains, for alleged cruelty to a dog, states that he had no intention of maltreating the animal. It was a great pet of his and he attempted to kill it after the neighbors declared it had annoyed them. Having no other weapon he took a razor and cutting its throat, left it as he thought for dead. The animal recovered some time afterward and ran to the street. The same neighbors then made the complaint. Brinkley's statements are backed by several reputable ladies of this city who have known him for a long time as an honorable man and declare he is innocent of any wrong doing.

TO CALL TROLLEY COMPANY TO ACCOUNT

Street Committee of the Borough Council Have Had Their Patience Thoroughly Tried.

MUST FIX SOMERSET STREET

STONES FORMING ROADBED TAKEN UP AND THROWN ASIDE.

The Matter to be Brought Before the Council at the Meeting Friday Evening and Radical Steps to be Taken.

The street committee officials of the borough having had their patience thoroughly tried and tested by the slip-shod manner and method adopted by the Plainfield Street Railway Company so far as their abuse of Somerset street is concerned, have decided to adopt heroic methods in the treatment of the trouble and they expect to accomplish something.

A good portion of Somerset street, especially that part where repairs have been made to the trolley tracks, is in a terrible condition. In making the repairs the workmen employed by the trolley company have deliberately removed the large stone placed there in macadamizing the road and in their place they have put bricks and dirt, leaving the street in a soft and somewhat dangerous condition Especially is this noticeable at the switch opposite the school house. Here there are to be found large cobble stones protruding out of the ground, while the stones removed from the street have been left on the sidewalk. There are heavy depressions in between and alongside the tracks and in the present condition it is impossible to make make the road what it should be.

Chairman Clark, of the street committee, and Street Commissioner Doud have been investigating the matter and they have communicated with the officials of the railway company. There is every reason to believe that the company will make some reply, and not treat the matter with silent contempt as heretofore. Every bit of authority vested in the street committee will be brought to bear in the matter and the chances are that the company will repair Somerset street as it should be. It cost a great deal of money to macadamize that street and the committee do not propose to let the trolley company make a toy of it and do as they like.

Heretofore, the borough officials, and particularly Mr. Clark, the chairman of the street committee, have had no little trouble with the trolley company. They have communicated with Superintendent Adlemann and he has even failed to exhibit the common courtesy of replying to communications addressed to him. Why the officials should be ignored in this way is a mystery. Furthermore, they propose to secure an audience with the company and demand and secure everything that belongs to the borough. The above matter will be introduced Friday evening when official action will be taken.

Good Times at Park Club.

Special "Saturday evenings" which proved such a successful feature at the Park Club last winter, were resumed last Saturday evening for the first time this fall. The house committee has announced that they will be continued through the winter and that refreshments will be served. Should the demand warrant it, there will be music for informal dancing.

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

Novel Attractions.

Some novel attractions will be presented at the Hallow 'een" sociable which the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church will hold in the parlors of that church this evening. An appropriate programme will be given and the refreshments will be of a kind suitable to the time.

Endeavorers to Visit.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will go to New Brunswick Thursday evening of this week and visit the society of the Reformed church at that place. A social evening will be enjoyed together. The car leaves North avenue at 7 o'clock.

Settled Out of Court.

The case of George W. and Charles Hummer against James Loughlin, mechanics' lien, which was to have been tried at Somerville Monday was marked settled. W. K. McClure represented the plaintiffs, while Lawyer Wm. Newcorn represented the defendant.

BIDS FOR SCHOOL BONDS

BOROUGH TO RAISE $5,500 WITH WHICH TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS.

Three Truants Given Their Choice of Going to Reform School or Obeying the Law.

Considerable amount of routine business was transacted last evening at the regular meeting of the Board of Education of the borough. Eight bids were received for the $5,500 school bonds issued for the improvements now underway at the Somerset street school. The successful bidder was not announced at the meeting, and the matter was referred to the finance committeee, who will ascertain at once the responsibility of some of the bidders before a decision is made.

A very few changes were made in the curriculum, and it was announced that the manual training school building will be completed and opened soon after the Christmas holidays. There is now a total enrollment of 911 scholars in both schools, the highest in the history of the borough.

Three boys who have been playing truant, and whose parents have paid no attention to the letters written to them concerning their sons, were brought before the Board and Mayor Smalley, the magistrate. They were given their choice of obeying the school laws or going to the Reform School. The boys were very pentitent and promised faithfully to obey the laws. So long as they do there will be no interference, but if they continue to disobey the Board will hold a special meeting and the boys will be committed to the Reform School. The Board is determined to take advantage of the school laws and there will be no fooling in applying the laws when necessary. The school is reported to be in excellent condition and the repairs were reported to be progressing favorably.

PLAINFIELDERS HURT.

VICTIMS OF NEW YORK'S TERRIBLE FIRE AND EXPLOSION.

Men in the Vicinity Hurt by Flying Objects and Stunned by the Concussion.

New York's latest horror, the fire and explosion which carried death and destruction to so many yesterday noon in the vicinity of Warren and Greenwich streets, was witnessed by many Plainfielders. Some were not fortunate enough to escape without injury, but no one from this city has yet been reported as killed or fatally injured.

Isaac S. Enyard, who resides on Sandford avenue, was standing at the door of his establishment on Warren street when the explosion came. He was thrown the width of the room and badly shaken up, although not seriously injured. He is a produce commission merchant and his office was located only a few doors from the scene of the fire.

John L. Anderson, of Third place, was standing on Greenwich street, opposite the wrecked building. He was thrown with great force and received a severe cut in the head from a flying missile. He was given proper treatment and returned home last evening.

Seigfried Arens was sitting in his office on Murray street, when suddenly he was thrown from his chair against the wall. In attempting to get up he was thrown again, but finally regained his feet. He then rushed from the building to a point of safety.

C. Maynard Evans, of East Fifth street, was within a half block of the wrecked building. A missile of some sort flying through the air struck his derby and cut a hole in it. He considered his escape miraculous.

F. M. Bacon, of West Fifth street, was in the vicinity of the accident, but fortunately he sustained no injuries.

Fred Dunn, the groceryman, was directly next the Tarrant building buying goods at the Fox River Butter Company's store. At the first intimation of a fire he fled from the place, knowing that the burning building contained explosive acids. He had reached a point two blocks away when the explosion occurred and a rain of bricks, glass and broken timber fell about him. He was thrown to the ground with considerable force. His head and shoulders were badly cut and bruised by falling debris and a brick struck his right wrist, spraining it badly. The Fox company's store was demolished. Michael Whalen, of West Fifth street, a son-in-law of Doorman Flannigan, was also two blocks away. A heavy piece of plate glass struck him on the head, inflicting a gash two inches long.

Charles Hazeltine, of Westervelt avenue, was another Plainfielder in the vicinity of the explosion. Like most of the others his injuries consisted of cuts about the head, some of them being quite severe. They were bound up by a physician and he returned home.

STRONG SPEAKERS FOR THE DEMOCRATS

Mass Meeting in Washington Hall Tomorrow Night will be a Big One.

ABLE MEN WILL BE HEARD.

DR. STECK, A PRINCETON ALUMNI, WILL BE ONE OF THEM.

James Minturn Also Coming—Jeffersonian Club to Meet This Evening—Democrats are Optimistic at State Headquarters.

The final appeal of the local Democracy to the voters of Plainfield, through the medium of speeches on the issues in the present campaign, will be made tomorrow night in Washington Hall on West Second street at the last of the series of meetings arranged under the auspices of the Democratic Jeffersonian Club. It is expected that the largest audience of the campaign that has attended the Democratic meetings will be present on this occasion. Late yesterday afternoon the Demecratic State committee notified the officers of the Jeffersonian Club that in addition to Corporation Attorney James Minturn, of Hoboken, Rev. Dr. Chas. F. Steck, of Pennsylvania, has been assigned to speak at the meeting.

Dr. Steck, who is an elderly man, is a graduate of Princeton University, and is regarded as one of the best campaign orators on the staff of the National committee, through whom he was sent to New Jersey. He talks principally upon the issue of imperialism. Mr. Minturn is also an excellent speaker, possessing oratorical and argumentative ability to a marked degree. In addition to these gentlemen the Democratic candidates for Members of Assembly will also be present and say a few words. In anticipation of a big audience a large number of extra chairs have been secured for use at the hall tomorrow night. There will also be music to entertain the audience from 7:30 o'clock up to the time the meeting is called to order. Those in charge of the meeting believe that it will wind-up the campaign of the Democrats of Plainfield in an enthusiastic manner.

An important business meeting of the Democratic Jeffersonian Club will be held in the rooms of the Hillman Association on West Front street this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has made arrangements to run special wires to Republican headquarters in the Marsh building and to the Republican Third ward headquarters in the Casino to furnish special service on the night of election day.

On account of the absence of so many of the members at the big Republican demonstration at Elizabeth, last evening, the meeting of the Fourth ward Republican campaign committee was adjourned until this evening. The committee will meet at Republican headquarters.

Arrangements for the last Republican rally in Music Hall Thursday evening will be completed at a meeting of the Republican city campaign committee this evening. The committee will hold a meeting at Republican headquarters. Reports from the canvass of the wards will be made.

Much satisfaction has been expressed by those who were present at the Fourth ward Republican rally last at the prospect of hearing Congressman Charles N. Braum talk again. Braum will be the chief speaker at the Republican rally at Music Hall Thursday evening. He is a clever and interesting speaker and is sure to rouse much enthusiasm in his audience. He is not the kind of a speaker who hurls a mass of dry facts and figures at his hearers but he illustrates his points with many stories and has a personal way of addressing "Billy Bryan" as calls him, which greatly pleases the crowd.

At the Democratic State headquarters Saturday those in charge expressed entire satisfaction with Bryan's New Jersey tour. Secretary Devereux gave out this statement: "The reports we have received from the various Democratic organizations in the towns and cities through which Mr. Bryan passed Thursday and Friday indicate that Mr. Bryan's stirring speeches have had a wonderful effect. They have dispelled what little apathy there was remaining among the Democrats and have infused fresh enthusiasm into the campaign from one end of the State to the other. The State committee, on the basis of the latest reports, looks forward with fresh hope and expects New Jersey to go Demo-

MINERS STILL OUT.

Several Thousand In Lackawanna Valley Refuse to Work.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 30.—Over 5,000 mine employees in the Lackawanna valley refused to return to work because the companies for which they had mined coal failed to comply with the terms of the Scranton miners' convention. The companies affected are the Ontario and Western Railroad company's ten mines, employing 4,000 men; the Forest Mining company at Archbald, employing 800 men, who have been on strike since last January; the Green Ridge Coal company, employing 400 men, and the Clerk Tunnel Coal company, employing 100 men.

At all the other mines there was a complete resumption, even at those of Jermyn & Co., in Olyphant, where it was believed the men would not go back until they were assured that the grievances because of which they struck last March would be adjusted.

Roosevelt Rotten Egged.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Governor Roosevelt finished the first day of his second week's campaign in this state by an invasion of the home of the Democratic candidate for governor, Hon. John B. Stanchfield. At Ithaca the governor's reception was of a most friendly nature. His welcome in Elmira was the greatest political demonstration the city has witnessed in years. Fully 20,000 people were in town. For the first time in New York Theodore Roosevelt was assaulted on the streets of Elmira on his way to the places of meeting. He was in a carriage with former Senator Fassett and at several points along the route was pelted with eggs and vegetables and greeted with the vilest epithets. He sat in dignified silence, while the police looked on quiescently.

Unprecedented Rainfall.

LACROSSE, Wis., Oct. 30.—Traffic on the various roads entering Lacrosse, which was suspended all day Sunday, was resumed at a late hour at night, and now except for the delays due to damaged roadbed all trains are running. Rain fell in torrents from 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon until Sunday morning. Streets were almost impassable and many basements in the business district flooded. Lacrosse seemed to be the center of the storm, which extended over the entire northwest. It is estimated that the damage in this city will amount to $100,000. The weather bureau reports that the rainfall of 7.28 inches was the largest since the office started, 27 years ago.

Christmas Presents For Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Although the quartermaster's department of the army will forward all Christmas packages intended for soldiers in the Philippines, it is not encouraging such shipments for the reason that unless the law is changed a large majority of the troops in that country will be on their way home by the Christmas holidays or soon thereafter. These Christmas packages are transported free of charge. Persons intending to take advantage of this privilege will have to start their packages at once, as it will take at least five or six weeks to distribute them to various points where troops are stationed in the Philippines.

Caracas Severely Shaken.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 30.—At 4:46 a. m. yesterday Caracas was visited by a severe earthquake. Fifteen persons were killed and many others injured. Great damage was done to buildings, including the Pantheon and the churches. The United States legation was badly damaged, but all the occupants escaped unhurt. President Castro, who leaped from a balcony on the second floor of the government house, had one of his legs broken. Mr. William Henry Doveton Haggard, the British minister, had a miraculous escape, the second floor of the British legation having fallen upon him and buried him in the debris.

Newfoundland Nominations.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 30.—The nomination of candidates for the colonial general election fixed for Nov. 8 took place yesterday. The Bond government and the opposition, led by Messrs. Reid and Morine, nominated full tickets in every district. The personnel of the opposition nominees is criticised by the government organs owing to the presence among them of several of Mr. Reid's employees, which is condemned by the Ministerialists all the more vigorously because the chief issue of the campaign is whether Mr. Reid is to be permitted to transfer his interests in the colony to a limited liability company.

Probable Murder.

READING, Pa., Oct. 30.—The body of a handsome woman, aged about 40 years, was found by school children on a road in the Oley valley, six miles from here. There was a bullet hole in the head above the right eye and another in the right arm. It is believed that the woman was murdered. Just about the time the woman's body was discovered a man in a carriage was seen driving rapidly away. The Berks county authorities are scouring the country for the man.

Discord In Spain.

MADRID, Oct. 30.—The minister of finance, Senor Allen de Salajar, refuses to increase the naval budget, and consequently Marquis Darellano hesitates to accept the marine portfolio. General Azcarraga, the premier, was in conference last evening with the minister of finance and Marquis Darellano in the hope of arranging a compromise.

ARRESTED IN BOSTON

Bank Thief Alvord, Who Took $700,000.

HIS STEALINGS ALL SQUANDERED.

Talks Freely of His Crime and Willingly Returns to New York With Officers to Meet His Punishment.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Cornelius L. Alvord, Jr., the absconding note teller of the First National bank in New York city who is charged with stealing $700,000 from the bank, was arrested here yesterday afternoon by Chief Inspector William B. Watts of this city and Detective Armstrong of New York in an ordinary lodging house at the corner of West Newton street and Huntington avenue.

When arrested, Alvord, who knew Detective Armstrong, stated that he was glad the suspense was ended and was willing to go back to New York without papers. He sat down on the bed and smoked a cigar and was only dressed in his underclothes at the time. He afterward dressed quickly and, packing a few underclothes in a bag, stated he was ready to go. A hack was called, and he was driven to police headquarters, and after being measured and photographed under the Bertillon system he was taken to New York on the 5 o'clock train under escort of Detective Sergeant Tinker and Detectives Armstrong and Carey, all of New York, and Detective Morrissey of the Boston force.

During his stay at police headquarters Alvord told Chief Watts that he had not seen his wife for two weeks, although prior to that time he had told her of his financial circumstances and asked her if he should kill himself or face it out, and she had told him to face it out. He stated that he had not been near Mount Vernon, but that he left New York last Tuesday at midnight and arrived in Boston Wednesday morning. He admitted having registered as Bryan Sterling at the Touraine hotel and had eaten several meals there, that he had taken the lodgings where he was found on the following day and that he had not been out of the place since. When asked what he had done with the money, he said, "Well, $700,000 is a whole lot of money, but it goes easy."

In referring to horse races he said he had backed horses, but never on race tracks, and had owned fast horses himself. He said he had lived his life and had taken life to its full at the rate of $50,000 a year or more. He said he would not make any fight, would throw up his hands, take his sentence and after that was over would come out in the world again. He said he knew he would be unable to secure bail and that he had nothing with which to make restitution.

On being searched at police headquarters only a few dollars were found in his pockets, which he was allowed to keep. He sent a telegram to Lawyer Gardiner in New York asking him to meet the train when it arrived in New York.

Preacher Arrested.

ROME, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Rev. Jarvis Maybee of Syracuse was arrested here last evening. For several years he has been engaged in placing abandoned and orphan children in homes, and his methods have been investigated by the state board of charities. Under the law a person must be licensed before he can place children in homes. This, it is alleged, Maybee is not. Officer Bassett of the Gustavus Swan Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, with headquarters in Rome, had two warrants for the arrest of Maybee issued by Justice Sperry of Boonville. The warrants charged him with misdemeanor in placing children in improper homes.

Sentenced In Santiago.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Oct. 30.—Octavio Mena, formerly a clerk in the office of the captain of the port, was found guilty of the murder, about a month ago, of Colonel Pavon of the Cuban army, whom he killed in a drunken row. The evidence showed that the homicide was entirely without provocation. He will probably be sentenced to imprisonment for 17 years, 4 months and 1 day and ordered to pay to the family of his victim the sum of $2,000. While Mena was being taken from the jail to the courtroom a mob tried to lynch him, but the police successfully resisted and made numerous arrests.

Phosphate For Hawaii.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 30.—The American clipper ship Henry Villard, belonging to Arthur Sewall & Co., Bath, Me., sailed from this port today with 2,200 tons of phosphate rock for Honolulu. This is the first cargo of phosphate rock ever sent from this country to Hawaii and goes in the first American clipper seen at this port for a number of years. Captain Quick expects to make the trip in 150 days, though he will provision for twice that length of time.

Tried to Break Up Depew's Meeting.

COBLESKILL, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Five hundred men undertook to break up Senator Depew's meeting here yesterday afternoon and partially succeeded. The town committee undertook to restore order and failed. Mr. Bryan had spoken here in the morning at the fair grounds. The town was full of people from the surrounding country. When Senator Depew arrived, he was conducted to a platform in the main street and faced 6,000 people.

French Frigates Arrive.

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—The French frigates Cecille and Suchet have arrived at Annapolis and anchored in the Annapolis roads about six miles from the city. When the vessels arrived, they fired a national salute of 21 guns. The guns at the Naval academy exchanged shots and also fired a salute of 17 guns in honor of the admiral of the vessels. A reception was tendered the officers at Superintendent Wainwright's house later in the day.

Floods In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—A heavy fall of water occurred yesterday morning and because of the insufficient capacity of the sewers low places in the city were flooded. The water rose to the first floors of residences, churches and stores in some localities, damaging street railway and business property. Street railway travel was impeded for a time, and the roadways and walks after the water receded were coated with mud.

Cecil Rhodes Ill.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Cecil Rhodes, according to a special dispatch from Cape Town, is ill with fever.

TERRIBLE DISASTER.

Flames and Explosives Destroy Life and Property.

DOWN TOWN NEW YORK SHAKEN.

Fire In Tarrant's Wholesale Drug Store Reaches Chemicals, Causing Terrific Explosion—Unknown Number Killed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Not since the disaster of the falling building in Park place has there been such a horror of fire, explosion, falling walls and loss of life as that which occurred yesterday along Warren street between Greenwich and Washington streets, with the new seven story brick building of Tarrant & Co., druggist and chemists, as the starting point of destruction and the fearsome center of interest. In less than 15 minutes, from 12 o'clock to the quarter after, Warren street between Washington and Greenwich was a mass of high piled debris. The blocks bounded to the north and south by Chambers and Murray streets were ablaze. All the north side of Warren street was down, swept clean by the rear wall of the Tarrant building as it was blown out by a terrific explosion. Half the buildings on the south side of Warren street were down, crushed in the same way. The big coffee roasting plant of the Eppen, Smith & Wiemann company in the middle of the block was afire from top to bottom and its front caved in. What grewsome story of death was hidden under the heaps of stone, brick, beams and heavy machinery could only be guessed at.

Estimates put the loss of life at from 50 to 100 and more. The injured, who came from every store and office along the street, struck by flying stones and rafters and shattered glass, probably counted over 100. Ambulances by the dozen stood in nearby streets, and the surgeons had their hands full of work.

How the fire started none could be found who knew or guessed. It broke out in the Tarrant building at 12 o'clock, when smoke was seen curling thinly out of a third floor window on the Warren street side. The place was stocked with chemicals, and these caused the frightful feature of the disaster, the explosions following fast on the heels of the alarm of fire. The whole lower part of the city felt the shock, and streets for blocks leading to the scene were paved with glass from windows and doors, whose empty frames told of the force of the quakes.

It was not until 3 o'clock that the firemen, under Chief Croker's personal direction, had the flames under control. At one time they threatened two whole blocks.

A dull low reverberating explosion, a quick volcanic swirl of smoke and dust and fire, and a whole block of business buildings reaching from Greenwich street to Washington on Warren had lifted, cracked like a crushed eggshell and crumbled into dust. Within five minutes the jumbled, tangled pile was roaring like a furnace, the rows of tall buildings across the street had caught like set pieces of fireworks, and the crowds who fled white faced from the terror behind them seemed to be pursued by the crashing shower of glass and the line of leaping fire.

What had happened was this: A fire had started in Tarrant & Co.'s drug warehouse on the northwest corner of Greenwich and Warren streets. It had burned long enough for the alarm to be sent in, for the firemen to arrive and get their pipe lines playing on it and for an insurance patrol, who, it was supposed, lost their lives, to get inside a building before it fell. Suddenly out from the midst of the fire there flashed a strange pink flame. The men in the coffee warehouse across the street saw that flame and yelled:

"Run for your lives! She's going to blow up!"

Almost instantaneously with that, before the people on the south side of Warren street could more than turn in their tracks, there came the heart clutching earthquake roar and the whole north side of Warren street crashed into ruins. The fire in the drughouse reached the explosive chemicals—just what no one knew at the time—and the dozen or so buildings and storehouses, with the people in them and the firemen working beneath, were hurled down in as chaotic a mass as though the basement of the whole block had been filled with dynamite.

Every window for a half dozen blocks in each direction crashed to the pavement as the puff of air struck against the sides of the buildings. From the burning buildings to the river and in the other direction up to Broadway there were streams of white faced people fleeing as though from a burning city. Some of them had handkerchiefs twisted around their wrists, some had hands pressed to their faces, where the chunks of broken glass had gashed them as they fell. Here and there all through the tangled streets horses stood with one leg up, while blood ran down their fetlocks and over their hoofs. Within a half dozen minutes the streets were jammed with a crowd running from the fire.

The whole south of the town seemed to be hurrying there, called by the billows of smoke that poured up over the roofs about Warren street and held in terrified silence as they stared at the crumbled block in which there were no one knew how many buried, perhaps buried alive to be burned before they could be dragged to light. Not a finger could be lifted to help them. The flames that fairly raced from window to window of the buildings on the south side of the street seemed to swallow the dozens of streams of water that were poured into them without so much as a sizzle.

Within ten minutes all Warren street from Greenwich to Washington streets was either blazing or in dust. Greenwich street half way down to Murray and Washington half way down to Murray were afire, Greenwich north of Chambers was blazing to the middle of the block while tongues of flame were spitting out over the ruins of the fallen building at the corner of Warren and Washington streets.

At the time the explosion took place Broadway was thronged. The full force of the explosion appeared to sweep up Warren street and Park place. Simultaneously with the shaking of the earth came three distinct blasts of hot air and the smell of drugs. The hot air blasts caused people to throw their hands before their eyes. At the corner of Broadway and Park place an elderly lady was thrown heavily to the sidewalk.

When lifted to her feet, she began to cry hysterically. Scores of women rushed to the east side of Broadway. Men with blanched faces turned into Broadway from Warren street, declaring that hundreds of people had been killed and that the danger was not yet over. To add to the excitement horses attached to heavy trucks reared when they felt the earth tremble beneath them. The panic was over in a few minutes, and then the people turned to watch the debris which had been carried up into the air by the explosion.

It was exactly five minutes from the time of the three loud explosions before any of the debris fell into the street. A piece of tin three feet square slowly sank to the pavement on Broadway in front of The Mail and Express building. For several minutes the air was filled with bits of tin, pieces of paper and fragments of charred wood.

So far as can now be estimated about $1,000,000 worth of property was destroyed.

KILLED IN CHINA.

The List of Missionaries Slain by Boxers a Long One.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The American Bible society has received from the Rev. John R. Hykes, D. D., of Shanghai, its agent in China, a report, dated Shanghai, Sept. 13, in which he states that the total number of Protestants known to have been massacred as the result of the anti-foreign movement in China and concerning whose death there cannot be a reasonable doubt is 93. Of these 23 were men, 40 women (20 married and 20 single) and 25 children. Of the killed 28 were Americans—viz, 9 men, 13 women (5 married and 8 single) and 6 children. He writes:

"There are still 125 people who are known to be in the interior—56 men, 50 women (32 married and 18 single) and 19 children. Of these 54 are Americans—viz, 21 men, 16 women (15 married and 1 single) and 17 children.

"There are still 100 persons in the provinces of Shansi and Chi-li about whose safety the utmost concern is felt. There are 64 of these from whom the last word was the 8th of May. No less than 48 of these are American citizens and entitled to all the rights and privileges of such. There are 13 from whom the last word was a letter dated the 30th of June.

"Protestant converts killed are numbered by the thousand. Of the 16 colporteurs of the American Bible society on Mr. Gammon's staff only one (the keeper of the bookstore at Peking) has been heard from. He was saved with the other Christians in the legation. The others have not been seen or heard of since the end of May, and only 11 of the 15 sent in reports for that month. Mr. Gammon has been in Tien-tsin for three weeks, and he has not been able to find any trace of them. It is feared that most if not all have been massacred. They are all well known throughout all that country, and they would have been among the first to suffer.

"I do not have the same facilities for getting information about the Catholics, but I have a list of 35 names of missionaries who have lost their lives since the beginning of these troubles. Of these 5 were bishops, 28 were priests and 2 sisters of charity. In addition to the above 20 are reported as massacred in Shansi and Shensi. In the northern provinces, including Manchuria, they have lost between 15,000 and 20,000 native Christians murdered by the Boxers."

Fitz-Hugh Lee's Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—An order has been issued at the war department discontinuing on Nov. 15 the military division of Cuba and the departments of western Cuba and eastern Cuba and establishing in their stead the department of Cuba, with General Leonard Wood in command and with headquarters at Havana. General Fitz-Hugh Lee is relieved from the command of the department of western Cuba and ordered to Omaha, where he will relieve General Merriam of the command of the department of the Missouri. General E. S. Otis is ordered to Chicago and assigned to the command of the department of the lakes, relieving General J. H. Wade.

Austrian Archduchess Weds.

VIENNA, Oct. 30.—The marriage of Archduchess Maria Raineria of Austria to Duke Robert of Wurttemberg was solemnized yesterday in the chapel of the Hofburg in the presence of Emperor Francis Joseph and the court. At the wedding banquet which followed in the Hofburg 150 guests were present. The emperor in a toast to the newly wedded pair expressed his lively satisfaction at the creation of a fresh bond between the houses of Hapsburg and Wurttemberg. A court concert was given after the banquet, at which the archduchess wore a splendid diamond necklace, the gift of the emperor.

Guide Shot For a Deer.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Marcus Earle, a well known Adirondack guide, aged 45 years, who had a camp in the vicinity of Moose river, was shot and killed about 1 p. m. yesterday through being mistaken for a deer. One report states that the shot was fired by Dr. Palmer of this city, but information from another source gives the name as Parmelee. Earle leaves a widow and four children.

A Gift For Amherst.

NORWICH, Conn., Oct. 30.—By the will of Edward N. Gibbs, late treasurer of the New York Life Insurance company, which has been offered for probate, Amherst college is to receive a bequest of $10,000 in memory of William Austin Dickinson, a friend of the deceased. The property is estimated at about $1,000,000, and that is the only public bequest.

Hill at Poughkeepsie.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Oct. 30.—Former Senator David B. Hill spoke here last night on the issues of the campaign from the Democratic point of view. He addressed one of the largest audiences that ever crowded into the Collingwood Opera House. There were about 3,500 persons present. A party of Vassar students occupied the front seats in the orchestra.

Living With Bullet In Head.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The physicians are unable to extract the bullet from the head of Bertha Grennis of Chester, who was accidentally shot by her father Friday night, but it is believed the child will recover. The patient has not lost consciousness.

Carlist Agitation.

BARCELONA, Oct. 30.—A band of 20 Carlists has appeared near Icualada. They were pursued by the gendarmes, but, although two were wounded, all got away. Another band was discovered in the neighborhood of Vergara and was also energetically pursued.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and if I was rich I would give $100.00 for each movement; it is such a relief." AYLMER L. HUNT, 1639 Russell St., Detroit, Mich.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

President McKinley Names Thursday, Nov. 29.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The state department has issued the following:

By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation.

It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religion and charity have everywhere been manifest. Our country through all its extent has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries of the people have prospered beyond all precedent. Our commerce has spread over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands. The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities, and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th of November next, to be observed by all the people of the United States at home or abroad as a day of thanksgiving and praise to him who holds the nations in the hollow of his hand. I recommend that they gather in their several places of worship and devoutly give him thanks for the prosperity wherewith he has endowed us, for seed time and harvest, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies and for all his benefits to us as individuals and as a nation, and that they humbly pray for the continuance for his divine favor, for concord and amity with other nations and for righteousness and peace in all our ways.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-fifth. WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

Bryan Speaks Thirty Times.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—"And I am feeling tolerably well, I thank you." This was Colonel Bryan's response when told last night that he had made 30 speeches during the day and thus broken his own record for speechmaking. As a rule the speeches were not so long as on most occasions, but they exceeded in number by nine or ten those of any previous day during the present campaign and by three the highest number made in the campaign in any one day in 1896. Beginning at Bainbridge, in the interior of the state, at 9 o'clock in the morning, he spoke in succession at Sidney, Unadilla, Oneonta, Otego, Schenevus, Cobleskill, Voorheesville, Delanson, Ravena, Coxsackie, Catskill, Saugerties, Kingston, Highlands, Marlborough, Cornwall, Highland Falls, Haverstraw, West Nyack and Little Ferry. In New York city he made one speech, at Hamilton Fish park on the east side, and in Brooklyn during the night he made eight speeches, making 30 in all for the day and night.

Shot His Nephews.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 30.—Josiah White, a farmer, visited the home of his nephews, Joseph, James and Everett White, at Sweet Valley. There was trouble between the uncle and nephews over the ownership of some property. They had gone to law about the matter, and it worried the uncle. The elder White had been in the house but a short time when a quarrel started. The old man pulled out a revolver and began firing. One bullet entered the heart of Joseph White, and he dropped dead on the floor. Another ball pierced the right lung of James. The third nephew, Everett, escaped from the room. When the murderer saw what he had done, he fled to the mountains.

Engineer Killed.

MANASSAS, Va., Oct. 30.—Charles Rudd, engineer of Southern passenger train No. 13, was struck and instantly killed by a mail crane at Sideburn, a station ten miles east of this place. Traveling Engineer George Keys was on the engine at the time and stated that Engineer Rudd thought he detected the smell of a hot box and stepped out on the platform between the engine and tender for the purpose of making an investigation. As he swung himself over to get a view of the trucks he was struck by the crane.

Colombian Government Robbed.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 30.—It is reported that the government printing office of Colombia, at Bogota, has been robbed of $1,000,000 worth of paper money. The plates from which the paper money is printed were also stolen. The burglars left a letter in which they stated that the robbery was committed for the purpose of aiding the Liberal cause.

The Prohibition Train.

GENEVA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Hon. J. J. Woolley, candidate for president on the Prohibition party ticket, spoke to several hundred people here yesterday. He said that his party did not expect to win this time because those who did believe in the Prohibition cause lacked the grit to vote the Prohibition ticket.

Death of Prince Victor.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A dispatch received here from Pretoria announces the death from enteric fever of Prince Christian Victor of Sleswick-Holstein, eldest son of the Princess Helena of England and a grandson of Queen Victoria. He was born in 1867 and was a major in the King's Royal rifles.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Maryland—Glenmont, Benjamin Fox. New York—La Grangeville, Charles Burbank. Pennsylvania—Conemaugh, John J. Shafner; Shannondale, John H. Shields; Williamsburg, Levi Sparr.

STORY OF THE FLIGHT

Prince Su Relates Experience of the Chinese Court.

A PANIC STRICKEN, LAWLESS COMPANY

The Journey Occupied Twenty-six Days—Empress Dowager Wept, and the Emperor Reviled Everybody.

PEKING, Oct. 30.—Prince Su, who accompanied the Chinese court in the flight to Tui-yuen-fu and afterward returned here, disheartened by the anarchy existing among those composing the immediate advisers of the throne, gave in the course of an interview today an interesting account of his journey.

"On the first day," said Prince Su, "the court traveled in carts 20 miles north, escorted by 3,000 soldiers, who pillaged, murdered and committed other outrages along the entire route. The flight was continued at the rate of 20 miles a day to Hsuan-hua-fu in the most panic stricken manner. So little authority was exerted that the soldiers even stole the meals prepared for the emperor and the empress dowager. The execution of several for murder and pillage eventually brought them under control.

"The court remained three days at Hsuan-hua-fu, some advisers counseling a further stay. They were, however, overruled owing to the fear of foreign pursuit, and the flight was resumed to Tai-yuen-fu, with 10,000 additional troops under General Tung Fu Hsiang, who added to the discord.

"The empress dowager did little else but weep and upbraid her advisers. The emperor reviled everybody. The journey occupied 26 days, the longest route being taken owing to fear of pursuit.

"On arriving at Tai-yuen-fu great difficulty was experienced in forming any semblance of government. Many edicts were ignored, and affairs reached a state of absolute chaos. The emperor would have preferred to trust himself to the allies, but he was compelled to join in the flight."

Prince Su does not believe that the court is going to Sian-fu. He thinks the plan is to return by a circuitous route through southern Shansi and northern Honan.

Serious Explosion In Canton.

HONGKONG, Oct. 30.—A serious explosion occurred in Canton Sunday morning. Four houses near the governor's yamen were destroyed, and many persons were killed. It is rumored that the scene of the explosion was the reformers' arsenal, which was full of powder and gun cotton, and that the object was to destroy the yamen. The occurrence will probably lead to the persecution of the reformers. It is rumored that the French are prepared to send 1,000 troops from Saigon to Canton. This report, together with the presence of numerous French warships, has aroused suspicions among the Chinese regarding French designs. The reformers threaten that if the French attempt to seize Canton the Cantonese will lay the city in ruins.

Envoys Accept French Note.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The Havas agency has received the following from Peking: "The foreign envoys have held further meetings, and the French note has been accepted in principle as the basis of discussion. Li Hung Chang has informed the legations of the poisoning of Yu Hsien. The Austrian minister has arrived. A company of French troops sent for a day's march west of Peking to rid a district that was reported to be infested with Boxers killed eight rebels, took one prisoner and captured a mitrailleuse. The international column now returning from Pao-ting-fu is purging the villages en route. The armed population is being punished, and all arms are destroyed."

China's Proposition.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—"The Chinese plenipotentiaries opened negotiations," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express, "by proposing that China should pay an indemnity of £40,000,000 in 60 installments, agreeing that the likin and the customs service should be under foreign control until the obligation should be discharged. They also agreed that Prince Tuan should be imprisoned for life, that Tien-tsin should be treated as an international district and that other places should be opened to foreign trade. China undertakes to abstain from purchasing war material abroad. In order to raise the indemnity she proposes to double the import duties."

Russian Embassador Returns.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Russian embassador, Count Cassini, has returned to Washington after an absence of some months in Europe, during which time he conferred with Count Lamsdorf, Russian minister of foreign affairs, concerning Chinese and other international questions. He also talked with M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs. When seen at the embassy yesterday, Count Cassini said that his visit to St. Petersburg occurred more than two months ago, so that he was not in touch with the latest phases of the China situation. Count Cassini says he observed at St. Petersburg that the government was animated by a most reasonable, conciliatory and moderate disposition concerning China.

Troops Welcomed to London.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The City Imperial volunteers, who arrived at Southampton from South Africa Saturday on the British transport Aurania of the Cunard line, reached here by train, marched through London and along streets packed by thousands and received a tumultuous greeting. Such a demonstration was probably never before evoked for such a small body of volunteers.

New Gas From Petroleum.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 30.—It is stated here that a savant has discovered a new gas obtained from petroleum which burns with a brighter light than calcium or an electric arc. With a pint of kerosene the scientist produces a 700 candle power light. He can also generate power enough to run a four horsepower engine or automobile.

Wrecked Aliris' Crew Safe In Port.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—On board of the steamer Ethelred, which arrived last night at quarantine, were Fred and William Langston, Otto Segelke and Noah F. Mason, Jr., of the wrecked yacht Aliris, which was abandoned about 30 miles southeast of the Scotland lightship at 10 a. m., Oct. 17, and rescued by the crew of the Ethelred.

November 5—Volunteer League and missionary study class of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m.

A Trenton correspondent observes that, the Presidential question aside, there is one thing that Mr. Bryan's trip did, and that was to make Senator Johnston Cornish more popular than ever with New Jersey Democrats. The Senator was chairman of the sub-committee of the State committee that escorted Mr Bryan through the State, and he was well adapted to the position. He has a most affable disposition and knows nearly every Democrat in the State of even local prominence. Withal he is a man of much political experience, gained in Congress and in the State Senate; successful in business and liberal with his money. Mr. Cornish has had his eye on the Governorship for some time, although he has never formally declared himself. Already there is crystalizing in the State a sentiment in favor of his being made the Democratic nominee next year, and, unless conditions change, he will be a formidable factor in the canvass for the nomination.

The general prediction in Washington is that the total population of the forty-five States of the country, as shown by this year's Federal census, will be 76,000,000, that the basis of representation will be 200,000 inhabitants for each member of the House, and that the total membership will be between 390 and 400. It is believed that the effect of the redistricting of the country will be to diminish the influence of the South and of the East as compared to the Middle West and Northwest and of the rural as compared with the city districts.

The Newark News notes that "outbreaks of diphtheria in Camden, Elizabeth and elsewhere in this State will serve to recall attention to the theory that the disease is spread by the burning of leaves. Physicians and health authorities always expect a large increase in diphtheria cases at this season of the year. Whether this is due to atmospheric conditions, to decaying vegetation or to the acrid smoke from burning leaves is a question that remains to be decided."

Local Republican leaders—especially in the Fourth ward—are betting even money with confident Democrats that Plainfield will give McKinley and Roosevelt 1,500 majority According to this, the Republicans are evidently figuring on holding all but 142 of the votes cast for McKinley four years ago when he was supported by hundreds of Democrats in Plainfield.

Although former President Grover Cleveland refuses to be drawn into a discussion or an expression of opinion on the campaign issues, he gave an interview to the Philadelphia Times yesterday in which he predicted that Bryan and Stevenson would be elected. Mr. Cleveland said that he believed President McKinley was doomed to sure defeat for re-election.

Eight states of the country, and eight only, have been uniformly Republican in every Presidential election since, and including 1864 They are Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Senator Charles A. Reed, the chairman of the Somerset county Republican committee, and Lewis A. Thompson, Clerk in Chancery, are not rivals in this campaign, except it be in the sense that they are striving to outdo each other in the work of making that county return an even larger majority against James J. Bergen, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Third district, than it returned against him when he ran for State Senator one year ago. Senator Reed has just received reports from members of the committee in Somerset, and he believes that the majority there will be a surprise to the Republicans in the other counties of that Congress district.—New York Tribune.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The estimate of many things is greatly altered by the point of view. The value of oatmeal as a health food was sarcastically commented on by the beneficiary of a charitable institution who had been told that oatmeal was very nourishing. 'Oh yes!" she said with bitter irony. "The ladies come down to their breakfast and after taking an orange have a juicy porterhouse steak, some creamed potatoes, some muffins, a cup of rich coffee, perhaps an egg or an omelette, then they finish up with a saucer of oatmeal covered with rich cream and lean back and say, 'How nourishing oatmeal is!' I don't find it so nourishing with nothing else."

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

BERGEN'S ANSWER TO SENATOR REED.

to do with the election of Mr. Reed to the Senate. He did not object to the Senator's criticism so long as he tells what is true.

In conclusion the speaker referred to the Democratic candidates and asked the support of all present for them. Mr. Bergen was followed by W. K. McClure, of this city, who talked briefly on the important issues. He came out boldly for Bryan and Stevenson and said that he intends to support them because he believes they are right and that they want to give a government of the people, by the people and for the people. His remarks, as well as those of Mr. Bergen, were cheered frequently.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

is an article that has a place in every home. In fact no home is complete without one. There was a time when such an article was a luxury, but not now, and when we say we have the handsomest as well as the cheapest line in the city we don't exaggerate in the least, for we don't buy our furniture in any haphazard manner, and when an article is placed on our floor you may rest assured that it's the best that can be had for the money. The fact that our furniture sales are twice as large as last year is sufficient proof of it. The Morris Chairs that we direct particular attention to are those at 9.48, 9.98, 10.98, 11.98 and 12.98.

They are finished in beautiful quartered golden oak and mahogany, rubbed and polished, have hair spring seats, claw feet, handsome carvings, and the cushions are upholstered in the best grades of Arlington velours, filled with hair.

Hall Furniture In this line as well as any other we are prepared to fill your wants. All the newest designs, quartered oak, golden finish, with French bevel plate mirror, heavy brass fixtures for hats and umbrellas, 12 different styles to select from, the prices start at 6.98 and run up to 12.48.

Lamp Light It is our aim to furnish the best possible light that a lamp can give. The beauty of the article is secondary—and yet we have had remarkable success in combining both light and beauty. Decorated and solid color lamps and globes to match are here in delightful choice. There has never been such a lamp stock in this town before. The charaeter of them are away above the average. No more appropriate and acceptable wedding present could be found than one of these lamps. You are invited to inspect them. Prices and styles too numerous to quote, but we have them from 75c to 13.98. There are no duplicates of these lamps.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Oct. 29.—A meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church will be held Wednesday evening at which Rev. N. B. Sproull, of Englishtown, will be present and give his decision in regard to the call extended to him some time ago. Previous to the congregation meeting, Mr. Sproull will meet and confer with the elders at the residence of T. C. Bodine.

Jame Block, who is employed by W. G. Runyon, left for Paterson yesterday morning with the ostensible purpose of spending the day with friends. On returning home last evening he was accompanied by a young lady who he introduced to his friends as Mrs. Block. They were married quietly at Paterson and returned to the borough where they will take up their residence.

Contrary to expectation Peter Mohan received from O. E. Chamberlain, of Plainfield, a few days ago a check for $75. This amount was for the contents of the barn burned on his property a short time ago. Mr. Mohan thought his policy had run out, but luckily it had not.

All arrangements have been completed for the oyster supper to be given at the Presbyterian church tonight, commencing at 6 o'clock. From the number of tickets sold already it promises to be a very successful affair.

Mrs. John Wherly, of Somerville, has returned from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Terry spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Townley, at Elizabeth.

Miss Louise Holmes, of Plainfield, has returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. A. Sampson.

Mrs. William H. Terry and Mrs. Annie Abbott spent yesterday with relatives at Somerville.

A bright little baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chaflin Sutphen on Sunday.

Joseph Sutphen, of Plainfield, was the guest of his cousin, John Beekman, Sudday.

The regular meeting of William G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., this evening.

Thomas Thomas left yesterday for Princeton, where he will re-enter college.

Mrs. John Heil, of Raritan, is spending a few days with borough relatives.

Mrs. Abher Coriell visited friends in Bound Brook, Sunday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 30—Someone, evidently in want of a ride, appropriated a horse and wagon belonging to Calvin Boice from in front of Sofield's blacksmith shop Saturday night. All efforts to trace the rig failed until Sunday afternoon when it was found tied to a tree at Gallagher's Corner. The horse showed signs of having stood there since the night before. A stranger, who was about town Saturday evening under the influence of liquor, is thought to be the guilty party.

On account of further work being necessary at the new ice house, the sluice gates of the pond have not been lowered. Fishermen are still taking opportunity of the low water and large catches of carp, suckers and other fish are being made daily.

Miss Lizzie Stout, of Jutland, has returned home after a few days visit with her aunt, Miss Ellen Mechling.

The third meeting of the dancing class will be held in Friendship Hall this evening.

Charles A. Warton, of Newark, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, October 30.—Two strangers, stopping for a short time at one of the local hotels yesterday afternoon, drank too much of the cup that cheers. An argument started between the two which soon led to blows, Officer Allen was called in, and Judge Clark did the rest. $5 each was the price paid for their amusement.

The members of the Republican Club enjoyed a very pleasant outing upon their trip to Elizabeth last night to attend the party demonstration at that place. A special trolley conveyed the members and their friends, and the trip was one of the best the club has had during the campaign.

The Swede who was arrested by Officer Guerrier Sunday evening, for imbibing a little too freely of Scotch Plains influence, was arranged before Judge Clark Monday morning. The man pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk. So the judge imposed a fine of $5.

August Scheelen, of Fanwood, while riding his wheel several days ago, was unfortunate enough to have a fall which bruised him quite badly. A large gash was cut in his knee which necessitated his having to have Dr. Westcott put several stitches in it.

Miss May Colton, a former popular teacher in the public school, but now of Brooklyn, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Whitenack.

Dr. J. H. Parks led the monthly conquest meeting of the B. Y. O. U. in the parlors of the Baptist church last evening. Subject, "The Lone Star Mission."

The Registry Board meets for the last time before election in the township rooms today from 1 to 9 o'clock. This is the last chance to get registered.

Rev. G. M. Shott has returned from New York, where he has been attending the weekly ministers' conference meeting.

Wm. Bullman, of Brooklyn, has been spending a pleasant visit at the home of Mrs. D. C Allen.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Oct. 30—Wm. H. Baker, a boss painter, was seriously hurt yesterday morning while at work on Dudley avenue. Mr. Baker was on a scaffold when he slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of about twenty-five feet. He was picked up and taken to his home on North avenue, where Dr. R. R. Sinclair made an examination and found that no bones were broken, although he had many cuts about the body and may be hurt internally.

The Democrats of this town will hold a ratification meeting at the Westfield Club hall Thursday evening, when Hon. Albert Gray, of Texas, Rev. Montgomery H. Throop, of Jersey City, and Dr. C. C Hendricks, of Jersey City, will speak.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Oct. 30—It is reported that we will get no trolley before spring. We have had some good promises, but they are of very little value as long as we have to walk to town.

The basement of the new tower at the station would make a good cistern, as it holds water in but won't keep it out.

The tinners commenced putting the roof on the schoolhouse yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Weaver, who has been very ill, is improving slowly.

"Miss Jerry" Was Entertaining.

"Miss Jerry" arrived in town last evening and in a few minutes had captured a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. The young lady in question is a fictitious creation of Alexander Black, the noted author, and is an illustrated monologue. But though "Miss Jerry" was unreal the pictures illustrating her career as a reporter on the Daily Dynamo were not. Her interviews with New York notables were shown so true to life that her audience lost the sense of viewing pictures and fancied the figures real. A pretty love story winds through the piece.

STRONG SPEAKERS FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

cratic Nov. 6th."

The Republican State Committee issued a call Saturday for a meeting tomorrow at the committee headquarters in Newark. The chairman of the county committees throughout the State are requested to be present and submit reports. The State committeemen will also report. This will be the final meeting of the committee chairman, to analyze the reports received and determine the real status of affairs in the State. Since the last reports were submitted Bryan has canvassed the State, and the efforts of his tour have been carefully noted. The Republican plurality fixed at the conference held last week by the State committee with the county chairman was 45,000, and it is not expected that the estimate based on the reports to be made tomorrow will vary from that.

A Prohibition mass-meeting will be held in Saengerbund Hall this evening. Rev. Mr. Howard will make the principal address of the evening.

Borough Councilman Swackhamer delivered a political speech at a Democratice mass-meeting held at Mt. Bethel last night.

The U. S. Grant Colored Republican Club will hold a mass meeting in Spencer's Hall on Somerset street tonight. Charles Dickerson, of Newark, will be the speaker.

A hundred Plainfielders went to Elizabeth last evening and most of them participated in the big Republican parade there. The parade was declared to be a great success, over 2,000 men being in line and large crowds lining the streets where the parade marched. All the uniformed clubs of this part of New Jersey participated. Plainfield had no regular campaign organization and the young men from this city fell in with the unattached delegation.

TO CONSIDER PLANS.

Board of Governors Take Steps to Improve Facilities at the Muhlenberg Hospital.

Having abandoned the plan of building a new hospital, it was expected that the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital would provide for an addition to the present accommodations at their meeting last evening. The meeting was held but no definite action was taken, although some of the members believed that the situation called for immediate action. The chief obstable against immediate action was the lack of funds.

It was decided to appoint a committee to consider plans for an addition to the present hospital and secure estimates of the cost of building it. The committee was composed of E. B. Clark, W. R. Cock, Charles E. Brooks, J. Frank Hubbard and D. C. Ivins. Evarts Tracy will prepare plans for the committee and a report will be made at the next meeting of the board when definite action will probably be taken.

GIVEN G A R. HONORS.

Veterans Conducted Funeral Services Over Remains of Dead Comrade.

With all the impressive military honors befitting a veteran, Samuel Terry, who died Saturday, was laid to rest by his former comrades yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Yerkes conducted the service at the house after which the members of Winfield Scott Post took charge. Past Commander McVoy conducted the services for the veterans with Acting Marshal Berg, as commander. A firing squad of eight men, in charge of John Findlay, fired a volley over the grave. The pallbearers were Comrades Robert Mattox, James Huntington, Augustus Runyon, John Naylor, Nathan Pennington and Frank Whitely. There were a number of handsome floral pieces contributed by Winfield Scott Post, Woman's Relief Corps, Exempt Fireman's Association and Woolston & Buckle, the deceased's former employers. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

"A Spring Chicken," which will be at Music Hall tonight, shows the doings of many peculiar people, chief of whom is a party who rejoices in the name of "Chickweed." He has every license to be peculiar for he was hatched from an incubator. The fact that "Chickweed" was born in an incubator cuts very little ice, except that it figures in the plot and furnishes the excuse for the introduction of some excruciatingly funny situations. His associates are "Fuller Coyne," who, as the name would suggest, has plenty of money; "Woodbry Mann," a surgical student—good name for medical practitioner; "Wayback Lovejoy," a fresh hotel clerk, such as one usually encounter at a summer hotel; "Ann Tique," an old maid; "Liza Wright," a clever reporter; "Ida Hoe," the western wonder, and "Mrs. Sponiers," a charming French widow. This role will be interpreted in an exceptionally realistic manner by Madamoiselle Charmon, who has not yet fully mastered the English language, and speaks with a delightful Parisian accent.

The coming engagement of the magnificent play "Fedora" at Music Hall next Monday, Nov. 5th, should certainly be recorded as among the important attractions to appear here this season. In the first place there is no play on the American stage that has received the praise given this one. It was written by the most famous of the world's living playwrights, Sardou; was played for the longest period of any of Bernhardt's repertoire by this actress, and won both fame and fortune for Fanny Davenport in this country. The company to present the drama here is large and competent. It contains Eleanor Franklin and Brinsley Shaw and a number of the members of the original cast. It's scenic environment will be magnificent, elaborate and costly, while the costumes to be worn by the ladies in the cast are said to be masterpieces of artistic creation.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

Two Vocal Concerts.

Albert H. Atterbury, of West Seventh street, announces that arrangements have been completed for two vocal concerts to be given at the Casino on Thursday, December 6th, and Thursday, January 10th. Ward Stephens will have charge of the music and the singers for the first concert will be Mrs Grace W. Dutton, soprano; Mrs. Adele Laeis Baldwin, contralto; Dr. Carl E Dufft, basso; William C. Weeden, tenor. About fifty well-known women of Plainfield have consented to act as patronesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Rushmore, of 161 Grove street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little girl

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Göllheim. Der 50jährige Steuerannehmer Franz Hartard wurde zu einem Jahr drei Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt. Hartard hatte seit einer Reihe von Jahren zum Nachtheile der Gemeinden Rissingen, Biedesheim und Göllheim größere Summen im Gesammtbetrage von mehr als 15,000 Mark unterschlagen.

Kaiserslautern. Der 12jährige Werktagsschüler Otto Forell in Mehlbach hatte aus Widerwillen gegen den Schulbesuch den Plan ausgeheckt, das Schulhaus in Brand zu stecken. Im Juli d. J. mißlang sein Versuch; das von ihm auf dem Speicher gelegte Feuer konnte im Keime erstickt werden. Dagegen glückte sein zweiter Versuch am 7. August. Die Gemeinde erlitt dadurch einen beträchtlichen Schaden. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte Forell kürzlich zu einem Jahr Gefängniß.

Ludwigshafen. Der Baumaterialienhändler Johann Lergenmüller erhielt von der Strafkammer fünf Monate Gefängniß zuerkannt. Er hatte durch Fahrlässigkeit einen Brand verursacht, durch den die Frau und drei Kinder des Postboten Leiner das Leben verloren.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Der in Konkurs befindliche Bankier Karl Schmoller ließ sich von einem Schnellzuge überfahren und war sofort todt.—Justizreferendar Dr. Link wurde von der elektrischen Bahn überfahren und erlitt so schwere Verletzungen, daß er alsbald starb.

Ludwigsburg. Regierungspräsident v. Riekert ist, 58 Jahre alt, gestorben.

Rottweil. Freiherr O. v. Münch, der seinen Knecht durch Revolverschüsse lebensgefährlich verwundete, ist nach Beschluß der Strafkammer außer Verfolgung gesetzt. Er ist der Irrenanstalt Rottenmünster übergeben worden.

Trossingen. Die Mundharmonika-Fabrik von Matthias Höhner stellte dem Reichsmarineamt 6000 Stück ihrer Fabrikate als Liebesgabe für das deutsche Expeditionskorps in China zur Verfügung.

Ulm. Eine allgemeine Ausstellung für Kochkunst, Hotel- und Wirthschaftswesen wurde hier eröffnet.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Von den sechs Städten Badens mit mehr als 15,000 Einwohnern haben fünf ortsstatutarisch den Bedürfnißnachweis für die Errichtung neuer Wirthschaften. In Karlsruhe kommt eine Wirthschaft auf 303 Einwohner, in Freiburg auf 227, Heidelberg 175, Pforzheim 188, Konstanz 155, Mannheim 168 Einwohner. —Auf der Pariser Weltausstellung hat die bekannte Firma Christofle für ihre künstlerischen Mitarbeiter 38 Medaillen erhalten.

Brühl. „Um einmal Feuer zu sehen," wie sie sagte, hatte die 12 Jahre alte Volksschülerin Anna Mehrer die Scheune des Kohlenhändlers Eppel angezündet, wodurch ein Brandschaden von 6000 Mark entstand. Das Mädchen wurde jüngst zu acht Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Mannheim. Bei einem Streithandel schlitzte der Italiener Valentin Detesko dem Tagelöhner Philipp Grob den Unterleib auf. In hoffnungslosem Zustande wurde der Verletzte in's Krankenhaus gebracht. Detesko wurde verhaftet.

Pforzheim. Das Finanzamt hat den Kaufmann Schumacher wegen Steuerdefraudation in eine Geldstrafe von 2775 Mark und Nachzahlung der vorenthaltenen Summe von 250 Mark genommen.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. Bei den Bezirkswahlen siegten anhier der freisinnige Kandidat Justizrath Riff und der Bäckermeister Back (gouvernemental). In Diedenhofen wurde der Rechtsanwalt Haas (freisinnig), in Oberehnheim Bürgermeister Gierlich (gouvernemental), in Metz der Altdeutsche Heister gewählt. Ferner gingen aus der Wahlurne hervor: in Markolsheim Gutsbesitzer Walter (klerikal), in Sulz Unterstaatssekretär Dr. Petri (nationalliberal), in Pfalzburg Landesausschußmitglied Violland, in Saar-Union Landesausschußmitglied Ernst v. Schlumberger (gouvernemental), in Wolmünster Fabrikant Dr. Max Jaunez (gouvernemental), in Maursmünster Landesausschußmitglied Klen (gouvernemental), in Mülhausen Rust (Agrarier), in Ensisheim Landesausschußmitglied Rudolf (gouvernemental). In Kolmar siegte der demokratische Rechtsanwalt Blumenthal. Diese Wahl bedeutet den völligen Zusammenbruch des altelsässischen, nicht selten protestlerisch angehauchten Ultrapartikularismus, der in Kolmar seine Hochburg hatte.

A gentleman, whose business is a constant strain upon his nerves, relates that one night recently he was unable to sleep. On previous occasions he had observed a benefit arising from the use of Ripans Tabules. On this particular occasion, believing that heroic measures were necessary, he took three. The result was really surprising. The effect was as quieting as though the medicine had contained a narcotic, which every one knows it does not. There was an immediate feeling of ease, rest and quiet, extending in a few minutes over the entire system, and sleep came as naturally as to a child.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Plainfield

Scores of Plainfield people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

Mr. F. D. Smith, of 686 West Front street, contractor for painting etc says: "There was a distressing pain across the small of my back which clung to me all the time. When I got seated at times if I moved a sharp pain struck me in the back and loins and almost made me exclaim Any change in the weather if I caught the least cold always aggravated the trouble and caused me to suffer severly. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by one of my employees who had been cured of a long standing case of kidney complaint by their use. I commenced the treatment, derived benefit from it immediatly and before I had finished the first box I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo N. Y. sole agents for the U. S.

GOOD PENAL CODE IN CHINA.

Modes of Punishment in the Celestial Empire Are Made to Fit the Crime.

"Though a man with a sharp sword should cut one's body bit by bit, let no angry thought arise, let the mouth speak no ill word." — Fo-Sho-Hing Tsan-King.

So natural has it become to treat everything connected with the celestial empire as either comic or semibarbaric that the denizens of Pump court will start and rub his eyes when he hears from the latest authority that in many respects the Chinese penal code is superior to the English system, says the Chicago Chronicle. Mr. Alabaster's work comes as a most refreshing change from the too often dry and dreary pages which the legal reviewer is commended to scan from year's end to year's end. A book which transports one from the musty cloisters of statute and case laws into an atmosphere of quaint customs and breezy anecdote, shot through and through with the golden threads of even justice, demands a broader treatment than the heading "Law Library" would warrant.

Legal practitioners are few and far between in China; in fact, it can hardly be said that there are either counsel or solicitors. semiofficial class exists who solve the more difficult forensic problems; they are called shih. The tai shue must be a brave set of men; they qualify for drawing up petitions, but the work is fraught with danger. One poor old fellow of 70 got three years transportation for drawing up five petitions. Advocacy is equally risky; a scholar was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and 80 blows from the heavy bamboo for trying to reduce a criminal's offense from murder to manslaughter. Chinese apathy when some villainy is being done is largely due to fear of the law, which says that "persons must not interfere unless they have a right to do so by reason of relationship."

The code is an effectual check on judicial and forensic genius. The duties of the judge are confined to determining the facts and the article of the code they agree with. Thus the sentence is fixed without variation to begin with, and any circumstances attenuates are considered by the judicial board at Peking, to whom the great majority of capital sentences are referred for revision every autumn. This list of those who should by right be executed is then submitted to the emperor, who decrees their fate in a curious way. The names are written on a large sheet of paper, those being considered less guilty being placed near the corners or the center. The emperor then draws a vermilion circle on the paper, and those whose names are traversed by it are doomed. The rest go forward to the next list, and if they are lucky enough to escape the red for three years they are free.

What She Wanted to Know.

"My dear child, you really should not eat your pudding so quickly."

"Why not, mamma?"

"Because it is dangerous. I once knew a little boy about your age who was eating pudding so quickly that he died before he had finished it."

"And what did they do with the rest of his pudding, mamma?" — N. Y. World.

CAPRICES OF FASHION.

New Styles That Come In With Furs and Frosts.

One of the daintiest of all the caprices of fashion is the use of narrow black velvet ribbon in trimming thin evening dresses. The ribbon is just of the right width to run in the open spaces of lace with which it is ornamented. The black velvet against the white is at once striking and artistic. It is generally put upon thin stuffs and so shows more delicately than it could on heavier goods. A favorite way is to have a dress of light silk muslin or some other of the thin stuffs, and then lay the lace insertion over that and run the ribbon through the holes. Full loops and ends of the narrow ribbon are set at the waist and sometimes on the shoulders. I saw one yesterday where the waist had a double accordion ruffle around the neck, and this was edged with a row of narrow cream insertion, and through this was the velvet ribbon run. One line of the same extended down the left side to the bottom of the skirt, and at the belt there was a bunch of ever so many loops of the velvet ribbon. A large pink chrysanthemum was on the left shoulder, and that was the only point of color on the whole affair.

Evening gowns without any covering over the shoulders always come in with the furs and frosts, and there are some very pretty ones to be seen everywhere. In one store I saw a dainty pale pink thing in painted gauze. The whole skirt had a design of pink mayflowers, and their foliage and the pictures were well painted and "too ethereal for anything," as one lady remarked. Around the bottom there was a flounce of chiffon so complicated and fluffy that no mere words could describe it, and therefore I shall leave that to the imagination of my friends. The waist was baby shape and had the inner part made of chiffon gathered as closely as hands could make it, while outside of that there was a drapery made of the painted mull edged with very narrow chiffon puffs. The painted flower takes the center of the stage. There is a sash of white chiffon which reaches to the bottom of the skirt, being tied half way down in a loose knot. This gives a wonderful lightness to the whole.

Speaking of the stage reminds me of a dress worn by Mrs. Leslie Carter in her play of "Zaza." This is red, and over this is a black lace dress covered with spangles. It has a long train, and words can scarcely depict the superb richness of this gown. She is known for her taste in dressing as well as for her talent. Every woman present wished she could have that magnificent mass of auburn hair. Mrs. Carter wore some other stunning gowns and set the hearts of the women to fluttering with desire for some like them.

And the hats are too lovely for the world to bear without dying of envy. The richest of everything that grows in the earth, under the water or flies or ever was thought of is put on them, fur, feathers, silks, satins, plush, velvet, lace, felt and indeed so much that it is not possible to remember half. But the shapeless felts with a tam crown and a band of some other material and a cock's plume make the most fetching hats for young girls. They are mostly in dark shades of beaver and mode, though there are some browns and other colors. In fact I think there are colors for all. These felt shapes, to be just what they should be, are rough in form and angular. The Ladysmith hat is also a great favorite, and there are several new wrinkles to that shape, notably one where the crown is so pressed that it forms a diamond shape at the top. Polka dotted panne or foulard trims them. These are more for every day, but there are the loveliest toques and large hats for better wear. One toque illustrated in this page is made of brown and gold fluorescent velvet, and the trimming consists in a bunch of yellow panne hollyhocks. At the back is a small, close bunch of brown chenille and gilt braid. A large hat of mordore brown felt is trimmed for a young face and is really beautiful in itself. The crown is high and somewhat in the old bell shape and has a twist of velvet a shade darker mingled with a little gold ribbon. And gold ribbon in all widths is one of the most fashionable trimmings there is for the moment for all sorts of things. At the left side of this hat are several bows of the velvet, and on the top is a crushed bow of velvet and pink chiffon, through which is stuck a handsome made quill. Many of the velvet hats have rich lace as trimming or even as the foundation.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

It has always seemed to me an old maid is necessary to a really good story.

BLOCK SIGNAL SYSTEM.

It Virtually Prevents Railroad Collisions and Is Operated by the Faithful Tower Man.

It is much safer to ride on a railway train now than it used to be. On many roads "lock and block" signals keep a train from being run into from behind, and it is impossible to have a head on collision, because trains going in the opposite direction are on another track. In the old days trains were kept from colliding by sending telegrams, and mistakes of telegraph operators often cost many lives. Nowadays when an engineer is running his train close to another on the same track he knows it by signals placed every little way along the line, and the telegraph operator has nothing to do with it.

A road on which these siganls are to be used is first divided into sections or "blocks," each about two miles long. The rails of each block are separated from the rails of the adjoining blocks by some substance that will not let electricity through. In a tower midway of the block is an electric indicator which is attached to both rails of the track by two wires. When a train enters a block at one end, the indicator, the two wires, the two lines of rails and the nearest car truck form an electric circuit along which travels a current from a battery. The indicator clicks as the current passes through it and the words "Train in Block" appear in a slot in front. The instant that the train passes out of the block the current stops, these words drop out of sight and the word "Free" appears.

There is an arm-like signal called a semaphore at the end of the block and also at the tower, and the tower man operates them both by levers. Engineers have orders to slow down their trains at the first semaphore if it is a danger signal, and to stop at a danger signal at the tower. When the train approaches a block the signals are in the danger position and the tower man cannot change them without permission from the next tower man, because his levers are locked and can only be released by the second man. So he presses a button and rings three electric bells in the second tower. If there is a train in that block the answer is five bells, but if his block is clear the second man presses a plunger at the bottom of his indicator and completes an electric circuit that releases the first man's levers but locks his own. The first man then signals that the way is safe, and as soon as the train has passed the tower he puts up the danger signals again. It is now time for the second tower man to signal to the third by ringing three bells and getting his machinery unlocked, and the third has to ring up the fourth, and so on. The train is thus safely handed along from block to block, with never less than a full block section between trains. On a large railroad the block signals are operated several hundred thousand times a day without a single mistake.—Little Chronicle.

AGGY WAS AMUSING.

Filipino Monkey, Although Full of Pranks, Was the Pet of an American Regiment.

When my brother returned from the Philippine islands not long ago, having seen service in the island of Negros, he brought with him a pet monkey named Aguinaldo. In his native land Aggy was quite an amusing beast. If the soldiers happened to be in want of cocoanuts or mangoes Aggy would willingly go up a cocoanut or mango tree and shake down any quantity of fruit, when he would come down and look as if he was highly pleased at what he had done. Although Aggy was useful at times, he was very mischievous. For instance, he would hunt until he found some of the officers' best cigars and then proceed to chew a small hole out of the middle of each cigar, making them so they would not draw well. Another favorite prank was to throw razors, toothbrushes and the like out of the window and then take refuge in the top of a cocoanut tree, where he would stay until the razor owner's wrath had somewhat abated.

He relished spiders and moths, and would frequently burn his feet or mouth in attempting to catch the moths who were attracted by the light of a candle. But Aggy did not thrive in this climate. He was sent to a man who took care of all kinds of animals, but in consequence of the voyage over and the insuitableness of this climate he died about three weeks after arriving here.—N. Y. Herald.

Playing a Deep Game.

"Say, mamma," said four-year-old Tommy, "let's play I'm an awful-looking old tramp. I'll come around to the back door and ask for a piece of pie and you get some and give it to me."

Loss of Power Wasted.

It is estimated that the electrical organ of a single electric fish would give a discharge of about 200 volts.

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

POPULAR IN JAPAN.

Mikado's New Premier Has the Common People with Him.

Marquis Ito and the Part He Has Taken in the Rehabilitation and Advancement of His Native Country.

Marquis Ito, head of the new ministry of Japan, is a soldier of exceptional courage and resourcefulness and a statesman of the first class. He has been styled the "Bismarck of Japan," and the title is very apt.

Count Hirobumi Ito represents the the progressive element of Japan. He has traveled all over the world, studying constitutions and parliaments, and incidentally picking up what he could regarding the arts of successful warfare. He is an enthusiastic admirer of the United States and its political and industrial institutions.

The extreme significance of his appointment to the head of affairs at this critical stage in China becomes more apparent when it is understood that he is an implacable foe of Russia and bitterly opposed to any acquisition of territory by the czar.

Marquis Ito came prominently to the front during the Chino-Japanese war He was the high admiral of the Japanese navy and fought the memorable battle of September 7, 1894, defeating the entire Chinese fleet of 12 vessels and saving his own boats, with one exception, from injury.

After the war was over he was chosen to make terms with Li Hung Chang, admittedly the most adroit statesman of the orient. It was at this stage of the game that Russia began to interfere, robbing Japan of the fruits of her victory. Ito has not forgotten the part Russia took at that time, and this thought will likely be uppermost in his attitude in China.

People of the United States have a kindly remembrance of Count Ito, and those who met him during his visit to this country in 1868 have confidence in his ability to cope with the present situation. From his youth Ito has had the reputation of being clever and bright.

MARQUIS HIROBUMI ITO.
(Premier of Japan and Minister of Foreign Affairs.)

After Gen. T. Saigo disappeared from the arena of politics at the close of the rebellion of 1877, and after the sudden death of Okubo in the following year, Count Ito and other younger men came to the front. Ito's most important work before this was the building of the first railroad in Japan, in 1874, when he was under secretary of the department of public works.

In 1881 an imperial edict promised the people a constitution and a representative system of government, to be inaugurated in 1890. Thereupon Count Ito's entire energy was devoted to preparing the constitution and the laws accessory to it. The committee which worked under his direction labored ten years, and at last the constitution, concise and admirable in many respects and much praised by western political thinkers, was promulgated amid national rejoicing.

Prior to this, in 1886, the government was reorganized to prepare itself for the coming change, and Count Ito became the premier, assisted by Count Inouye, who occupied the portfolio of foreign affairs. This cabinet did not succeed in its efforts to execute the treaty revision which had already proved to be the stumbling block to preceding ministries.

A few years following there were several cabinet changes, caused principally by collisions with the lower house of diet. Then Counts Ito and Inouye came back again to power in 1892.

This cabinet, with Count Ito as its premier, and Count Inouye as his chief lieutenant, precipitated Japan into the war with China and they came out of that struggle with many additional laurels.

The relations of Marquis Ito with his emperor are the very closest. Ito and his followers, representing the young and progressive element of Japan, overthrew the shogun, dragged the emperor out of his puppet-like existence in the palace of Kioto and made him the real ruler of the country. The Japanese people have the utmost confidence in Ito and will accord any course he may elect to pursue the most hearty support.

Spider Web Furnishes Silk.

A ferocious female spider of Madagascar—the halabe—is noted for the silk filament that exudes from its body. The thread is extremely thin, yet very strong. One of the most wonderful exhibits at the Paris exposition is a complete set of bed curtains made from the silk of the halabe.

The Sneeze-Wood Tree.

A curiosity in South Africa is the "sneezewood" tree. When a person is sawing it the fine dust causes sneezing, and planing it has the same effect, but to a lesser degree. No insect or worm will touch it.

SPORTING.

GOLF

The last scheduled event for this season on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds will take place on Saturday, December 1st. It is likely that the links will be closed after that day.

The play for the golf club cups, handicap, 18 holes, medal play, classes "A" and "B," which was to have been played on November 10th, has been changed and the events will be played on Election Day instead. The scheduled events will close Saturday, December 1st.

Sometime ago Charles D. Freeman, of Colonia, N. J., offered a handicap cup, 18 holes, to be played for by the lady members of the club. The cup was to be won on the average of the three lowest scores, and the contest was open from October 8th to 17th. There were nine contestants and Miss Edith Tracy was the winner. Her scores were 111-115-117, with an average of 114⅓, this being the lowest.

The contest for the Schoonmaker cup has been decided at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, where Miss Edith Tracy won the cup by defeating Miss Maud VanBoskerck 1 up in 19 holes. This gives Miss Tracy the permanent ownership of the cup, as in the case of the contest for the Van Herwerden cup which was won yesterday by Miss Daisy Shepard. The final play for these cups brings to a close two very interesting events that have occupied the attention and interest of the women for some time past.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Bowling among the club members will be a pleasant feature of the life at the Park Club house this winter. The bowling committee has announced the following inter-club matches for the balance of the year: Longies versus Shorties, November 10, 17 and 24th; Bachelors versus Benedicts, December 22d and 29th and January 5th.

"TIP'S" POKER GAME.

He Alleged Cuff Didn't Show His Hand and So the Latter Was Stabbed.

Instead of facing the Grand Jury on one charge of assault and battery, Gilbert Thompson, familiary known as "Tip," will come before that body on two charges. "Tip" has been out on bail for the past few months for assaulting an Elizabeth man on North avenue. He was again arrested yesterday on complaint of Ellsworth Cuff, a colored man, charged with the same offense.

From the evidence brought out before Justice Nash this morning the affair seems to have started over a game of cards they were playing yesterday afternoon. The game was "stud poker," and "Tip" accused Cuff of failing to show his hand and taking the pot of sixteen cents when it didn't belong to him.

A dispute followed and when it ended Cuff had received a stab wound in the right cheek. The latter swore out a warrant for "Tip's" arrest and he was locked up in the city jail. At the trial "Tip" declared that Cuff had struck him first. The witnesses differed, however, and Justice Nash committed him to Elizabeth in default of $150 bail.

QUEEN CITY'S ANNIVERSARY.

Nine Years Old Last Night—Visiting Odd Fellows Present.

Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I.O.O.F., celebrated the ninth anniversary of its formation last evening by giving an enjoyable entertainment at the lodge rooms. Delegations were present from lodges at Stirling, Somerville, Morristown and several members from a lodge at Rome, N. Y. Plainfield Lodge, No. 41, was also well represented.

During the evening an excellent programme was rendered, consisting of a duet by Brothers Gray and Patterson; recitations by Brother Becker, of Plainfield Lodge; musical selections by Professor Dunlap, of Stirling, and comical songs by Brother James Gray. Speeches were then given by several notables present, after which hosts and guests adjourned in a body to the Hotel Kensington, where everyone sat down to a sumptuous dinner. At its conclusion the diners were reluctant to leave and adjourned to the hotel parlors, where a pleasant hour was passed in smoking and singing. It was midnight before the celebrants left for their respective homes.

Young Woman Stole Jewelry.

May Dantz, a young Italian girl, was arraigned before Justice Nash this morning charged with stealing three gold studs and a silk scarf to the value of $10 from the residence of Charles Peet, of Putnam avenue. The girl had been employed by the complainant for a few days and had taken the articles and given them to a friend. She made no plea and offered no defense whatever. She was held in $100 bail and being unable to furnish it was committed to Elizabeth. The articles have since been recovered from a male friend to whom she had given them.

Sprained His Knee.

Fred Snyder, aged 29 years, of 627 West Front street, who claims to be a fireman, injured his knee last Sunday afternoon while going to the fire at the chamois factory. He fell from a wagon and sprained the ligaments. Yesterday afternoon Snyder was admitted to the hospital, where the injury is being treated.

Writ of Certiorari.

The case of Callard against Burnett will be tried before Judge Garretson at Somerville Nov. 16th. Lawyer John Frech, representing the defendant, obtained a writ of certiorari yesterday.

Not Ready Till After Holidays.

The chances are that the manual training school building in the borough will not be used till after the holidays. This decision has been made so that tho walls will have plenty of time to dry before children use the rooms.

Fell in Elevator Shaft.

John G. Pilger, a clerk at Smith Brothers' grocery store, made a misstep yesterday and fell into the elevator shaft at the store. He was badly jarred, but no bones were broken. He will be detained from work for a few days.

You must be registered by 9 o'clock tonight if you want to vote.

An Overwhelming Thought.

Our sun is a third-rate sun, situated in the milky way, one of the myriads of stars, and the milky way is itself one of myriads of sectional star constellations, for these seem to be countless, and to be spread over infinity. At some period of their existence each of these suns had planets circling around it, which, after untold ages, are fit for some sort of human beings to inhabit them for a comparatively brief period, after which they still continue for years to circle around without atmosphere, vegetation or inhabitants, as the moon does around our planet. There is nothing so calculated to take the conceit out of an individual who thinks himself an important unit in the universe as astroomy. It teaches that we are less, compared with the universe, than a colony of ants is to us, and that the difference between men is less than that between one ant and another.—London Truth.

Order of Colored Nuns.

In New Orleans is an order of colored nuns, founded many years ago. It was instituted for the special purpose of giving education and moral training to young colored girls and to care for orphans and aged, infirm persons of their race. In its orphan asylum are children of all ages up to 14 years. The convent is a stately building more than a century old, in the old French quarter of New Orleans, and once was an opera house and ball-room.—N. Y. Tribune.

OIL IN THE BROOK

Pollution of the Stream Charged to Electric Light Station by Health Officials.

Health Inspectors W. N. Pangborn, of the borough, and W. H. Addis, of this city, made an inspection of Green brook yesterday from Sandford avenue to Washington avenue. They did not find the condition of the brook as satisfactory as it should be.

Just south of the First Baptist church they found a large quantity of oil running in the brook. This comes from the electric light station through the old New street sewer, and it is considered to be a dangerous pollution of the water. The matter was thoughly investigated and it will be reported to the Board of Health soon. Inspector Addis states that the electric light company have again and again promised to remedy the difficulty but have not done so. It is from this same source that the unpleasant fumes arise from the catch basin at the corner of West Front and New streets, and which has been complained of many times. Just what authority the officials have in this matter has not been determined, but there seems to be a disposition on their part to remedy the trouble now existing.

WANTED BACK HIS HORSE.

Dispute Growing Out of a Trade Aired in Justice's Court.

The case in tort of Albert P. Gentle against Frank Cleaves was tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Smalley and a jury consisting of Wm. Brainhardt, G. N. Groendyke, Thomas Newman, John H. Kitchen, Zachria Wilson and W. E. Pangborn. S. S. Swackhamer represented the plaintiff, while W. L. Hetfield represented the defendant.

Sometime ago the plaintiff and defendant traded horses upon the condition that if the horse taken by Mr. Gentle was not satisfactory after a fair trial, he could have his horse back. Mr. Gentle tried the horse one day and he proved to be very satisfactory. He then took the horse back to Mr. Cleaves, but the latter would not accept him, hence the suit.

The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $50 and costs, which includes the value of his horse and the loss of 29 days' time. The defendant's counsel immediately gave notice of appeal.

HOP AT PARK AVENUE HOTEL.

Guests of Manager Bailey Danced Away the Evening

The first of a series of formal hops was held at the Park Avenue Hotel last evening. It was given by the management of the house and a 150 invitations were sent out to young people of local society circles. The large parlors were cleared of furniture and handsomely decorated with palms and potted plants. A row of illuminated Chinese lanterns were hung about the piazzas, but the evening was too chilly for the guests to sit out there. These hops will be a regular feature of the social life at the hotel this winter, and the Plainfield people will be gladly welcomed at them. They will probably be held every two weeks.

Justice's Patience Tried.

The contract case of Matthias Plumb, of Newark, against L. A. Hummer, of Somerset street, was tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Mattison. The demand was for $17.92 for bill heads, paper, etc., furnished by the plaintiff. J. P. D. Kirch, counsel for the plaintiff, was represented by Willie Nash, while Willie Sweeney appeared for W. K. McClure, who represents the defendant. There did not appear to be a dispute over the bill, but the law students engaged in arguments relative to certain technicalities that exhausted the patience of Justice Mattison. After both sides had been heard in the case a decision was given for the plaintiff. The defendant's representative immediately gave notice of certiorari, and the case will be taken to a higher court.

DEMOCRATS ATTACK REPUBLICAN CLAIMS.

William Newcorn Challenged to Prove That G. O. P. Has Helped the Workingmen.

SAY WAGES ARE NO HIGHER.

PROOF ASKED FOR TO SUBSTANTIATE MR. NEWCORN'S STATEMENT.

Alleged Coercion and Intimidation of Voters Also Vigorously Condemned by the Resolutions Passed by Jeffersonians.

The Democratic Jeffersonian Club held a business meeting in the rooms of the Hillman Association on West Front street last night and made arrangements for work to be done on election day in getting out the party vote, besides issuing a challenge to William Newcorn, secretary of the Republican City Committee, to show an increase of the wage rate in any of the industries of Plainfield.

The meeting was presided over by President John O'Keffe and was attended by about forty members of the club. Election day work was provided for in the first part of the meeting and subsequently reports were received from a number of the Democratic members of Registration Boards showing the number of names added during the day to the poll lists.

The resolutions concerning Mr. Newcorn were as follows:

"William Newcorn, speaking for the Republican organization of Plainfield at a mass meeting held in Reform Hall, took occasion at that time to indulge in words in which he attempted to picture the Republican party as the only friend of the workingman and the exclusive promoter of prosperity in the United States. In so doing he credited the Republican party with being responsible for the alleged 'better times,' in Plainfield in particular, and incidental thereto appealed for the support of workingmen to aid the election of McKinley and Roosevelt.

"Now we, the members of the Democratic Jeffersonian Club of Plainfield, denounce the statements of William Newcorn as misrepresentative and untrue when he says that the Republican party has accomplished anything for the betterment of the laborers of this country, and especially of Plainfield.

"We challenge Mr. Newcorn or his political colleagues to point out in any line of industry in Plainfield any number of men who are receiving a higher rate of wages today than was the case four or eight years ago. On the other hand we say that if there has been any change of the rate of wage at all among the workingmen of Plainfield within the last four years it has been one lowering rather than increasing their incomes.

"This, too, in the face of a material increase in the price of all necessities of life, made so by the action of trusts and vicious combinations fostered and protected by Republican leaders and officials in Nation and particularly in the State of New Jersey. Wherever it is true that the workingmen of this country have more work now than four years ago it is due entirely to natural conditions with which the Republican party has nothing to do. However, by legislative favor the Republicans have permitted the benefit of these improved conditions—where they prevail—to be absorbed in an unjust and inequitable proportion by the favored monopolistic classes.

"On Thursday night the Republicans are to hold a mass meeting in Music Hall. We challenge Mr. Newcorn to produce any proof of an increase in the rate of wages paid to men employed in the industries in this city—not the aggregate sum of wages paid over that of four years ago, but a comparison of individual wage rate of the present time and the period of four years ago. If he does this we also insist that he shall show the prices of the various necessities of life, such as grocery supplies, meats, clothing, boots and shoes, etc., of the present day as compared with the prices of one, two or three years ago in the stores of Plainfield.

"At this time also we deem it our duty, as lovers of an honest and pure Government, to protest against the methods that certain Republican politicians—notably those who deserted the Democratic party for selfish gain at the cost of abandoning conscience and principle—have resorted to in hope of influencing labor men to vote to continue the unrighteous cause of the Republican party. Their conduct has been and is that of political bullies seeking to triumph through coercion and intimidation rather than by reason and fair play. Summed up, they

PAYING FOR MACADAM.

PROPERTY OWNERS MUST SETTLE OR PAY HIGHER INTEREST.

After November 13th Those Who Have Not Paid Will be Charged Over Six Per Cent.

Only a few of the property owners, who were affected by the assignment of assessments for the macadamizing of West Third street, West Fourth street, East Ninth street and Franklin place, have yet failed to pay to the City Collector the amount of their assessments. Those who haven't settled as yet will find that, according to the State law, they will have to pay an increased rate of interest if the settlement is not effected before November 13th.

The assessment for benefits was made by three commissioners, Andrew J. Gavett, Robert H. Cook and Arthur T. Gallup, and the report of the commissioners was approved by the county court May 12th. If the assessment was paid within forty days after May 12th the property owner was not required to pay interest on the amount of his assessment. After the forty days expired the property owners were required to pay six per cent. interest on the amount dating back to May 12th. A limit of six months was placed on the six per cent. rate. If the assessment is not paid within that time the interest is increased to eight per cent.

Six months from the time of the confirmation of the commissioners' report by the court will be over Nov. 13th, and the few remaining property owners affected who have not yet paid will have to pay the increased rate of interest unless they settle before the 13th.

JAMES BUCHANAN IS DEAD.

He Served Four Terms in Congress and Held Many Other Important Positions.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Oct. 31.—Former Representative James Buchanan died yesterday at his home here of heart failure. Mr. Buchanan had been in poor health for several years and had been subject to heart trouble. Yesterday morning he arose as usual, however, and read the morning papers. He was sitting in a chair when he expired without warning.

Mr. Buchanan was born at Ringoes, Hunterdon county, N. J., June 16, 1839. He was educated at Clinton University and in Albany University. In 1866 he was Reading Clerk in the House of Assembly, and in 1868 and 1869 he was a member of the Board of Education of the city of Trenton.

He read law with former Vice-Chancellor John T. Bird, and in November, 1864, was admitted to the Bar. From April 1, 1874, to April 1, 1879, he was Presiding Judge of Mercer county. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Peddie Institute, and in 1875 received the honorary degree of A. M. from the University of Lewisburg, Pennsylvania. He served four terms in Congress as a Republican, his first election being in 1885. At the time of his death he was City Solicitor of this city.

The dead man was an uncle of Dr. Buchanan, of Duer street, and Mrs. F. W. Bailey, also of Duer street. He has frequently visited here and is well-known to many Plainfielders.

Big Suit Over Ming Deal.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Oct. 31.—A $50,000 suit for libel has been commenced in the Union County Court by Henry D. Poole, a well known promoter and insurance agent against Philip Schauble, president of the Rising Sun Brewing Company of this city. Poole and Schauble were partners in a mining scheme in the west, and it is out of this transaction the alleged libel has grown. The declaration in the case has not yet been filed, and the issue cannot be tried before the January term of court.

Upset Hive of Bees.

Theodore A. Ball made complaint Saturday against Emanuel Felter, aged fifteen, of Mountainside, charging him with malicious mischief in destroying a hive of bees. The boy knocked the hive over and then ran. The swarm stays by the hive, even though upset, but it is dangerous to go near them. The hive is near the road and several times they have attacked horses passing. Felter will be given a hearing before Justice Collins.

Dantes Up on Another Charge.

Edmund Dantes, formerly a drug clerk employed in this city, who has been serving a term at Blackwell's Island, was arraigned in court in New York yesterday on another charge. The Judge gave Dantes a severe reprimand and recommitted him to be sentenced in a few days. Chas. Hall, the Watchung avenue druggist, who is interested in the case, was present when Dantes was arraigned.

CONGRESSMAN HOWELL VISITS THE BOROUGH

Made a Short Address Last Night Before the U. S. Grant Club.

HE IS HOPEFUL OF WINNING.

FORMER MAYOR HEGEMAN AND SENATOR REED ALSO HEARD.

Lieutenant Hart Told Some Funny Stories—Arrangements Made for 150 Workers in the Borough Election Day.

Spencer's Hall was filled to its capacity last evening with the U. S. Grant Club members and their friends. The cause of the large attendance was due principally to a visit from Congressman B. F. Howell and several other notables from various places, all of whom addressed the meeting. Beside the speakers there were songs by the Glee Club and comical songs and stories by Lieut. Hart, of Sewaren.

Owing to a pressing engagement Congressman Howell was able to address the meeting for a few minutes only. If he could do anything to help them in their enthusiasm he would do so, he said, but he thought everything possible had been done and a big majority for McKinley was sure to follow. He expressed his pleasure at seeing so many Republicans both in this city and other places and predicted that Middlesex and Somerset would be with him in the coming election. Brief as Mr. Howell's remarks were his audience was greatly pleased and cheered him loudly. Before he left to catch a train Mayor Smalley, who acted as chairman, gave everyone who desired an introduction to the Congressman in order to make them better acquainted.

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., made the next address in which he referred to the discord made by Bryan among the 3,000 employes of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., and beseeched his hearers to repudiate the Colonel's statements. But though he was sure McKinley would be elected, he said the President needs Congressman to back him and the latter needed votes.

Senator Reed also spoke briefly and declared that if every member of the U. S. Grant Club would do his duty, North Plainfield would give a Republican majority of 500. The last speaker of the evening was County Clerk John H. Conger, of New Brunswick, whose remarks were also brief. From the enthusiasm displayed by the Grant Club members it is evident that they are prepared to do their duty. It has been planned to station a worker at every street corner Tuesday next, whose duty it will be to see that every voter visits the polls. This will no doubt be the means of securing a considerable number of votes which otherwise would not be cast.

WATERY GRAVE FOR SLOYAN

Former Plainfielder Fell Into the Mississippi River and Fierce Current Caused Him to Drown.

Chief of Police Kiely received a letter yesterday afternoon from H. Y. Cox, boarding master of the quarter-boat Mississippi, U. S. Engineer Corps, at Luxora, Ark., giving the circumstances of the death of Dennis Sloyan. Sloyan formerly lived in Plainfield and his brother, John Sloyan, now resides on West Third street. The letter states that Sloyan and a companion were returning from Luxora on the evening of October 7th and went to make a landing along side the "Mississippi." Sloyan was standing up putting on his coat when the row boat struck the passenger steamer and he was pitched headforemost into the water. A deck hand threw a rope but he missed it and the fierce current carried him under the boat. Parties were sent out to look for him and the river was dragged the next day but in vain.

PREMIUM FOR SCHOOL BOND.

Boston Firm Bid $104.85 for the Whole Sum of $5,500.

Jose, Parker & Co., of Boston, have taken the $5,500 worth of bonds advertised by the Borough Board of Education, and which amount is needed to make the improvements of installing a heating and ventilating apparatus in the Somerset street school. Their bid was $104.85 and accrued interest from July 1st to the present time of delivery. This is considered an excellent bid and the finance committee of which George D. Hallock is the chairman, have been congratulated upon securing such a bid.

MINISTER WILL APPEAL.

REV. DR. STECK WILL TALK AT THE DEMOCRATIC MEETING TONIGHT.

The Last Effort of the Local Democracy—Names of Those Invited to Act as Vice-Presidents.

Arrangements for the last mass-meeting to be held by the Democrats in the present campaign, which will take place in Washington Hall this evening, have been completed. The speakers will be Rev. Dr. Charles S. Steck, of Pennsylvania, and Corporation Attorney James Minturn, of Hoboken, both of whom have good reputations as good campaign orators. The following names have been put on the list of vice-presidents for the meeting: J. W. VanSickel, John Mantz, John Hensey, Robert Eick, Jeremiah Callahan, W. T. Banks, Dr. Luckey, Walter Hetfield, Jr., E. W. Brokaw, Leonard Spangenberg, Julian Sutphen, D. W. Martine, Louis Stover, W. L. McClure, J. W. Yates, Rev. E. M. Rodman, William VanDeventer, G. Wharton Edwards, Jacob Field, Howard Fleming, John Galbraith, C. A. Hunter, Dr. C. W. Boone, Gifford Mayer, C. W. Moffett, J. O. Stevens, Benjamin Pollok, W. L. Bowman, Edward Connor, George Radford, W. W. Wilson, John J. Kinniery, Lewis W. Niles.

CITY REGISTRATION RUNS UP TO 4,196.

Over Two Hundred Names Were Added in the Various Districts of the City Yesterday.

MANY PUT ON BY AFFIDAVIT

HEAVIEST INCREASE WAS SHOWN IN THREE DISTRICTS.

They Were in the First, Second and Third Wards—Republican Workers Were Active in Getting Names Registered.

Yesterday was the last day for registration in this city. After the election officers made their house-to-house canvass, the first day for registration came on October 16. The total registration in the city was then 3,934, a remarkable increase over the figures of previous years. It was thought that the figures would reach 4,000. The additions to the registry lists, made yesterday, were even greater than was supposed and the total registration of the city has now reached 4,196.

Yesterday's registration was heaviest in the First district of the First ward, the First district of the Second ward and the First district of the Third ward. The smaller districts showed but slight increase while a steady but not overwhelming gain was noted in all three districts of the Fourth ward. The total figures are far in excess of the registration of any previous year while there is a gain in every ward.

Many names were added by affidavit and included those who are out of town, but expect to be home Election Day. The Republican workers were very active in getting out those not registered and swearing in the names of absentees. The Democrats made no attempt to get any voters registered.

The exact figures of registration in the city, including the registration on October 16th, and the totals are as follows:

	Oct. 16.	Total.
First ward, First district	547	621
First ward, Second district	240	248
Second ward, First district	609	673
Second ward, Second district	243	253
Third ward, First district	553	616
Third ward, Second district	226	234
Fourth ward, First district	534	555
Fourth ward, Second district	541	559
Fourth ward, Third district	417	437

QUIET HOME WEDDING.

Miss Elsie Allen Jobs Wedded to John Franklin Hawkins, a Prominent Asbury Park Lawyer.

Only the immediate relatives, to the number of a score, were present at the wedding of Miss Elise Allen Jobs, of this city, to John Franklin Hawkins, a prominent lawyer of Asbury Park, yesterday noon. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Jane Elizabeth Allen, of 825 First place, and was performed by Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, of which the bride is a member. They were unattended.

It was a very quiet but happy affair. A wedding luncheon was served after the ceremony and then the couple left at 2 o'clock on a wedding journey. They will be absent two weeks and will then take up their residence at 415 Second avenue, Asbury Park, where they will be "at home" to their friends Wednesday evenings after November 20th.

COLD WATER MEN ASK FOR VOTERS, TOO

Prohibitionists Hear Their Side of the Political Question Expounded by Elizabeth Minster.

SAYS M'KINLEY WILL WIN.

THEREFORE HE THINKS REPUBLICANS CAN HELP OUR PROHIBS.

Declares That the Evil of the Saloon is Greater Than the Combined Issues of All Other Parties in This Campaign.

The Prohibitionists of the borough gathered in Saengerbund Hall last evening and held a mass-meeting to further the interests of their candidates, Woolley and Metcalf. Andrew Wilson presided over the meeting, and after the singing of a hymn and prayer by Rev. G. W. Gardner, pastor of Grace M. E. church, the speaker of the evening, Rev. J. H. Howard, of Elizabeth, was introduced, and spoke for an hour. He considered that the saloon question was of a far more greater importance to the country than that of free silver, imperialism or the tariff, and he deplored the fact that out of the twelve or thirteen parties asking the people for their votes, there is only one that even mentions the saloon, and that is the Prohibition party.

Mr. Howard spoke concerning the great evil of the saloon and the drink habit and thought it was a burning shame that the people of this country should be a party to such business, thereby legalizing the traffic which makes drunkards, bums and degenerates. He believed that instead of arresting a drunkard and treating him like a dog, he should be given a room in the best hotel and treated with every consideration, so that he could be sent home in a respectable condition to his family.

He did not attack either one of the two leading parties, but advanced a theory which he believed would solve the liquor question. He said that it is a foregone conclusion that Bryan will not be elected this year, and that from a conservative estimate McKinley will receive about 50,000 plurality in New Jersey. On this basis he asked the voters present to cast their ballots for the Prohibition candidates as they would not be needed to elect McKinley, and by voting for either Bryan or McKinley they would be wasting their votes.

He considered the Democratic party to be the essence of conservatism, and no matter what happened there would always be such a party. But not so with the Republican party, which has always been an aggressive one. This party, he claimed, could more easily disintegrate, and if a million votes should be cast this year for the Prohibition candidates it would have a tendency to bring the Republican party to the rescue of the Prohibition party. He did not believe that prohibition would ever be accomplished by aid of the Democratic party.

Following Rev. Mr. Howard, Mr. Wilson introduced Wm. Boyer, of Elizabeth, chairman of the Union County Prohibition party. Mr. Boyer talked briefly about the condition of affairs in the county and nation and he strongly believed that the Prohibition party would poll a large vote next week.

Among those who occupied seats on the platform and took part in the meeting was William Lunger, a leader in the Prohibition party. B. W. Hand had charge of the music and led the the singing of the various hymns during the meeting. The speakers of the evening received frequent applause, showing that many present believed in their statements.

Best Man at Notable Wedding.

Dr. Fred Hughes, of St. Vincent's Hospital, New York, son of Mrs. Boyce, of Somerset street, has returned from Houston, Texas, where he was best man at the marriage of Dr. George Gibier Rambeau to Miss Lulu Fowler Bryan. Dr. Rambeau is at the head of the Pasteur Institute in New York, and the marriage was the culmination of a romance growing out of Miss Bryan's coming about six months ago from Texas to the Institute to be treated for a cat bite in her ankle. A successful cure attended the treatment, with love and marriage following.

Young Thief Still Missing.

Augustus Nehr, the young man who is wanted by the borough authorities for stealing goods from C. W. Krausse, the Vine street plumber, has not yet been caught. The value of the goods taken will amount to about $300.

HALLOW'EEN SOCIABLE

PLEASANT GATHERING IN THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

New and Novel Amusements Enjoyed—Miss Freeman Chairman of the Committee in Charge.

Hallow'een was observed last evening by a social gathering in the parlors of the Congregational church, under the charge of the Christian Endeavor Society of that church. Owing to the threatening weather the attendance was not as large as it otherwise would have been, but over a score of young people managed to pass the evening very pleasantly.

A new kind of a "driving" contest was held. The ladies were blindfolded and took the part of the horses while the men acted as drivers. A row of Indian clubs were arranged along the room and the "steeds" had to be driven zig zag through the line without upsetting them. Miss Emma LaBoyteaux and Mr. Brokaw finally won in the finals defeating Miss Ella Whitall and Rev. C. L. Goodrich.

From a huge pie, made in a washtub, the guests drew their fortunes after the manner of "Little Jack Horner." Then there was bobbing for apples and other Hallow'een games, many of them new and original, which furnished much fun for the young people. Pumpkin pie and coffee formed the refreshments.

The social committee of the Endeavor Society was in charge. It consisted of Miss Agnes Freeman, chairman; Miss Lockhart, Miss Ella Whitall, Miss Marion Woodcock and Harold Nomer. The president, Frank O. Bristol, assisted. It was the first sociable arranged by the new committee and proved a great success.

THROWN AND KILLED.

Man Found Dying in New Point Road Said to Have Been Hurt in Row in Nearby House.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Oct. 31.—John Igo, aged 35, a resident of Cranford, was found early Monday morning unconscious in New Point road with his skull fractured. He was taken to the Alexian Brothers' Hospital, where he died at 11 o'clock, and an investigation by the police led to the arrest at noon of Thomas Brennan and his wife, who live near where Igo was picked up. It is alleged that Igo was a visitor Monday night at Brennan's, where a row took place, in which he was thrown off a porch striking his head on the pavement. Igo came to this city Sunday morning to visit his sisters.

Brennan and his wife were honorably discharged yesterday. It was learned that Igo died from injuries caused by a fall.

WANT THE WILL FILED.

John D. Bartine Makes an Application Before the New York Surrogate.

Judge John D. Bartine, of Somerville, one of the executors of the will of the late William Marsh Rice, executed Sept. 26, 1896, known as the Texas will, which has been filed, had a motion on before Surrogate Thomas, of New York, yesterday for an order to compel Albert T. Patrick to file the second will, called the New York will, which is alleged to be under his control.

Mr. Bartine alleged in an affidavit in support of the motion that a citation had been issued requiring cause to be shown Dec. 6th, why the will of 1896 should not be probated, and it would be necessary to examine the other alleged will before he could proceed with the probate of the will they have filed. He said they desired to examine the unfiled will with chemicals and to have it photographed. He said that Patrick had shown him what purported to be a will, but did not permit him to make a thorough examination.

Ten-Year-Old Boy Missing Since Sept. 30.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Orange, October 31.—The ten-year-old son of Joseph Munger, of this place, was sent out by his mother on an errand September 30th, and has not return yet. The father has appealed to the police to look the boy up. He had been playing truant and compelled to attend school. The parents believe the boy is dead. Others think he ran away and is employed by farmers in the vicinity. He wore a shirt waist, blue knee breeches and cap.

"The Spring Chicken" Didn't Show.

"The Spring Chicken" theatrical company failed to put in an appearance at Music Hall last night, and investigation proved that the company was stranded in Elizabeth. The manager interviewed Manager Edwards of Music Hall asking him to advance $50 on the strength of the receipts, so that the company could come to Plainfield and show. This Mr. Edwards refused to do and there was no performance.

BRAUM EXPECTED TO ROUSE REPUBLICANS

The Pennsylvania Spell-Binder Will be the Feature at Tomorrow Night's Meeting.

THE LAST OF THE CAMPAIGN

REV. MR. GRIFFITH HAS BEEN CHOSEN TO PRESIDE.

Band Concert For Half an Hour Before the Meeting, Which Will be Called to Order by Councilman Dumont.

A crowded house is expected for the last effort of the Republican party in this city tomorrow night when the final big rally of the present campaign will be held at Music Hall. This evening the Democrats hold their last mass-meeting before election day and tomorrow, the Republicans conclude their campaign as far as mass-meetings and rallies are concerned.

As has already been stated, the chief orator at tomorrow evening's meeting will be Congressman Charles N. Braum, of Pennsylvania. He has already been heard in Plainfield and the general favor with which his address was listened to on that occasion resulted in a direct request to the National committee that he be assigned to Plainfield again. The request was granted and now the local Republicans are planning to show the Pennsylvanian how large and enthusiastic a meeting Plainfield can give.

Tomorrow evening's meeting will be conducted on the same general lines as the previous Republican mass meetings have been held. The doors of Music Hall will be opened at 7:30 o'clock and for half an hour Lavere's band will render various selections. The boxes will be reserved for the ladies and others of the fair sex will occupy seats in the orchestra. Over a hundred prominent citizens have been invited to be honorary vice-presidents and occupy seats on the stage. U. S. Grant Club, of North Plainfield, and the Scotch Plains Republican Club will send delegations to attend the meeting.

At 8 o'clock the meeting will be called to order by Councilman John B. Dumont, chairman of the city campaign committee, and Rev. W. T. Griffin, United States Consul at Lamoges, France, will be presented as chairman of the meeting. He will make a short address and then introduce Congressman Braum. The glee club, of the U. S. Grant Club, will sing several times.

The following vice-presidents have been invited: Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, J. Fred MacDonald, Dr. M. L. Clawson, C. M. Church, Wm. J. Douglass, E. B. Maynard, Councilman B. I. A CARLIST UPRISING.

Bands of Armed Revolutionists Appear In Spain.

MADRID, Oct. 31.—Several bands of Carlists have appeared in the neighborhood of Barcelona. Three priests have been arrested in Barcelona in connection with the Carlist activity. Their quarters were searched and important documents were found. The Carlist movement was timed to commence a fortnight hence, but it broke out prematurely.

A band of 30 Carlists are reported to be near Berga, a town 51 miles north-northwest of Barcelona. Gendarmes searched the country house of a brother-in-law of the Duke of Solferino and seized several rifles.

The troops have received orders to hold themselves in readiness to set out for Catalonia at a moment's notice.

Sixteen Carlists Arrested.

BARCELONA, Oct. 31.—The forces who are following the Carlists in the Badalona district have already arrested 16. Passengers who have arrived here say that they saw a few bands in the districts crossed by their trains. The Duke of Solferino has disappeared. More than 100 workmen have left Berga for a destination not disclosed.

COAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Three Killed and Six Seriously Injured at Edwardsville, Pa.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 31.—A heavy explosion of gas occurred in No. 3 slope of No. 1 shaft of the Kingston Coal company at Edwardsville at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in which three men lost their lives and six others were badly burned.

Five of the six injured are in a precarious condition, and it is doubtful if they can survive. When the men were brought to the surface by the rescuers, the skin hung in shreds from their bodies.

The work of rescue was dangerous, as "after damp" had accumulated. The first rescuing party that went down the mine were driven back, and two men in the party had to be carried out. A number of physicians were on hand, and as fast as the injured were brought to the surface their wounds were dressed and they were sent to the hospital or their homes.

The force of the explosion was so great that it blew down a great section of the roof.

WE HAVE GROWN.

Total Population of the United States Is 76,295,220.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The total population of the United States for 1900, as announced by the census bureau, is 76,295,220, of which 74,627,907 are contained in the 45 states, representing approximately the population to be used for apportionment purposes. There is a total of 134,158 Indians not taxed.

The total population in 1890, with which the aggregate population of the present census should be compared, was 63,069,756.

Taking the 1890 population as a basis, there has been a gain of 13,225,464 during the past ten years, representing an increase of nearly 21 per cent.

Roosevelt In Western New York.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 31.—The Roosevelt train arrived here last night over an hour late, after a most unpleasant ride in a drizzling rain. Despite the unpleasant weather and the arrival of the train after 7 o'clock, the party found great crowds both at the depot and the two halls, and a splendid greeting was accorded the vice presidential candidate. There was an immense parade of clubs and business men's associations, and both auditoriums where Governor Roosevelt spoke were filled to overflowing. In addition to a remarkably enthusiastic gathering at Corning, the home of the club that was assaulted at Elmira Monday night, the only incident of the day occurred at Geneva, where there was an attempt made to prevent the governor from speaking.

Robbers Raid a Town.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Oct. 31.—Shortly before daylight this morning a gang of mounted robbers raided the village of Roundhead, 14 miles from here, and got away with considerable booty. A terrific explosion aroused the residents and citizens, who appeared on the street and were shot at by the robbers, who finally rode away toward Lima, firing as they went. The heaviest loss was at Mertz & May's store, where the safe was blown open and $400 secured. Six hundred dollars in bank notes was scattered out of their reach by the explosion.

Chicken Thief Shot.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 31.—A gun trap set by William Brown of Wappinger Falls to protect his henery from the raids of thieves was sprung on a human victim. John Mitchell of Wappinger Falls was in the henery when the gun was discharged. He was shot in the back. After running about 50 feet he dropped to the ground and died. Mitchell was considered a respectable man, and his death and the circumstances leading up to it caused much comment. He had ten fowls in his possession, which he had stolen.

Japs Refused Suffrage.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 31.—Several prominent Japanese residents of this place who have been naturalized have announced their intention of voting at the coming Dominion elections. The collector of votes has refused to put their names on the voters' list, and they have appealed to the courts.

Train Robber Convicted.

MARYSVILLE, O., Oct. 31.—The jury has returned a verdict of murder in the first degree without recommendation against Rosslyn Ferrell, the train robber charged with the murder of Express Messenger Lane. The verdict carries with it the death sentence.

Steel Rail Contracts.

TOLEDO, Oct. 31. President Norton of the Clover Leaf has placed with the National Steel company a contract for 3,000 tons of 70 pound steel rails to be delivered within 60 days. Another contract for 5,000 tons will follow shortly.

Mme. Guilbert Ill.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Mme. Yvette Guilbert, the French music hall artiste, is in Berlin to undergo a dangerous surgical operation for the relief of her throat. This will be performed by Professor Israel.

To Search For Missing Expeditions.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 31. The Duke of Abruzzi has chartered the Gothenburg Wasser Capoten to proceed to Franz Joseph land in search of Prince Luigi Amedeo and the Cagni expedition.

WAS LAW VIOLATED?

Authorities Trying to Fix the Blame For Fire Horror.

RECOVERY OF BODIES HAS BEGUN.

Forty Persons Still Missing, and Many of the Number Probably Perished In New York City's Latest Catastrophe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The authorities are busy trying to fix the responsibility for the fire and explosion that resulted in the appalling disaster that destroyed the Tarrant building in Greenwich street and laid waste scores of other structures in that vicinity. Charges are made that the law has been violated.

Assistant District Attorney Walsh visited the scene of the explosion with Fire Marshal Seery. District Attorney Gardiner also visited the wreck, saying that eventually he might be called upon to prosecute somebody. Fire Commissioner Scannell asserts that many times the amount of explosive stock permitted by ordinance was stored in the drug-house. Rigid investigation of this charge is now being made, and the commissioner declares that the guilty will be punished. Chief Sanitary Inspector Feeney of the board of health said that he was convinced that nitroglycerin caused the explosions. Inspector Murray of the bureau of combustibles said that he had as yet come to no conclusion as to the cause of the disaster, but he is convinced that no such explosions as occurred could have resulted from the quantity of chemicals such as the law permitted this firm to carry.

The work of dynamiting the ruins to facilitate the recovery of bodies is beginning. No walls will be disturbed for the present save those unsafe.

A clash is imminent between the department of health and the Manhattan Railway company over the rebuilding of its Ninth avenue elevated structure.

It is feared that 12 sleeping waiters lost their lives in the top floor of the Home Made hotel. None of the 12 can be found.

Assistant Superintendent Rutherford of the building department said that the cost to the city as a result of the fire would be greater than that of the Windsor hotel disaster. He said it cost the city $100,000 to clear up the debris of the latter fire, all of which has not yet been paid.

The revised reports place the list of missing persons at 45. At 7 o'clock last evening workmen found three bodies in the ruins of the Tarrant building, Warren and Greenwich streets. These were the first human remains found. The bodies were huddled together, partially submerged in the water filling the cellar. It took two hours to dig the three bodies out.

Great praise is being bestowed upon the police and fire forces. The men of these departments worked with a heroism that has gained for them new laurels. Heedless of personal danger, they rushed into the burning structure, the firemen, for their part, knowing the nature of the stock it contained and the great danger from explosion, and guided those who were hemmed in to the street and safety.

A conservative estimate of the loss places it at $1,300,000. Forty buildings were destroyed.

Church Assembly Favors Union.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 31.—The Free Church assembly and the United Presbyterian synod held their concluding meetings here yesterday. Five hundred elders of the Free church, through their representatives in the assembly, objected to the proposed union between the two religious organizations. Rev. Robert Rainy, principal of New college, who moved in the Free Church assembly the resolution in favor of union, showed the insignificance numerically of those who protested by reminding the assembly that there were 10,000 elders in the Free church. The resolution was adopted in two votings by immense majorities, the minorities being respectively 13 and 27.

Cornell Rush.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 31.—For the first time in years the Cornell sophomore-freshman rush was participated in on the campus last night under the regulation of members of the senior and junior classes. The sophomores came out victorious, winning two out of three bouts arranged. Teams of 15 men represented the different organizations, and the scrimmage was allowed to continue for five minutes. The scene was lighted with torches, and the entire university turned out. No injuries of the slightest kind occurred, and this event ends all strife between the sophomores and freshmen for the year.

General Wilson Ordered Home.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Orders have been sent to Peking detaching General James H. Wilson from duty as chief of staff under General Chaffee and directing him to return to the United States. It had been the purpose of the government to make General Wilson a member of the projected American commission to treat with the Chinese government for a settlement, but the abandonment of that plan in favor of direct negotiations through Minister Conger made it unnecessary to retain General Wilson in China.

Study Drove Him Crazy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Thomas S. Griffing of Setauket, N. Y., has been adjudged insane. Griffing after graduating at Yale took a six years' course at Heidelberg, Germany. Intense application to his studies, which resulted in high honors, drove him crazy, and he came home in this condition. He is 28 years of age.

Italians Murder Coke Company's Paymaster.

ROBBERS GET SWIFT RETRIBUTION.

An Attempt to Rob Safe Containing $4,000 Made Near Alverton, Pa., in Broad Daylight—Exciting Chase For Thieves.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—Four Italian miners attempted to rob Pay Clerk William Hosler of the Southwest Connellsville Coke company while making his trip between this city and Alverton with the pay roll of the Alverton and Tarr works amounting to $4,000.

Mr. Hosler is dead; his companion, Harry Burgess, messenger of the company, is wounded; two of the Italians are dead, a third fatally wounded, and the fourth is in jail.

Hosler and Burgess left this city at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the safe containing the money to pay off the men at the Alverton and Tarr works. As they reached the summit of the long hill above Morewood, just below which lies Alverton, a large coke town, without a second's warning the four Italians fired a volley from their hiding place and sprang forward, firing as they advanced. Mr. Hosler fell dead at the first volley. Young Burgess, though wounded, was able to return their fire with effect, and one of the number at the horse's head fell dead. A second later he fired his revolver in the very face of another, and as he fell his two remaining companions became terrified and, leaving the dead one, set out with the wounded one over the hill to the south in the direction of the Alice mines.

Burgess managed to drive on into Alverton with the body of Mr. Hosler and the safe, where he gave the alarm.

Mount Pleasant and vicinity, with the clerical force of the coke company, turned out 500 strong, headed by Lieutenant John G. Thompson of Company E, and soon corraled the two, who had concealed themselves in a field on the Durstine farm, a mile or so from this town.

A summons to surrender was answered by a volley, in which one of the posse received a slight wound on the chest. The outlaws from their fortified position made a fierce stand for a few minutes until one of the posse succeeded in getting in their rear. He shot one through the head, killing him instantly. The other surrendered and was brought to the office of Squire Rhodes and remanded to jail.

In the meantime another division of the posse overhauled the third would be robber, who had received a ghastly wound. The ball, entering his mouth and penetrating his head, came out at the back of his neck. He is not expected to recover.

Expert Smuggler Caught.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—An important arrest has been made by customs officials here. The prisoner, August Mason, a hunchback, is said to be one of the most expert and successful smugglers in this country. He was caught with goods in his possession upon which no duty had been paid. The information which led to the arrest of Mason was telegraphed from New York to Collector of the Port Wimberly. Mason arrived from the east over the Queen and Crescent road and stepped off the train into the arms of several officers. Mason is said to have confessed and stated that he had been making periodical trips to Europe, particularly to France, for many years for the purpose of smuggling.

Shot Husband For Insurance.

GENESEO, Ills., Oct. 31.—William Hilger, a young carpenter of Hoopole, near here, was shot and killed by his wife. Hilger said before his death that his wife shot him first in the temple as he lay dozing upon a sofa. He leaped up, and she shot him once in the neck and twice in the abdomen before he wrested the weapon from her. The wounded man implored her to obtain help. The two were alone in the house. She refused. She waited an hour for him to die. The wife has confessed. Hilger carried $3,000 life insurance in the Woodmen. The desire for the money is the supposed motive.

Alvord Arraigned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Cornelius L. Alvord, who robbed the First National bank of $690,000, was arraigned in the Tombs police court twice yesterday. There is a question as to which has jurisdiction in this case, the county or the federal courts. When the embezzler was arraigned in the morning, it was decided to adjourn the case until afternoon. In the afternoon a further adjournment was taken until Monday, when it will be decided who has jurisdiction in the case. In the meanwhile the embezzler will be held at police headquarters.

General Wood En Route.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Oct. 31.—General Leonard Wood, commander of the department of Cuba, has arrived here with his family, together with Frank Ross McCoy, U. S. A., and Alexander Gonzalez of Havana. General Wood will leave here today for Miami, where a government ship awaits him to convey him to Havana. Mrs. Wood and family will remain here for several weeks. After their visit here Mrs. Wood and family will join General Wood in Havana.

Woolley In Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 31.—John G. Woolley, Prohibition nominee for president, in his trip across central Pennsylvania yesterday made a total of 17 stops and 18 speeches. Harrisburg was reached for the evening rally at 7:50. An extensive parade and demonstration preceded the evening rally, which was held at Board of Trade hall.

Revolt In Morocco.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—"A widespread tribal revolt," says the Tangier correspondent of The Daily Mail, "has broken out in Morocco against the provincial governors. Serious fighting is anticipated. The French are preparing an expedition to suppress Moorish bandits, who are active in the Algerian hinterland."

Russia's Surplus.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—The figures of the official budget for the last year, after taking into account extraordinary expenditure, show a net surplus of 84,000,000 rubles, which is regarded as large considering the recent financial and commercial depression.

Weather Probabilities.

Partly cloudy and cooler, with rain on the coast; brisk east to northeast winds.

ADMITS PERJURY.

Witness Campbell Testified Against Caleb Powers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 31.—The Post prints an affidavit of Finley B. Anderson, a telegraph operator, who testified against Caleb Powers, who was convicted of complicity in the murder of Governor Goebel, in which Anderson denies certain important statements that he made on the witness stand in the Powers trial. Anderson tells of meeting Attorney Campbell in Cincinnati and continues in his affidavit:

"Colonel Campbell then told me that Joe Owens had told him that I had said that Caleb Powers at the hotel in Barboursville prior to the 25th of January had used these words, speaking of William Goebel, 'If we cannot get him killed and it is necessary I will kill him myself.' I said to Mr. Campbell that I had never told any one any such thing and that Powers had not made such a statement to me nor any statement resembling it in any way. Campbell and Owens insisted I had made such a statement, and I afterward, upon Campbell's suggestion, sat down and wrote out a statement in which I included the foregoing statement of Powers, which was untrue in every particular, and upon the trial of Caleb Powers I swore to it as a fact, when in truth it was not a fact.

BOERS CAUSE SURPRISE.

Renewed Activity—May Have Been Re-enforced.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail comments upon the "astonishing outburst of Boer activity" and points to the possibility of the Boers having been considerably re-enforced. Complaints are being heard in Cape Town, he asserts, regarding the "premature disbanding and dispensing with the services of the various volunteer forces."

The same correspondent says he learns on the highest authority that the late Prince Christian Victor was playing cricket early last week and that he was then congratulated upon his rapid recovery from enteric fever.

Town Razed by British.

CRADOCK, Cape Colony, Oct. 31.—The Dutch church is the only building left standing in Bothaville owing, it is reported, to the strong British measures. More Boer women have been deported from Jagersfontein. They were sent to Bloemfontein, where they are imprisoned with others a few miles outside of the city.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

More collieries in the Hazleton district resumed operations.

The sum of $1,250,000 in gold dust arrived at Seattle from Alaska.

Reports from Malaga say that the raisin crop is 30 per cent short.

Fifteen persons were injured in a collision on the Chicago and Alton road.

The department of agriculture issued an official report saying that the horse chestnut is poisonous.

Returns from the British parliamentary election in the Orkney and Shetland district show a Unionist gain.

The Russian government has twice within two months imposed a special tax for the benefit of the Red Cross society.

New Zealand Prosperous.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—A succession of prosperous years in New Zealand has been productive of a fat surplus of nearly $3,000,000 in her exchequer. Therefore, according to United States Consul Dillingham, at Auckland, alterations in the colony's tariff have been deemed fitting, and a more favorable schedule of duties is now in force. Tea pays 4 and coffee and cocoa 6 cents a pound; patent medicines, chemicals, drugs and druggists' sundries pay 15 per cent; steam engines and the parts thereof, imported for mining or dairying purposes, 5 per cent, and stearin for matchmaking 1½ cents per pound. The customs duties heretofore charged on kerosene, rice, salt, raw coffee and all machinery for mining, agricultural and dairying purposes have been removed.

An "Orderly" Negro Lynching.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 31.—At Duke, a small station on the Louisville and Nashville and East and West railroads, 16 miles north of Anniston, an 18-year-old negro youth named Abernathy made a criminal assault on a 14-year-old adopted daughter of W. N. Thompson, section foreman on the Louisville and Nashville. The negro was captured three hours after the attempt and was identified and lynched. Those who composed the lynching party are said to have been among the best citizens of the community, and they went about the work quietly and orderly.

The President's Day.

CANTON, O., Oct. 31.—The president, accompanied by Mrs. McKinley and Judge and Mrs. William R. Day, took an extended drive yesterday. When they reached the Cleveland Axle works President McKinley and Judge Day left the carriage and paid a visit to the clubhouse erected for the benefit of and conducted by the employees of that establishment. The president and Judge Day signed their names in the register. In the evening the president received the principals and teachers of the public schools of Canton.

The Bosschieter Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—There is an unconfirmed rumor at Paterson, N. J., that the grand jury has found an indictment for murder against McAlister, Kerr, Campbell and Death in connection with Jennie Bosschieter's death. All efforts to ascertain that this is a fact have failed. Prosecutor Emley refused to talk, and the grand jury men take refuge behind their oaths, which forbid them telling anything which takes place in the grand jury room.

A Boy Missing.

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 31.—The 10-year-old son of Joseph Munger was sent up town on an errand by his mother on Sept. 30 and has not returned since. His parents think he is dead. The truant officer thinks he has hired out to some farmer in the vicinity and will turn up later.

American History In Berlin.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Professor Esler, the incumbent of the new chair of Americana in the University of Berlin, began yesterday a series of lectures on the history of America before its discovery by Columbus.

SIX INDICTED FOR LARCENY.

Charged With Swindling New York Wholesale Houses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The grand jury has found indictments against six men who are charged with grand larceny in the first degree. Three arrests were made. It is expected that the other three men will be apprehended before long. The three men arrested are Edward F. Stern, lawyer, of 10 Wall street; Ignatz Kornfeldt, merchant, and Walter A. Vandercook, wine merchant, at 200 Broadway.

District Attorney Gardiner learned some time ago that a number of men went about this city and secured large consignments of goods upon misrepresentations. Colonel Gardiner detailed Assistant District Attorney Thomas F. Byrne to take charge of the matter. Many of the victims were examined and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Kornfeldt.

Sanchez, Haya & Co., wholesale dealers in imported cigars, appeared against Kornfeldt. They told Magistrate Cornell in the Center street police court that Kornfeldt had secured $900 worth of imported cigars from them upon false representation. Incidentally the other men whose names were presented to the grand jury were mentioned in the police court.

The story told the grand jury was that the men would obtain large stocks of goods on the pretense of opening stores and give each other's names as sponsors.

Assistant District Attorney Byrne said that he had claims against the alleged conspirators amounting to nearly $200,000.

AMONG THE MINERS.

Lehigh Valley and Wilkesbarre Coal Company Posts Advance Notices.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 31.—The men employed at the collieries of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company met yesterday and adopted a resolution requesting the company to abolish the sliding scale and guarantee to pay the 10 per cent increase until April 1. The company immediately agreed to the proposition and posted notices last night. Work will be resumed as soon as the mines can be put in shape.

A. Pardee & Co. hired 75 new men at the Canberry colliery to take the places of strikers who have not reported for work. The "Lokie" engineers, whose places were filled by others, have not been reinstated. Many of the union men are still on strike at this mine because of the refusal of the firm to reinstate the union engineers.

C. Pardee & Co. have refused to reinstate the men at Lattimer who went on strike and got their settlement. The firm announces that if these men want work they must reapply and take any positions offered, as their former places have been filled. President Mitchell is expected to return to Hazleton today.

New Venture For Carnegie Company.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—A story is published here to the effect that the Carnegie Steel company intends to invade the sheet steel business by manufacturing this product at their Duquesne works. It is said that steel sheets will be turned out by the Carnegie company within six months and that the plans for the proposed work are being rushed under the direction of President Schwab. Mr. Schwab last night declined to discuss the matter and said he would neither confirm nor deny the story. If the Carnegie company should go into the sheet business, it will come into competition with the sheet combine, a concern organized nearly a year ago after several attempts had proved failures. The combine is capitalized at $52,000,000 and owns a number of mills all over the country, the most important of which are the Apollo Iron and Steel works at Vandergrift.

Lipton's Pork Corner.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Traders in the provision pit on the board of trade are anxiously waiting to see what sort of a wind up today will bring to the October pork corner of the Lipton Provision company. The belief is generally held in the pit that Lipton will put the price up to $20 a barrel on the last day of the deal to have a spectacular finish. For several days there was little evidence that Sir Thomas J. Lipton had any intention of squeezing the shorts. The price was allowed to fall from $17 a barrel to $14, but in the last few days there has been a sharp recovery. On Monday there was a jump from $14 to $16, and yesterday's prices climbed to the former top notch, and there were sales of 1,000 barrels at $17.

Salisbury Will Resign.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The following important announcement appears this morning in The Daily Telegraph: "We understand that after mature consideration Lord Salisbury has decided to resign the foreign secretaryship, which will be transferred to the Marquis of Lansdowne. Although the health of the prime minister gives no cause for anxiety, we believe that he is largely influenced by the counsels of his medical advisers."

Indians Have Smallpox.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Smallpox has broken out on a number of Indian reservations in the west, and it is feared that when the cold weather sets in the epidemic will become more widespread and assume a more malignant form. Every possible effort is making to stay its progress, and the Indian bureau is forwarding vaccine virus to the various agencies.

WAR ON FOREIGNERS

China's Crafty Empress Inciting Armed Bands.

TROUBLE FEARED IN YANG-TSE REGION

Kwang-tung Rebellion Subsiding—Li Hung Chang Accused of Double Dealing—Rumors of a Franco-Belgian Alliance.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—"Most serious trouble," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express, "is brewing in the Yang-tse region, whither the empress dowager has sent emissaries to raise powerful armed bodies to exterminate converts and expel foreigners. She has appointed Yu Chuan, a notoriously anti-foreign general, to be military governor of the Yang-tse district."

In the province of Kwang-tung, according to the Hongkong correspondent of The Daily Mail, the rebellion is subsiding, owing to the scarcity of arms and ammunition.

The Shanghai correspondent of The Times, wiring yesterday, says:

"Li Hung Chang has wired to Chang Chih Tung, the Wu-chang viceroy, that the peace negotiations are satisfactory, but to other leading officials he has telegraphed exactly the reverse, bidding them prepare for eventualities."

"I learn," says the Brussels correspondent of The Times, "that King Leopold's visit to Paris has resulted in a Franco-Belgian convention for the protection of the common interests of France and Belgium in China."

Chinese Officials Arrested.

PAO-TING-FU, Oct. 31.—The city of Pao-ting-fu has been divided into districts under the superintendence of the various nationalities represented in the occupying force. Looting is strictly forbidden in the British quarter, but the Germans, French and Italians have sacked their respective districts. The international commission which is inquiring into the massacre of the foreigners here has ordered the arrest of three Chinese officials. An Italian lieutenant, while reconnoitering in the hills with 16 men, was surrounded by Boxers. A rescue force composed of 150 British and 60 Italian cavalrymen went to drive off the Chinese.

Shangtung Disturbances Quelled.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—The answer of the United States government to the Anglo-German agreement has not yet arrived here, but an official of the German foreign office said that Germany was aware of what the answer would be—namely, a full acceptance of clauses 1 and 2. The official also asserted that the answers of Russia and France would soon be received. From official dispatches it is ascertained that the disturbances in Shangtung are now quelled, and the construction of the Shangtung railroad has been resumed. The section from Kiao-chau to Tsin-tau will be completed next spring.

Indian Chiefs Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The probable collapse of the movement that has threatened to result in the removal of Shawnee, Delaware and other Indian bands to Mexico is announced in a report received at the interior department from Assistant Special Agent Bentley, telling of the death of two Indian chiefs who led the project. The report announces that Big Jim, principal chief of his band of Shawnees, died at Sabinas, Mexico, on Sept. 30 of smallpox and that Jack Harrie, one of the chiefs of the Delawares, who accompanied Big Jim, died the same day of the same disease. Big Jim's party consisted of six persons, four of whom died. These two chiefs were bitterly opposed to civilization, and their ambition for years had been to move their people to Mexico, there to live in exclusion away from the white man.

Mr. Bryan Leaves New York.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 31.—W. J. Bryan concluded the final day of his New York campaign tour in this city last night. He began the day at the town of Addison and spoke at the following other places: Hornellsville, Almond, Alfred, Andover, Wellsville, Belmont, Friendship, Cuba, Hinsdale, Olean, Salamanca, Randolph, Jamestown and Dunkirk. All these towns are in the southwestern part of the state, and all have been strongly Republican in politics. The meetings of the day were generally well attended and some of them quite enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan left late last night on the Lake Shore railroad for Ohio, expecting to begin a one day tour of that state with a speech at Toledo. All told, he had made about 110 speeches in this state.

Adjutant General Corbin's Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The annual report of Adjutant General Corbin to the secretary of war for the year ended June 30, 1900, is a complete statistical record of the army of the United States. It shows that the regular army consists of 2,525 officers and 63,861 enlisted men and the volunteer army of 1,548 officers and 31,079 enlisted men, a grand total of 98,790, not including the hospital corps, which is not counted as a part of the effective strength of the army.

Explosion on Submarine Boat.

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—An explosion of gas on the submarine boat Holland at the Naval academy caused an alarm of fire at the ships. The fire corps responded, but there was no need of it. The crew did not leave the hold of the vessel. It is supposed that the gas was occasioned by over feeding the tube that supplies the furnace with gasoline which runs the engine. It is reported that little or no damage was done the vessel or machinery.

Earthquake Killed Many.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 31.—Monday's earthquake destroyed the town of Guarenas, resulting in the loss of 25 lives. Nearly the entire population of Caracas passed the night in the streets or square of the city. Slight tremors, following the severe shocks, have recurred at varying intervals and still continue.

Valuable Railway Franchise.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Oct. 31.—The railway franchise which the executive council granted to the North American company is very valuable. It will permit the construction of a veritable network of lines in the island.

Sultan Sends Gifts to William.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Shakir Pasha, special envoy of Abdul Hamid, sultan of Turkey, presented to Emperor William yesterday a number of gifts, including a very valuable necklace for the empress.

Citizenship in Porto Rico does not carry with it citizenship in the United States, according to a decision rendered by Justice Freedman at New York, in the application of Juarbe, a Puertoriqueno, for a mandamus to compel election officers to place his name on the registry of voters. Juarbe had resided in the Empire State long enough to comply with all other statutory requirements; but the Court held that as he had not been naturalized he had no right to vote under the terms of the Paris treaty, which specifically provided that the political status of the islanders should be determined by Congress.

Wyoming, with a total vote of 20,000, had the smallest electorate in the Presidential contest four years ago; Idaho, with 29,000, was the next smallest, and Delaware, with 31,000, followed. This year the voting population of Idaho has been largely increased by the extension of the right of suffrage to women. Wilmington, the chief city of Delaware, which had 61,000 population ten years ago, has 76,500 by the recent census, and the distinction of having the smallest voting population, is therefore, uncertain this year, the probabilities favoring Wyoming.

Those Democrats who were elated at the report that former President Cleveland predicted the election of Col. Bryan over President McKinley had their enthusiasm over the statement seriously dampened today when Mr. Cleveland emphatically denied that he had ever given voice to the words that he was accredited with. The Philadelphia Times, which published the alleged interview, made the proper apology today.

The terms of the following Populist members of the United States Senate expire on March 4th next, and the politics of their successors will be determined at this year's election: Allen, of Nebraska, Butler, of North Carolina, and Pettigrew, of South Dakota. In Colorado, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, four mining and mountain States, the outgoing Senators are Republicans.

Governor Roosevelt has made more than 600 speeches since the beginning of the campaign and will have made $50 at its close. He is in good health and has gained weight. When he finishes his trip Saturday next he will have traveled over 20,000 miles, a record equal to the combined records of all candidates for National office with the single exception of Mr. Bryan.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The Dime Savings Institution of Plainfield has offered $500 reward for evidence that will lead to the conviction of the persons who started a report to the effect that that institution was about to fail. The story gained currency on the streets, and, while public confidence in the bank was strong enough to prevent anything like a "run" on the institution, the rumor was sufficient to induce a few depositors to withdraw their accounts. It is to be hoped that the reward offered may lead to the discovery of the originator of the canard. Public confidence is essential to the stability of a financial institution, and unfounded and malicious stories which tend to excite distrust and suspicion as to its soundness may do incalculable harm. Severe punishment is due such mischiefmakers.—Newark News.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Munyan, of Vineland, are the parents of a wonderful baby girl. Although only seventeen weeks old the infant weighs fifty pounds. She measures two feet four inches around the waist and is two feet six inches in height. The arms of this infant are ten inches in circumference and it takes a string fifteen inches long to encircle one of her legs.

William VanSickle, the North avenue butcher, received a handsome postal card yesterday from his friend, Dr. L. S. Pocock, who is in Havana. The card contains a photograph of the "Palacio Del Capitan General," and Dr. Pocock writes as follows: "I am having a great time. I expect to go out on a sugar plantation for a few days. I have done all that I can here and I am liable to sail for New York any day, so don't write if you have any notion of so doing. I may be home in time to vote."

The Companion for the Rest of 1900.

Every issue of The Youth's Companion for the nine weeks of November and December will be enlarged, and the Holiday Numbers will be double the usual size, with richly decorated covers. From now until the end of the year The Companion will be crowded with articles and stories sufficiently varied to please every taste in both old and young—men and women, boys and girls.

Among the contributions announced for early issues are "How I Acted the Missionary" by Sir Henry Stanley; "With the Pretoria Guard," by Rider Haggard; "A Historic Game of Football," by Walter Camp; "Horse Sense," by Frank R. Stockton; "Pulpit Eloquence" by Dean Farrar; "Days of Long Ago," by Ian Maclaren; and "A Baritone Among Famous People," by Victor Maurel; in addition to which there will be serial and short stories by Margaret Deland, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Bliss Perry, Charles W. Chesnut and other writers of delightful fiction.

Those who subscribe now for 1901 will receive The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1900 free from the time of subscription, in addition to the "Puritan Girl" Calendar for 1901, lithographed in 12 colors from exquisite designs painted expressly for The Companion.

Illustrated announcement of the volume fo 1901 will be sent free to any address, with sample copies of the paper.—The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass. c

Winter Excursion Tickets on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On November 1 the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will place on sale at its principal ticket offices excursion tickets to all prominent winter resorts in New Jersey, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Cuba and Central America. The tickets will be sold at the usual low rates, with the usual liberal return limits.

The magnificent facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with its many connections and through train service, make this the favorite line for winter travel.

An illustrated book, descriptive of winter resorts, and giving routes of travel and rates for tickets, will be furnished free after November 1 on application to ticket agents.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

A MORRIS CHAIR

is an article that has a place in every home. In fact no home is complete without one. There was a time when such an article was a luxury, but not now, and when we say we have the handsomest as well as the cheapest line in the city we don't exaggerate in the least, for we don't buy our furniture in any haphazard manner, and when an article is placed on our floor you may rest assured that it's the best that can be had for the money. The fact that our furniture sales are twice as large as last year is sufficient proof of it. The Morris Chairs that we direct particular attention to are those at 9.48, 9.98, 10.98, 11.98 and 12.98.

They are finished in beautiful quartered golden oak and mahogany, rubbed and polished, have hair spring seats, claw feet, handsome carvings, and the cushions are upholstered in the best grades of Arlington velours, filled with hair.

Hall Furniture In this line as well as any other we are prepared to fill your wants. All the newest designs, quartered oak, golden finish, with French bevel plate mirror, heavy brass fixtures for hats and umbrellas, 12 different styles to select from, the prices start at 6.98 and run up to 12.48.

Lamp Light It is our aim to furnish the best possible light that a lamp can give. The beauty of the article is secondary—and yet we have had remarkable success in combining both light and beauty. Decorated and solid color lamps and globes to match are here in delightful choice. There has never been such a lamp stock in this town before. The character of them are away above the average. No more appropriate and acceptable wedding present could be found than one of these lamps. You are invited to inspect them. Prices and styles too numerous to quote, but we have them from 75c to 13.98. There are no duplicates of these lamps.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Oct. 31.—The oyster supper given in the chapel of the Presbyterian church last evening, was a financial as well as a social success. Supper was served from 6 until 9 o'clock and was partaken of by a large number. The chapel and tables were decorated in a very tasty manner with chrysanthemums and other flowers. The affair was in charge of the Board of Trustees and the Ladies' Aid Society and it was due to their efforts that the affair proved so successful.

Yesterday was the last day for registration and the citizens are now anxiously awaiting election. According to the estimate of a number of borough men, versed in political affairs, Dunellen will give eighty majority to McKinley.

Mrs. Cottrelly, of Front street, has taken up her residence in Plainfield and has rented her house to Captain O. H. Day.

Tonight is All Hallow 'een's night and the borough boys have already made note of gates belonging to the unwary.

There are letters remaining in the postoffice for John A. Quinn, Howard VanNest and D. W. Clayton, Esq.

The hunting season opens tomorrow and a large number of boroughites expect to leave for various points.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Merril have returned from a visit with their son Asa Merril, of Newark.

W. C. Osmun has removed to Plainfield, and taken up his residence on West Sixth street.

John Barick returned home yesterday after a visit with friends in North Branch.

Mrs. Samuel VanArsdale spent yesterday with Somerville friends.

William Stites is spending today with relatives at Metuchen.

The Banjo Club will meet tonight with Miss Flora Wilgus.

Miss Jessie Haynes spent yesterday in New York.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Oct. 31.—From the number of petty burglaries that have been committed in town recently it is thought an organized gang of amateurs are at work. Although the burglars succeed in getting into various places, as yet nothing of value has been taken. One of the latest victims of the gang is John Downy, whose wagon house was broken into and a quantity of tools taken.

Joseph Kiechner, of Rahway, spent yesterday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Kiechner.

The dancing class will give a reception in Friendship Hall next Tuesday night.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Oct. 31—Frederick Hoppell and Albert Gibson have been ordered to appear in Judge Clark's court this evening to answer for breaking the ordinance in Fanwood borough regarding the careless dropping of crushed stone, etc., upon the highway. Mr. Hoppell and Mr. Gibson both own teams which are used to draw crushed stone from the stonecrackers in the valley to the railroad station. A number of teams are employed at this work, and the borough authorities have been annoyed very much by the teamsters loading their wagons so full that there is a steady dropping of crushed stone along the roadway from the crushers to the depot. This brings complaint from wheelmen and others, so the borough authorities have decided to enforce the ordinance.

John Schmidt met with a painful accident while working upon a new roof being put upon the barn at Seeley's mill. Schmidt had carried up a bundle of shingles and after putting them down made ready to begin work. In some way his foot slipped and before he could catch himself fell from the roof. No one saw the accident and it was several minutes before any one saw the injured man. As soon as possible Dr. Westcott was called. The doctor found no bones broken but the fall had jarred him pretty bad and it is afraid he is injured internally.

The Board of Registry added three new names to the registry list at their meeting in the town rooms yesterday. This makes the total registry 317, which is the largest registry the township has had since the village and Fanwood were separated.

The members of the Republican Club will enjoy another trolley ride and outing Thursday evening when they will attend the mass meeting to be held in Music Hall, Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Frentz, who have been spending a few days with Mr. Frentz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Frentz, have returned to their home in Philadelphia.

Seeley's paper mill, which has been closed for repairs for a week, has resumed work again much to the delight of the employes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Vincent and family, of New York, have rented A. D. Beekon's property on Park avenue in Fanwood.

Mr. and Mrs. George Godbrod, who have been residents of the village for several years, have removed to New York city.

Frederick Schmidt spent yesterday with relatives in Brooklyn.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Preceded by heraldry of triumphs and promises of a most elaborate production in the matter of scenic effects and costuming, the coming of Sardou's great play "Fedora" at Music Hall next Monday night, is looked forward to by all lovers of high class drama. From what may be expected from criticisms in cities where this play has been and the reputation it has acquired through its merits and as being the medium through which both Bernhardt and Davenport, the world's two greatest actresses, an entertainment of extraordinary excellence is in store for the patrons of the drama in this city. "Fedora" will be staged in a gorgeous and costly manner. As a scenic production it has won the plaudits of the entire continents of Europe and America. The company presenting it, under the management of Charles H. Clarke, is said to be complete in efficiency and number. There are several members in it who were in the original support of Davenport. Eleanor Franklin and Brinsley Shaw are the principals, both artists of reputation and well earned merit.

* * * * * * *

There should be joy for the people of Plainfield in the announcement that one of the best laugh-makers of our generation, "What Happened to Jones," is booked for appearance at Music Hall, next Tuesday, Election Day, for matinee and night performances. George H. Broadhurst, the author has succeeded in putting the most mirthful scenes and situations ever devised into the shortest space of time. In fact the curtain has scarcely arisen upon the first act before there is a chuckle which presently broadens into a roar which is kept up without subsiding for two hours and one half. The fun is clean and intelligent. There is no horse play. The spectator thinks while he laughs. There is nothing to offend anyone and there is that to delight every one. Election returns will be read from the stage during the performance.

* * * * * * *

"Her Majesty," the new romantic play, which was given its first production in Plainfield last spring, with Grace George as the girl queen of mythical Nordenmark, is a sensational success at the Manhattan Theatre in New York. The personal triumph of Miss George is very great. She has taken place in the front rank of the younger women stars. Her beauty, unaffected grace and emotional power, as well as her skill in the comedy episodes are conceded by every New York critic. "Her Majesty" is emphatically a woman's play. It is a curious coincidence that it comes simultaneously with the announcement that Wilhelmena, the little queen of Holland has elected to defy her ministry and wed the man of her choice. It was this girl sovereign who served as the model for Honoria, the heroine of "Her Majesty." The play is superbly staged and admirably acted by players of personal distinction. The great audiences accord recall after recall nightly and everybody is delighted with its love interest and stirring incidents. A special matinee will be given on Election Day, Tuesday November 6th.

AN ORDINANCE

Granting Permission to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its Successors and Assigns, to Lay and Maintain Underground Conduits, Cables, Wires and Manholes for Electrical conductors in the Borough of North Plainfield, New Jersey, to be used for Telephone and Telegraph purposes.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, as follows:

Section 1. That the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to construct and maintain for the uses and purposes of its business aforesaid, a system of subways and underground conduits, including the necessary manholes and street openings, and lateral connections to property lines beneath the surface of the streets, avenues and other highways of the Borough of North Plainfield, and to place, maintain and operate in said system of subways or underground conduits, the wires, cables or other electrical conductors necessary for its said business; also to construct, maintain and operate for such purposes a system of electrical conductors in connection with the necessary poles for distribution from the electrical conductors to be placed in the subways or underground conduits hereinbefore mentioned;

Provided that said company shall in no instance make any excavation in any street or public place in said borough without having first obtained written permission so to do from the Chairman of the Committee on Streets of said Borough for the construction of such proposed excavation, and that no such permission shall be given unless the said company shall then have on deposit with the Borough Clerk the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars to guarantee the restoration of such street or public place to the condition hereinafter specified and which said sum or the remainder thereof shall be returned to said company whenever it shall have completed such restoration to the satisfaction of the Mayor and Council.

Section 2. And be it further ordained that the following streets, avenues and highways and parts thereof are hereby designated for the construction of the underground conduits of said company, to be opened in each instance only after the granting permission as specified in Section one of this ordinance:

Somerset street, Green Brook to Prospect avenue,

Grove street, Green Brook to Prospect avenue,

Westervelt avenue, Green Brook to Mountain avenue,

Watchung avenue, Green Brook to Coddington avenue,

Washington avenue, Green Brook to Rockview avenue,

Sycamore avenue, Green Brook to Rockview avenue,

Park Place, Somerset street to Mercer avenue,

Mercer avenue, Duer street to Rockview avenue,

Jackson avenue, Somerset street to Franklin avenue,

Grandview avenue, Somerset street to Franklin avenue,

Myrtle avenue, Willow avenue to West End avenue,

Willow avenue, Washington avenue to West End avenue,

Rockview avenue, Grove street to West End avenue,

Green Brook Road, Somerset street to West End avenue,

and all other streets, avenues and highways of said borough as may be necessary, and from time to time designated in permits granted by resolution of the Mayor and Council of said Borough for the construction of such conduits, said company may on the same streets, avenues and parts thereof, erect the necessary poles, fixtures and supports for distributing its electrical conductors along, across and above the surface of the streets in connection with said subways; said poles shall be placed inside and within eighteen (18) inches of and adjacent to the curb line, and shall be erected only under written permit from the Street Commissioner; said cables shall in all cases be placed under the carriage way, and within five (5) feet of the curb line, unless obstructions make it necessary to go further from the curb line, and then only after permission has been granted by written permission from the Chairman of the Street Committee and shall be placed at least eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the street.

Section 3. And be it further ordained that the said manholes shall be located beneath the surface of the streets at such points along the line of the subways or underground conduits as may be necessary or convenient for placing and operating the electrical conductors which the said company may from time to time place in said subways or underground conduits; and shall be so constructed as not to interfere with the passage of the public over and along the said street, and the said company shall restore any street or avenue which may be disturbed in the construction or maintenance of said subways or conduits and manholes to the condition in which it was at the commencement of the work thereon, and free from any cost or expense whatever to the Borough of North Plainfield. And the said company and its servants and employees in the laying of any wires or conduits, in excavating or replacing the earth in any street, alley or public place, and of the pavement thereon, shall be under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and shall promptly comply with any order of said Commissioner in reference thereto, but shall in no case be deemed or held to be the servants or agents of the borough.

The earth removed in making any excavation shall be restored and the pavement taken up shall be relaid by the said company in as good condition as before the making of such excavation or taking up of such pavement, and thereafter shall be maintained in as good condition as the surrounding pavement, until such street, avenue or highway in each case shall be repaved by the Borough. No street, avenue, alley or public place shall be incumbered for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the work for which the excavation is made. The cost of restoring the earth or otherwise, arising from such excavations, and the laying of pavements and repairs thereto, caused by the opening of any such avenue, street, alley or public place, shall be paid by said company, and said work shall be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

In case the company shall fail to restore, relay or repair any pavement or street surface within forty-eight (48) hours after receiving notice from the Street Commissioner that such work is required, said Street Commissioner shall have the right to cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the company.

Section 4. And be it further ordained that said company shall indemnify the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield against, and assume all liability and damages which may at any time arise, come or occur to said Borough from any injury to persons or property from the doing of any work herein mentioned, or from any neglect of the company or its employees or from any failure of the company to comply with the provisions of any ordinance of the Borough relative to the use of streets or other public places, especially as to the putting up of lights or barriers at or around excavations; and the acceptance by the company of this ordinance shall be an agreement by it to pay to the Mayor and Council of North Plainfield any sum of money for which the Borough may become liable from or by reason of any such injury and damage.

Section 5. And be it further ordained that all poles now erected in the streets or public places of said Borough belonging to said company and all poles hereafter erected by said company in any of said streets or public places shall within a reasonable time be properly painted and made sightly, and shall be so kept by said company.

Section 6. And be it further ordained that nothing in this, or any previous ordinance or grant of the Borough of North Plainfield shall be claimed, held or construed to give said New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors, lessees or assigns, any exclusive right to the use of any street, avenue or public place of said Borough, but that said Borough shall at all times be at liberty to grant like rights and privileges to any other person or persons, corporation or corporations, and that whenever in the prosecution or making of any public improvement in said Borough, such as the laying of sewers or drains, water pipes, gas pipes, the changing of street grades, the widening or improvement of any street, avenue or public place, or any similar public work, it shall become or be deemed by the said Mayor and Council necessary or desirable that any conduit or conduits, subway or subways, manhole or manholes, lateral connection or connections, pole or poles, wire or wires, or other appliance of said company in any such street, avenue or public place, shall be moved, changed or altered in position or location the same shall be so moved, changed or altered in position by said company at its own expense within ten days after written notice by the Street Commissioner of said Borough to said company served at its nearest local office that such movement, change or alteration is required, and further that said Borough shall not be in any wise liable for any injury to any property of said company done in the reasonable prosecution by or on behalf of said Borough of any public work or improvement; nor shall said Borough be in anywise liable for any damage or injury to any property of said company resulting directly or indirectly from any failure of said company to comply as aforesaid with any such notice.

Section 7. And be it further ordained that the said company shall file with the Mayor or Borough Clerk its acceptance of this ordinance within twenty (20) days from the date when such ordinance shall take effect, and shall also file with the Borough Treasurer a satisfactory bond with sureties approved by the Mayor in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) that it will faithfully comply with and perform all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Section 8. And be it further ordained that the said the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company shall provide sufficient space in said subways or underground conduits to accommodate the telegraph or telephone wires or conductors operated from time to time by the Police, Fire or other departments of the Borough of North Plainfield, and permit such use thereof by the Borough free of charge.

Section 9. And be it further ordained that said company shall pay into the Borough Treasury all advertising and printing fees incurred by the Borough under this ordinance, and that this ordinance shall take effect on the ninth day of November, A. D. nineteen hundred.

Approved October 19, 1900.

N. E. SMALLEY,
Mayor.

An insurance and collection agent in Otsego County, New York, constantly recommends Ripans Tabules to everybody whom he suspects of suffering from dyspepsia, and takes pleasure in relating his own experience, as follows: "I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia for a dozen years or more, and have tried all kinds of medicines that were said to be good (or a positive cure), but none of them afforded much relief. I have always been blessed with a keen appetite and have, perhaps, indulged too heartily at times and suffered accordingly. Last winter while traveling through an adjoining county I first learned of Ripans Tabules, and was induced by a friend to try them. They have done me a great deal of good, and I think that I have fair promise of a permanent cure. If I would be regular about my meals now, I am sure I should be well."

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

ODD WEDDING CUSTOM.

Transplanted to the United States by settlers from the Ancient Kingdom of Hanover.

A curious wedding custom, a survival of the folklore of the fatherland, is found in the German settlement about Buckley, Ill., and in the townships farther east. When a young couple is to be married the elder brother of the bride starts out on horseback a few days before. He is called the "brautbeter"—literally the "bride inviter." If the bride have no brother, some other male member of the family takes the place. The summons of the "brautbeter" is just as effective in assembling the guests as the engraved invitations of society folk in the cities.

The "brautbeter" is a picturesque figure. In his invitation trip he is the recipient of many perquisites in money or gifts, which, by right of custom, are kept as his own. At every place where he leaves an invitation to the wedding the recipients are expected to give him something. The size of the gift is regulated by the circumstances of the receivers. It may be a piece of money, a bill or a coin or it may be only a ribbon or a trinket. However small, the present is invariably expected and given.

As the "brautbeter" receives his gifts he pins the bills to his clothing or hat, sews on the coins and ties the ribbons to his horse's bridle. As he progresses on his rounds the gifts are added one by one till his clothes are opulent with money and trinkets. The circumstances of the "brautbeter" are not taken into account. Every receiver of an invitation makes a gift in return, which becomes the porperty of the "brautbeter." Like going fishing, the returns from going inviting are uncertain. They may amount to only three or four dollars or run up to $14 or $15, as luck may have it. Of course the "brautbeter" is at the wedding and one of the best fellows there.

Old settlers in Buckley say the custom was transplanted from Hanover, whence most of the foreign-born population comes. Nobody knows the origin of the custom on the other side of the water. They cling to the custom as one of the precious institutions of the fatherland. The same custom is said to exist among Germans of Hanoverian birth in the northern part of Illinois.—Chicago Times-Herald.

How to Care for Rings.

Don't wear your rings under gloves unless you remember to have them thoroughly examined twice a year. The constant friction wears out the tiny gold points that hold the stones in place, and unless strict attention is paid to them they become loose in a very short time. Small purses of suede leather are made on purpose for rings, or any soft pouch of skin or chamois may be used to place the rings in when desiring to carry them about. They should never be put into the ordinary pocketbook, as the rubbing against coins is bad for them. Diamonds can be cleaned at home to look as well as when done by a jeweler if only a little trouble is taken. They should be thoroughly cleansed in alcohol and then polished with boxwood sawdust. Pine sawdust is too oily for this purpose.—Chicago Daily News.

An Ancient Home Remedy.

For evil smells of all kinds there is a valuable remedy: Cut two or three large onions in quarters and put them in saucers on the floor and on any high shelf in the room under treatment. This applies to invalids' bedrooms, etc. The onions must be removed every six hours. This simple process is not at all modern, for the Greeks, as well as the chevaliers of the middle ages, held onions in great respect, owing to their hygienic properties. Onions were, moreover, used as a preventive in times of plague and other epidemics.

THE OLD MUFFIN WOMAN.

College Girl Was Not Ashamed of Her Poor Mother, and Everybody Respected Her for It.

There was no girl better liked, but who kept herself more aloof from the other students, than Mary. Every girl knew she was paying her way through college, fitting heself that she might support her mother, a very old, and, some said, a lame woman. On Saturday she did mending for the girls, and through the week tutored them in German composition. She was kind to everyone, but shrank from any intimacies.

An old muffin woman, worn and bent, came to college every Wednesday and Saturday with her wares, which found a ready sale among the girls. She was a mystery to the girls, for, try as they would, they could never persuade her to talk. She was allowed to wander about the buildings, along the halls to the girls' rooms, and no midnight feast was considered complete without some of her muffins.

Late on a winter's afternoon, after she had sold all her muffins, one of the girls saw her coming out of Mary's room. The girls wondered at this, knowing that Mary was in another building going over some German composition. With a basket on her arm the woman wandered to the campus with her usual slow, uncertain step, and, sitting down by a tree, unfolded with tender fingers a worn silk muffler. Some of the girls who were watching her recognized this as one Mary had worn on snowy days. With trembling fingers the woman caressed the silk, and, folding it, put it in her bosom again. One girl then went up and spoke to her, and it was but a short time before a little group gathered. "I saw her come from Mary's room," said one, "and the scarf you all recognize."

Just then Mary came across the campus, and, seeing the girls, went toward them. As she came up to them the woman looked up appealingly, nervously fingering her dress while tears rolled down her cheeks.

After the girls had told that they had suspected the woman of stealing the scarf, Mary spoke up. "Girls," she said, as her voice was full of pain, "the handkerchief is not stolen. I gave it to her. And, girls," she continued, taking the woman's hand in hers and putting an arm about her, "she is my mother."

Mary stayed through the college year. She was graduated with high honors and was voted to be one of the most popular girls in the class. Her mother never came again, and no one ever asked for Mary on Saturdays, for all knew that she was spending her day quietly in the little room in the village where her mother lived.—Eleanor G. Walton, in Ladies' Home Journal.

A New Relish for Meats.

Apple chutnee, an excellent relish for meats, is made by boiling together 14 large sour apples, two large onions and two good-sized garlics in one and a half quarts of cider vinegar. Rub them through a sieve. Steep four tablespoonfuls of mustard seed in vinegar to cover it and mash it fine. Add this, with one cupful of brown sugar, a half cupful of salt, four tablespoonfuls of ginger and a half pound of raisins, seeded and chopped fine, to the apples, onions, garlic and vinegar. Stir them together thoroughly and bottle as soon as they are cold.

Washing Linen in Hay Tea.

To wash a brown or gray linen skirt some one recommends soaking for a few hours in hay tea, afterward washing the skirt in the same water. If the cured hay is not at hand, a little grass cut even from the tiny square in front of a city house may be dried or used. Put the hay into a kettle of cold water and steep for an hour on the back of the fire. Strain and use the water first to soak and then to wash the skirt. The caution is given that the original color may be slightly altered, but all spots and stains will disappear and the skirt take on renewed freshness.

THIS BOY WAS PLUCKY.

Caught a Mad Dog in a Gunny Sack and Then Drowned Him in the River.

At Chester, Pa., a few days ago, a mad dog was terrorizing the neighborhood. Men and boys watched the brute's antics from a safe distance, but a boy 15 years old, named Peter Brown, took the occasion to stamp himself as a hero by capturing the animal in a bag. Here is what he modestly said of the feat a little while afterward:

"You see," said he, "the dog was a coming down a splutterin' for all he was worth, and I knowed something would have to be done. I was standing near a grocery store where they was unloading some potatoes, and I thought to myself here comes my opportunity. It's an old trick, but only them what's used to it kin do it.

"I opened the bag's mouth wide as I could, just when the dog was comin' hardest. I expected every minute he'd snatch me leg, but as luck would have it he didn't. He made right for the bag, and when he got part way in I shoved him further, and then gathered it in at the end, and the dog was fast.

"Then the other fellers came and wanted to help, but I held on to the bag, and the grocery man let me take it away. I got some string and tied up the end, and after I got some twine I hauled the animal down to the river. He was still a splutterin' and growlin' fer all he was worth. Then I got a big stone and tied it to the bag and throwed it over. Then the jig was up."

CHILDREN LOVE PETS.

Most Boys and Girls Are Willing to Share the Good Things They Get with Their Dumb Friends.

Children as a rule love their pets and are willing to share whatever they may have to eat with them. The little girl in the picture, however, seems to be an exception.

I suspect her dog at one time had been very greedy and probably swallowed her whole piece of cake at one gulp, and now she is punishing him by not giving him any.

One little boy I know doesn't want to eat anything unless his dog can share it with him.

All good children love animals and want to be kind to them.

I read of a little girl who loved her dog so much she insisted upon a lamp being kept burning in the room where he slept for fear he would be lonely and afraid.

Another little girl, whose mother insisted upon drowning a superfluous lot of kittens, urged that the water be warmed so the little things would die more comfortably.

"NONE FOR YOU."

A pretty story is told of the princess of Wales, who from the time she was a little girl has loved animals and had them about her. At her home, Sandringham palace, is a dove-cote, where a number of beautiful white doves are kept. Whether these pretty birds are preening their feathers on their little tree or nestling in their boxes, they are ever ready to welcome their mistress, the princess, on her frequent visits. Some are special pets, and perch on her shoulders or hover around her for food in the prettiest way. The dovehouse is glass-roofed, so that even in winter its white inhabitants may flutter in sunshine, while protected from severe cold.—National Rural.

No Swearing Before Horses.

In a Philadelphia livery stable hangs this curious notice: "No man shall use profane language in the hearing of these horses." Many who see it regard it as a joke, but the proprietor of the stable says it is meant seriously and is enforced. His explanation is that his stalls contain the high-bred horses of many wealthy patrons; that horses of that sort are nearly always sensitive and nervous, and that loud, harsh conversation irritates and excites them. The explanation involves only one kind of profanity, it is true, but that is the most offensive kind.

MOUNTAIN ENCOUNTER.

Eagle Swooped Down on a Spike Buck and Had the Better of It When Hunters Interfered.

An eagle with an eight-foot spread of wing tried in vain the other day to carry off a spike buck in the Pine Hill country. He swooped down upon the buck, perched upon his back, tore at him with beak and talons, and had him nearly exhausted when the buck ran under a low-hanging branch and dislodged his tormentor. The eagle was returning to the attack, and the buck was making every possible effort to kill it with his sharp-pointed hoofs, when two hunters, Charles Lefevre and Joe Gunning, began firing on the eagle. They did not kill the bird, but after they had torn a tuft from one of its wings it flew away. Lefevre thus tells of the fight:

"We had hunted all morning without any luck and were returning to camp along the ridge, when we observed, circling high in the air above the glades, what we thought was a giant buzzard. We stopped and watched the bird's actions. Each circle that it made brought it closer to a patch of wild oats in the center of the glade.

"With a sudden swoop and closed wings the bird dived into the deep grass and the next instant the bird and a spike buck were in conflict. We crawled to within 200 yards of the spot and saw that the deer's assailant was a large eagle. The deer plunged down the hill, the eagle perched upon his shoulders and with beak and talons tearing at his hide and flesh. Plunging into a small oak bush the buck scraped the bird from his back, but only for an instant. As the deer emerged from the tangle of branches the eagle swooped at him again. The buck, that had now ceased its bleating, reared up and with its razorlike forehoofs struck at the winged enemy hovering close above.

"What the result of the battle might have been is hard to say. We could stand the sight no longer and opened a brisk fire with our rifles on the king of birds. One of the bullets plowed away a hatful of feathers, and then the eagle soared away. We left the buck undisturbed."

Cast Away Among Friends.

On a voyage from Australia to Panama the bark Monontum sprung a leak, and although all hands worked at the pumps the vessel continued to settle, and the captain had to make for the nearest land, which was Easter island, off the coast of Chili. As luck would have it, the vessel struck a reef, and the crew just succeeded in getting ashore with their lives. The inhabitants of Easter island are barbarians, but simple minded and kindly. They number about 180, and are ruled by a king and four chiefs. The royal palace is a cabin of sticks and dried mud, and everybody lives on yams, fruit and pork—the pigs being many and half wild. On this little island the sailors had to remain six months, until taken off by a passing vessel. The king and all his subjects—men, women and children—shouted in lamentation as the exiles sailed away. It was probably the most agreeable shipwreck on record.

Brand New American Motto.

The American soldiers in the Philippines see some strange sights. Lately a crowd of them attended a church service in their honor, and there was much praying and singing, but the soldiers were chiefly interested in looking at the image of a saint. Above the image was the picture of an eagle, and on the banner which streamed from the eagle's bill was the following legend: "The Old Reliable Condensed Milk." The saint had been decorated in honor of the visiting Americans, and the artist had copied the eagle and accompanying inscription from a milk can. He afterwards explained that he thought it was an American motto, as it was under the eagle.

HUMOROUS.

The Dominant Sex.—He—"You haven't the brains of a goose." She—"Have you?"—Indianapolis Press.

"Some food, on the other hand, is too rich to agree with anybody." "Independently rich, as it were."—Detroit Journal.

RealGratitude.—Tramp (to Chappie, who has given him a shilling)—"I 'ope as 'ow some day, sir, you may want a shillin', an' that I'll be able to give it to yer!"—Punch.

A Dangerous Article.—Dorothy had never before seen a dwarf. "My!" she exclaimed in a scarcely audible whisper, "he must have been brought up on condensed milk."—Judge.

"I notice that a bear took possession of a Canadian backwoods brewery the other day." "What did the employes do—quit the bruin?" "No, they rallied and rushed the growler."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Matter of Taste.—"Beg pardon," said the postal clerk who had sold her the stamps, "but you don't have to put a five-cent stamp on a letter for Canada." "I know," said she, "but the shade just matches my envelope, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

Very Different.—"Laura, you didn't seem to do much but eat while you were at that big seaside hotel." "Oh, yes, we did, ma. Between meals Harry and I talked about what we had had to eat, and what we were going to have to eat."—Indianapolis Journal.

What He Expected to Do.—"Would you take our darling daughter from us?" tearfully asked the mother. "Why—er—yes," replied the startled youth. "That was my idea. I—I really haven't contemplated taking the whole family, you know."—Chicago Evening Post.

THE ARIZONA TEWKSBURYS.

Engineered the Most Desperate Herd Feud in the Southwest—"Buckey" O'Neill's Part in It.

"The most desperate feud ever known in the southwest grew out of an attempt to graze sheep in Pleasant Valley, in upper Tonto Basin, Ariz., says Capt. J. H. McClintock in Ainslee's. The noted Tewksbury brothers undertook the engineering of the operation. They succeeded. But when the sheep side of the controversy had forged to the front 32 men were dead. The casualties were not incurred in pitched engagements. The fighting continued during a year or longer in the late eighties. It was done in Kentucky vendetta style. Most of the men who 'went over the divide' were ambushed on mountain trails and shot in the back. A Tewksbury household was besieged by a dozen members of the Graham faction, the opposing party. When an old man, Al Rose, went out in the early morning for a pail of water, he was shot and killed within 50 feet of the doorstep. And there the corpse lay unburied for three days in the full glare of the summer sun. The men in the house, stolid in their suffering from thirst, appealed for permission to bury their dead. It was denied them. This is only a fair sample of the many atrocities that marked the progress of the feud. The Pleasant Valley war ended only when all the surviving combatants, together with most of their neighbors, were gathered up and taken to Prescott by a squadron of Yavapai county officers, headed by Sheriff William O'Neill, the same 'Buckey' O'Neill who was killed before San Juan Hill leading his troop of rough riders. A soothing influence was also exerted by Sheriff Commodore Owens, of Apache county, who caught four of the sheep faction in a house at Holbrook. The four men broke from the house by four different routes, through doors and windows, hoping to pot the sheriff by a divided fire. All alone he calmly started to pump his Winchester rifle, apparently heedless of the rain of lead. When he had finished, the four were dead, and the cool little sheriff had not a scratch. At the last only a single male of the Graham blood remained alive. He gave up the fight and fled to the Salt River Valley, where he married and settled down to a quiet farm life. While marketing his first crop of grain he was shot from ambush on the road to Tempe. The deed was done by two unmasked horsemen, identified by two young women as Ed. Tewksbury and his right-hand man, John Rhodes. The latter was rather summarily discharged from custody by a justice of the peace, after a narrow escape from death by the hands of Graham's young widow, who had brought her husband's trusty revolver to the courtroom. Tewksbury was found guilty of murder in the first degree. But a sharp lawyer found that the clerk of the court had failed to enter the plea of 'Not guilty,' though the notes of the court stenographer showed the plea had been made in proper form; so the case was twice retried with hung juries, and finally the prisoner was turned loose. I believe he is at present a constable at Globe Camp."

Smokers Among Rulers of Men.

With King Humbert disappears one of the last great smokers among heads of states. Now there remain only, as passionate smokers, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and Oom Paul. The new king of Italy does not smoke, the czar occasionally smokes a cigarette; the kings of Greece, of Roumania, of Sweden, of Denmark, the prince of Bulgaria and Emperor William smoke now a cigar, now a cigarette, but very irregularly. They are what may be termed "Sunday smokers."—Le Cri de Paris.

Its Most Prominent Feature.

"My!" exclaimed the first little boy at the zoo, indicating a swan upon the lake, "I wonder what kind of a bird that is?"

"Oh, that's just a chicken," replied the bright young son of the boarding house mistress. "Look at all the neck it's got."—Philadelphia Press.

FINED A TOTAL OF $75

Game Warden Hawkins Made a Rich Haul From Italians Who Were Violating Game Laws.

Deputy State Game Warden G. M. Hawkins, of Roselle, accompanied by Louis C. Wyckoff, of the borough, went to Stirling yesterday and captured Tony Marlou, a restaurant keeper, and three of his companions, all of whom had been out hunting squirrels, robins and highholders. They would shoot the game and bury it immediately. The game officials were in hiding and easily caught the offenders of the law. When confronted by the officials the hunters protested and said that they had no game, but when they were asked to unearth the game from its burying place, they broke down and confessed.

Marlou and one of his companions, whose name is unpronounceable, were fined $47.00, while the other two Italians, whose names cannnot be learned, were fined $27.50. Justice Heavy, of Stirling, presided over the case, and he determined the fines according to the number of birds in possession of the offenders. The fines were paid promptly.

Fractured His Hip.

J. H. Cosgrove, aged 75 years, of Somerset street, met with an exceedingly painful accident last evening about 6:45 o'clock, when he stumbled and fell, fracturing the left hip bone. He was descending the stairs in his home and when nearing the bottom he tripped and fell with great force face downward. Dr. Pittis and Dr. B. VanD. Hedges were summoned and set the broken bone. Mr. Cosgrove is doing as well as can be expected, although he suffers much pain.

Registration in the Borough.

As an evidence of the interest in the coming election the total registration in the borough, completed yesterday, shows that nearly everyone who can wants to cast a vote. The registration in the First district is the largest by fifteen in the history of the borough. There are 692 names on the list. The Board added 29 names yesterday. In the Second district 16 names were added yesterday, making a total registry of 590, or 1,282 in the whole borough.

—Mrs. Hannigan's house, corner of Grove street and Craig place, is gradually nearing completion.

A STRONG CANDIDATE.

J. Erwin Hillpot, Democratic Nominee for Member of Assembly in Somerset County.

With this issue The Press presents a cut of J. Erwin Hillpot, the Democratic candidate for Assembly over in Somerset county. That county has to get along with only one Assemblyman, and the North Plainfield Democrats are in high glee over the wonderful canvass and energetic work of Mr. Hillpot. In North Plainfield politics will not be considered in the Assembly candidate, and it is safe to say that in North Plainfield alone there will be more Republican tickets voted with a Hillpot paster on than there will be straight Democratic tickets. Mr. Hillpot will nearly double the vote of any other Democratic candidate.

Bound Brook, Mr. Hillpot's home, is out for "Hilly" as they call him up there. The Republicans of Bound Brook have endorsed the nomination and there is no doubt as to how Bound Brook will go.

Through the county reports indicate Hilly has carried his popularity with him and the farmers gave him a warm reception.

Mr. Hillpot is well known here. He comes from a good old Pennsylvania stock and all his life has worked until he has raised himself to be one of the biggest contractors in the State. He has built miles of roads hereabout and over in Middlesex county a road that Hillpot builds is the standard by which the Freeholders judge the other roads. The great number of men employed by Mr. Hillpot all admire him and it is doubtful if another man engaged in such hard work could retain the hold Mr. Hillpot does on his men.

At Bound Brook Mr. Hillpot has a charming home and this busy man's greatest pleasure is to roll and romp around with his youngest baby. Mr. Hillpot is a member of the Methodist church of Bound Brook, he is a Knight Templar, a Mason of high degree, a leading Elk and a member of the K. of P.—Adv.

ATTACKED BY VICIOUS DOG.

Little Florence Jones Badly Bitten by the Brute Monday Afternoon.

Florence Jones, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jones, of East Sixth street, was attacked and badly bitten by a vicious dog near her home Monday afternoon. The animal belongs to a family living in the vicinity and has always been regarded as being harmless. Just what induced the dog to attack the child, who is but three years old, is not known, as the first intimation her mother had of the affair was when she came rushing to the house with blood streaming down her face.

Drs. Tomlinson and Browning were hurriedly summoned and on examination found the child bitten on the face in eight places. The wounds were cauterized at once and no serious results are feared. The dog in all probability will be shot.

May Change Location of Fountain.

Owing to the many complaints received from various sources there is a movement on foot to change the location of the public drinking fountain now on North avenue. No other place has as yet been decided upon, but many think the present location a poor one.

Leg Badly Crushed.

T. Kelly, who is employed at Skillman, had his left leg badly crushed Monday afternoon, when he tried to board a passing freight train near the Liberty street bridge. Kelly came down to Plainfield to visit some friends and attempted to ride back on a P. & R. freight. He slipped and the calf of his left leg was badly injured. His friends picked him up and sent him home on a passenger train.

WITH THE POLITICIANS.

REPUBLICANS SAY FOURTH WARD WILL GIVE 400 MAJORITY.

North Plainfield Democrats will Attend a Somerville Meeting Tonight—Going by Trolley.

A plurality for McKinley and Roosevelt of 400 will be given by the Fourth ward alone, according to the statement given out at the meeting of the Fourth ward Republican campaign committee last evening. The reports of the canvass committee was received and a full statement of the vote of the ward presented. The workers were very enthusiastic over the showing which they expect the Fourth ward to make at the coming election.

A meeting of the Republican city campaign committee was held at Republican headquarters last evening. There was a general discussion of the local situation and plans were laid for election day. Details for the mass meeting tomorrow evening were completed and will be found in another column. The vice presidents were appointed. Another meeting of the committee will be held before election day when the ward organizations will report of their canvass.

The county board of election and registry will meet Thursday, Nov 1st, and Saturday, Nov. 3d, at the court house, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., to issue certificates of registration. All voters who have not registered can go before the board and secure a certificate, which will entitle them to a vote. This is done for the accommodation of persons who at the regular days of registration were prevented from registering by sickness, absence from city or other good reason. The board will also make connections.

The North Plainfield Democrats will go to Somerville this evening by a special trolley car to attend the mass meeting in that place. The members are requested to meet at the headquarters on Somerset street at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

THE WHIST TROPHY THEIRS.

By Defeating Jersey City Club the Park Players Become Permanent Owners of the Prize.

By defeating the whist four of the Jersey City Club last evening the Park Club has now become the permanent owner of the State challenge whist trophy. According to the terms made when the New Jersey Whist Club, of Newark, presented the trophy to the New Jersey Whist Association, the cup was to become the property of the club which first won it fifteen times. In last evening's match the Park Club scored its fifteenth victory. It was a hard fought game, the Park Club team played good whist and took the lead at the start. The Park players were compelled to play the strongest kind of whist to recover the lead and finally win out.

Great interest was shown in the game by the other clubs in the league as the defeat of the Park Club team meant its probable loss of the trophy. Both the New Jersey Whist Club, of Newark, and the Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club have thirteen wins each.

Twenty-four Patients in Hospital.

There are now twenty four patients at Muhlenberg Hospital, which includes seven private ones. This is the highest number of private cases that have been at the institution at one time. Of the seven, two new ones were received this afternoon, and one of these was for an operation. To increase the accommodations Alfred Pannell, the colored man who was stabbed at Bound Brook some time ago, was discharged today. The operating room has been kept very busy for some time past, as there have been a large number of cases in this department.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.
